Judge Thompson returned from San Francisco this week after an absence of several weeks. He looks hale and evidently has been greatly benefited by the trip.

The best local paper in the county—THE GUARD.

While out hunting a few days ago, one of our sportsmen shot a snow-white crow. We learn that several of the same kind have been seen in the same locality. Probably some of the anti-Custom House Republicans would relish these fellows better than they do the black ones they have been eating of late.

The Eugene City Mill Company have had their mills thoroughly overhauled and have built another warehouse, thus doubling their facilities for storing grain. The quality of flour made at these mills is not surpassed by any other mills on this coast, and is equalled by few.

KILL 'EM.—If you want to get rid of flies, go to R. M. Robinson's and get a sheet of that "fly paper"—it just curls them up and would have exterminated all the flies in Egypt in a week.

ACCIDENT.—Last Tuesday, James Ware, who lives on Spruce Creek, was thrown from a horse and severely bruised about the head, breast and shoulders. He was insensible for some time, but is now out of danger.

PERSONAL.—A. J. Babb and family returned from California this week after an absence of ten or twelve years. Mr. B., like everybody else that has tried it, thinks Oregon is the best country in the world, and has come to stay.

INDICTMENT.—The grand jury of Shasta county, California, have found true bills on seven different counts—six for robbery and one for resisting an officer—against Charles E. Gish, the man arrested in Portland a short time ago by Sheriff Philbrook.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A small child of Mr. Harris Pent, who lives on Long Tom, was fatally scalded one day this week. It was playing about the stove, upon which was a kettle of boiling water which it pulled over upon itself. We were unable to get further particulars.

FIRE.—Yesterday about noon an alarm of fire was sounded, which proved to be the residence of Mr. M. E. Walker. The fire originated from a defective stove, and but for the timely arrival of our firemen, several buildings would have been burned. However, as it turned out, the damages were slight, as only a part of the roof was burned.

SUITABLE STONE FOUND.—Major Bolton went up the Columbia last week as far as the Dalles, and procuring a small boat descended to the Cascades. His object was to ascertain if suitable stone could be obtained near the river which to construct the locks and canal at the Cascades. On the way down Major Bolton stopped at several points and examined the stone. He found suitable stone for building purposes in inexhaustible quantities at several places.

CROPS.—Harvest has fairly commenced, and is considerably earlier than for the last season. All the farmers we have inquired of say that the crop will be a good average one, and the grain of a superior quality, being full and much heavier than usual. The Eugene Mill Co. have received several thousand bushels and corroborate the above report as to the quality of the new crop. The market opens at 75 cents per bushel, but will doubtless advance when wheat commences coming in in any considerable quantity.

THANKS.—Mr. Henry Parsons, of Mohawk, has our thanks for a lot of the finest blackberries we ever saw. Mr. P. has for several years been engaged in the cultivation of this delicious and healthy fruit, which this year is unusually fine. He is now marketing and is prepared to fill all orders upon the most reasonable terms. Besides encouraging home production, our people will find it much more economical to get up a supply of fruit themselves than to purchase foreign canned fruit. His berries can be found at Killingsworth's bakery.

DIED.

Entered into rest, on the 4th of August, at her residence in Eugene City, Oregon, Mrs. Nancy Dudley, wife of F. Dudley, aged fifty-eight years.

Mrs. Dudley came with her husband to Oregon about twenty years ago, and located in Eugene, where they have continued to reside. She was one of the original members of the Rebecca degree of Odd Fellows in Eugene. For eleven years Mrs. Dudley has been afflicted with partial paralysis, much of the time being perfectly helpless. But she bore the heavy cross thus laid upon her with christian fortitude and patience, which nobly illustrates her faith in the Savior. For twenty-four years a member of the Presbyterian Church. On coming to Oregon she was confirmed with Mr. Dudley in the Episcopal Church, and departed this life "in the communion of the Catholic Church, in the confidence of a certain faith, in the comfort of a reasonable, religious and holy hope." St. Louis, Mo., Columbus, O., and Litchfield, Conn. paper please copy.

A DANGEROUS THIEF.—Sheriff Eakin was notified last week that an Indian had stolen a horse from the Siletz reservation, and was requested to keep a lookout for the thief. The Sheriff left a description of the Indian with some other Indians who are camped near town, and instructed them to inform him if such an Indian came to their camp. Tuesday afternoon he made his appearance at the Indian camp, and was induced by them to come into town, when they notified the Sheriff. But the fellow was suspicious, and before he could be caught, had got on his horse and started. The Sheriff, not supposing the fellow would make any resistance, followed him a few blocks and came within halting distance, called on him to stop, but the Indian motioned him to go back and said he didn't want to talk to him. The Sheriff then ran to the barn, got his horse, and after following about two miles, again came within halting distance and ordered the thief to stop, but as before, was told to go back, but, continuing to approach, the Indian, who was armed with a Winchester rifle, got off his horse and over a fence when he fired two shots at the officer, both coming very close. It was too late by the time the Sheriff came back to town to procure arms and assistance to go in pursuit that night. Several men have been hunting him since, but without success. It has been reported several times that he has been seen within a few miles of town, but we have no idea that he is within a hundred miles of here now.

The Astorian says: "All through the present we have sustained a hope that the fishing business would revive—but alas, the season is virtually at an end, and $1,275 is about the outside figure for the season's goods. Experience teaches the cannerymen that concert of action is essential to success in this line of business, which at best, is precarious. Fishermen have been paid all the way from 50 cents to $1.00 apiece for fish this year, and when expense account is cast up, the footing will show, opposite the number of fish taken, that more than one case, more than $1.00 apiece for the fish have been paid. Now it is a fact just as patent that two and two add not four, that the business will not stand it. A gentleman who is versed in every particular of the fishing interest yesterday gave us figures which show that in all probability at least five factories, if not eleven, must pass into the hands of the creditors, next Fall. This is the direct result of too many boats in the river. Too much exertion to get ahead of the trade. Too little confidence in the permanency of the interest, and a lack of harmony amongst those men most deeply predict the hardest times in Astoria the coming fall and winter that the place ever experienced, and if you have any extras in view which you can well get along without just take our advice and postpone the purchase until next year—and if the Oregon assembly does not take some action to foster the fishing interest, you may just as well indefinitely postpone any more luxuries which have to be sustained by the Columbia river fishing interest.

THE INDIAN WAR.

LAFWAL, Aug. 1, 1878.

Jantos Lawyer brought in five squaws last night belonging to White Bird's party. I examined the squaws closely. The entire party consists of thirteen men and eight women. They would not surrender to the first party sent out. When the second party went out the Indians had disappeared. They were tracked to Cottonwood by Lawyer and then a party of whites from Camas turned Lawyer and party back. Squaws say these Indians are going to Salmon river to open caches there and then join the Snake. White Bird and most of his band are still with Sitting Bull. Reports regarding him are evidently exaggerated. The party is poorly armed and have very little ammunition. The white soldiers will probably take care of them.

Boise City, Aug. 4.—The number of hostilities which passed up Snake river is variously estimated by observers at from 75 to 200. These are probably what is left of the party of Bannocks who raided this section of Idaho at the beginning of the war. The Bannocks and other allies are yet in Oregon, between Malheur and Stein's Mountains, and along the Owyhee river, committing depredations sufficient to engage attention of troops in that quarter while the Bannocks proceed in the direction of Lemhi to form a junction with Ten Day's band, who have left the reservation, and are now supposed to be ready for hostilities.

A letter from Capt. Hailey, from Cold Springs on the overland road, August 2nd, says: "We went scouts out that day. They have just returned and report they found Indians in large force on both sides of Snake River at Big Bottom, near Braneau. Indians changed the scouts for five apiece, firing at them."

Silver City, Aug. 5.—Indians have devastated the country in all directions. Carter, Smith and Hanson, engaged to be killed, have come in safely.

Boise City, Aug. 5.—Five men and two women are reported murdered by the hostiles on Braneau river last Thursday, viz: Geo. Miller, heavy stock raiser; Joshua Miller, wife, daughter and son; Robert McMurray and one other man. Letters from Weiser valley say the Indians attempted to cross Snake river below the mouth of the Weiser yesterday, but were driven back by volunteers and a few regulars. The mountains are evidently full of Indians. Gen. Howard, with staff and the main body of troops, is between Silver City and Jordan valley. It is reported that 35 of White Bird's Nez Perces have surrendered.

STATE NEWS.

Mr. Samuel Swift has sold his farm to John Lawrence for the sum of $12,000. Mr. Swift will start after harvest to the Palouse country, where his son George now resides. Mrs. Swift and her daughter Frankie will spend the winter in Eugene City.—Signal.

The losses sustained by only four men near Stein's Mountain are as follows: French & Glenn, 500 head of fine brood mares and saddle horses, $100,000; A. H. Robie, $10,000, principally fine mares; Dixon, $8,000; Smith, $4,000. Thus four men alone lost $122,000 worth of stock at the hands of the Indians.

The Junction Signal says fifty-five thousand grain sacks were unloaded at that place one day last week. This is not half what the country demands, judging from the past and from the present crop prospects. That place ships more cereals than any other town along the rail road with the exception of Albany. Junction has warehouse room for storing 400,000 bushels of wheat.

A party calling himself W. J. Myers, and purporting to hail from Hamilton, Ohio, has been investing a few hundred thousand in Albany, and vicinity; he purchased a portion of the Santiam Canal, located a site for a mammoth agricultural works in which he proposed to employ 250 hands, bought dwelling houses hither and thither, made a dicker for four or five blocks of real estate, consumed the time of nearly all our business men for a week, ran a board bill and created more commotion than could be thought possible for any one medium sized individual would be competent of doing. After inflating the whole city with a sprightly article of gas, he quietly skipped out and the places that knew him once, know him no more. Oh, vanity, thy name is Myers.—Advertiser.

Some time ago Mr. S. Lewis Sweet Home valley, Linn county, discovered a deposit of blue stone on Bald Peter Mountain, a prominent landmark near the valley, and having taken some of the stone out, sent it to San Francisco for inspection. It was tested by Wagner, the mill stone manufacturer of that place, and he writes that it is fully equal to the French stones which he imports for use in his manufactory. Mr. Wagner is considerably interested in the discovery and immediately sent up word for 3,000 pounds to be taken out so that he could manufacture a built from it and thus give it a better test. The importance of this discovery will be realized when it is known that all blue stones are now imported from other countries. Numerous localities are found in the United States, but all are inferior to the French blue stone.—Democrat.

The Oregonian says that by the steamship Great Republic there arrived the second and last locomotive for the Dayton, Sheridan and Grand Ronde railroad. The first locomotive is called the "Pioneer," and the second the "Progress." A considerable quantity of iron also arrived on the same steamer. Work on this road is being pushed forward at a rate which insures its speedy completion. The grading has been completed from Dayton to Sheridan and also to Dallas. All the ties have been delivered for the twenty-two miles to Sheridan, and twenty thousand more for the extension to Dallas. About seventeen miles of iron and track fixtures have been delivered by the Great Republic and more will arrive by each return of the steamer. Six miles of track has been laid, and the "Pioneer" and four cars are busy carrying iron and ties to the front or tracklayers. Two-thirds of the bridging has been completed, and Superintendent Anderson expects to have the road completed to Sheridan by September 1st, and to Dallas by October 1st.

The Roving Red Raiders.

Theodore Millman came in yesterday from Monday's ferry, says the Idaho Statesman of the 3d. He reports that after the Indians passed the ferry on their way up the Snake river, a Chinaman who was at the ferry went to the Chinese ranch near the mouth of Reynolds' creek, where there had been seven Chinamen living and raising vegetables. He found the bodies of four Chinamen, who had been killed by the Indians on Wednesday, the same day that Heninway was shot. Two of the seven Chinamen are yet missing, and one—a very old Chinaman—was spared by the Indians who told him that he was not worth killing and had better skeepidly, as there were five hundred more Indians coming, some of whom might not think as they did. The old Chinaman took the hint and fled for Silver City. One of the dead Chinamen had a pick driven through his body and into the ground.

Johnny Carpenter, a courier who had started from this city at 3 o'clock the 30th of July, arrived at Egbert's camp, crossing the Owyhee, and been up to Rock Springs, fifteen miles into the mountains when he found Egbert with his command, and they all returned to the crossing of the Owyhee. Egbert took up his march for Monday's ferry yesterday morning. Would camp at Sucker creek last night and at Monday's to-night. Col. Green was camped at McDowell's ferry (south side) night before last. He was on the road early yesterday morning by way of French John's ferry for Camp Lyon to meet Gen. Howard. Howard, with the main command, was expected at Camp Lyon Thursday night.

Warren Roberts, son of A. A. Roberts, of this city, came in from their ranch on Willow creek, in Baker county, Oregon. The hay stacks which were burned belonged to A. W. Turner, who lives on Willow creek about 20 miles above the stone house crossing of the Malheur river. About 200 tons of hay were lost by fire. The Indians ran off about 20 head of horses which belonged to Nat Graves. His horses ran on the range between Bally creek and Malheur river. Pat Cassidy had several head of horses stolen from his corral while he stood on a hill with his family, having fled from their home at the approach of the Indians. His horse is on the Malheur river, ten miles below Kincaid's crossing. Old man Reeves, who resides on Clover creek and keeps a large dairy, had his horse burned by the Indians. His family consists of himself, wife, two grown daughters and a small child. They escaped from their house at the approach of the Indians, and after seeing the house burned down they walked to Malheur City, a distance of thirty-five miles, carrying the child in their arms. This was the same family which young Roberts took away from their home with a team on the 16th of June last.

Overtaking the Energies.

It is not advisable for any of us to overtak our energies, corporal or mental, but in the eager pursuit of wealth or fame or knowledge, how many transgress this salutary rule. It must be a matter of great importance to all who do so to know how they can regain the vigor so recklessly expended. The remedy is neither costly or difficult to obtain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is procurable in every city, town and settlement in America, and it compensates for a drain of bodily or mental energy more effectually than any invigorant ever prescribed or advertised. Laboring men, athletes, students, journalists, lawyers, clerical men, physicians, all bear testimony to its wondrously renovating powers. It increases the capabilities for undergoing fatigue, and counteracts the injurious effects upon the system of exposure, sedentary habits, unhealthful or wearying avocations, or an insubordinate climate, and is a prime alterative, diuretic and blood purifier.

IN THE WHOLE HISTORY OF MEDICINE, no preparation has ever performed such marvellous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use, in the throat and lung disorders of children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and Clergymen recommend it.
