

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SATURDAY, NOV. 4, 1870.
EUGENE CITY, OREGON.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President.
SAMUEL J. TILDEN,
Of New York.
For Vice President,
THOS. A. HENDRICKS,
Of Indiana.
For Congress:
L. F. LANE,
Of Douglas County.
For Presidential Electors:
HENRY KLIPPEL, of Jackson.
E. A. CRONIN, of Multnomah.
W. B. LASWELL, of Grant.

THE PROSPECT.

The outlook for the success of the Democratic party of the Union next Tuesday is very bright. There is no doubt in our mind but that Mr. Tilden will be elected. Every effort possible has been made by the Republicans to carry the day. Honest, upright efforts they could not make, and they have resorted to every species of villainy and falsehood to supply their place. These efforts, however, have proved boomerangs and their cause has grown more desperate each day. Particularly strenuous efforts have been made to carry the Pacific Coast, the telegraph having been made use of for that especial purpose. There does not appear to be any doubt that Colorado has given a Democratic majority of from 300 to 400, and that its electoral vote will be cast for Tilden.

Every voter should consider the merits of the two candidates for President. Mr. Tilden is a statesman, a man of sound judgment and clear ideas of the policy necessary to redeem the Government from the slough of despond into which it has fallen through the maladministration of the Republican party through five years of war and eleven years of peace. During these sixteen years enough money wrong from the people in taxes, has been squandered to pay off the entire national debt and leave a surplus in the Treasury. Mr. Hayes's record gives no hope that he will make any change for the better. All of that record goes to show that he has no better proof of this than the showing made on the first page of this issue, of his action in the matter of a fraudulent land claim. The committee of which he was a member had agreed on a report, and though he knew that report sanctioned a fraud, he would not—could not, he said—do anything against it. So, if he should be elected President he could do nothing. His Cabinet must necessarily be composed of the men who are laboring to elect him. They are the men who have brought the Government to its present lamentable condition and they do not desire a change of policy. If he could do nothing against the action of a committee of ordinary robbers, what could he do against the will of Railroad Jobber Blaine, Morton, Chandler and others whom he must call as his counselors, and who are men of indomitable will and used to having their own way, even with Grant, who dislikes to be dictated to? It is a time when pure patriotism is demanded. The man who is best qualified to conduct the affairs of government is the one who should be elected, and we firmly believe that Mr. Tilden is that man. That he is a statesman there is no doubt, and all attempts of all his opponents have failed to substantiate a single charge of dishonesty against him. We leave the matter to your judgment.

HON. HENRY W. BLAIR, M. C. from New Hampshire, says: "The man who knows a North, a South, an East or a West, is a traitor in his heart." This is rough on the Radical party, in and out of Congress, whose whole stock in trade is abuse of the people of the South. Reference is made continually by Radical speakers and papers, to those "lately in rebellion"—"in arms against the Government"—"the section hostile to the Government," &c., and almost every speech and paper of the Republican party that has come under our eyes has some allusion to the danger of trusting the people of the South with the right to hold office, or even vote. The howl over the chairmanship of committees in Congress and the sub-office of the House shows the sincerity of his "No North" bluster and hypocrisy.

The abuse of Grant is not argument. But according to the same paper abuse of Tilden, argument.

"Southern Protection."

The Southern outrage question has played a conspicuous part in this campaign. Particularly has this been true of South Carolina. Almost every day has that most formidable weapon of the Republican party, the telegraph lines under its control, furnished accounts of murderous outbreaks in which the white Democrats were the aggressors and colored Republicans the aggrieved. Every effort was made by the Republicans to prevent the truth from being known, and to stir up strife so that an excuse could be had for sending United States troops to that State. These efforts prevailed and the State has been over-run with federal soldiers. How much necessity there was for this is shown by the following telegram:

CHARLESTON, Oct. 26.—The president of the chamber of commerce has united with the Methodist, Catholic, and Episcopal bishops, and the leading Presbyterian, Lutheran, Baptist and Jewish ministers and the presidents of all National and other banks in Charleston, in an address on the condition of South Carolina to the people of the United States, which denies that the white people of South Carolina are disloyal or disaffected to the United States government; that any part of the State is in insurrection; that the laws cannot be duly enforced within the limits of the State; that any lawless cause exists for federal interference; that the white people of the State are disaffected towards the colored people, or desire to infringe on their civil or political rights; that the rifle clubs in the State are combinations against law, that in the recent collisions the white people have been the aggressors.

And now to go on and see whether the colored Republicans need "protection" or not. In the New York Herald of October 18th, the day following the issuing of the proclamation by the President commanding all unlawful assemblages to disperse, and the day following the issue of an order by the Secretary of War sending all the available force of the Atlantic States to South Carolina, we find an account by a correspondent at Charleston of the riot at Cainho, S. C. This correspondent says that arrangements had been made for a joint discussion, the only condition being that neither party should take any firearms to any meeting. A steamer was chartered to convey the Democrats to Cainho, a small town on Cooper river. Before the steamer started a large party of negroes made a dash to secure passage, saying they wanted "to clean out the damned Democrats." Mr. Jervy opened the speaking and was listened to with attention. After he closed a Republican began a very inflammatory speech, and in two or three minutes a musket shot was heard. Instantly the blacks rushed to the bushes where they had hidden their guns and opened a fire on the Democrats, not one of whom was armed. Five white men were killed, fifteen wounded and one missing, supposed to be killed. The bodies of the white men who were killed or wounded were horribly mutilated, being in many instances hacked and cut with axes. All of them were robbed of their clothing and valuables, and then left in the swamps. Mr. William E. Simmons, an old crippled white man, was clubbed to death at the door of the church and then shot while his body lay upon the ground. And these are the men who need protection.

If there has been anything manifested by the Republican party that rises to the dignity of a ruling passion or distinguishing trait, it has been plunder and a disposition to turn all the misfortunes of the country to the personal advantage of its members. Next to this comes the regard for the negroes—for, as we have long believed, we are now told that the 12,644 white prisoners of war, who died in the prison pen at Andersonville were permitted to suffer, rot and die because the "Confederacy" refused to acknowledge "the manhood and the rights of our colored soldiers." * * * "The central question was * * * the Government had committed itself to the doctrine that the negro was a man and not a chattel." So spake Jas. A. Garfield in Congress last winter and his speech is now at hand as a "campaign document." If the prisoners at Andersonville had only been "colored" then the Republicans would have been deprived of one great stain on their traditional shirt.

The Constitution should neither say that it (The Bible) should or not be read in the public schools.

To attempt either would be to mingle politics with religion, which all would deprecate.—Frederick Douglass's "Educational Amendment" Speech in the U. S. Senate.

Yet R. B. Hayes indorses the American Alliance, that would exclude Catholics from office; and the Republican party has dragged Education and Religion both into the political arena.

VOTERS—Remember next Tuesday when you go to vote, that Grant, Tatt, Chandler and Co., have U. S. Troops, paid in part by you, now stationed in the South to overawe the people and to secure Radical majorities. Troops in South Carolina to keep 70,000 white men from intimidating 110,000 negroes.

Troops in the South in violation of any law, and contrary to the very Constitution the managing officials are sworn to support and defend, and this action Richard Williams says is right, this lawless proceeding is endorsed by all Radical speakers and papers and a vote for Hayes is a vote for military interference in elections.

Hushed.

The wail of the Republicans about the payment of the rebel war debt in the event of the election of Mr. Tilden is effectually disposed of by the following:

NEW YORK, October 25.—Mr. Tilden has written a letter for publication of which the following is extracts: "Should I be elected President, the provisions of the 14th amendment will, so far as depends on me, be maintained, executed and enforced in perfect and absolute good faith. No rebel debt will be assumed or paid; no claims for loss or emancipation of any slave will be allowed; no claim for loss or damage incurred by disloyal people during the late war, whether covered by the 14th amendment or not, will be recognized or paid; the cotton tax shall not be refunded; I shall deem it my duty to veto every bill providing for the assumption or payment of any such debts, losses, damages, claims, or for refunding any such tax."

THE REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS and papers made a long and doleful howl during the past session of Congress, because certain investigations were conducted in secret. That howl was very patriotic. It was the height of impropriety not to let the criminals know that they were accused so they could evade the law and punishment. Grand juries and their proceedings should be made public according to the Radical theory, so those guilty of crime might have due notice and thus escape justice and merited punishment. How wise!

The immense brain that furnishes the Washington correspondence of the Journal has made the astounding discovery that the Democrats carried West Virginia by a smaller majority than they expected. He ignores the fact that all along in the tables of probable results of the election the electoral vote of that State has been put either in the Republican or "doubtful" column. It is thus evident that the Democrats carried the State by a much larger majority than the Republicans expected.

"LITTLE MR. HALE of Maine," complained in a speech made in Congress that: "In a few days almost a thousand helpless men and women in Washington will be turned upon the streets." These helpless people were ousted from the Departments by the action of Congress; they had lived upon the public funds and as they were helpless a Democratic Congress did not need them for ornament.

KASSON, in Congress, said of Hayes: "Show me, if you can, where ever a corrupt thing was done by him or encouraged by him?" We cannot say whether he approved Kilpatrick's letter or not—written to him, but so far, we find no record of any good he has done and as to encouraging any "corrupt thing," just look at his party and Grant's administration, are they not "corrupt things"?

The public school system of the several States is the bulwark of the American republic—Republican Platform.

If that be true, we do not see why Radicals—who never steal—squander the school fund in the Southern States and send soldiers down there to preserve the American republic; or why that same platform wants to take the "bulwark" from the "several States" and turn it over to the "nation." Cannot the several States manage the bulwark?

Not the Catholics. * * * They were the first in this country when establishing the Government of Maryland to provide for her fundamental law for religious freedom.—Frederick Douglass's Speech.

Thus speaks the most radical of the Radicals, yet Gov. Hayes compliments the American Alliance that would not let foreigners vote or Catholics hold office.

The Journal does us too much honor in classing the GUARD with the New York Sun and World, the Louisville Courier-Journal and other like papers. Still we can stand it if the Journal can.

EVERY word of the article published in this paper two weeks ago from the World about Hayes and the Know Nothing, or American Alliance is true, and has been proved so by investigation, the Oregon State Journal to the contrary notwithstanding.

THERE are many very simple things that are beyond the comprehension of the "brain" of the Journal. One of these things is the difference between a courteous reply to a nomination by an association of Know Nothings and a positive declaration of sympathy with the principles of that organization, one of which is as follows:

A CHANGE.—Thos. B. Merry, Esq., a well known newspaper man, has bought the Dispatch at Seattle, formerly owned by Beriah Brown, and is making it a live, readable newspaper. Seattle appears willing to support a good newspaper and Mr. Murry will undoubtedly furnish the people of that place with a good one.

"Show me the man, enemy of his country or corruptionist in his country, with whom Rutherford B. Hayes was ever an intimate associate."—Kasson's Speech in Congress.

That's why he is so little known—he never associated with the leaders of his party.

The Republicans of Indiana are reforming. Journal.

They need and can stand a great deal of "reforming" in Oregon as well as Indiana.

Geo. R. Helm died at his home in Albany last Sunday of consumption, in the 33d year of his age. Mr. Helm commenced the practice of law in Albany in 1862, and ever since has been closely identified with the local politics of his county.

LOOKOUT.

A multitude of Tilden and Hendricks tickets have been printed and distributed bearing the name of Williams instead of Lane for Congress. Particularly in Douglas county is this being done. Let voters scrutinize their tickets when they go to vote.

New York Sun, Oct. 14.
The results of the recent elections enable us to determine with reasonable accuracy how the great question will be decided in November. In that contest, as our readers will remember, the whole number of electors to be chosen is 369, and the candidate who gets as many as 185 of these will be elected. Here is the record as it stands since Tuesday:

This is just the way the case stands since the result of Tuesday's elections has become known. It leaves Tilden's success about as certain as Frank Pierce's was after the elections of October, 1852. We have no long run of doubt of the complete triumph of the Reform party. But it will not be achieved without an earnest struggle. The party of corruption will die hard. The possession of power will only be surrendered after desperate fighting. In the State of New York especially, the combat will be most intense and incessant from this day forth until the election of Tuesday, Nov. 7. Every trick and device will be resorted to by the men in office to save themselves from the dire necessity of seeking a new occupation. But no trick and no device, however cunning or however adroit, can overcome the will of the people to have a change, and to turn out the Grants, Robsons, Chandlers, Blaines, Babcocks, Fishes, Shepherds, and all the bandit who for the last seven years have disgraced or plundered the country.

From the Baltimore Gazette, Oct. 11.

Grantism is crushed to earth never to rise again. The bloody shirt will be bleached. Chandler, Blaine, Morton, and the rest may cease to trouble themselves about the solid South, for they will have enough to do to prevent a solid North. For every vote the Republicans may secure by bayonets in the South, they will lose five in the North. The battle will now be transferred to New York, but no fear need be entertained in regard to the State that has twice given a majority for Tilden.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Let the Suffering and diseased read the following.

Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following.

Know all men by these presents, that on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: "That he is the sole general agent for the United States and dependencies thereof for preparations or medicine known as Dr. Holloway's Pills and Ointment, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies taken to the best of his knowledge and belief."
JAMES SMITH, Notary Public, 14 Wall Street, New York.

Dr. Holloway—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your pills. Oh, Doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss. JAMES MYERS, 116 Avenue D, New York City.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with chronic diarrhea, and have been cured by Dr. Holloway's Pills. WILSON HARVEY, New York, April 7, 1866. 21 Pitt street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an iron foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was dreadfully burned. The following certificate was given to me by him about 8 weeks after the accident:

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am iron founder. I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns lasted, but I had a rubbing sore on my leg that would not heal. I tried Holloway's Ointment, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true and anybody can see me at Jackson's Iron works, 31 Avenue J. J. Hardy, 119 Greenwich street.

EXTRACTS FROM VARIOUS LETTERS.

"I had no appetite; Holloway's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvellous."

"I send for an iron box and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Holloway cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave one of your Pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of morning is now cured."

"Your box of Holloway's Ointment cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Ointment behind the ears, and noise has left."

"Send me two boxes, I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar, your price is 25 cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your Pills."
