NATIONAL BANKS.

Last Friday's Oregonian contained an article in defence of the National Banking system. It is claimed that the interest on the bonds would have to be paid whether deposited as security for bank notes or not. This is true, but should the government call in these National Bank notes and issue an equal amount of treasury notes, it would add three hundred and twenty-four millions to funds of the treasury, which we believe is the amount of the National Bank note circulation; these treasury notes could be used to pay current expenses and an equal amount of other funds applied to the payment of United States six per cent. bonds. The government would thus reduce the interest bearing debt 324 millions without inflating the currency and save annually over nineteen millions in interest. It is also claimed that they pay taxes, National, State and municipal, equal or greater in amount than the interest which they receive on bonds deposited. In the first place we doubt if this assertion is true. It is one easily made but hard to disprove. But it true, it proves no counterclaim for the interest paid these banks. There would be about the same amount of capital invested in banking whether we have National Banks or not, and under present laws, the same amount of taxes would be paid on their capital and business as under the present system. Their capital stock to the amount invested in United States bonds is wholly exempt from every species of taxation, National, State and municipal. The issuing of these National Bank notes form but a small part of the business of the banks. Their capital stock is not all invested in United States bonds, in many instances only a small proportion of it. Hence the taxes they pay are not increased by the fact that a portion of their capital is invested in bonds. The only return which the government exacts for the extraordinary privileges granted is one-half of one per cent. half yearly upon the average amount of their bank note circulation. All other taxes paid by National Banks are paid equally by all other banking institutions, whether conducted by individuals or corporations. This tax is almost entirely absorbed in the expenses of engraving the bank notes and keeping up the supervision which the government maintains over these institutions. In effect, it is only requiring them to pay the expenses incurred in establishing and keeping them in operation. It is claimed as an evidence that they receive little advantage from the privileges derived from the government; that many of these banks have returned their notes and taken up their bonds deposited. This sometimes happens, but bankruptcy for unfortunate speculations, forfeitures of charters, and various other contingencies to which human enterprises are liable, have induced this step, and not the fact that no profit was derived from their privileges. If the conditions upon which they are established cost the banks more than they derive from them they would not accept them, and if they produce profit neither to the government nor the banks, they should be abolished as incurring a waste of time and trouble to no good purpose. We believe the Oregonian indorses the opinion that these locus poens operations in finance as well as in other subjects of governmental supervision produce nothing to the country or the people; that the support of the government must come from the earnings of the people; that it can do nothing of a positive character to create wealth or general prosperity; that all interferences for these purposes do nothing but obstruct the creation of wealth, or at most, to aggregate it in the hands of one by taking it from another. Property consists of the objects of human desire, and they are all the produce of labor, or labor and capital combined. The principles of mechanics are simple when properly applied, and very complicated machinery generally proves of no practical value. So the true principles of political economy are simple, and measures and methods which require profound thought for justification, about which intelligent men earnestly differ, the usefulness of which cannot be made out to the common mind, are unfit for a republic, and should be rejected. No special privilege can be granted, except at the expense of the people. And all intricate financial schemes have ever proven a curse in the end.

SENATORIAL CANDIDATES.

As the session of the Legislature draws near, Senatorial candidates seem to multiply until they have become in numbers like unto the lice or loads of Egypt in the days of Moses.

What seems to pass all understanding, is, that each aspirant thinks he has claims on the party, and his friends, whether they be few or many, never tire of urging such claims. If a man has been a constant Democrat, that is a claim; if he has been an ultra, or fool Democrat, that is a claim; if he has been false to all parties, and true to none, that is a claim; if he is noisy about some particular measure that everybody is in favor of, that is a claim; and if he has never done harm or good in his life, and is not expected to, that is a claim that cannot be overlooked.

Such men as Webster, Calhoun, Clay and Benton, and even Washington and Jefferson, did not flaunt their claims before their parties and demand their recognition, but when called upon to serve the State they recognized the claims the country had upon them, and yielded their services. But this class of Statesmen seem to have died out. It is a great mistake to suppose the State or a party owe special favors to an individual—that because an aspirant wants an office his party, or the public, are under obligations to give it to him. Persons who prefer claims upon party generally discourse very eloquently and feelingly on the great sacrifices they have made in the interest of party, and the many benefits they have conferred on the State, party and individuals, never taking heed for themselves, while the truth is their every act was prompted by their own ambition.

While Oregon has men of fair Senatorial ability, it is a shame that men, scarcely rising to the grade of mediocrity should make such silly pretensions, and still a greater shame that men of ordinary intelligence should encourage them in it. If all those patriots who are spilling to serve their country in the U. S. Senate would stay at home during the session of the Legislature, or until after the Senator is elected, they would thereby do the country a greater service than they are likely to do it in any other way. The Legislature is charged with the duty of electing a Senator, and it would be much more likely to perform that duty intelligently without the advice of interested candidates than it would be with it.

The Democrats carried the Legislature; it is the duty of the Democratic members to represent the wishes of those who elected them in the election of a U. S. Senator. Elect a man who has not been a Democrat simply for what it would pay, but don't elect a man who would count on losing his own soul and go to the U. S. Senate. The people want no such man. It the party is worth saving it is worth consulting.

We have had enough manism in the election of Senators; it is quite time now that we have something else, and the people expect it at the hands of coming Legislature. If the Democratic members shall yield to the pitiful pleadings of some patriotic cuss who has spent his time and means in seeking political preferment, and shall elect such a man to the U. S. Senate simply to save him from a worse fate, to keep him from committing suicide or becoming an inmate of the insane asylum, then they, as well as all others, may expect a Waterloo two years hence.

Secretary Chadwick is acting Governor by reason of having been elected Secretary of State. The law provides that the term of his successor shall commence to run from the first day of the regular session next following his election—Monday 9th. Therefore, next Monday Earhart will be Secretary and Chadwick will be nothing. Now, what we want to know is, who will be Governor from the time Chadwick goes out until Thayer comes in? probably about Thursday the 12th. A nice question.

East your green corn as if you were playing a game.—North-west. Not much, sister; we eat our green corn as if we were hungry.

PERSONAL.

Ex-Surveyor General Simpson spent a few days in our city this week.

H. C. Perkins, and party are expected home in about three weeks.

J. H. Evans, Register of the land office at Lakeview, was in town this week.

Hon. John Kelly, Collector of Customs at Portland, was in town during the week.

H. R. Kinsaid, proprietor of the Journal, and wife, returned from Washington this week.

H. C. Owen, Mr. Hadsell and Mr. Broback, representative from Lake county, came in this week.

Mrs. Whittemore, an old resident of this county, but who for several years has lived in Umatilla county, is visiting friends in this county.

Prof. Digit, the renown wizard, will give one of his performances at Lane's Hall this evening. From the favorable notices from our exchanges we can promise those who patronize the Professor a rare treat.

We learn from a gentleman who came up yesterday's train that as he left Irving Station Mr. Geo. Bushnell's barn was on fire, and that he saw the roof fall in. Immediately after a fire broke out in the barn on Mr. Washburn's place, about one mile north of Mr. Bushnell's. No farther particulars.

A GOOD THING.—Messrs. McKinstry & Son have a large force at work repairing the tin roofs in the city. They have a patent preparation which they apply that covers the tin about an eighth of an inch thick, and which they warrant to stand for six years against the effect of heat and water. They have contracts with Messrs. Underwood, Dorris, Dunn, Killingsworth, Grange Store and the Odd Fellows' Hall. We really hope they will be able to keep the water out, as we have had some experience and "know how it is ourselves."

ANOTHER GOOD BILL.—We were shown to-day a bill prepared for the coming Legislature, which if it becomes a law will prevent much trouble and be the means of putting a check upon men who delight in provoking others by using rough, indecent, and abusive language, says the Salem Record of Tuesday. It makes such conduct a misdemeanor, and punishable by fine or imprisonment in the county jail. We should like to see the bill become a law.

The Wheeler & Wilson No. 8 Sewing Machine is ahead yet. We yesterday saw specimens of the work done on this machine that proves its superiority. Three pieces of ordinary skirting leather were stitched firmly together, having the thickness and strength of the tug of carriage harness. We also saw some beautiful specimens of braiding, the braid running directly off the spool. Go to K. Hingsworth and see one of these machines work and you will buy no other.

The Democratic papers in Georgia concede that the Republican party in this State is "picking up."—Journal.

The Democratic papers, not only in Georgia, but in every other State in the Union, have "conceded," for the last seventeen years, that the Republican party had "picked up" everything they could lay their hands upon.

Exchange: A magazine writer says there is a language of the hair. Don't doubt it to the least. At any rate, we have heard of tolerably well authenticated cases where a single Auburn hair on a dark coat collar could talk plainer than a guide-board.

The wheat stored at Junction is universally better than that stored at Eugene City and other places in Lane county. The dealers here don't know what it is to be troubled with shriveled wheat, while last season one-half of the wheat placed in the market at Eugene City, had some shriveled grains in it.—Signal.

There is not a better grade of wheat stored at any point in the State than that brought into this market, and instead of the wheat stored at Junction being "universally" better than that stored at Eugene, the contrary is the fact, as some lots offered here last year were refused because of the inferior quality, and afterwards, the same lots were received at Junction. Puff your little village as much as you please, but don't make such wild shots.

Fat People Made Lean. Physicians and physiologists have long "scratched their heads" and "burned the midnight oil," seeking to devise some means whereby excessive corpulence might be either prevented or controlled. Until recently all "theories," "special directions," and "remedies," have failed. But at last the problem is solved. Allan's Anti-Fat will surely and positively reduce flesh at from 3 to 6 pounds per week. No medicine or combination of medicines has ever been discovered that would produce such wonderful results, and at the same time improve the general health. Sold by druggists.

Every family, no matter how limited their domestic facilities, can command warm water when it is prepared a bath, and it requires a very insignificant outlay of money to buy a cake of Glenn's Sulphur Soap to enable them to convert it at once into a sulphur bath. Why then, with that means of cure in their reach do they continue to be miserable cripples and objects of pity? Criticism, No. 7 Sixth Ave., New York. Sold by druggists. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, Black or Brown, 25c.

Robinson & Church at the Hardware Store keep the largest and best selected stock of wall paper and border in Eugene City, comprising in part, Brown, Blanks, Satin, Gilt and Embossed paper. They will purchase direct from the Eastern factories and will sell as cheap as the cheapest. All paper trimmed free of charge.

The Stopping Stone to Health.

The acquisition of vital energy in the stopping stone to health. When the system lacks vitality, the various organs flag in their duty, become chronically irregular, and disease is eventually instituted. To prevent this untoward state of things, the delicate system should be built up by the use of that inimitable tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters which invigorates the digestive organs, and insures a thorough conversion of food into blood of a nourishing quality, from whence every muscle, nerve and fiber acquire untold supplies of vigor, and the whole system experiences the beneficial effects. Appetite returns, the system is refreshed by healthful slumber, the nerves grow strong and calm, the despondency begotten of chronic indigestion and an uncertain state of health disappears, and that sallow appearance of the skin peculiar to habitual invalids, and persons deficient in vital energy, is replaced by a more becoming tinge.

In order to close out our large stock of Imperishable and Rubber Paint, we will sell the same for the next six days at the following prices: Imperishable, in bulk, per gallon, $1.60; in 5 gall. cans, per gal., $1.80; Rubber, in 5 gall. cans, $1.80. Other paints and oils, we will sell in proportion to the above prices. We will shortly have on hand the largest stock of coal oil ever kept in Eugene which we will dispose of at the following low prices: 110 deg., fire test, per 5 gall. cans, $1.50. 150 deg., fire test, per 5-gall. cans, $3.00 OSBURN & CO.

A CHALLENGE.

I hereby challenge Polk Harpole to run a foot race, distance one hundred yards, for a stake of from $300 to $1,000. This challenge to remain open until the 20th inst. GEORGE WARE.

To Whom It May Concern.

Last Spring I received letters from one Wm. Craig, stating that Mr. R. D. Coats had rented a portion of my farm, near Goshen, to him for two years, when Mr. Coats had a lease on the farm for but one year. Since I have returned I find that Craig's statement is utterly false, and that Mr. Coats' management of the place has been satisfactory and according to contract. GEORGE WARE.

Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. Liver is King.

The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movement of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles sent free. The 100,000 bottles of it, it has therefore been taken by thousands, and we challenge proof that it has ever harmed any body, unless the reduction of obese persons from 20 to 60 pounds, leaving them healthy and strong; is considered a misfortune. Furthermore, we hereby offer $5,000 reward for evidence showing that it contains poisonous or injurious ingredients. We also offer $5,000 if we cannot prove that it has reduced numbers of persons as stated herein, and always without injury. It is said a lie will outtravel the truth any time; but we will trust that those newspapers that have misled the public by saying that physicians attributed the lady's death to the use of Anti-Fat (which is only put up by us, the term "Anti-Fat" being our trade-mark), will correct the false impression they have conveyed, by publishing this refutation. BOTANIC MEDICINE CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

Can the Truth Overtake a Lie? Investigation discloses the fact that the lady reported in the Associated Press dispatches, about Aug. 10th, to have died in Chicago after two weeks' use of some reputed remedy for corpulency, had not taken Allan's Anti-Fat, but had used a preparation put up by a regular physician in Luzerne, Pa. Allan's Anti-Fat is manufactured in Buffalo, N. Y., by the undersigned. We have already sold over 100,000 bottles of it. It has therefore been taken by thousands, and we challenge proof that it has ever harmed any body, unless the reduction of obese persons from 20 to 60 pounds, leaving them healthy and strong; is considered a misfortune.
