EUGENE CITY, OREGON.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress:

L. F. LANE, Of Douglas County.

For Presidential Electors:

HENRY KLIPPEL, of Jackson. E. A. CRONIN, of Multnomah. W. B. LASWELL, of Grant.

THE ELECTION.

The election is over. We do not offer this remark as a matter of news, but simply by way of introduction. And the said election was a peculiar one in some respects. The very wisest heads had not the slightest idea that the result would be as it is. There seemed to be in the very atmosphere a feeling that "scratching" would be in order, but such an indeterminate scratching was never dreamed of. It was thought that this election would show the political status of the county, but we do not believe that any candid man can argue that it does. The vote was very nearly or quite a full one, and no two can agree on which of the two candidates shall be selected to exhibit the relative strength of the parties. We had supposed that the candidates on the small end of the ticket would perhaps do this. But here we have the Democratic candidate for School Superintendent with a majority of 91, while the Republican candidate for Coroner has a majority of 59. The vote on District Judge determines nothing. In the two precincts of Eugene there were a large number of tickets voted on which Mr. Thompson was the only Democrat; and to offset this out came a score or more in succession of Democratic tickets headed by Mr. Watson. So also the vote on State Senator shows nothing. Mr. Whiteaker has been long before the people as a legislator, and no man can act in that capacity, doing always what he conscientiously believes to be his whole duty, without making political enemies in his own party, and political enmity on Monday last meant remorseless scratching, and in many instances a vote for the opposition candidate. With Mr. McClung the case was still worse. While we concede to him all the virtues that could be asked or looked for in any human being of the male persuasion, his entire unfitness for the position he sought was demonstrated the moment he undertook to address his "congregation." We do not say this in any unkindness to Mr. McClung, with whom our relations have always been pleasant, although not intimate. His unfitness was manifest and he was defeated. On the vote for Representatives the matter seemed to be a purely personal one. The one ticket had no particular advantage over the other in point of ability, and the momentous question of the election of Senator did not seem to have that weight that ought to attach to it. This was also the case with the candidates for Sheriff. The chances of the two candidates were considered about even up to the last moment. The present incumbent, who was re-elected, has filled the office to the entire satisfaction of the people. Had a new and untried man been put against Mr. Stewart there can be no doubt that the result would have been in favor of the latter. The re-election of Mr. Ware has been conceded from the first, though there were but few who anticipated such a majority in his favor. This election shows conclusively, we think, that in cases where the question arises solely on men to fill offices of the county where no particular political principle is involved, the people are no longer under any party lash. When two men come before the people for office, they will decide to elect the one best qualified, and then the one who happens to be the most popular on election day will get the most votes, without much attention, except in isolated cases, being given to qualifications. The result summed up is: The Democratic candidate for District Judge has 68 majority in the county. We elect the Senator, two Representatives, the county judge and commissioners, and school superintendent, while the Republicans give a majority for prosecuting attorney and elect two representatives, clerk, sheriff, assessor, surveyor and coroner. Billallen and Governor Curtis, the Selma, Ala., Times thinks would make a winning team in November. They might, if there were no candidates against them.

Table with columns: Precincts, D.T. Judge, Dist. Att'y, S. Senator, House of Representatives, Co. Judge, Commissioners, Sheriff, Clerk, Treas., S. Supt., Assess'r, Survey'r, Coroner. Lists names and vote counts for various precincts like North Eugene, South Eugene, Camp Creek, etc.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

WASHINGTON, May 22, 1876. Political matters appear to have assumed a more lively tone since Congress has got regularly to work again after its "Centennial" trip to Philadelphia. Blaine seems to be the favorite of the Republicans, but it is difficult as yet to say who is the bright particular star of the Democracy. The fact seems to be that the Rads are reduced to a very small number out of which to choose a man whose record will bear investigation. While the Democrats, on the other hand, have so many who would fill the Presidential chair with credit to himself and honor to the country that it is hard to make an invidious distinction in selecting the man who shall bear their banner in the coming contest. While personal preferences and local attachments are now entirely in order, there can be but little doubt that the entire party will be a perfect unit after the St. Louis convention. If there ever was a country that needed the best exertions of its citizens to wipe out the foul stains upon its escutcheons and restore the purity of its name so foully disgraced by the party in power for the last eight years, it is this. The student of history in coming generations will pause in astonishment when he reaches the page that records the story of to-day. He will stop to marvel at the unblinking of frontery, the proved dishonesty, and reckless knavery of the political party that now controls the destiny of a nation. The unbridled license allowed and so freely indulged in by the Republican officials has never been equalled by the servants of the most corrupt government that ever existed. And the violent outrages and cold-blooded murders now being perpetrated in the extreme South solely for political purposes are without a parallel. That the scenes now being enacted in Louisiana and Mississippi have been planned for selfish ends and party purposes by carpetbaggers such as Morey, et al omne genus, is too apparent to deny. The manifest policy of such men is to stir up strife between the negro and his former master, or between the native Southerner and the former slaves, is carried out to its fullest extent, for it is only by such means the carpetbagger can hope to carry an election. The Republican papers are jubilant over the disclosures affecting Doorkeeper Fitzhugh. The New York World says there is this difference between the Democrats and the Republicans to be noted: The former having discovered their servant's unfitness, propose peremptorily to remove him; the latter retained in their service a corruptionist as noted as Bill King, and when their doorkeeper, who had taken $15,000 for admitting lobbyists to the floor of the House, was removed from the office which he had prostituted, raised the howl that he was "a poor one armed soldier," though the limb had been lopped off by a Michigan sawmill. The committee on expenditures in the Department of Justice have designated a sub-committee to proceed to New York continue the investigation of alleged election frauds in that city, developed by the testimony of Davenport. A special committee has also been appointed to investigate Mr. Bridgeland, U. S. Consul at Hayre, whose name was mixed up with the transactions reported during the investigation of Boughton, the committee clerk. Representative Hewett, who was deputed to prepare the report on Gen. Schenck, has completed it and will lay it before the committee on Foreign Relations at its next meeting. The report acquits General Schenck of intentional fraud, but censures him severely for the utter impropriety of his whole connection with the Emma mine and his entire lack of perception of the proprieties of his office. Two men were killed yesterday at the Capitol by an explosion of gas in one of the committee rooms. It appears that there was a leakage in one of the pipes and on going into the room one of them lighted a match, causing an explosion. Name.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Dan Voorhees declines a nomination for Congress. A Democratic paper in Ohio suggests S. S. Cox for President. The colored men of New York in convention assembled have declared for Conkling. The officeholding brigade at Cincinnati are in favor of Senator Morton for the Presidency. W. A. Price, the only negro lawyer in Texas, has been elected County Attorney of Fort Bend county, Texas. The New York Independent comes out with a double-headed editorial for Blaine. He is the "religious" candidate. The St. Louis Times declares that "such a thing as the nomination of Allen at St. Louis is not seriously thought of." The Charleston News and Courier, the leading journal of South Carolina, has declared for Tilden for the Presidency. The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle "sincerely hopes" that Southern delegates to St. Louis will combine to defeat the nomination of Gov. Tilden. On one point the Bristow men and Conkling men of New York bear concurrent testimony: Blaine couldn't carry the State "nohow." The New York Times thinks Blaine will go into the Cincinnati Convention with certain strength of 225 votes on the first or second ballot. Morton, through his mouth-piece, the Indianapolis Journal, claims 200 votes on the first ballot, and the showing of a large reserve on the second. William E. Chandler, Secretary of the National Radical Committee, believes that Blaine is ahead and will surely be nominated if New England supports him. Grant's appointment of Don Cameron to be Secretary of War will offset whatever credit attached to his nomination of R. H. Davis, Jr., to the English mission. Grant has now a first mortgage on the Republican delegation from Pennsylvania, and will at the proper time hand it over to his friend Washburne.—Pittsburg Post. It was an unfortunate display of egotism for Doorkeeper Fitzhugh to write himself down a "bigger man than old Grant," but he grazed dangerously near the actual facts.—St. Louis Times. The assumption that Mr. Bristow would draw off any Democratic strength is supremely silly—the silliest suggestion of the whole campaign. Democrats do not vote for Republican candidates.—Indianapolis Journal. The Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier, which has heretofore opposed the nomination of Tilden, now comes out in a double-headed editorial urging him as the one man for the occasion. This is about the same time that the World deserts him. The Democratic State Convention yesterday adopted an admirable set of resolutions, though the one declaring for hard money was opposed by about one-third the convention. If the party would only live up to this platform it would be safe for every patriotic citizen to affiliate with it. We should have a pure and honest administration forthwith.—Milwaukee News. The Hon. John M. Palmer, the rising star of democracy in Illinois, a man whom many expect to be the dark horse, is fifty-nine, was a cooper, pedler, teacher, and lawyer, supported Van Buren, opposed the Nebraska bill, was in 1856 President of the first Illinois Republican convention, personally preferred Fremont, but supported McClean, voted for Fremont and Lincoln, was a member of the Peace Congress, was a Union division commander, was made Major General, and for four years Governor of Illinois, and in 1873 left the republicans. ITEMS OF NEWS. Mark Twain will preside at the opening of the California Building, in Philadelphia, which takes place about June 15th. The Eighth Iowa Republican Congressional Convention has nominated by acclamation Colonel W. F. Sapp for Congress. The House Committee on Territories has agreed to report favorably on the bill to annex Walla Walla county, Washington Territory, to Oregon. It is proposed to use camels at Carson to draw the Car of State, the three fire-engines and the State official car on the Centennial Fourth of July. The Senate confirmed the nominations of John E. Sherman, Jr., to be United States Marshall for New Mexico; John P. Hoyt, to be Secretary of the Territory of Arizona. The New York Sun's Salt Lake letter exposing the designs of Brigham Young on New Mexico has been translated into Spanish and is being extensively circulated in that Territory. The feeling against the Mormons is becoming red hot. Judge Sawyer of San Francisco has decided that that portion of the act of Congress providing that any manager of a theater or similar institution guilty of a misdemeanor who should refuse admission to any colored person unconstitutional and void. The report that persons by the name of Turney claimed relationship with the late A. T. Stewart, and intend to contest his will and put in a claim on the estate, is denied by Mrs. Stewart and Judge Hilton. They say that Mr. Stewart had no relations. Two immense white whales, the only specimens ever taken alive, are now on the way to New York from Labrador. They are in a large tank, drawn by a steam tug, and intended for the gigantic aquarium now being fitted up at the corner of Thirty-fifth street and Broadway. J. H. Reid has completed the telegraph between Marion and Sece.

OREGON.

Sheridan boasts of the finest school house in Yamhill county. There is some talk of a large hotel being built in Empire City. The stage which runs from Coos City to Roseburg is making regular trips. Stealing flowers from graves in the Oregon City cemetery is practised by the hoodlums of that place. Sam Hannah, lately appointed Collector of Customs of this District, took charge of the office on Thursday, the 1st instant. Motto of a Portland Temperance reform club: "We bend the knee, but not the elbow." This is supposed to refer to the dexterous habit of drinking out of a bungalow. George Beinstein, of Empire, who was discharged from the insane asylum almost immediately upon his arrival there some weeks since, has been again adjudged insane. At the meeting of the board of regents of the Corvallis college held on Tuesday, President B. L. Arnold was unanimously requested to remain in charge of the school. The Baptist State Centennial Sunday School Convention of Oregon will be held at the Salem Baptist Church June 19th, 20th and 21st. Rev. J. C. Baker, of San Francisco, conductor. Dr. Bannell, Superintendent of the Esther mine, in Douglas county, reports everything favorable in connection therewith, and the prospects of the ledge never showed better than they do at the present time. Work is being crowded and the mill is running to its utmost capacity. Sheep-shearing has begun in earnest in Jackson county, and almost every day wagon-loads of wool are brought to town for sale or storage. Sheep men say that this year's clipping in Jackson county will be much larger than that of any other year, and the wool of much better quality. A correspondent writing to a Salem paper says: "It is ascertained that the farmers in the north part of the Howell Prairie precinct have lost, within a year past, about 150 grown sheep and lambs, by a parcel of dirty curs which run at large. And no doubt but that in other parts of western Oregon the destruction of sheep by dogs, is equally great." The Philadelphia correspondent of the Chicago Courier writes: Besides the 120-foot plank the Oregonians have a section of a fir tree seven feet six inches in diameter, 130 feet from the ground, and a section of another fir tree five feet through 200 feet from the ground. Oregon will not have any palm tree here, but she is sure to carry off the palm as far as trees are concerned. The Jacksonville Sentinel says: "The prospects for good crops were never better in this county than are now promised, in fact almost secured. As large an area is planted as ever before of all kinds of farm produce. Fruit of all kinds, from May cherries to pond pippins, is already causing the limbs of the trees to hang in all parts of the country." The Canyon City Express of May 20th says: "On Monday last our city was visited by a first-class thoroughbred snow storm, the hills near by looked as pure and white as the Virgin Mary. A snow storm in the middle of May is too much for a Webfoot, but the 'oldest inhabitant' tells us that snow storms happen in the middle of May only about once in 11 years. That we struck in the 11th year is what chills us." A meeting of citizens of Albany will be held at the court-house on the 10th of June to take the necessary steps to send out a party of prospectors into a country where it is believed gold can be obtained in paying quantities. In fact, it is believed, from prospect obtained years ago in the district of country under consideration, that rich diggings exist there, and if the necessary funds can be obtained and the right kind of men secured to prospect, those diggings will be found. The Journal of last week made a very low and contemptible allusion to County Treasurer Day. If the influences surrounding the county treasurer have anything to do with the safe keeping of the county funds, as the Journal intimated, are they likely to be in better hands when Mr. Day's successor takes possession of the office? NEW MAGAZINE.—The first number of the Oregon Medical Journal has been laid on our table. It will be published quarterly by the Marion County Medical Society. It is edited by C. H. Hall, M. D., and A. Sharples, A. M., M. D., with L. L. Rowland, A. M., M. D., as associate editor. It contains a history of the Medical Department of the Willamette University and a number of well written articles interesting to medical men. It is a neatly printed pamphlet of forty pages. Answers to Correspondents. In answer to "Alphabetical," in your last issue, for a remedy for consumption in its first stages, I can recommend Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." If taken according to directions, for it has been thoroughly tried in my family, and the results were glorious. "Alphabetical" must not expect one bottle to do the work—my wife took three bottles before she could discover any change, but after the third bottle every dose seemed to strengthen the lungs, and now she is well and hearty. If "Alphabetical" will write to me I will get witnesses to the above. HENRY H. M. PATTON. LAWYER, Marion County, Ind. —Cincinnati Times, Feb. 4, 1875.

In the opinion of the New Orleans Times Mr. Bayard is the favorite of the South.

POND'S EXTRACT.ought to be in every family ready for use. Nature and science are combined in the manufacture. Disease originates from disorder of the system. So a medicine acts on the cause. Experience has heralded the virtue of Pond's Extract. External application or inwardly taken with safety. The cures of Pond's extract are marvellous. Relief from pain obtained by the use of Pond's Extract. A bottle for 50c., $1 and $1 75. Largest cheapest. Can be obtained from druggists everywhere. Try it once and you will never be without it. FRANK LEBLANC, at his Mammoth Publishing House, 37 Pearl Street, New York, issues seventeen beautiful illustrated newspapers and magazines. Mr. Leblanc was the first in the United States to undertake the publication of a weekly illustrated newspaper, and to him belongs the honor of being the publisher of The Oldest Illustrated Newspaper in America. The person who secures the agency for these publications for this vicinity, and will give citizens an opportunity of inspecting the several issues and copies of the eight magnificent volumes the choice from which is given with a subscription to either of the illustrated weeklies, will have a handsome and profitable business. These papers are well known, and sell readily from 10 to 15 cents on news-stands, and are now first offered through agents to annual subscribers, with a valuable chromo which, to all lovers of art, is almost worth more than the subscription price. An annual subscriber to the Illustrated Newspaper receives during the year over 512 newspaper pages. Folded to the size of a large octavo book, the subscriber would have 328 pages, equal to seven octavo books of ordinary size, say 40 pages each, and one-half of these pages would contain fine engravings, and for the centennial year will make the most accurate and valuable illustrated History of the National Jubilee published. We advise our readers, after they have subscribed for the CHROMO, to secure one of Frank Leblanc's illustrated periodicals, and with it the beautiful chromo. The National Gold Medal was awarded to Bradley Bulson for the best Photographs in the United States, and the Vienna Medal for the best in the world. 429 Montgomery Street, San Francisco. ACTING THROUGH THE PONS upon the sources of inflammation GILSON'S BRILLIANT SOAP promptly relieves the burning, itching and other annoyances caused by Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Impetigo, Erysipelas, and other skin diseases and ultimately removes every vestige of them.
