LIVER COMPLAINT.

By R. V. Pierce, M. D., of the World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N. Y., Author of "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser,"

The Liver is the great depurating (purifying) organ of the system, and has very appropriately been termed the "housekeeper" of our health. I have observed in the dissecting-room, and also in making post-mor tem examinations of the bodies of those who have died of different diseases, that in a large proportion of cases, the liver has given large proportion of cases, the liver has given evidence of having at some time been diseased. Liver affections are equally prevalent in beasts. Every butcher knows that the livers of cattle, sheep, and swine, are ten times as frequently diseased as any other organ. A healthy liver each day secrets about two and a half pounds of bile. When it becomes torpid, congested, or if, from any cause, it be disabled in the performance of its duties, it is evident that the elements of the bile must remain in the blood, thus irriof the these noxious materials by way of other organs, as the kidneys, lungs, skin, etc., which become overtaxed in performing their additional labor, and are unable to ly to perform its functions. Hence, there is dullness, headache, impairment of the memory, dizziness, gloomy forebodings, and irritability of temper. When the blood is diseased, the skin manifests discolored spots, pimples, blotches, boils, carbuncles, and scrofu-lous tumors. The stomach and bowels, sooner or later, become affected, and constipation, piles, dropsy, dispepsia, or diarrhœs, is the inevitable reesult.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT.

A sallow color of the skin, or yellowishbrown spots on the face and other parts of the body; duliness and drowsiness, with frequent headache : bitter or bad taste in the mouth, dryness of the throat, and internal heat; palpitation of the beart, a dry teasing cough, sore throat, unsteady appetite, sour stomach, raising of the food, and a choking sensation in the throat; sickness and vomit ing, distress, heaviness, and a bloated, or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the sides, back, or bresst, and about the shoulders; colic pains and soreness through the bowels ; constipaion, alternating with diarrhoa; piles, flatulence, nervusness, coldness of the extremi-ties, rush of blood to the head; with symptoms of apoplexy; numbuess of the limbs (especially at night), and chills alternating with hot flashes; kidney and other urinary dificulties, duliness, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings. Only a few of these symptoms will be likely to be present in any case at one time

TREATMENT .- Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with small doses of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets, which act as an alterative on the liver. For Liver Complaint and the various affections caused by a diseased liver, these remedies are unsurpassed. The Golden Medical Discovery does not simply palliate the disease, but it pro duces a lasting effect. By its use, the liver and stomach are changed to an active, healthy state, the appetito is regulated, the pensary, Buffalo, N. Y.
