CITY AND COUNTY.

JOINT DISCUSSION.—E. A. Cronin, Esq., Democratic candidate for Presidential Elector, and Dr. J. W. Watta, Republican candidate, will address their fellow citizens on the political issues of the day in this city on Monday, October 16th at 7:30 p. m. Also at Harriburg on the 17th, at 1 p. m.

SMALL POX.—After five days of suspense our citizens were last Monday evening informed that Mr. Abrams was really afflicted with the small pox, and were further gratified to learn that a large number of persons had been directly exposed to it. As might have been expected they did not take kindly to the news under the circumstances, which were these: Mr. Abrams was broken out on Thursday of last week and on Friday it was currently reported that he had the disease. The health committee of the Council then woke up and put up in the postoffice a notice as follows:

"The health committee beg leave to inform the citizens of Eugene that Wm. Abrams is NOT afflicted with small pox."

This they did on the authority, presumably, of the physician in charge of the case. The community put confidence in it and rested easy until Sunday when it was again reported to be small pox, and on Monday public feeling was wrought up to a high pitch. At about 12 o'clock of that day another notice appeared in the post office, again saying that the case was "NOT small pox or varioloid," and signed "G. W. Odell, M. D." But the people were not satisfied, and at last the committee reluctantly consented to call another physician, and Dr. Patterson was employed to go and examine and report on the case. He—in company with Dr. Odell—made a visit and unhesitatingly named it small pox, and so reported to the health committee. His report, however, was not concurred in by Dr. Odell, although he said to a member of the council that if the words small pox were erased and varioloid inserted he would sign it. It seems to us that the public has been egregiously imposed on, first by a physician who has up to the last possible moment affirmed a case of small pox to be some other disease, when the least he could have done would have been, in case he was uncertain in his own mind, to warn the public to avoid it. And second by a health committee who failed to employ a board of competent physicians to examine into the matter when it was first brought to their notice.

In regard to the matter as it now stands, there is at this writing, (Friday) but the one case, which is recovering. Persons known to have been exposed have been requested to exclude themselves upon the manifestation of any symptoms. In fact, all precautions possible are now being taken to prevent its spread.

COUNCIL MEETING.—A special meeting of the Common Council was held on Monday evening to receive the report of the Health Committee on the case of reported small pox. The committee submitted the report of Dr. Patterson as follows:

To the Health Committee of Eugene: GENTLEMEN:—Upon visiting Mr. Abrams, with Dr. Odell, at your request, I find that he has small pox. A. W. PATTERSON, Oct. 2, 1876.

On motion it was ordered that the Marshal be instructed to place yellow flags on Ninth street at the bridge and at the railroad crossing.

On motion it was resolved, that the Marshal immediately give notice to all persons known to have been exposed to the case of small pox, and request them to remain as much as possible at their homes, and to report to the Marshal immediately upon the development of any precursive symptoms of the disease. And the Marshal is further instructed to report daily to the Chairman of the health committee any circumstances that may give a reasonable suspicion of any person being taken down with the disease. And further the Marshal is required to use all due diligence to prevent the spread of the disease. In case any new cases are reported to the health committee they shall immediately notify the President of the Council and he shall on that call a meeting of that body.

The Marshal was instructed to cause a nuisance in the alley north of the Astor House to be abated.

And the council adjourned.

HEALTH ORDINANCE.—This is a suitable time to call attention to the health ordinance of this city, the first section of which provides that it shall be the duty of every practicing physician to report in writing to some member of the council every case of contagious or infectious disease within three hours after the same shall come to his knowledge. The penalty for failing to do so is a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $100. Section 2 provides that any person owning or occupying any house or tenement within the city where in any person has the small pox, or any contagious disease, shall give similar notice to the President of the council within three hours; penalty for failure is as above. Section 3 requires every owner or occupant of any tenement wherein any person may have the small pox to immediately give public notice by placing a yellow flag in some conspicuous place on the premises; penalty same as above. Section 4, no person having any contagious disease shall go out in public. Section 6 makes it the duty of the marshal to enforce this ordinance and complain of every violation.

WHEAT has been coming in rapidly during the past week, and there is now in the warehouses here between sixty and seventy thousand bushels. Yesterday buyers were offering 65¢ per bushel on board the cars.

PROFITEE.—George Wray raised this year, on Walker Young's place, one acre of ground 3,270 pounds of cured hops.

STATE UNIVERSITY.—The committee appointed by the Legislature to examine the State University on the 28th ult. submitted the following report.

Mr. President: The joint committee appointed to visit the State University at Eugene City having discharged that duty, now ask leave to make the following report: They found a substantial brick structure, of good material, of the following dimensions: one hundred and fourteen feet long, by fifty-five feet in width; a good strong stone foundation, two stories high, with a basement story twelve feet in the clear, and the two stories above sixteen feet in the clear, with a Mansard roof forming a third story eighteen feet in the clear; all the work done in a good, workmanlike manner. The lower story is now completed and ready to receive the furniture, which, your committee is creditably informed, is in course of preparation, and will be in its place by or before the 18th day of October next; and your committee would further state that the university has been fully organized by the election of Hon. M. P. Deady, president of the board of regents and such other officers as required by law; that such board have selected a corps of teachers composed as follows: Prof. J. W. Johnson, president; Professors Bailey and Condon, subordinate members of the Faculty; Mrs. Spiller, principal of the preparatory department, and Miss Mary E. Stone, assistant, and designated the 18th day of October next for the commencement of the first school year of the university. Your committee would further state that the expenses incurred in the construction of said building and the purchase of the site have been paid by the voluntary contributions of the citizens of Lane county, and in the judgment of your committee, founded on the appearance of the building and the best information that could be obtained, the same is at least of the value required by the law locating the State University, to wit, $50,000. Your committee would further say that, from reliable information, the title to the grounds upon which the building is located is perfect, the grounds consisting of a fraction less than eighteen acres, beautifully located just outside the limits of Eugene City, Lane county, Oregon; and your committee would recommend that a small appropriation be made by the present Legislative assembly to complete the unfinished parts of the building and improve the grounds belonging to the same.

R. B. COCHRAN, Senate Com.

Report adopted and 300 copies ordered printed.

STOCK FOR THE STATE FAIR.—Mr. W. C. Myer left Ashland last Monday morning for the State Fair and will probably go down on to-day's train with the following horses:

White Prince, imported from France to Ohio, July, 1870; arrived in Oregon, December, 1870; is nearly white; in fine working order weighs nearly 1,700 pounds; has been in condition that he would way 2,000.

Pride of Perche, imported from France to Ohio in 1874; made the season of 1874 in Wisconsin; arrived in Oregon January, 1876; is a beautiful dapple gray, about the same weight as White Prince.

Fleury, imported from France to Ohio August, 1875; a dark iron gray; will outdo either of the others at maturity.

Seventy-Six, foaled June 17, 1876; sired by White Prince; dam, Doll.

Doll, full blood, bred in Ohio, arrived in Oregon December, 1870; is now white, weighs 1,575 pounds.

Tempest, full-blood, foaled April, 1872; sired by White Prince; dam, Doll; gray color, weighs 1,700 pounds, a compact, solid built animal.

Maggie, three-fourths blooded; bred in Ohio, grand daughter of old Louis Napoleon; has foaled two colts that cannot be bought for less than $2,500 each, if for that; weighs now 1,544 pounds.

Hortense, seven-eighths blooded; foaled May, 1872; sired by White Prince, dam Maggie; gray, fine style, a good traveler; weighs 1,630 pounds.

Elsie, seven-eighths blooded; foaled July, 1874; a full sister to Hortense, and will make an animal very much like her.

White Rose, full-blood, bred in Ohio; arrived in Oregon, January, 1876; when in good condition will weigh 1,700 pounds. This is a low, wide, well-muscled animal of rare excellence.

Jinney, fifteen-sixteenths; bred in Ohio; foaled September 10, 1874; arrived in Oregon January, 1876; bay, with black points; not quite two years old and weighs 1,400 pounds.

MORE PEN PICTURES.—The Statesman furnishes a couple more pen-pictures, as follows:

Adolphus Burton, member of the House of Representatives from Lane county, was born in Virginia in the year 1833, moved to Missouri in 1838, and from there to Oregon in 1852. He has been a citizen of Lane county since 1855, voting a straight Democratic ticket all the time. He is a wealthy and substantial farmer, but has not given sufficient thought to matters of political economy to induce him to see the "way of truth and the light" as it is in the doctrine of the Republican party and does not "come out worth a cent." We expect to be able to count him a Republican immediately after the November election. His modesty keeps him exceedingly quiet, but he votes with great clearness and understanding, as we verily believe. In personal appearance, he cannot lay any claim to beauty, and yet he will everywhere command respect.

Allen Bond, of Lane county, is one of the best farmers in Oregon; having a large tract of land under cultivation which he manages in a most profitable manner. With a record which was well understood by his party in Lane county, Mr. Bond was nominated for the position he now holds without being present at convention and without solicitation on his part. His nomination meant election, and he comes with a large majority of votes of his neighbors. Mr. Bond was born in Shenandoah county, Virginia, in December, 1833; removed to Indiana in 1837, and in 1853 removed to Oregon, where he has since resided. As a Republican he has stood firmly by the guns ever since the party was organized, and will continue in the work so long as the party continues in the van of the great march of civilization and progress.

That's real nice, ain't it? But, Allen, you forgot to mention to that reporter that you took passage for the legislature two years ago with the Independents, and failed to make connection. We move that the report be amended.

CENTRETS.—The contract for completing the unfinished cistern at the intersection of Ninth and Willamette streets, and for constructing one at the intersection of Eighth and Willamette has been let to James Warnick, who began work on Tuesday. They are to have a depth of three feet of water, instead of eighteen inches, as contemplated when the contract was first let.

We don't suppose that stinks have anything whatever to do with small pox, but with very little cholera leaven each alley in town would breed a separate and distinct variety of that disease.

"Veracity," in the Oregonian, makes one or two mistakes. He intimates that Mrs. Abrams died of small pox, which is at least doubtful. The "wise city council" appointed a health committee five or six weeks since, and neither the committee as a body nor any member of the council visited Mr. Abrams.

"How much will your new school books cost, Johnny?" says father. Johnny calculates to himself: "Lemme see; 62 cents for the manual, 75 cents for a new arithmetic, $1.25 for a new geography, 25 cents for a new history, half a dollar for a new bot and a quarter for candy." The Santiam Bridge Disaster.

"Zero" writing from Jefferson under date of the 3d inst., to the Oregonian, gives the following particulars of the Santiam bridge accident.

The bridge is being built by A. S. Miller & Son, of Eugene City. It consists of two spans, one being 190 feet and the other 170. The longer span is already raised and the false work removed. The false work for the other span was braced only to the pier as the abutment was not finished. When the abutment was completed and the raising of the span began, the additional bracing of the false work to the abutment was overlooked. The end of the span over the abutment was twenty inches lower than the end over the pier, which would give the whole span a tendency toward the abutment.

At the time of the accident, the top chord on one side was up, and about one-third on the other side. No one knows just what caused the false work to give way; but, without a moment's warning, the whole span shot endways toward the abutment. Henry Kohler and John Mighley were on the top chord, which was finished; Nelson Rooney and Henry Miller on the one which was unfinishd, forty-four feet above water. Aleck Burgess, Ed Rooney, Will Hanbeck, Wm. Crabtree, Mike McQueen, Herman Garike, and a visitor named Devany, were on the bottom chord, twenty-eight feet above water. Every man went down amid the breaking and crashing of falling timber. Kohler and Mighley were landed upon the ground almost unhurt. Ed Rooney and Miller were thrown into five feet of swift running water. Rooney was badly but not fatally cut in several places about the head—his worst injury being a broken nose. He was carried a hundred yards below the wreck and was rescued just in time to be saved from drowning. Miller received a cut on the head and a concussion on the back sufficient to prevent the use of his lower limbs for some time. Nelson Rooney had three ribs broken, a bad cut on the chin, and other serious, but still not fatal, injuries. Burgess received severe cuts about the head and face. McQueen's injury consists of a broken thigh. One of Crabtree's legs was badly bruised, but not broken. The others escaped with slight injury.

The verdict of all who have seen the wreck is, "What a wonder that every man was not killed!" Nelson Rooney, Miller and McQueen are now the only ones confined, and from present prospects each bids fair to a perfect recovery in the course of time.

The loss, as estimated by the contractor, will not exceed fifteen hundred dollars. The wreck has been cleared away and reconstruction is progressing rapidly, and without further delay will be completed by the 1st of November.

W. C. NELSON'S Improved Iron King Wind Mill.

(Patented Nov. 23d, 1874.) THE TRUE FRIEND OF THE Fruit Grower, the Farmer, the Irrigator, AND ALL WHO REQUIRE THE USE OF WATER.

There are several reasons why this Mill should be preferred to all others:

1st. It is far more durable because it is all iron.

2d. It is cheaper because of its simplicity and durability, and will outlast several Wooden Mills.

3d. It is less complicated, because there is only three pieces of operating machinery.

4th. It is more powerful than any other Mill, on account of the thin fan, and consequent increased suction of air, and because it is operated by its eccentric, being far superior to the crank shaft or rest pin, as a lifting and falling power.

5th. It needs no care, no watching, having self-feeding oil cups and self-regulating valves, it regulates, protects and takes care of itself.

6th. It never warps, shrinks, or swells, hence it is not liable to get out of order. Once up, it goes all right.

7th. It does more work, runs easier and throws a larger body of water. It will enlarge a larger tract of land, with less wind and in a shorter space of time than any other Windmill now in use. It may be set to turn out of the wind at any desired pressure, there being a graduated lever for that purpose.

8th. This Mill took the only premium given at the California State Fair, ever in my many others there on exhibition.
