The subject at the Congregational church next Sunday morning will be the "Ten Commandments;" in the evening, "The Goodness of God."

General Compson delivered a lecture at the college chapel Friday night on the subject: "Battle of Gettysburg," in which he figured prominently.

The action of several couples who have been operating in the southern part of town will have to receive more personal notice if there is not speedy reform.

Hard times no more! One hundred and forty-one new subscribers to the GAZETTE since the fifteenth of last month! This shows the drift toward brighter days.

Dr. Thompson has been wrestling with the grip for several days, but has sufficiently recovered to conduct the services at the Presbyterian church next Sunday, as usual.

The attention of republicans is called to the meeting of the McKinley club at the court house to-morrow night. A good time is expected and important business will be transacted.

January is one of the quietest of months in business circles. It is a resting time. This year it is a lull before the storm, for prospects for unusual trade activity are very bright.

Jas. C. Taylor will ship by the Oregon, the first consignment of bacon and lard going from this city direct to Skagway. There will no doubt be other shipments from here to the land of gold.

Services at the United Evangelical church next Sunday; Sunday school at 10 a. m.; young people's meeting at 6:30 p. m.; Preaching at 7:40, subject, "Clear countenance and a beautiful complexion."

Clyde Williams dropped his studies at the O. A. C. Christmas, and is now doing the practical farming act at home, near Airlie, Polk county. Clyde is one of the "old reliables" and will be missed at the hill.

At the Hook & Ladder meeting Tuesday night, M.H. Kriebel was elected secretary, S. I. Pratt, treasurer, and A. L. McFadden and E. R. Bryson members of the board of fire delegates, to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Brady Burnett and George Denman.

The GAZETTE, some weeks ago, spoke of two little girls, daughters of "Junk" Mathews, of Soap Creek, who were on a visit to their mother in Newberg. The younger, Mary, while there was stricken with a severe illness and died. The story of her life and death is a pathetic one.

An art exhibit, on the lines suggested by the Ladies' Home Journal, will be held in the Sorbin building, north of the Occidental hotel, tomorrow afternoon and evening, under the management of ladies of the Presbyterian church. Admission 10 cents. Lunch will be served.

Wm Seckler, section master of the S. P., has purchased from Emmett Taylor the Commercial restaurant property on 2nd street, the consideration being $1,300. Jas. Hayes becomes the owner by sheriff's deed, of the Prior Scott farm west of Corvallis, the consideration being $7,372; the amount of the two mortgages against the place.

An entertainment is being contemplated for the benefit of the O. A. C. football team of '98. The boys, owing to the generosity of the business men, will start out well financially but the manager foresees a heavy drain that the necessary purchase of new suits will cause, and a popular entertainment will be liberally patronized, cost nobody much and aid the team wonderfully.

The new turbin wheel put in by the Corvallis Flouring Mills recently, works to perfection, and is powerful enough—93-horse power—to operate the entire machinery of their big mills, making unnecessary the use of steam. These mills have a grinding capacity of 150 barrels, average daily, although they have turned out 184. Additions are constantly being made and it is in all respects a model plant.

A gentleman was in Corvallis last week quietly surveying this city as a field for another bank. He represents considerable capital that is seeking investment and Corvallis had been recommended to him as furnishing enough business for two banks. He divulged his mission to very few persons, and did not state what conclusion he had drawn from his brief survey. Probably it will be several months, anyway, before any public action will be taken.

The annual meeting of the American Bible Society for Benton county will be held in the Congregational church in this city, Thursday evening, January 27. The program will consist of short addresses from the pastors of the various churches, supplemented with a short address by P. C. Hetzler, superintendent of the American Bible Society. Good music and an interesting event is anticipated. A collection will be taken at the close, in behalf of the society.

B. S. Pague, of the Portland weather bureau, will deliver an address this evening in the college chapel on "The Weather Bureau and Its Relation to Agriculture." Mr. Pague is one of the most efficient signal service officers in the service of the United States and is an able and interesting publice speaker. The lecture is free and all are cordially invited to hear a useful subject handled in an entertaining manner. There will be a good musical program in connection with the address.

Married, in San Francisco, on the 13th of this month, at the Swedish Lutheran church, San Francisco, Mr. Alfred Johnson and Miss Emma Carlson, both of Corvallis. The bride has been employed in the family of J. M. Nolan, and the groom is engaged at the Corvallis Flouring Mills. They spent their childhood at Sweden in the same village. They are industrious, upright young people and deserve their new-found happiness. They returned on the Monday evening boat, and will make Corvallis their home.

The highest bid offered for the stock and fixtures of the Nichols & Holm store, Philomath, at the sale Saturday, was $3,600. The successful bidder was J. W. Ingle, the chief creditor, the other bidders being Bridwell, of Polk county, Sutton, of Portland, and Park Bros., of Philomath. Nichols and Holm are energetic and enterprising young men and this unfortunate blow was not the result of carelessness or misjudgment on their part. They have many friends who hope to see them soon again settled in business.

Subject at the Methodist church Episcopal church Lord's Day morning: "The origin of a great church, to what its success may be attributed, and the lessons we, in these latter days, may learn from it." The sermon in the evening is intended for the students in attendance at the college. May we ask your presence? If you are preparing to take an active part in the great drama of life, you will find some help in the discourse. The subject will be, "Will I Succeed? What is Essential to My Success?" The general public is invited.

Alex. Rennie and wife left Monday for Echo, Nevada, which will be their future home. They went in response to a telegram from Chas. Pearse, now of San Francisco, asking Alex to take charge of a business at Echo at a very good salary. Mr. and Mrs. Rennie will be missed in social and business circles. They are a very popular young couple and Corvallis can ill afford to lose many like them. This has been the home of Mrs. Rennie; from earliest childhood she has lived in this city and has the respect and admiration of all who know her. Mr. Rennie's place with Nolan & Callahan has not been filled and probably will not be for a few weeks.

What the Shakers of Mount Lebanon know more about than anybody else, is the use of herbs and how to be healthy. They have studied the power of food. They nearly all live to a ripe old age. The Shaker Digestive Cordial is prepared by the Shakers from herbs and plants with a special tonic power over the stomach. It helps the stomach digest its food, and digested food is the strength-maker. Strong muscles, strong body, strong brain, all come from properly digested food. A sick stomach can be cured and digestion made easy by Shaker Digestive Cordial. It cures the nausea, loss of appetite, pain in the stomach, headache, giddiness, weakness and all the other symptoms of indigestion, certainly and permanently. Sold by druggists. Trial bottles 10 cents.

Oranges, at Hodes & Hall's, from 15 cents to 50 cents a dozen.

FOR THE OFFICES.

Flattering Prospects for a General Mix-up in the June Elections.

The average politician now-a-days is asking himself "where am I at?" And in truth it would take a seer to answer him correctly. There is a multiplicity of wheels within wheels and the wheels are buzzing very lively. Every wheel seems to have a movement of its own.

Prospects for harmony between the republican factions of Portland seem very remote. The Simon people say to McKinley republicans, "harmonize with us, you ——— ———. You were altogether wrong, ——— you, but for the sake of peace, sweet peace, (and the offices) we will let you vote our ticket and obey our sweet will." Some men would resent such patronizing and perhaps the anti-Simon forces will, especially since they are in the majority.

Republicans throughout the state seem very much disposed to keep "hands off" of the Multnomah fight, but there is a persistent effort on the part of a few to force this fight into the cow county ranks. These few, however, may get their wings burned.

Shrewd men of both gold and silver persuasions, republicans, democrats and populists believe that there will be no complete union of silver forces, and that there will be two republican state tickets. Simon seems to be perfecting an organization for an independent campaign, appointing lieutenants in the various counties, establishing Simon newspapers through the state and otherwise making ready for his fight for an independent, bolting ticket.

To this end, having complete control over U'Ren and Young, he will have the populists nominate a middle-of-the-road ticket and oppose union in the state, although allowing the populists to fuse in the counties, if desirable.

There is, however, a small, but determined revolt against Simon's present plans, even in his own camp. Simon has promised his followers that Corbett would be seated and control Oregon patronage and that the recommendations of the Oregon delegation would be hung up until he was seated. They, to say the least, are disappointed to find Simon such a poor prophet.

Nor are things altogether lovely in the Portland anti-Simon ranks. A few, and fortunately only a few, of them have joined issues with Pennoyer to control city politics. Their action has been condemned by Mr. Sol Hirsch and also Mr. Mitchell, but the play is on just the same.

The union party, if its organization is finally consumated at all, will be nothing more than the old Bryan democratic party, though it may be considerably less. Pennoyer will not be in it, and Pennoyer will be missed.

A thorough-going populist in Benton county is wondering what the democrats will condescend to allow the populists in the way of offices. "This promise of coroner and legislative business—with emphasis on the promise—won't go again with us. We could probably get that from the republicans. Of course it is a mighty good bargain—from the democratic point of view. We will have to have some of the substantials, and you may put it down that we are going to have them, or there will be no union."

Stooping to Folly.

A distracted mother in search of an erring daughter is a painful picture, and but for the fact that probable publicity often deters young people from committing grievous sins, an incident that occurred Tuesday night would not be told in these columns.

A young girl, Lizzie Beach, who resides just across the river in Linn county, was missed from home late Tuesday night and it was discovered that her belongings had been removed from the house. Her mother came to town and hunting up Officer Eph Beach, secured his aid in the search. It was learned from some source that she was in company of a young married woman, Mrs. Miles Phillips, whose reputation is far from good, and that the two intended taking the boat next morning for Portland. About two o'clock in the night the officer found them in the vacant house of Mrs. Beach, dressed and with their valises, waiting for the boat. The girl was taken to her mother and Mrs. Phillips was advised to leave Corvallis next day, which she did.

The girl claimed that her brother, who is a member of the Salvation Army, treated her so cruelly that she could not bear to live at home and concluded to run away. It is thought that she had made arrangements with a very young man to accompany him to Alaska.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC for Malaria, Chills and Fever. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating Tonics.

Corvallis Nor'men.

A. V. Rose, the genial Corvallis cigar manufacturer, and his nephew, George Rose, leave on the Oregon for Skagway where they will open a cigar store. They take with them a heavy stock of goods.

Wm Hartless, Brady Burnett, Loren Mason and Grover Iledrick will be among the Oregon's passengers when she sails from Portland next Sunday. Emmett Taylor expects to go in a few weeks and probably every steamer from Portland for Alaska, for months, will carry Benton county people to the north land.

Brady Burnett has promised to write the GAZETTE letters descriptive of the climate, business prospects, emigration, etc., that will give the home stayers a good idea of the country upon which all eyes are fixed.

Gib McFadden and George Reed are making preparations to leave for Alaska about the first of March.

Decided at Salem.

An important case decided at the state supreme court Monday was that H. F. Fischer vs. Beal Gaither and others, appealed from Lincoln county. It involved legal points hitherto undecided in Oregon.

Gaither executed his note to one Dawson for over $5,600, with several sureties, including H. F. Fischer. Mr. Fischer paid the note and was partly reimbursed by Gaither, leaving a balance of over $1,300 still due. The plaintiff commenced an action at law against Gaither for this amount and against three solvent sureties for one fourth the amount each. Defendents' demurrer to the complaint was sustained and on appeal the judgment of the lower court affirmed.

The court held that plaintiff's remedy was in court of equity and not in an action at law. "Equity to prevent a multiplicity of suits and avert a circuity of remedies, will compel the surety who has paid the common debt to recover the same from the principal, if he is solvent." In this case the insolvency of the principal was not alleged. W. S. McFadden appeared for plaintiff and W. S. Hufford for defendants.

Klondike via Yaquina.

The proprietors of one of the largest flouring mills in the Willamette Valley are working upon a proposition that is of interest to Corvallisites and people of the Yaquina bay country.

Their plan involves the chartering of a vessel to carry a cargo of flour to Skagway and the mouth of the Yukon, and the building of two boats to operate on the Yukon river. It is probable that the river boats will be built in Corvallis and be taken to the Yukon in "knock down" shape on the ocean steamer, which is billed on the programme to start from Yaquina bay.

Also interested in this enterprise is the Corvallis company, mentioned in the GAZETTE a few weeks ago, which is organizing to search for the yellow metal up some tributary of the Yukon. There is no lack of capital behind the undertaking.

The building of the river boats here will give employment to a number of men and put in local circulation considerable money. It is understood that the machinery has already been ordered.

Fun Among Firemen.

Firemen politics have been stirred up the past two or three weeks and resulted in a radical move on the part of the Hook & Ladder Company at their meeting Tuesday night. The company departed, bag and baggage, from firemen's hall and is now located in Fisher's brick building.

The chief reason for the action is a feeling, not altogether love, between Hook & Ladder and Young America companies, but the cause for this unfriendliness is too subtle for the ken of an outsider. One of the old members said it was "a little foolishness whipped to a foam."

The resolutions of the Hook & Ladder Company announcing its intention to quit the firemen's hall, whether so intended or not, were rather humorous. One of the whereases runs: "In order to bring about harmony between the two companies and thus promote the efficiency of the fire department, be it resolved that this company secure and remove to another hall and give up firemen's hall to Young America Company for its dances, meetings and band practices."

As the Hook & Ladder boys owned nearly all the furniture and their moving left the old hall rather bare and cheerless, the resulting harmony from the action will hardly be such as would be really desired.

Free of Charge to Sufferers.

Cut this out and take it to your druggist and get a sample bottle free of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. They do not ask you to buy before trying. This will show you the great merits of this truly wonderful remedy, and show you what can be accomplished by the regular size bottle. This is no experiment, and would be disastrous to the proprietors, did they not know that it would invariably cure. Many of the best physicians are now using it in their practice with great results, and are relying on it in most severe cases. It is guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Graham's & Wells' drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

McKinley Club Meets.

The Benton County McKinley club will hold its regular annual meeting for the election of officers and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the club, on Saturday, Jan. 22, at 7 p. m. in the court house. The selection of delegates to attend the forthcoming meeting of the state league of republican clubs, in Portland, February 1, will be a part of the business of this meeting. Members are earnestly requested to be present. You will not be asked to "contribute to the cause," but the business is important, and the citizens who believe in maintaining the present monetary standard and good government are cordially invited to attend and take part in the deliberations of the club.

J. F. YATES, Secretary. E. R. LAKE, President.

It has been suggested that the various clubs in the county unite to form a county league of clubs, similar to that existing in other counties. It is proposed to hold a county convention of delegates from the various clubs, on Saturday the 29th inst. One delegate is allowed to every ten members or major fraction thereof. The officers of the county clubs will aid the Corvallis club committee very much if they will, at an early date, advise the secretary of the number of delegates that will attend from their respective clubs.

Alienated Affections.

Harvey Sargent, who recently sued Mary Sargent for a divorce, and named Thomas Warner as an objectionable visitor to his house, has commenced proceedings against Warner to recover $15,000 for alienating the affections of his wife.

The complaint recites that Warner sought and kept the company of Mrs. Sargent contrary to plaintiff's wishes, and for the past 18 months has had complete control of her. The Sargents were married in 1877, and have five children. Mrs. Sargent, in answer to her husband's divorce suit, states that he left their home in Corvallis last October in search of work, and left her to provide for herself and minor children, and that she has had a hard time doing it. Several neighbors made affidavits to the truth of her story and to her good reputation. Warner also lives at Corvallis. Sargent formerly worked as a stage driver.—Oregonian.

Died.

Leola Laura Henkle, wife of Arthur Henkle, died at the home of her parents, Edward and Julia Cline, in this city, Jan. 20, 1898.

She was born in Fannin county, Texas, June 16, 1877, and with her parents came to Corvallis in January, 1888. This has since been her home. She was married to Arthur Henkle, November 22, of last year.

The funeral services will be held in the United Evangelical church at 2 p. m. today, and interment will be made in the Crystal Lake cemetery.

Tired of Jail Life.

Confined in the county jail are two prisoners boarded at the expense of Lincoln county, Carlson and McMurray. Their conduct recently has convinced the officers that they are planning some means of escape.

Deputy Edger has been feeding the prisoners, and to him they complained of being ill, and asked for vinegar and salt as medicine. As this seemed to be a new remedy for dysentery, a physician was consulted. He said if vinegar and salt would have any effect it would be to aggravate the trouble. The prisoners declined any other cure, insisting on their own peculiar medicine. It is probable that they wished the salt and acid for the purpose of eating out iron. They may have secured, or been promised some other substance to use in connection.

This Is Your Opportunity.

At Hodes & Hall's

Are You Satisfied?

If you always get exactly what you want at exactly the price you want to pay, we want you to remain satisfied; but if sometimes you would like something a little better, a trifle higher grade without paying any more for it, or if sometimes you would like the same thing for a smaller price, we would like to have you come to our store and see how carefully selected all our goods are and how moderate priced.

... THE CASH STORE ...

Take Advantage

While the advantage is here to take, of furnishing your house with the best of qualities at prices that have no precedent for lowness. You'll find the lines offered are strongest just where the home supply is weakest. That doubles the importance of the bargain. FRED G. CLARK.
