RETURNING.

Mary E. Bradley in Sunday Afternoon. Lord, where Thy many mansions be...

I heard its still, small voice above All other voices—not in love, As in the old, sweet days of peace...

I know not, verily; and yet With doubts perplexed and fears beset, And the sad heart unsatisfied...

GRANT AND HIS BUGLERS.

The San Francisco Chronicle thinks this way about the great third-termer and his parasites;

General Grant's old Attorney-General, Oregon Williams, is the latest considerable authority that Grant is, or is to be, put into training for that third term which has so often been talked of.

As a civil officer he was quite out of place and wanting in capacity. It was among his greatest defects as President that he had no judgement of men for civil service.

A WELL IMPROVED FARM OF 100 acres, situated in good order, with all the improvements in good order, which will sell at a bargain, and on the most reasonable terms.

Abolish the Army.

It was the opinion of our forefathers, says the Clarksburg News, that a well regulated militia was the safest and best defense that could be devised for this country.

We are convinced that the time has come when the army should be abolished and it should be done at once. It has been well said that "justice belongs to-day."

Under Democratic Rule and Now.

During the administration of President Buchanan, says an exchange, the annual appropriation for the Indian Bureau was less than one million dollars a year.

A City in Two States.

This is perhaps the only city in the world that had two mayors and two city governments, police, etc., and taxed in two states.

LOUISIANA RECOVERING.

The encouraging news comes from Louisiana that $400,000 more has been collected in taxes the past year than in any previous year since the war.

Work on the Boston postoffice extension is progressing slowly, but surely. Four masons squinted over a block of stone yesterday for three hours to decide if it was level.

Does Ulysses Mean a Throne?

From the San Francisco Examiner. In a letter written by General Grant from Paris, May 20, lately laid before the public in an Eastern paper, he says: "I shall return next spring to prepare a permanent home."

Those who have read the evidence before the Potter Committee, remarks the N. Y. Day Book, will be impressed with the uniform fact that all those people who profess their Abolition or so-called Republican creed, are utterly deficient in moral sense of any kind.

A Natural Punishment.

The most respectable "colored man" in this city will jump at the chance of door keeper in a gambling house, if it pays well, and white naturally religious, morality is no part of it.

GRANT AND HIS FRIENDS.

General Grant's special advocates never fail to assert that the country needs a strong government. They clamor for a leader, remarks, the Utica Herald, Independent Radical.
