

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SATURDAY, NOV. 25, 1876. EUGENE CITY, OREGON.

The Election.

Up to this writing we have nothing definite as to who is to be President to succeed General Grant. The dispatches furnished to the Oregonian by the truthful Simonton are as contradictory as at first. Yet they are plain enough to show that while Mr. Tilden has been fairly elected the Republican managers have no intention of allowing him to hold the office. Already he has 184 votes, without any of the disputed States. It would appear to any fair-minded person that he has now 186 by the following dispatch from South Carolina on the 20th:

The following special to a New York paper was received on the 20th: The official count of South Carolina election is: Republican electors at large: C. C. Bowen, 90,780; John Wisnith, 90,780. District electors: T. B. Johnson, 91,852; Timothy Harley, 91,136; W. B. Nash, 91,804; Wilson Cook, 91,432; Wm. F. Myers, 91,820. Democratic electors at large: T. G. Barker, 90,896; Samuel McGowan, 90,895; J. Lingham, 90,798; William Wallace, 90,905; J. B. Irwin, 90,006; Robert Aldrich, 90,860.

Yet in the face of this a Columbia dispatch of the 22d says:

The Board of State canvassers yesterday reported to the Supreme Court, stating candidates who had received the highest vote, also giving a memorandum of the board, stating that in their opinion, certain irregularities affecting some Republican candidates should be corrected; also the vote of Laurens and Edgefield counties should be excluded on account of frauds and intimidations. This morning the court ordered the board to issue certificates of election to candidates for the Legislature shown by the board's report to have the highest votes, including Edgefield and Laurens counties. The court issued a rule for the board to show cause why they should not correct statements of county canvassers by the precinct returns. Pending these proceedings, however, the board held a session and issued certificates to all members of the Legislature except Edgefield and Laurens counties, thus securing a majority of the Legislature Republican, the defeat of Hampton and the election of Chamberlain. The board also issued certificates of election to Republican electors and the Republican State ticket. The board then adjourned sine die. This action has created much excitement, but the citizens will rely on the courts and exhaust all legal means of redress.

In Louisiana there appears to be no doubt that the Democratic candidates for Electors have majorities ranging from five to eight thousand. And it also appears certain that the Returning Board has decided to change the figures so as to give the election to Hayes. From the following dispatch it seems that a new cause of controversy has arisen in that State:

The use of imperfect electoral tickets has given rise to no little discussion as to its effect on the election in this State and United States, as in five the Hayes electors ran considerably behind. It has been conjectured that when the count is completed no candidate in these five districts may be found to have received a majority of all the votes cast for President. The question has arisen whether in such event any one will have been elected. If no one is elected in these districts then the two who deserve certificates will, under the laws of the State, fill the vacancies. Examination of the constitution and laws of Louisiana discloses the fact that they are both silent on the question as to whether by law to be chosen means to receive a majority of all the votes cast or only a greater number than any other candidate. In the choice of Governor or other State officer, the plurality elects; and good lawyers here hold that where no specific provision is made as in this case, custom and law in analogous cases ought to be followed.

The Times' New Orleans special says: The Democratic committee here estimates the votes lost to the Republicans by omissions of the five names will aggregate nearly 2,000. Trouble is likely to follow, as the tickets were headed Hayes and Wheeler, and the votes undoubtedly designed to vote for all. Well known Louisiana lawyers contend that if the five electors referred to are defeated by the means indicated, three who are elected would have power to fill vacancies. In short, that the places of those defeated by mistake in the ticket should be considered vacant, and to be filled in the same way as in case of death or resignation of the elector.

Says the howling dervish of the Bee:

Wasteful upon perilous ground, American self-government is undergoing the sternest trial of its history. Days count, in the suspense of the moment of passing the rocks which now surround our national ship as months, in the free track of prosperity.

Rather the days count as nothing while we stand upon this perilous ground. As nothing, because civil liberty no longer exists in "the land of the free." "The people who own the Government," as the bullet-headed fanatic of the Albany Register has it, decided months ago to carry this election, no matter what opposition was brought to bear against them. And when it became apparent to the Radical party that one of its creatures, the negro vote, would if left to itself turn against it, violated the Constitution and laws and outraged honor and decency by overrunning the South with troops, sending them even into Virginia, where there has been the most profound peace for years; so profound that even the brain of Zach Chandler, so fertile in schemes of rascality, could not invent an outrage, and they were sent without a pretense of provocation. It was thought the presence of the army in the South would be sufficient to overcome all opposition, and the Radical managers were stunned when they found that in spite of this fearful odds they had been voted down. But the shock was but momentary and they soon set to work to destroy the last vestige of American liberty, and the indications are that they are going to do this work thoroughly. And while they prosecute their nefarious schemes their organs cry "peace, peace,"—as if it were in the power of their opposers to resort to arms. In the event of Hayes' usurpation of the office the 'solid South' will never be heard from in another Presidential election. It will be destroyed—crushed for its temerity in even thinking it had any rights that ought to be respected. American will no longer have a republican form of government. That which is almost accomplished, a military despotism, will take its place.

On the second day after the election Governor Hayes was interviewed and expressed himself as follows:

"I do not think it right to joke over this matter. I don't care for myself. The party, yes, and the country, too, can stand it; but I care for the poor colored people of the South. I don't fear that business will be greatly disturbed by Mr. Tilden's election. Trade governs itself. Capitalists may just at present say, we won't lend money, but it will be only a nine days' wonder, which will wear away as soon as they recover from the chagrin of defeat. Business will, I think, go on as usual. I do not think parties responsible for the financial depression. We see the troubles they have had in Germany and Austria. If any part of the country suffers or remains at a standstill it will be the South. Under the new regime Northern men can't live there and will leave, and immigration into the States will cease; but, as I said before, I do pity the poor black men of the South. The result will be that the Southern people will practically treat the Constitutional amendments as nullities, and then the colored man's fate will be worse than when he was in slavery with a humane master to look after his interests. That is the only reason I regret that the news is as it is."

This might have appeared reasonable to him so soon after the election, when he had not had time to recover from the shock of defeat. But to-day it is not reasonable to suppose that the negroes will suffer from the change. Every man of ordinary sense knows that on the vote of the negro depends the tenure of office of the Democratic party, and he will be pelted rather than persecuted; he will be shown that he has been benefitted by the change. To suppose that the people of the South will attempt to ignore the Constitutional amendments is to suppose that they are all fools.

Wade Hampton's Opinion.

The World's Columbia reporter interviewed Wade Hampton on the 22d. He takes the matter quite coolly. He has no fears for the result. He maintains the board of canvassers are clearly in contempt, and has faith in the power of the Supreme Court to compel a fair count.

A Glimpse of the Silver Lining.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The Times' Tallahassee special says: A ripple has agitated the surface of things by the appearance of a telegram clipped from the Balto Gazette, signed Wm. Archer Cooke. Cooke is Attorney General and a member of the canvassing board, and certainly prejudices the case. Morally such prejudice disqualifies Cooke for an impartial investigation which the country requires at his hands, and is an implied reflection upon his associates displays a taste amounting to almost bad temper. Here is the telegram referred to in full:

"TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 14.—The returns of the county managers of election are not yet in. The board of State canvassers, of which I, as Attorney General of the State, am a member, does not meet until thirty-five days after the election, but you may rest assured that Tilden has carried the State, and that Drew, Democratic candidate for Governor, is also elected. I don't think the Radicals can beat the Democrats out of the election. (Signed), "WM. ARCHER COOKE."

Wade Hampton on the Board of Canvassers.

A Columbia dispatch of the 22d says Gen. Wade Hampton has just issued the following to the people of South Carolina:

The board of canvassers have by their unprecedented action to-day shown not only their utter disregard of their own official integrity, while the grave questions determining the results of the election were pending before the supreme court composed of three judges belonging to the Republican party, and in direct violation of their duties, this returning board have issued certificates of election to Republican presidential electors and to Republican State officers, and have refused to give certificates to Democratic members of the legislature, shown by the returns of this same board to have been elected in the counties of Edgefield and Laurens. This high-handed outrage is well calculated to arouse the indignation of our long-suffering people; but I assure them that this daring and revolutionary act of the board can have no force whatever. I appeal to you, therefore in the fullest confidence that the appeal will not be unheeded, that you will maintain even under that provocation, your character as orderly and law-abiding people. During the past exciting canvass you have studiously avoided the semblance of purpose to disturb the public peace or to transgress laws. Your cause, and it is the cause of the constitution and government of the country, has been carried to the highest court in the State and we are willing to abide by its decision, feeling assured this tribunal will see that the laws shall be enforced and justice secured.

ITEMS OF NEWS. Tweed has arrived in New York. Tilden's official majority in Alabama is 34,383. Each party in Florida accuses the other of fraud. On the 20th the President was preparing his Annual Message. All Northern men of note on both sides have left Charleston for home. Chamberlain says the Democrats of South Carolina oppose all investigation. It now appears that Hayes runs only 800 ahead of the Louisiana State ticket. Eastern papers express much solicitude at concentration of troops at Washington. It is reported that the British are supplying Sitting Bull with wagon loads of ammunition. Republicans claim intimidation to colored voters in Edgefield, Laurens and Barrowall counties. The Vice President of the Japanese Commission left Philadelphia for Japan on the 19th inst. The net profits of the Baltimore and Ohio roads for the past year have been over four million dollars. Blaine says there is no foundation to the Washington rumor connecting his name with the Presidency. Four companies of artillery arrived at New York on the 20th on their way to Washington. The heirs of James Lick claim that he was not of sane mind when he bequeathed his property to trustees. All the ships in the Russian Black Sea navigation company have been pressed into service by the Czar. Several Americans have applied to Russia for letters of marque to be used against England in case of war. The interest in the Moody and Sankey meetings have been unflagging during all the election excitement. The Times' Washington special says there will not be more than 2,000 troops stationed at the Capital—enough. It is rumored that Pinchback and Warmouth have entered into a compact to beat their common enemy, Packard. Many of the Northern Democrats left for their homes on the 20th. A dispatch to the Times says they have given it up. The official vote of Pennsylvania is: Hayes, 284,148; Tilden, 366,204; Cooper, 7,204; Smith, (prohibition), 13,183. Most of the dispatches received from the South are twisted into N. Y. Times editorials before they are telegraphed here. A special to the World says that if the illegal votes are thrown out, Democrats in South Carolina will have two electors. The Quartermaster's storehouse was destroyed by fire on Bodloe's Island, on the 20th. Loss, between $12,000 and $15,000. According to the New York Tribune special, everything will be done by the Louisiana returning board to arrive at a fair result. Florida Republicans will not send in figures through fear that the Democrats will hold a few precincts back in order to "top" them. The Younger Brothers pleaded guilty of the murder of Haywood, the Minnesota bank cashier, and were sentenced to imprisonment for life. A wagon loaded with 36 persons ran off the side of a bridge ten miles from Cincinnati on the 19th, severely wounding eleven of them. Hoxie, Democrat, has been elected to Congress from Illinois, instead of Aldrich, Republican, on account of irregularities in the latter's count. Frost, the Democrat elected to Congress from the Third Missouri district, has written to his opponent to again submit the election to the people. Judge Robinson, Assistant solicitor of the Treasury, finds that six Democratic Electors in the South have not had their political disabilities removed. The reports of the different officers in Washington have been delayed on account of the late period when the river and harbor bill was passed. Radicals in North Carolina think the electoral vote of that State should be thrown out because the statute says the ballots should be written and not printed. Wm. Beach Lawrence, of Rhode Island, contests G. H. Corliss' election as a Republican Elector on the ground that he was a Centennial Commissioner. The floor of Moore's variety hall in Sacramento fell through on the opening night, the 18th. Two persons are known to have been killed and about 90 wounded. The Northern Republican committee appointed to witness the workings of the Louisiana returning board, consists of Garfield, Van Allen, Hale and Beardsley. It is generally believed that Gov. Stearns of Florida will outrange all laws and insist upon ruling out the canvassing board and counting the electoral vote himself. Colored Chief of the Charleston detectives, was shot through the head and killed by a young white man named Frank Johnson in a pistol affair concerning a colored woman on the 29th. In a speech on the 20th Judge Spafford recommended to the President of the Louisiana Returning Board that he give his rulings so that they "be heard to the uttermost extremities of the Union." The Circuit Court of Florida, has issued an injunction restraining Gov. Stearns from canvassing the returns of the electoral vote, and a mandamus requiring the board of canvassers to begin the count. Jos Jorgenson, Congressman elect from the Fourth Virginia District, has brought suit against the Richmond Dispatch for 10,000 damages, for accusing him of embezzling when postmaster of Petersburg. The Democrats will have no majority on joint ballot in the South Carolina Legislature. In the Assembly the Democrats will have 64, Republicans sixty, and the Senate will stand 18 Republicans to 15 Democrats. Fifteen negroes from various precincts in Ocala parish reported to the Democrats of the St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans, on the 21st, that although they had been Presidents of Republican clubs, they now leave them, and gave reasons therefor. The Times' Washington special says: Ben Butler arrived to-day, and had a consultation with Calebushing. Butler thinks if Florida and Louisiana are given to Hayes, the House will object to the reception of their votes, and the Senate will object to Alabama and Mississippi, and the President will not be chosen by March; creating the President of the Senate President of the United States.

OREGON.

Circuit Court was in session at Jacksonville last week. The Alden fruit dryer is doing a good business in Jacksonville. Large bands of horses are sent from Jackson county to California. Wheat has been advanced by the Kinney Bros., in Salem, to 80 cents a bushel. Jacksonville is the banner Democratic precinct of Oregon. Several ladies have been around Albany raising money to fix the U. P. Church grade. John Payne has bought out the line from St. Joe to Albany, and yesterday took possession. Baker City is already putting in its claim as the Capital of the new State of Eastern Oregon. Two families, of fifteen persons, arrived at Baker City last week from Arkansas en route for Olympia. Mary St. Clair, a notorious woman of Southern Oregon, died at Canyon City recently, leaving $10,000. A true bill has been found against Henry A. Grigsby, of Jackson county, for an assault with a dangerous weapon. The Daughters of Rebekah at Albany presented a large Barlette organ to Albany Lodge, No. 4, I. O. O. F., last week. The Presbyterian ladies of Roseburg will give a supper on Thanksgiving night. Now is the time to commence taking appetizers. A Jacksonville gentleman, named Vest, had his pocket picked, at Roseburg last week of a considerable sum of money. About 9,205 barrels of beer are yearly made in Oregon. Multnomah makes the most, Clackamas and Benton the least—but 46 barrels. Astoria made a feeble effort to enforce the Sunday liquor law last week. Two men were arrested on the above charge and then acquitted. Mr. T. C. Land has large pieces of gold which he found on the headwaters of the Sixes river. He will resume prospecting in the Spring. By some mistake the money pouch from Roseburg to California last week, was tagged "way mail," and thus escaped falling into the hands of the road agents.

The annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Oregon State Agricultural Society will be held at the Secretary's office, in Salem, commencing on Tuesday, November 28th, at 10 A. M.

Hon. J. H. Douthitt, formerly of Linn county, died at his residence in Upper Ochoco, Oct. 19, 1876. He was one of the first settlers in Linn county, and was universally beloved and respected.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The World's Washington special says: There is no longer any doubt that the Administration decided at a secret Cabinet meeting held one evening last week to garrison Washington from now till after the 5th of March next, and even longer if its successors in office after that day do not order otherwise. This determination was considered again and adhered to at a conference held at Chandler's Saturday evening. So secretly have these extraordinary steps been taken that the orders which have been sent for troops have neither been forwarded by mail or telegraph but have been transmitted by special army officers detailed for that purpose.

Hon. J. K. Luttrell is re-elected to Congress by a small majority. Garrisoning Washington.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Times' Washington special says: There has been no new arrival of soldiers to-day, but more companies are on the way, or under orders to come here. A high officer of the army says that within a week or a few days there will be 22 companies in Washington, which will comprise, altogether, perhaps 1,500 or 1,600 men. It is not disclosed whether this will be all the force gathered here but probably not. It is likely two or three gunboats may also come here, as they would certainly be useful if any force should be necessary.

The Late State Senate. BY A MEMBER OF THE THIRD HOUSE.

SENATOR DAVIS, Of Multnomah county, is a bachelor, and therefore a favorite with the lady reporters. "Tom" should have been called Adonia. He is about twenty-five years old—old enough to sleep alone. But notwithstanding his youth he is a model senator. In the Senate he barely talks enough to tell what he wants, but is very apt to get it. Honest and conscientious, with judgment to keep him right, he commands the confidence and respect of all. Senator Davis is an unadulterated Democrat.

SENATOR GEORGE, Of Multnomah county, is a lawyer, and looks to be under thirty. He is tall and gracefully built. Mr. George and Mr. Wisdom were by at least one lady supposed to be the only two handsome men in the Senate; but I think differently. Mr. George is a talking member, but never a bore; he knows what he wants to say before rising; and after he has said it he has the good sense to stop. No one finds the marrow of a subject more readily than he, and no one extracts it with more ease and grace. But for an indescribable air (just visible) of "is it that said it," his delivery would be faultless. Senator George is a man of promise and a useful legislator. A Republican, but not altogether blinded thereby.

BALLOU'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE FOR DECEMBER.—The December number of Ballou's Monthly Magazine is issued, and contains the conclusion of "M. Quad's great story," "That Taylor Boy," and which ends most happily for all concerned. In addition there are some remarkably good stories, poems and engravings, and no one can read a single number of this cheap and popular monthly without being profoundly impressed with the conviction that it is the best magazine in the country, and has the most variety in it. Now is an excellent time to subscribe, and thus secure the new story by Col. James F. Fitts, which will commence in the January number. Published by Thomas & Talbot, 23 Hawley street, Boston, at $1.50 per annum, which is cheap enough for anyone.

SENATOR MYERS, Of Clackamas, is a portly, firm looking man of about forty-five summers, with a pleasant countenance and a very high forehead, which one might mistake for incipient baldness. He has had much experience in public life, and is an industrious and faithful legislator. Mr. Myers is a pleasant speaker and on all proper occasions is willing to be heard. But for a habit of looking down over his desk when speaking, as though consulting some data, thereby rendering himself almost inaudible, he would be one of the most agreeable speakers in the Senate. A Democrat in whom there is no variability or shadow of tarring.

SENATOR OFFIELD, Of Clackamas, is apparently about thirty-five years of age, medium size, thin visaged, and wears side whiskers. He talks some, but is not noisy. He uses good language and goes directly to the point, and knows when he gets through. Honest and sincere, he delivers himself with great earnestness. He it was who tore up his railroad pass in the presence of the Senate, as though he were afraid he might be corrupted by retaining it, though no one else thought him in the least danger. Mr. Offield is a Democrat.

SENATOR WATT, Of Washington, is about fifty years old, of medium size, somewhat gray, and a very agreeable gentleman. Mr. Watt is an irascible worker, giving his entire time to the business of the Senate; vigilant, practical and methodical, nothing escaped his observation. Being himself a scholar, he is peculiarly fitted for detecting any errors in a paper before him. He is a good talker, always making his points clear. A useful Senator, though probably a little factious about the close of the session. He is a Republican.

SENATOR BRALY, Of Yamhill, is another fine specimen of a Kentucky gentleman. His age is something over fifty; wears a goatee, which is somewhat silvored, as well as the hair of his head, but he has the appearance of being a well-preserved man. Mr. Braly is clear-headed and can always tell whether he is for or against a measure, and when his mind is made up all further argument with him is a waste of time. He would not be called a talker, but occasionally gives his views to the Senate, always in a sententious manner. Mr. Braly is remarkably independent as to the manner in which he discharges any duty imposed upon him, yet he is a true Democrat.

Information has been received at Washington that a number of members of Congress have already signified their intention to offer amendments to the Constitution in the following manner:

The Naturalists' Agency HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED at 3725 Lancaster Avenue, Philadelphia, for the purpose of giving collectors of objects of Natural History an opportunity of buying, selling or exchanging their duplicates or collections.

OUR MINERALOGICAL CATALOGUE, illustrated by over $500 worth of Engravings, is now ready for distribution. Free to all customers. To others on receipt of ten cents for postage. I desire especially to call attention to my remarkably fine specimens of AMAZON STONE, of which I have or have had nine-tenths of all the specimens ever found. I have made six trips to the locality, and think I may safely say no more will be found. Good crystals from 15 cents to $1 each.

Collections of Minerals For Students, Amateurs, Professors, Physicians and other Professional Men.

These collections illustrate all the principal species and all grand subdivisions in Dana among other works on Mineralogy; Every Crystalline system; all the principal Ores and every known element. The collections are labelled with a printed label that can only be removed by soaking. The labels give Dana's species, number, the name, locality, and in most cases the composition of the mineral.

All collections accompanied by an Illustrated Catalogue and table of species. 100 Crystals and Fragments for Study..... $1 100 Specimens, Student's Size, Larger..... 5 100 Specimens, larger, Amateur's size 2 1/2 x 1 1/2 inches..... 10

Collections of Gems, Ores, Earthy Minerals, Minerals used in any Arts or Agriculture, on hand or put up to Order. We sell Minerals by weight, for the Chemist and blowpipe use, at very low prices, as Samarckite 25c per lb., Allamite 25c per lb., Brookite Pure Crystals 25c per lb., Rutile pure 25c per lb., Wavelite 25c per lb., Bismite 10c per lb. I have just brought the famous CHILTON COLLECTION of Minerals and Shells, which has been on exhibition at Tiffany's for the past two years. The original price asked was $5,000. It contained a number of unequalled things, among them a Rutile in Quartz, for which Mr. Chilton was offered $350 gold. A perfect spring-mex.

The herbarium of Iowa plants that received the Highest Award, is placed in my hands for sale, for $250. The case alone is worth $150. Several $1,000 worth of Rocky Mountain Herbs, Shells, Botanical Specimens, Mound Builders Relics, &c. on hand.
