Seth McAllister and Walter Griffin, of Eugene, were down Wednesday on a tandem bike.

Geo. Bowers has been confined to his home this week with a severe attack of kidney trouble.

The Blodgett school picnic held last Saturday was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

Long Tom defeated a Corvallis nine on the former's ground last Saturday, with a score of 19 to 6.

E. R. Lake and Robt. Johnson are at Lafayette, attending a meeting of the state horticultural society.

Mrs. S. N. Wilkins is rapidly improving from her late serious illness and is now entirely out of danger.

George Cronkite left this week for eastern Oregon, where he will harvest until the fall term of the college.

The Benton Mills recently shipped 600 barrels of flour to Central America, and are preparing another shipment.

At Newport last Sunday the Pliomath baseball team played an all-Indian county nine, defeating them by a score of 10 to 2.

Simpson & Huston, who are doing an immense business in harvesting machinery, are building a large addition to their warehouse.

Cottagers are already moving to Yaguina, and present indications point to a very prosperous season at Lincoln county's beach.

T. M. Hamilton, who still retains his membership in Co. C., O. N. G., is attending the encampment at Hood River this week.

Walt Smith's bicycle was raffled off last Saturday night. Officer Jas. Skipton won it after trying with two other men for first place.

Dr. C. H. Lee and Mrs. M. J. Lee returned from a ten days' trip to the Bohemia mining district, where the latter has extensive mining interests.

H. H. Veatch, a former O. A. C. student, returned Monday to his home in Cottage Grove, after a week's visit in Corvallis among old friends.

The street graveling is progressing rapidly, several teams being employed. The committee has about $1,000 to expend on street improvements this year.

Joe. Potts, of Nolan & Callahan's tailor department, expects to take a vacation about July 10th, and those wishing artistic tailoring should bring their orders at once.

Mr. M. C. Miller has resigned his position at S. L. Kline's, and will be succeeded by C. A. Gould, who will be pleased to meet his friends that want a bargain in the grocery line.

The GAZETTE presses turn out good up-to-date job printing. In business and society stationery this office can compete with metropolitan printers in the quality of work and in prices.

Mr. C. G. Porter has so far recovered his health that he is able to resume his work at S. L. Kline's and will endeavor to interest his friends in the clothing and furnishing goods line.

James Hayes was the purchaser Saturday at sheriff's sale of the 1700 Scott farm two miles west of Corvallis. The total price paid including costs and attorneys fees was $7,473.

Adolph Peterson's little boy, who was in an accident in his father's planing mill Saturday, that might have been serious. As it was, the services of a physician were required to dress the wounds.

Simpson, Huston & Co. have sold to Albert Zieroff a 36x55 Buffalo Pitts Niagara thrasher. It is a fine machine and Mr. Zieroff will be able to please all who are fortunate enough to have him thresh for them.

Mr. W. C. Barrett, of Chicago, of Grand, Palmer & Co., manufacturers of clocks, was in Corvallis Wednesday and placed the exclusive sale of his entire line with S. L. Kline for the fall season of 1897.

The steamboat Gypsy came up Saturday from Portland where she has been overhauled and repaired. She will be put on the route between Salem and Corvallis when the river gets too low for the larger boats.

Every man having a beard should keep it an even, natural color, and if it is not so already, use Buckingham's Dye and appear tidy.

Regular preaching services in the new Methodist church Sunday, July 4; Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.; preaching 11 a. m.; Epworth League 7 p. m.; patriotic service 8 p. m. Everybody will be welcomed to these services.

The Salvation army, under its present leader, Captain Spencer, is regaining its popularity. Such officers as she, makes the army respected. The meetings have not been so well attended as now since the days of ensign Barnhart.

Bicycle riders are notified that wheel lamps have arrived, and all riders will be required to obey the city ordinance regarding bicycle lamps and bells from this date. C. B. WELLS, Chief of Police.

At the Occidental Hotel Tuesday afternoon Miss Ola Calbreath, of Parkers, and Mr. Jacob Hecker, a farmer from Sauer, were united in marriage. Both young people are well and favorably known in the community; were they reside.

They are still adding to the program of the veteran's convention that will be held at Pliomath Tuesday, July 6. Dr. Thompson will make the annual address. The whole day will be taken up with the exercises, that promise to be unusually attractive.

Interest in bowling continues. Last week the scores were rather low. Dr. Altman won the men's prize for a single game with a score of 52, and also the best average for 4 games—47 1/2 points. Miss Anna Allen with 43 was the highest among lady bowlers.

John S. Baker, formerly a resident of this county, and father of Wm. Baker, died at Junction City Sunday. He was buried Tuesday morning in the Junction cemetery. Mr. Baker was a pioneer Oregonian and well respected. He was a brother of Mrs. Greenberry Smith.

Thirty-five dollars were contributed to the city treasury Tuesday. Lewis Williams and Roy Rickard had a fistie encounter and when Officer Skipton started to arrest them John McGee tried to save them from him. The three paid $30 to Judge Grefcox. The other $5.00 was for a lightless bicycle.

Corvallis is comparatively free from stray cats. It is no longer a dog town. The canine campaign of Chief Wells has reduced the number of dogs to a very commendably low figure. There are doubtless yet some whose absence from the city could readily be endured by the inhabitants.

Prof. Patton analyzed the contents of a sheep's stomach sent to the college by a Spokane shipper, who lost 1,400 head of sheep recently enroute from Spokane to Montana. The investigation showed numerous poisons in abundance present, revealing a serious crime or gross carelessness on the part of some one.

Two train loads of people visited Newport Sunday. One train came over from Albany and contained people from east side points. The other came up from Portland. The day was a very pleasant one and the big clam bake prepared by the Newportites could not have been executed. The excursion, which practically opened the summer season at Yaguina, was given under the auspices of the Albany Elks.

Independence day will not be altogether observed at Corvallis. The labor exchange has taken charge of a picnic to be given on Saturday, July 3, and promises a pleasant time for all who participate. Judge Hufford will preside at the exercises in the court house square, and Prof. J. B. Homer will make the principal address. There will be plenty of good music and the prospects are favorable for a large attendance.

A reminder of the old days when Corvallis was a mining town, or rather a trading and outfitting point for a mining district, was found Saturday by the workmen employed on the Whitehorn building. In those days gold dust was a medium of exchange and the "find" was a five ounce vial containing a small quantity of the yellow dust. Probably the balance was the contribution of some hardy miner to the knights of the green cloth.

The printers and the court house officials met in daily combat 5:23 o'clock Wednesday evening. They played baseball—at least they played the national game for two innings and then both nines "went up in the air" and the score became extensive. Darkness coming on, umpire Algie Reamie used a flare which called the game before the first inning was played so the result was "no game." It has not been determined when the game will be settled.

T. T. Geer's address to the students at Corvallis is full of good hard sense. Mr. Geer is one of the most astute of our local politicians. He is a bright, clean, capable man, a scholarly farmer, one whom you can observe and imitate with profit to themselves. Mr. Geer is a candidate for collector of customs, and if a change should be made, no better man could be appointed. But the present collector is all right and deserves to hold the office for another term.—Welcome.

A reporter started to chase up a hot little item Monday morning. The hot little item, however, chased the reporter, and won the heat. Andrew Gellatly had several hives of bees in a wagon, and drove through the alley back of Allen & Woodward's until he was back of the Maddux restaurant, when the top of a hive fell off and the bees flew out. There was a lively time in that vicinity for awhile, and the sting end of the insects found lodgment in several reasoning bipeds. They were finally captured.

Poisons engendered by food fermenting in a dyspeptic stomach are the direct cause of rheumatism, gout, bronchitis, liver and kidney complaints, asthma, pneumonia and many nervous ailments. These results are prevented by the use of the Shaker Digestive Cordial, a remedy discovered and prepared by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, N. Y. It is in itself a food and has power to digest other food taken with it. Thus it rests the diseased stomach and finally masters the worst cases of dyspepsia. It acts promptly and fresh strength and increase of weight soon follows. The first dose, taken immediately after eating, abates the pain and distress so dreaded by dyspeptics. Trial bottles—enough to prove its merits.—10 cents.

Laolol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in place of castor oil.

A RIGHTEOUS DIVORCE.

The Oregon Agricultural College Divorced from Politics. T. M. Gatch is President.

The Oregon Agricultural College has had a happy issue out of its trouble of political intrigue and barter. Regents Irwin, Hillary, Apperson, Yates, Weatherford, Nash and Keady denied Governor Lord their aid in his purpose to continue the college as a political asylum, and he found himself, though loaded with schemes, powerless to carry them through. Lord discovered at a late hour, that the Lilly deal, in which Simon was specially interested, could not be forced upon the board, and through his offices Lilly was ousted as the state president.

Lord, however, felt confident of Miller's re-election as president, and the opposition took no trouble to unseat him. The average citizen thought the governor knew and the average citizen was unhappy.

The board met at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon with 12 members present, viz: Lord, Kincaid, Irwin, Hillary, Apperson, Keady, Yates, Nash, Weatherford, Hughes, Davenport and Church. Killen, a Miller man, was absent, but he had a pair with Nash, who was opposed to Miller.

After the reading of many committee and officer's report, balloting on president began. The first vote stood, Miller 5, Gatch 4, Berchold 2; second ballot, Miller 5, Gatch 5, Rigler 1. Lord was astounded. He waddled over to Irwin and begged him to support Miller. "I can't do it," he said. "I can't do it," he said. "I can't do it," he said.

The state superintendent of public instruction, and the voting proceeded. On the fifth ballot, Gatch was elected, receiving 6 votes to Miller's 5. Nash did not vote. On the announcement of the vote, Miller, who was present, left the room. Lord glared at him as though he was trying to discover what had struck him.

The news of the election quickly spread and was received by the public with great and almost unanimous satisfaction. President Gatch is one of the greatest of western educators and his election was absolutely free from political considerations. The members of the board who supported Miller, speak very highly of his successor and predict for him a successful administration.

With two exceptions, the other professors and instructors were retained. Prof. Patton's title was raised and his salary increased from $1,000 to $1,200 per year. Miss Crawford's salary was also raised from $800 to $1,000; both increases being a deserved recognition of faithful, earnest and effective school work. Miss Doratha Nash was elected instructor in drawing and music. She has been of great assistance in the past year, without remuneration. The board at first placed her salary at $600 per year, but Mr. Nash considered $500 sufficient, and it was fixed at the latter figure. Mr. Geo. Coote was elected professor of applied horticulture.

Professors Hedrick and assistant Trine, of the horticultural and botanical department were released. Prof. Moses Craig, formerly connected with the college, was elected professor of botany and station botanist.

Professor Pernot was placed in charge of the new bacteriology laboratory to be established, and for which a student outfit has been ordered. Miss Lyford was elected as Miss Spill's assistant. Geo. B. Keady, of Salem, a practical and capable printer, was selected to take charge of the printing department. A typeset factory will be established, and a department of electrical engineering. The course of study has been widened and extended.

Maud Russell Won. The prize voting contest which had been going on at Kline's for the past ten months ended Saturday and resulted in favor of Miss Maud Russell, a popular and accomplished young lady of Oakland, Oregon, who has been here the past year attending college. The prize offered by Mr. Kline was a free ticket to the end-of-the-world convention, which meets next in San Francisco, together with the other expenses of the person making the trip, and Miss Russell is to be congratulated upon her success. 538; Maud Hurt, 297; Emma Thompson, 139; Mildred Lavinia, 119; Mary Newton, 97; Marion Hayden, 89; Mary Gellatly, 80; Leola Cain, 83; J. H. Edwards, 83; B. J. Kelly, 57. The other votes for were: Edith Hughes, Mrs. A. Hodes, J. H. Herron, Mrs. Lee Henkle, Nettie Harlin, Mrs. L. M. Henderson, D. R. Huggins, Grace Hamlin, Daisy Hardin, Cora Hunter, W. F. Hamlin, Ella Henderson, V. Hurt, Seth Hulbert, Lottie Hulbert, Irene Hope, T. Johnson, A. B. Kisor, Mrs. Kezel, Sarah E. After sickness of any kind, complete and speedy recovery is insured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It expels all disease germs which may be lurking in the system, and restores tone and efficiency to every organ of the body. It is the best summer medicine.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

Blodgett Commencement. Graduating exercises of the Summit Blodgett, Alexander and Kings Valley public schools, were held at Blodgett last Saturday. The programme consisted of recitations, dialogues, essays, songs, and music by the Monroe band. The salutatorian was Miss Carrie Kiger. Edwin Strauts, Bertha Allen and Iva Cady read essays. In all there were six graduates. Rev. Noble made an excellent address to the graduates and Supt. Denman presented the diplomas. In the ciphering contest, Miss Mason, of district No. 2, won. A baseball game between the Blodgett team and a "scrub" team, afforded much amusement, and was won by the "scrubs."

At Rest. Mrs. Olive Horton, wife of Isaac Norton, died at her home Saturday morning, June 26. Her illness was brief, and to many her death was unexpected. She was a kind neighbor, a loving wife and mother. She leaves a husband, a daughter and a son, besides numerous other relatives and a large number of friends to mourn her departure. The funeral took place Sunday morning and the interment was made in the Kings Valley cemetery. Funeral exercises were held at the grave, where a large gathering witnessed the last rites. The newly made grave is just beside one where a daughter was laid to rest eight years ago.

Clams Overboard.

Not only was the Elk excursion to Newport last Sunday a gratifying success in point of numbers, but the management of the chief attraction, the clam bake, was such that the clams, crabs, chickens and other edibles that emerged from the pit, were cooked to perfection. There were wagon loads of good things and enough for everybody. About two o'clock there was a general engagement all along the line, and the weight of the excursionists rapidly increased. Harry Hogue and another young man from Albany, especially, were subjects of the fatiguing process. The excursionists were conveyed from Newport to Yaguina by a tug, steamboat and barge all lashed together. Two row boats were towed behind the tug, and as the combination was pulling out, Harry and his companion conceived the brilliant idea of riding in the row boats, so, not recking of their increased weight jumped into one. The boat began to settle and then another fellow jumped in. The row boat immediately filled up and the boys nearly went to glory by the water route. Dr. Davis, however, rescued Hetter, and the others were landed wetter and wiser.

Two New Cherries. Two new varieties of the cherry, imported by Mr. George E. Hoskins, of Hoskins station, near Newberg, were on exhibition at the office of Commission Merchant Bell yesterday. They were produced by crossing the Royal Anne and Black Republican varieties, and exceeded either of these varieties in size. Mr. Hoskins has been working for 20 years to produce a finer cherry than any in Oregon, and feels confident that he has succeeded. One of his new varieties is named the Hoskins. One peculiarity of this cherry is that the skin is not tough like that of ordinary cherries; but seems to melt away in the mouth with the juicy pulp of the cherry. The other variety has been named the Lake, probably in honor of Prof. E. R. Lake, a well-known horticulturist. By just what process Mr. Hoskins has succeeded in producing these new varieties of the cherry is not known. If they are not seedlings, it would be interesting to know. If people keep on producing larger and larger cherries, the old adage about the impossibility of making two bites of a cherry will have to be changed.—Oregonian.

In Memory of Ben Jolly. Resolutions on the death of B. M. Jolly. Whereas, in the inscrutable dispensation and wisdom of Divine Providence we, the patrons of Bellefontaine Grange No. 277, of Benton county, Oregon, have been called upon to relinquish by death our worth master, beloved brother and patron, Benjamin N. Jolly, whose early death occurred June 9, 1897; this grange has lost a most useful and respected member of its order, a good neighbor and an exemplary citizen; that, Sister Laura Jolly, his wife, with whom we sincerely mourn, has sustained an irreparable loss.

Resolved, therefore, that this grange expresses its deepest sorrow for the loss of our worthy master and excellent brother that we deeply sympathize with his bereaved wife and children, and that on this, our saddest occasion, that a copy of these resolutions shall be recorded in our journal and printed in the county papers. G. R. HALL, ARTHUR PERKIN, Committee.

A Successful Year. The State Normal school at Monmouth has just closed a very successful year, with an unusual large enrollment in its professional classes. The school offers a strong academic and professional course of three years, designed throughout to train for teaching in the public schools. The catalogue of the school shows that fully 90 per cent of its graduates of recent years are, at present, engaged in teaching, which argues well for the work of the Normal.

Assignee's Notice. In the matter of the assignment of the Coast Carriage and Wagon Company for the benefit of creditors: Notice is hereby given that M. M. The New President.

Professor Thomas M. Gatch, the recently elected president of the Oregon Agricultural College, bears the well earned reputation of being an efficient and thorough educator, a successful organizer and a man of splendid executive ability.

He was for many years president of the Willamette university, and while under his management that school was the leading educational institution in Oregon. For some time he filled a chair at the Oregon state university, and was afterward president of the Blue Mountain Academy. Ten years ago he went to Seattle as president of the state university. Under his control the university built up rapidly and the attendance increased three-fold. Later, Prof. Gatch gave way to President Harrington, and was elected president of the Washington normal school, but finding he preferred the university work, he was given a chair which he filled until recently, when Governor Rogers made the university a patronage institution. President Gatch has the esteem and respect of all with whom he has ever associated. It is expected that he will arrive in Corvallis shortly and take immediate charge of affairs. He was not a candidate for the position, but is known that he will accept.

Sol Blumberg Hurt. Another Corvallis boy has met with a bicycle accident in Portland. Sol Blumberg, son of Jacob Blumberg, of this place, was crossing Madison street bridge on a wheel Tuesday afternoon, and the draw was about to be opened for a passing steamer, when some one called out to Sol to hurry through. He bent over the wheel and pushed through at a high speed when the closing gate struck him, inflicting a severe wound to his eye, and fracturing his skull.

He was taken to the hospital, and it was at first thought that his recovery was impossible, but latter reports indicate that he will pull through safely. Blumberg has been in Portland several months working in Merrill's bicycle store. His father is in Portland to king after him.

There is a time for everything; and the time to attend to a cold is when it starts. Don't wait till you have consumption, but prevent it by using One Minute Cough Cure, the great remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Allen & Woodward.
