GRAND WORK.

The result in Oregon is particularly gratifying. It has been a fight against odds. McKinley managers were confronted with a combined opposition of 5,000 votes and a serious loss of republican voters. The outlook was certainly disheartening. But the apparently impossible has been accomplished and we are proud of Oregon.

To Mr. Hirsch and Mr. Denny, too much credit cannot be given. They have been vigilant and tireless. The management of the campaign could not have been in better hands.

It must also be said that the attitude of the Oregonian, from the very beginning of the financial agitation, has preserved a nucleus of sound money sentiment around which has gathered the McKinley movement in Oregon. The country republican press has done valiant service for the cause.

Binger Hermann, W. R. Ellis, and Thomas Tongue have worked faithfully and effectively. Senator McBride, as far as his health would permit, has spoken and worked for the man from Ohio, and the eloquent and persuasive gentlemen who have given up their time and talents for the sake of the cause, are entitled to a great share of the credit for Oregon's position.

The turn of the tide in Oregon, however, was due more to John H. Mitchell than to any other influence. When Mitchell began to stump the state, the real work on the part of the republicans began. His presence infused confidence, strength came from hope, and the successful assault upon the opposition majority was inaugurated.

The assistance of thousands of real democrats throughout the state, made success possible. Their patriotism is not tinged with hope of personal partizan reward, and on that account they can justly claim a greater joy in the triumph.

Every man who worked and voted against the Chicago ticket can take a just pride in the result. The 26th day of November will be a day of thanksgiving, indeed.

AMEN!

The election demonstrates that the American people are capable of self-government—that the republican form of government is a success. Wisdom rules. The country is safe.

The victory is decisive, overwhelming. It is not confined to section. It is not a triumph of partizanship. North, east, south and west contribute majorities to the representatives of good government and sound money. Democrats and republicans join hands in mutual congratulations.

We can well be proud of home. Corvallis gives a surprising majority for McKinley. Benton county astonished us and Oregon joined in the protest against anarchy and dishonesty.

The beneficent effect of the triumph cannot be over estimated. Not only in the noticeable material prosperity, revival of business and industrial activity will the decision of the American people be felt, but the moral tone of the country will gather improvement from the righteous victory.

Repudiation has been stamped to death. Altgeldism has been destroyed. Patriotism, national honor and national prosperity have triumphed. It is well.

Sewall heard the news. Said he, "We will be under a government controlled by syndicates for the next four years, as well as by injunction." This is truly pathetic. Mr. Sewell ought certainly to be authority on syndicates. If he had been elected the corporations would have immediately wound up their business and gone out of existence.

BENTON is bounded on the north by Polk, populistic, on the east by Linn, populistic, on the south by Lane, populistic, and on the west by Lincoln, republican. Lincoln, shake.

MEXICO still has free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, and her doors are open to all.

PROSPERITY is bound to come; not prosperity from legislation, but prosperity from labor. We can expect that prosperity promised by statesmen to the industrious, not the prosperity promised by demagogues to the idle.

In Benton county good work was done. There were so many workers that space would not permit special mention.

His Bondsmen Exhonorated.

Recently J. H. Wilson who has been experting the county books made a report which claimed that there was due from ex-clerk Hunter the sum of $188 75 on uncollected fees. This week Mr. Hunter turned over $161 25 of the amount, and the court made the following order.

At this time came I. M. Hunter, former clerk of Benton county and showed the court that a part of the amount found by the expert to be due Benton county from him as clerk thereof was for uncollected fees on cases begun prior to July 5, 1894, and that he has used diligent efforts to force the collection of the same; that he had collected and failed to turn over to the treasurer the sum of $188.76, and that he is now willing to turn over to Benton county the sum of $161.25, and asks to be relieved from further payment. It is therefore ordered that the said I. M. Hunter have, and receive credit for the sum of $27.50 being fees uncollected, and upon the payment by him to the county treasurer the sum of $161.25 that the bondsmen of said I. M. Hunter, county clerk, be and they are hereby exhonorated.

GRAND RATIFICATION.

Rejoice and be glad. The citizens of Benton county will rejoice next Saturday over the victory for good government. We will rejoice all day. We will eat and be merry, we will sing and dance, we will kill the fatted calf. There will be an all day program. A basket dinner at noon, a big parade in the afternoon and a big parade at night. Fireworks and cannon. Ring the bells and fire the guns. Mark well the day—Saturday, November 14th. Come to Corvallis and "Rally 'Round the Flag."

A Great Demonstration.

Last Saturday the republicans held their final rally and it was a glorious success. The rain and the mud, of which there was plenty, failed utterly to dampen the enthusiasm or interfere with the parade. The streets were crowded with people and yellow badges were very much in evidence.

At 11 o'clock there was a parade of horsemen. As they came down the street on magnificent mounts, four abreast, they presented a fine appearance and received hearty applause.

Preceding the parade, the 2nd Regiment band, of Salem, gave a concert of splendid music.

The afternoon parade at 2 p. m. was the grandest spectacle of the kind ever witnessed in Benton county. F. M. Johnson was grand marshal, and I. D. Burgh captain of parade, with the following aids: M. H. Kriebel, Mark Brownson, Fred Mulkey, Will Skipton, W. G. Lane, Frank Buchanan, H. C. Allen, C. R. Porter.

Heading the procession came the King's Valley drum corps, followed by two companies of O. A. C. cadets—a fine looking body of young men. The president of the Ladies' McKinley Club, Miss Welker, came next in Dick Kiger's prettily decorated buggy—Dick driving his handsome bays tandem. Ladies and children followed in gay cars, and then came two beautiful floats representing our money, and the Ship of State. In the former Miss Lillian Hamilton represented gold and Miss Shonkwiler silver. Miss Gellatly was the Goddess of Liberty. One hundred and fifty members of the Union Veteran League were next in line, followed by the 2nd Regiment band, heading hundreds of footmen. 200 horsemen came after and then trades floats. Phillips and Otterstedt had a blacksmith shop with forges lit and anvils ringing. Franklin's foundry had an exhibit drawn by Norm Lilly's traction engine, which furnished steam for the machinery. The GAZETTE showed a printing office running in full blast. S. L. Kline had a wagon load of wool with appropriate mottoes. Granger had two floats that were unique and all right. Citizens in carriages came after. The Albany band, with a number of Albany citizens, preceded the horsemen.

After the parade Geo. H. Williams made a magnificent speech at the opera house to a large crowd. Space does not permit even a synopsis. The audience was enthusiastic and given to singing.

During the afternoon Eugene Gilbert Alphin drove through the streets, and as Wm. J. Bryan, made appeals to the voters. This was a very successful feature.

The evening parade was beautiful and large and made brilliant with flambeaux, torches, fireworks and red fire.

At the opera house, Henry St. Rayner made an eloquent address full of thought and fire. The Corvallis McKinley Quintette and the Shake'em Up Quartette sang lively campaign songs and the audience at the close gave three rousing cheers for McKinley.

Thus the big day closed.

DEMAND FOR GOLD.

A. H. Kroschel, a young German, who lives in Benton county, across the river from Albany, was relieved of $1,016 Tuesday morning by two unmaskad men. According to the victim, he had borrowed, some time before, $1,000 in gold from a neighbor and went into the grocery business at Albany. He found he had no use for the money and Tuesday morning about ten o'clock he started from Albany to return it to his friend. He crossed the bridge and when within half a mile of the Oak Grove school house, he was held up.

Two men sitting on a fence asked for some money to "get something to eat," and being refused, shoved a revolver in his face. The larger of the two kept Kroschel under aim, while the smaller took the thousand dollars, another $10 in gold and six dollars in silver—also a cheap pin. Then they left him and took to the woods. Kroschel went home and he and his brother, armed with shotguns, searched the locality, but without success. Albany officers were notified and a telegram informed Sheriff Rickard, who, with Will Skipton, joined in the search. Many farmers joined in the hunt, but without result.

Wednesday evening several men were watching the road and had built a bonfire—perhaps to attract the robbers—among them the two Hectors, when two men on horseback, also bandit-hunters, rode by, and each party thought the other the highwaymen. After some questions, guns were pulled on both sides, but it was a case of "one afraid and the other da'sent," so in the darkness the men on horseback slipped away suddenly and hurried to Corvallis, and notified Rickard and Skipton, who hurried after them to capture the bandits. The two farmers rode on ahead.

When Rickard and Skipton had got about miles, Henry Hector came riding rapidly up and, seeing the sheriff, told him that two thieves had rode by the campfire, and that he had again just passed them. Skipton took a tumble and sent Hector riding after the supposed robbers to inform them that both parties were on the same mission. Rickard and Bill then returned home.

The Ins and Outs of It.

If you get best wear out of a coat, best work must have gone into it. You can't get good bread out of poor flour.

Moral: You can't get the best out of anything, unless the best is in it; and the best has to be put in before it can be taken out. Now, we have a rule to test those sarsaparillas with a big "best" on the bottle. "Tell us what's put in you and we'll decide for ourselves about the best." That's fair. But these modest sarsaparillas say: "Oh! we can't tell. It's a secret. Have faith in the label." . . . Stop! There's one exception; one sarsaparilla that has no secret to hide. It's Ayer's. If you want to know what goes into Ayer's Sarsaparilla, ask your doctor to write for the formula. Then you can satisfy yourself that you get the best of the sarsaparilla argument when you get Ayer's.

It kills doubts but cures doubters.

Another Smart Woman.

My husband is poor but proud and he does not want me to work, as I have nothing to do I get restless, and after reading in your paper Mrs. Russell's experience selling self-heating flatirons I concluded I would try it. I wrote to J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, Mo., and they treated me so nicely that I felt very much encouraged. As soon as I got my sample iron I started out, and sold eight irons the first day clearing $12. I have not sold less than eight any day since, and one day sold seven irons. I now have $226 clear money, and my husband does not know I have been working at all, but I am afraid he will be mad when I tell him. Have I done right or should I quit work and leave him to struggle alone.

AN ANXIOUS WIFE.

You are doing just right; your husband should be proud of you, go ahead and show the world what an energetic woman can do. That self-heating iron must be a wonderful seller, as we hear of so many that are succeeding selling it.

A Churn that Churns in One Minute.

I have been in the dairy business all my life and have many times churned for an hour before butter would appear, so when I heard of a churn that would churn in a minute, I concluded to try it. Every day for a week I used it, and not only could I churn in a minute, but I got more and better butter than with the common churn. This is very important information to butter makers. The churn works easily, and will churn in less than 60 seconds. I have sold two dozen of these churns in the past month. Every butter maker that has seen me churn in less than a minute has bought one. You can obtain all desired information regarding the churn by addressing J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, and they will give you prompt and courteous attention.
