COUNTY.

Gov. Grover's Speech

According to announcement Governor Grover spoke at the Court House on Wednesday, making one of the best speeches we have lised to for years a speech which we wish every voter in the county could have heard. There was nothing of the usual characteristies of stump speeches. It was delivered in a calm, deliberate manner, and would have created enthusiasm in almost any audience The number in attendance was not large, but they listened to his words with close atten-He reviewed the Grant adminisistion and held up its faults to the people as they are. In illustration of how the Government is administered he told an incident which occurred in Portland on the 4th of July. Mr. Bewley of Salem had been invited to read the Declaration of Independence, and being something of an elocutionist and very proud of the honor done him, he committed the Declaration to memory and delivered it in fine style, particularly emphasizing that part wherein the grieveances are related that "the present King of Great Britain" has" created a multitude of new offices,"etc. After the exercises were over an old gentleman from Polk county wanted an introduction to the man who made the first speech. "Oh, that was Nesmith," said the one to whom he applied. "But." said he, "it wasn't Nesmith ; I know Net : I live up in Polk. It was that young man. He made the best Democratic speech I ever heard. He stated the condition of our country exactly." He was somewhat surprised to learn that the "Democratic speech" was one made by the colonists of America over a hundred years ago. But it fits the case now as it did in 1776. The Governer referred to the statement of Senator "Mitchell" that the figures of the department of finance at Washington showed that during General Jackson's administration the losses on each one thousand dollars collected by the Government amounted to $8; while the losses under Grant's administration have been less than 50 cents on the $1,000 collected. The beole at Washington do not show the frauds perpetrated upon the Government and upon the people. Take the single item of whiskey out of the tax on which the Government has been defrauded, and it would add at least fifty millions to the losses which should be charged to Grant's administration. And here we will supplement the Governor's speech with a few facts in relation to these whisky frauds. These facts are gathered from a speech by Hon. J. M. Binckley, of Chicago, a former Republican and Solicitor of Internal Revenue. In 1861, when there was no tax on whisky, the total production was 104,000,000 gallons; in 1862, 112,000, 6000 gallons; this had been the rate of increase for years, and at this rate of yearly increase the production in 1863 should have been 120,- dam and locks at Oregon City: 900,000 gallons; of 1864, 128,000,090 gallons; of 1865, 136,000,000 gallons; of 1866, 144,-000,000 gallons; of 1867, 152,000,000 gallons; of 1868, 160,000,000 gallons; and of 1870, 176,000,000 gallons. There is not the least doubt it was much more. Commissione Delano himself admitted in his report for 1870 that the producing capacity of license stills alone, not including illicit stills nor fruit stills, was 203,912,800 gallons for ten months' run. For these years, after the tax was put on, which ranged at 20 cents in 1863, $1 50 in 1884, $2 in 1865-66-67-68, and 50 cents in 1869-70, the amount produced was 1,184,000,000 gallons. But there was returned for taxation only 299, 696,523 gallons. The tax that should have been paid would amount to $1,559,200, 000, whereas the amount paid was only $189, 061,790, snowing a loss on this one item of one billion, three hundred and seventy millions, one hundred and thirty-eight thousand, two hundred and ten dollars-in figures, $1,370, 138,210. Take the dollars lost each year on whisky tax, and take the dollars paid the same year, interest and principal, on the public debt, and simply suppose that the former had been collected and promptly added to the latter, and the result will show that if it had not been for whiskey stealings the nation would not now owe a dollar!

Returning to the Governor again. He mentioned many instances of fraud on the Government, prominent among them those of the Indian Department. He referred to the so-called "protective tariff," which has protected fifty per cent of all the woollen and cotton mills of the United States into bankruptcy, and protected the merchant marine fleet of this country out of existence, -bringthis matter home to the wheat producers of this State in the fact that no American built ship ever comes to Oregon to load wheat. All the wheat shipped from Oregon goes in foreign vessels, and the freight money goes to enrich Europe and impoverish America. His posits of fossils, and after that has been thorspeech was replete with interesting facts, but want of space forbids further mention.

At the close of the Governor's speech General Joseph Lane was called for and addressed the audience briefly on the issues before the people, winning their hearty applause. The General labored under the disadvantage of having contracted a very severe cold, but acquitted himself nobly. The seventy-five years, most of them active, busy ones, which have passed over his head have left him physically weak, but his mind still retains the old time vigor.

No AUDIENCE.-Messrs. Henry Klippel and W. H. Odell, candidates for Preside Elector, were announced to speak at the court house on Thursday. There were, however, but eight persons present, and no speeches were made. Mr. Klippel did not come to Eugene, having arranged with Mr. Hazard, District Attorney, to speak in his stead. There is some talk of having the discussion next Monday evening, but we do not know that anything definite has yet been decided

The Oregon City Locks

The following is a synopsis of the law just passed by the Legislature in regard to the

The bill substantially provides that it shall be unlawful for those who control the locks to charge more than 50 cents per ton on freight or ten cents per head for passengers, prohibits the delay of boats, etc. It further provides that there shall be a board of three commissioners elected by the Legislatare at each session, they shall choose a clerk and fix his compensation. His duties shall be to his compensation. His duties shall be to keep a register of all vessels passing through the locks, a transcript and compiliation of the freight list and number of passengers on each vessel. The board is authorized to bring and maintain all proper actions of law to compel the company owning the locks to keep them in repair, and also to recover any forfeiture the company may be liable to pay for any failure to so keep and maintain the

The bill further provides the owner of boat suffering detention shall receive from the company $250 as a forfeit; that the boats pas-sing thro' shall furnish two certified lists of freight—one to the locks company, the other to the clerk of the board. These lists must to the clerk of the board. These lists must be correct, under a penalty of $5 per ton on any excess of freight on the boat above the amount in the list. The commissioners receive $200 annually, "work or play," and $5 a day for the time actually employed. Attorneys may be employed by the board, and such attorneys shall be paid by the Legislature on the certificate of the board. The company also required to certify to the Sec-retary of State an itemized statement of the disbursements and liabilities of said company in order that the net receipts of the company

A law has been passed cutting off the Assessor from charging mileage in the discharge of his duty in assessing his county. The law was not interpreted to allow Assessors to charge mileage until about one year ago, and under the old law there was no doubt but what the Assessor had a clear right to collect his either Assessor had a clear right to collect

ARRESTED. -On Wednesday, S. B. Eakin, Sheriff, received from the Sheriff of Polk ounty a notice of the escape of G. W. Hawkins from the county jail and offering $300 reward for his arrest. Shortly before he had recieved a letter from A. J. Myers of Long Tom, saying that Hawkins had passed through there. Mr. Eakin at once started a deputy after him, who brought him in on Thursday. Sheriff Williams of Polk county was telegraphed to and came up yesterday and identified the man, and took him below to-day.

No SMALL Pox.-From information re ceived from physicians who have been attending cases of small pox in and about Eugene we are pleased to state that there is not a single case of the disease in the county, nor is it likely there will be any more. This will relieve the public mind greatly, and we hope to see the faces of the patrons of our business men once more upon the streets.
