S. E. YOUNG & SON, Albany, Oregon.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Rev. J. T. Taylor was in town Tuesday. Try Howell's extra fine 3 and 10 cent cigars.

Be sure and examine our new line of shoes. The Cash Store. The Corvallis flouring mills won a silver medal at Omaha exposition.

Ed. Williams, the big stock man of Dusty, was in town on Tuesday last. E. J. Thompson's congregation substantially remembered him on Christmas.

A large number of Albany people were here Tuesday evening and took in the Masonic banquet. A. B. Miller and wife, of Michigan, are visiting with the family of R. C. Miller in this city.

Next Wednesday, Jan. 4, '99, the semi-annual meeting of the O. A. C. Regents will occur in this place. Mr. Geo. F. Elgin will have charge of S. N. Wilkins' business during the latter's absence in California.

Mr. James McCoy, whose home is in Indianapolis, Indiana, is spending the holidays with ye editor's family. M. Schmidt, misc host of the Occidental, sold a week piece of property in Skagway for $1200.

John and Fred Hunter, sons of Joe Hunter, are working in the mines at Redding, Cal., at $2.50 each per day. Dr. Withycombe, wife and son Earl went to Portland Wednesday to spend a few days with friends in the metropolis.

The providing of more room for the Corvallis public schools have after considerable talk and figuring been relegated to the future. The holiday trade was larger than usual, so our merchants report. Better articles were purchased than for several years, an indication that money is more easy than in the past.

The O. A. C. Glee Club are playing to large and appreciative audiences in the valley towns. Good boys, we knew all the while you would do your college towns and yourselves credit. John H. Burgard, the general adjuster for the Home Insurance Company of New York, was in town last Friday and adjusted the Kay loss at Dusty, returning by boat Saturday.

Ben Wolke was made happy Christmas day by the presentation of a very handsome chaise silver shaving mug and brush with chaste silver handle, the gift of some of the C. & E. R. R. employees. The displays made by our merchants were attractive, and exhibited to quite an extent improvement in the art of show window decoration. Although much of the wheat in this section remains unsold, every one had money to purchase tokens for friends.

Chief C. B. Wells has been confined to his home and bed for three weeks, the result of a very large carbuncle on the back of his neck. It came near causing the chief's surrender, but he has by main strength pulled through, but he looks a good deal like the remnant of a Kaunas cyclone.

There are many people in Benton county who have no idea of the number of realty owners or holders in the county. The whole number of persons owning one or more homes are 1973, divided among the letters of the alphabet as follows: A 57, B 239, C 153, D 52, E 32, F 109, G 85, H 134, I 15, J 51, K 86, L 85, M 168, N 50, O 20, P 85, Q 2, R 9, S 188, T 67, U 6, V 10, W 190, X 13, Y 7.

A. J. Johnson, for many years in the employ of the Government Forestry Commission, passed through town Monday last on a tour of inspection of the timber lands along the coast in Lincoln county. He has been designated by the government to make a complete report of all forest lands and the products of wood of all kinds in the state of Oregon. It will take him a year to complete this work.

Grove A. Peterson, one of Benton county's successful teachers, just closed a term of school at Buxton, Washington county, this state. Two of his pupils completed the regular course and graduated with credit. One of these was a girl only thirteen years old. Mr. Peterson sent them their diplomas Monday. He informs us that this girl was the brightest pupil he had ever had under his instruction.

S. N. Wilkins, wife and son left Tuesday morning by boat for Portland, and there overland to California for a month's outing. Mr. Wilkins will combine business with pleasure. The party will visit San Francisco, San Jose, Monterey, Lake Park, Petaluma and upper lake, using wheels for a goodly portion of the trip after reaching the Golden State. Mr. Wilkins has only had a six days' vacation in four years and feels that he is entitled to a rest. We hope this family will have a successful and enjoyable holiday.

Christmas' joy bells rang out with cheer to the little ones in all the churches of this city last Saturday evening. Christmas trees loaded with good and useful articles, Santa Claus coming down chimneys and filling the stockings and distributing zifts with his old time generosity were familiar features. Songs and carols by the children, recitations and readings suitable for the occasion and the interesting program, Miss Edna Irvine's recitation at the Presbyterian church was excellent, eliciting many favorable remarks.

Dedication of Masonic Temple.

The Masonic Temple of this city was dedicated with impressive ceremonies on the evening of the 27th inst., the same being St. John's day.

The ceremonies were conducted by Judge Cleland, of Portland, Grand Master of Oregon, who in company with the members of the Grand Lodge were present in a body.

Prominent Masons from over the state arrived on the noon and evening trains, some having come a week before the event to be present at the ceremonies, and Tuesday evening was truly a gala day in Massary, one long to be remembered by the order in Corvallis.

The special train from Albany brought the members of Temple Commandery No. 3, in a body, with the members of Corvallis, St. John's Lodges and Bayley Chapter, and Brazilian Chapter of Eastern Star.

At 7:30, the hour appointed for the ceremonies, the Grand Lodge entered the hall, headed by the Knight Templar and Blue Lodge escort, to the strains of a march rendered by Mrs. Mary C. Bryson. Grand Master Cleland then dedicated the temple to the uses of the Ancient Order of Free and Accepted Masons.

The following program was then rendered: Address of Welcome by Dr. M. M. Davis. Response by Judge Cleland. Vocal solo by Mrs. E. W. Langdon. Address by Prof. J. B. Horner, "A Visit to Washington Lodge."

Piano solo by Master Goodnough. The solo of Mrs. Langdon, who is ever appreciated in Corvallis, entitled "O Dream of Thee", received a hearty encore, to which she responded with the touching ballad "A Soldier Boy I'll Be."

The sweet voice of this singer never fails to captivate a Corvallis audience. After the rendition of the program in the hall, the members of the order with their guests, numbering more than two hundred, repaired to the hall below to enjoy the banquet prepared and furnished by the members of Eastern Star of Corvallis, where the following toasts were responded to:

"The Grand Lodge," by J. M. Hodson. "Corvallis Lodge," by J. B. Irvine. "Ferguson Chapter," by Dr. E. J. Thompson. "Oregon Council," by M. S. Woodcock. "The Eastern Star," by Miss Bertha Davis.

"Our Fraternity," by Hon. J. R. Weatherford. "The Masonic Temple," by Past Grand Master D. P. Mason. "The Ladies," by E. E. Allen. "Knight Templar," by Clay Marshall. "Our Country," by Judge John Burnett.

At the close of the addresses the banqueters arose and sang the national ode, "America," accompanied by Mrs. J. R. Bryson at the piano. The large delegations of visiting members from Albany and other valley towns gave material aid to the success of the occasion, and the members of the order in Corvallis hope that they may in the future reciprocate the favor thus extended to them by their aid and presence.

The addresses were all of high merit, well delivered and met with a hearty welcome by the members of the order. The toast master, Dr. M. M. Davis, presided with dignity and filled his role to perfection. The address of Judge Cleland was a solitary effort. Prof. Horner's "A Visit to Washington Lodge" was very interesting and instructive, being highly appreciated by his listeners. All in all, the dedication of the Masonic Temple was in every way a grand success, and the order which stands for so much that is worthy of the noblest lives and ambitions of men, and enters so largely into private and public life, is to be highly congratulated upon their handiwork and substantial home. It is hoped that the influence of the order may be largely increased, beginning at this epoch in its history.

Services as usual at Baptist church on Sunday. All invited. Try L. L. Howell's Cream of Malt, the best hominy ever prepared. Clarence Baump, the boss pedagogue of King's Valley, was in town yesterday.

Rev. C. F. Capp, of Forest Grove, will preach at the Congregational church next Sunday. Here is the place to buy presents for the loved ones, both old and young. The Cash Store.

Mr. Noble's son-in-law, M. C. Heppner, is now visiting with them, and is well pleased with our city. The Ferris wheel at the Baptist church last Saturday was a great success. And the church returns thanks to its many patrons.

Geo. E. Nichols, a former O. A. C. student, now a merchant of Gold Hill, Oregon, called on the GAZETTE Wednesday morning. Judge Cleland, of Portland, paid this place a visit this week, being present at the dedication of the Masonic Temple Tuesday evening.

Regular meeting of the Coffee Club, Monday, January 2, 1899, at 2:30 p. m., by order Sarah Jacobs, president. Mrs. Fischer, secretary.

Regular services at the Christian church, Lord's day, January 1st, 1899. Preached by the pastor, Moral of sin, "Wastefulness." Evening, "Guilt in Conversion." All will be grate welcome.

No. 1052 is the number that drew the old buggy at A. Hode's drawing last Saturday evening. Mr. Hodes would like to have the person holding the lucky number present it, and take the buggy away.

Hon. W. S. Hufford, of Portland, attended the Masonic dedication Tuesday evening, returning Wednesday. We enjoyed a pleasant call from him. The Judge is doing a good business, and is pleased with his new home.

Subject at Methodist Episcopal church Lord's day morning, "The New Year." A starting out to reach a better mile in our earth life." Evening, "The greatest power in the court room. The judge, jury and lawyer exact submit to it."

THE HOUSE OF TOO MUCH TROUBLE

In the house of Too Much Trouble Lived a lonely little boy; He was eager for a playmate, He was hungry for a toy.

But 'twas always too much bother, Too much dirt, and too much noise, For the house of Too Much Trouble Was not meant for little boys.

And sometimes the little fellow Left a book upon the floor, Or forgot and laughed too loudly, Or he failed to close the door.

In the house of Too Much Trouble Things must be precise and trim, In the House of Too Much Trouble There was little room for him.

He must never scatter playthings, Must be quiet in his play; Every room must be in order And kept quiet all the day.

He had never had companions, He had never owned a pet— In the House of Too Much Trouble It is trim and quiet yet.

Every room is set in order— Every book is in its place, And the lonely little fellow Wears a smile upon his face.

In the House of Too Much Trouble He is silent and at rest— In the House of Too Much Trouble, With a lily on his breast.

Popular Lectures. The Oregon Agricultural College will give a Midwinter Course of popular lectures on practical subjects. Among the subjects treated will be Domestic Hygiene, Road Making, Dairying, including practical instruction in Butter and Cheese making, Crops, Stock Feeding, Agricultural Chemistry, Veterinary Science, Horticulture, etc.

Brown, J. A. Parker; A. R. Brown, Mrs. W. W. Smith; R. D. Cooper, Alex. Simes; Edward Dyer, J. B. Tilston; Mand Edwards, Robert Williams; Ned Gird, Charley Wiley; John Irvin, Chris Weber; Charley Ingram, Charley Wilson; Garrett Long, J. W. Wilson; H. Zapf, B. W. Jounsson, P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cress are in Portland this week combining business with pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Cater, of Oak Ridge, are visiting with friends in Portland this week.

Brady Burnett writes his parents, under date of Nov. 23, from Manila, and says all the Corvallis boys are well. Next issue will contain Judge Burnett's patriotic response to the toast, "Our Country" at the Masonic dedication in this city.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church gave their pastor, Doctor Thompson, par-ties as "first" last Christmas eve. It is quite probable he will not recover from them for more than a year. Notwithstanding he enjoyed them very much, and feels exceedingly grateful for the many favors received.

Services at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath as follows: Sabbath school at 10 a. m. Public worship at 11 a. m. Preaching by the pastor, Topic, "A Message for the New Year." V. P. S. C. E. at 6:30 p. m. Evening services at 7:30. Topic of special interest. A most cordial New Year's greeting to all.

Mrs. Mary E. Logsdon, wife of Claud Logsdon, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Witham, near this place Monday last. The obsequies were conducted by Rev. B. J. Kelly. The remains are consigned to their last resting place in the Odd Fellows' cemetery, 2 1/2 miles N. W. of Corvallis. The GAZETTE extends sympathy to the young husband and her many relatives.

A charming little wedding took place on the 27th when Rev. J. Noble united in the sacred bonds Mr. Drayveel C. Altman and Miss Amy E. Stephens, at the residence of the bride's mother in Corvallis. Cake and kisses acknowledged by the Editor. The cake as a compliment from Mrs. Stephens, while Mrs. Kidder seems to be accountable for the kisses; We respectfully refer the lady who seat the kisses to Lieut. Hobson who is expected here next month.

The O. A. C. Glee Club at Independence met with a warm reception and gave a grand party. While at McMinnville the band on for the able leadership of Mr. Peely and 150 citizens met them at the depot and conducted them to the Hotel Yamhill. President Broadman personally helped to get a piano for the use of the club. McMinnville people filled the opera house full and cheered the boys to the echo. The McMinnville people are all right as long as you forget it. To the editor of the band our boys doff their hats to all of McMinnville's citizens nothing but warm words of praise for the royal welcome accorded them.
