AND COUNTY. CITY

REFERENCIAC-There lives in this county a man who, if reports are true, seems determined to "extinguish" himself. About nine years ago he pretended to hang himself, and was found by his wife swinging in a noose by the neck. She cut him down, thinking, perhaps, that he was in earnest. At another time, some years ago, he notified his family that he was going to shoot himself, took up s gan and went out doors ; in the darkness of the night he fired the gun, kicked around awhile, and then went into the house in a terrible rage because his family did not rush out at the sound of the gun to see him die. Last winter two or three of his children one night were at a party in the neighborhood, and he went to the house where they were and asked them to "come home and see their Christianity shown in working. father die." They went, and in good time be took up a gun, placed the muzzle against drew Finley, a man of an unsound mind, was in Fall Creek neighborhood, Lane count his forchead, his toe on the trigger, andbut he still lives to be the joy of his friends and family. At another time-or a dozen b came lost in the woods, and wandered of times for ought we know-he bade his until Tuesday evening, when he found his friends a final farewell, to leave the country forever ; yet he remains, a comfort to his wife and children. His last reported performance was taking strychnine. He stood with a teacup in one hand, and was very dilligently stirring something in the cup, when his wife said : "My dear, what have you got there ?" or a question of that kind. He anawered, " STRYCHNINE !" and with a terrible full assortment of those extra nice French gulp slung the cold pizen into his vitals He still lives, however, to interest and amuse his family with future antics. When he commits suicide again we hope to be able to chronicle the fact.

SUDDEN DEATH .--- A Cottage Grove letter dated May 17th says : "Our village was thrown into considerable excitement by the sudden death of J. M. Underhill. He had been complaining for about a month with phthisic, and so annoying had the disease become that he concluded to go east of the mountains. He went to Nat Martin's yesterday morning, and while there was taken with a sort of paralytic fit, which lasted until this morning, when death ensued. Mr. Underhill was 43 years of age and a native of Maryland. He was a man of sterling qualities, a genial gentleman and an honest anan."

There are several reasons why this Mill should be preferred to all others : 1st. It is far more durable because it is all

2d. It is Cheaper because of its simplicity and durability, and will outlast several Wooden Mills 3d. It is Less Complicated, because there is only three pieces of operating machinery.

4th. It is more powerful than any other Mill, on account of the thin fan, and consequent in-creased suction of sir, and because it is operated by an eccentric, being far superior to the crank shaft or rest pin, as a lifting and falling power.

5th. It needs no cate, no watching, having self-feeding oil caps and self-regulating vanes. It regulates, protects and takes care of itself. 6th. It never warps, shrinks, or swells, hence it is not liable to get out of order. Once up, it

7th. It does more work, runs easier and throws a larger hody of water. It will submerge a larger tract of land, with less wind and in a shorter space of time than any other Windmill now in use. It may be set to turn out of the wind at any desired pressure, there being a graduated lever for that purpose.
