ONLY A TRAMP.

"The king of all publications issued for the "Only a tramp," said the "star," as he found Now there is no one who careth to weep

> Once he was young and ambitious, perchance Sought, like the rest, for both riches and place; Perchance might the world have honored his name; Now there is no one who knoweth his face.

But what careth Dives, pausing to gaze—
"A wretched dead vagrant under the lamp,"
Honors are his, wealth and fame are secure;
Besides, that dead body is—only a tramp.

Somewhere there may be a woman who waits; She was once a bride—now wrotched, alone. Somewhere are children too old for their years; "We're cold and we're hungry," runneth their moan.

Is it their fault if their young foreheads wear
Blighting of hunger and poverty's stamp?

White are their souls as your darlings can be;
Are they to blame if their father's a tramp? Perchance to your door last evening he cam

Asked for a crumb, to warm him, a breath: Coolly you shut all the comfort within— Without there was naught but hunger and death.

And so laid him down, the chill creeping on Stiffened his limbs, in his hair left a damp.

Life's warfare is done, all chances are gone,
Whether used our abused—only a tramp.

No mourners for him—nor children nor wife;
On lips pale and cold no kisses are pressed;
A pine colin only, nor flower or wreath
Tells of our love as we lay him to rest.
Lay him down softly and make him a bed
In earth's kindly bosom, under the sof;
Life's been a failure, and we can but trust
His body to earth—his soul unto God.
