

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

ESTABLISHED FOR THE DISSEMINATION OF DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES, AND TO EARN AN HONEST LIVING BY THE SWEAT OF OUR BROW.

WHOLE NO. 568.

EUGENE CITY, OR., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1878.

$2.50 per year IN ADVANCE.

The Eugene City Guard.

ALEXANDER, W. H. ALEXANDER.

ALEXANDER BROS.,
Publishers and Proprietors.
OFFICE—In Underwood's Brick Building, over Express Office.

OUR ONLY

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Advertisements inserted as follows:
One square, 10 lines or less, one insertion $3; each subsequent insertion $1. Cash required in advance.
Time advertisers will be charged at the following rates:
One square three months..... $6 00
" " six months..... 8 00
" " one year..... 12 00 Transient notices in local column, 20 cents per line for each insertion.
Advertising bills will be rendered quarterly.
All job work must be paid for on delivery.

POSTOFFICE.

Office Hours—From 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 12 p. m.
Mail arrives from the south and leaves going north 10 a. m. Arrives from the north and leaves going south at 2:30 p. m. For St. Paul, Franklin and Long Island, Camp Creek and Brownsville at 1 p. m.
Letters will be ready for delivery half an hour after a trial of trains. Letters should be left at the office one hour before mail departure.
A. S. PATTERSON, P. M.

SOCIETIES.

EUGENE LODGE NO. 11, A. F. and A. M.
Meets first and third Wednesdays in each month.

WIMAWA, ESCAPEMENT NO. 6, meets on the third Wednesday in each month.

T. T. SHELTON, M. D. T. W. HARRIS, M. D.

Dr. J. C. Shields
OFFICE—Ninth Street, opposite the St.
Charles Hotel, and at Residence,
EUGENE CITY, OREGON.

Dr. J. C. Shields
OFFERS HIS PROFESSIONAL SERvices to the citizens of Eugene City and surrounding country. Special attention given to all OBSTETRICAL CASES and UTER-INE DISEASES entrusted to his care.
Office at the St. Charles Hotel.

DR. JOSEPH P. GILL
CAN BE FOUND AT HIS OFFICE or residence when not professionally engaged.
Office at the POST OFFICE, DRUG STORE.
Residence on Eighth street, opposite Presbyterian Church.

CLEAVER & KENDERSON,
DENTISTS,
Eugene City, Oregon.
ROOMS OVER GRANGE STORE, first door to the right, up stairs. Formerly office of C. W. Fish.
Nitrous Oxide Gas for painless extraction of teeth.

J. C. Bolin,
DENTIST.
SUCCESSOR TO
WEJSH & BOLIN.
OFFICE—Ninth St., opposite the St. Charles Hotel, up stairs.
Nitrous Oxide Gas for painless extractions of teeth.

GEO. B. DORRIS,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW Office on Willamette street, Eugene City.

CENTRAL MARKET
BOYD & MILLER, Proprietors. will
KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND, BEEF,
VEAL, PORK AND MUTTON.

JEWELRY ESTABLISHMENT.
J. S. LUCKEY,
DEALER IN
Clocks, Watches, Chains, Jewelry, etc.
Repairing Promptly Executed.
52 All Work Warranted.
J. S. LUCKEY,
Ellsworth & Co.'s brick, Willamette Street.

E. B. McWilliams,
FANCY
Carriage Painter.
SHOP ON SEVENTH STREET ONE door West of the Episcopal Church.
Orders from the country solicited.
may 22nd

$66 a week in your own town. $5 outfit free. No risk. Reader, if you want a business at which persons of either sex can make great pay all the time they work, write for particulars to H.
HALLITT & Co., Portland, Maine.

Book and Stationery Store.

POST OFFICE BUILDING, EUGENE City. I have on hand and am constantly receiving an assortment of the Best School and Miscellaneous Books, Stationery, Blank Books, Pencils, Cards, Walla, Blanks, Portcu-lains, etc., etc.
A. S. PATTERSON.

FOR BUREAU VISTA STONE WATER to
T. G. HENDRICKS

EUGENE CITY BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

ALEXANDER, J. B.—Justice of the Peace South Eugene Precinct; office at Court House.
ASTOR HOUSE—Chas. Baker, prop. The only first-class hotel in the city—Willamette street, one door north of the post office.

ABRAMS, W. H. & BRO.—Planing mill, ash, door, blind and moulding manufactory, Eighth street, east of mill race. Everything in our line furnished on short notice and reasonable terms.

BENTLEY, J. W.—Private boarding house, southwest corner of Eleventh and Pearl sts.
BOLON, J. C.—Surgical and Mechanical Dentist—Ninth St., opposite St. Charles Hotel.
BAUSCH, P.—Boot and shoe maker, Willamette street, second door south of A. V. Peters & Co.

BOOK STORE—One door south of the Astor House. A full stock of assorted box papers plain and fancy.

BAKER, R. F.—Wines, liquors, cigars and billiards—Willamette street one door north of St. Charles Hotel.

BOYD MILLER—Meat Market—beef, veal, mutton, pork and lard—Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

COLEMAN, FRANK—Wines, liquors, cigars and billiards, Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

CLEAVER, J. W.—General variety store and agricultural implements, southeast corner of Willamette and Seventh streets.

CHAPMAN, E. F.—Gunsmith—repairing promptly done and work warranted, Eighth street, between Willamette and Olive.

CHRISTMAN, SCOTT—Trunk, hack and expressman. All orders promptly attended to.
Office at express office.

CRAIN BROS.—Dealer in Jewelry, Watches, Clocks and Musical Instruments—Willamette street, between Seventh and Eighth.

CALLISON, R. G.—Dealer in groceries, provisions, country produce, canned goods, books, stationery, etc., southwest corner Willamette and 9th Sts.

DORRIS, B. F.—Dealer in Stoves and Tinware—Willamette street, between Seventh and Eighth.

DURANT, WM.—Meat Market, beef, pork, veal and mutton constantly on hand—Ninth street, between Pearl and High.

ELLSWORTH & CO.—Druggists and dealers in paints, oils, etc.—Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

FRIENDLY, S. H.—Dealer in dry goods, clothing and general merchandise—Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

GUARD OFFICE—Newspaper, book and job printing office, corner Willamette and Eighth streets, up stairs.

GRANGE STORE—Dealers in general merchandise and produce, corner Eighth and Willamette streets.

GILL, J. P.—Physician, Surgeon and Druggist, Postoffice, Willamette street, between Seventh and Eighth.

HENDRICKS, T. G.—Dealer in general merchandise—southwest corner Willamette and Ninth streets.

HYMAN, D.—Variety Store and dealer in furs and skins, Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

RODES, C.—Lager beer, liquors, cigars and a fine picnic-hall table, Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

HARRINGTON, FRANK—Barber, Hair-dresser and has a room, east side Willamette st., second door north of St. Charles Hotel.

HORN, CHAS. M.—Gunsmith. Rifles and shot-guns, breech and muzzle loaders, for sale.
Repairing done in the nearest style and warranted. Shop on 9th street.

JAMES, B. H.—Stoves, and manufacturer of Tin and Sheet-iron ware, Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

KINSEY, J. D.—Sash, blinds and door factory, window and door frames, mouldings, etc., glazing and glass cutting done to order.
etc., glazing and glass cutting done to order.
LYNCH, A.—Groceries, provisions, fruits, vegetables, etc., Willamette street, first door south of Postoffice.

LAKIN, D. R.—Saddlery, harness, saddle trees, whips, etc.—Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

LUCKEY, J. S.—Watchmaker and Jeweler; keeps a fine stock of goods in his line, Willamette street, in Ellsworth's drug store.

McCLAREN, JAMES—Choice, wines, liquors, and cigars—Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

MELLER, M.—Brewery—Lager beer on tap and by the keg or barrel, corner of Ninth and Olive streets.

McCLANAHAN, E. J.—Truck and Draying; all orders promptly attended to. Headquarters at Robinson & Church's.

OSBURN & CO.—Dealers in drugs, medicines, chemicals, oils, paints, etc.—Willamette st., opposite St. Charles Hotel.

PATTERSON, A. S.—A fine stock of plain and fancy visiting cards.

PERKINS, H. C.—County Surveyor and Civil Engineer. Residence on Fifth street.

PENNINGTON, B. C.—Auctioneer and Commission Merchant, corner seventh and High streets.

PRESTON, WM.—Dealer in Saddlery, Harness, Carriage Trimmings, etc.—Willamette street, between Seventh and Eighth.

POST OFFICE—A new stock of standard school books just received at the post office.

RUSH, BEN.—Horse-shoeing and general jobbing blacksmith, Eighth street, between Willamette and Olive.

REAM, J. R.—Undertaker and building contractor, corner Willamette and Seventh streets.

ROSEYLLATT & CO.—Dry goods, clothing, groceries and general merchandise, southwest corner Willamette and Eighth streets.

A Radical "Strong Government."

From the San Francisco Examiner.

The New York Times is the leading Radical organ of the Empire State, if not of the Union. It declares the sentiment that as against the effect of labor troubles and for the protection of the rich, in the United States, "There seems to be but one remedy, and it must come—a change of ownership of the soil, and
a creation of class land-owners on the one hand, and if tenant farmers on the other—something similar to what has long existed in the older countries
of Europe." With this, would come,
as a matter of course, the European
system of elections, with the restrictions as to the suffrage. Even in
"free England" the poor cannot vote, unless they have property or household, but even these cannot be elected to Parliament, except in extraordinary instances, as it costs all way from £1,000 to even £3,000 to secure a seat in the Commons. The landowners, the lords of the soil, are virtually also the owners of the conscience of their tenants, so far as voting in concerned, for the tenant who refuses to vote as his landlord commands him soon finds himself subjected to a species of tyranny, which
the law allows, and has either to submit to it or abandon his lease, if he
be not actually driven from the premises at first. Under such a system, in this country, there would be only rich men in the Legislature, rich men in Congress, rich men in every important public office throughout the land.
Then would follow the "strong Government" for which the Radicals want Grant as a life-long Dictator. A large standing army, to overawe the people, and to enforce the arbitrary
laws or mandates of the Government, would be next provided. Then would succeed the withdrawal of the ballot from all who were not property-owners and free-holders. And after these preliminaries of the "strong Government," all that would remain
to the citizens, degraded to subject condition, may be inferred from an insight into the workings of the monarchical or despotic governments of Europe. Their vassalage would be secured, and their only relief or rescue from it, successful revolution.
But, under the "strong Government"
the authorities would adopt the precautionary measure of disarming the subject classes, and making it penal for them to own or keep arms. It was done in the South, under the Reconstruction Acts; it is done in Ireland to this day. With soldiers stationed in every district where trouble
was feared or likely to occur, the decisive treatment of powder and lead would prove very effective. As for the detested people thus brought to enslavement by their own votes
in the outset, by electing the Radical masters who used and abused the power so obtained to the end accomplished, they might sorrowful ruminate upon their own deplorable folly, and those among them who rushed to Radicalism to escape the mere scare of Communism, could with their unfortunate fellow serfs drown their
grief in their own tears, and still suffer worse wrongs in their degradation.
The frightened deer which fled from
the hounds and rushed into the cave
for security, was there devoured by the lion. It might have escaped the hounds, but it stood no chance with the king of beasts. The voters who rush to Radicalism in any form—whether through the false passage
way of Non-Partisanship, or any other
—to escape even Kearneyism, of the two evils choose and are certain to fall victims to the worst.

From the San Francisco Examiner.

The New York Times is the lead-
ing Radical organ of the Empire
State, if not of the Union. It de-
clares the sentiment that as against
the effect of labor troubles and for
the protection of the rich, in the United States, "There seems to be
but one remedy, and it must come—a
change of ownership of the soil, and
a creation of class land-owners on the
one hand, and if tenant farmers on
the other—something similar to what
has long existed in the older countries
of Europe." With this, would come,
as a matter of course, the European
system of elections, with the restrictions as to the suffrage. Even in
"free England" the poor cannot vote,
unless they have property or house-
hold, but even these cannot be elected
to Parliament, except in extraor-
dinary instances, as it costs all way
from £1,000 to even £3,000 to secure
a seat in the Commons. The land-
owners, the lords of the soil, are virtually also the owners of the con-
science of their tenants, so far as vot-
ing in concerned, for the tenant who
refuses to vote as his landlord com-
mands him soon finds himself sub-
jected to a species of tyranny, which
the law allows, and has either to sub-
mit to it or abandon his lease, if he
be not actually driven from the premises at first. Under such a system,
in this country, there would be only
rich men in the Legislature, rich men
in Congress, rich men in every important public office throughout the land.
Then would follow the "strong Government" for which the Radicals want
Grant as a life-long Dictator. A
large standing army, to overawe the
people, and to enforce the arbitrary
laws or mandates of the Government,
would be next provided. Then would
succeed the withdrawal of the
ballot from all who were not property-
owners and free-holders. And after
these preliminaries of the "strong Government," all that would remain
to the citizens, degraded to subject
condition, may be inferred from an
insight into the workings of the mon-
archical or despotic governments of Europe. Their vassalage would be
secured, and their only relief or rescue from it, successful revolution.
But, under the "strong Government"
the authorities would adopt the pre-
cautionary measure of disarming the
subject classes, and making it penal
for them to own or keep arms. It
was done in the South, under the Re-
construction Acts; it is done in Ire-
land to this day. With soldiers sta-
tioned in every district where trouble
was feared or likely to occur, the
decisive treatment of powder and
lead would prove very effective. As
for the detested people thus brought
to enslavement by their own votes
in the outset, by electing the Radical
masters who used and abused the
power so obtained to the end accomplished, they might sorrowful rumi-
nate upon their own deplorable folly,
and those among them who rushed to
Radicalism to escape the mere scare
of Communism, could with their un-
fortunate fellow serfs drown their
grief in their own tears, and still suffer worse wrongs in their degradation.
The frightened deer which fled from
the hounds and rushed into the cave
for security, was there devoured by
the lion. It might have escaped the
hounds, but it stood no chance with
the king of beasts. The voters who
rush to Radicalism in any form—
whether through the false passage
way of Non-Partisanship, or any other
—to escape even Kearneyism, of the
two evils choose and are certain to
fall victims to the worst.

From the San Francisco Examiner.

The New York Times is the lead-
ing Radical organ of the Empire
State, if not of the Union. It de-
clares the sentiment that as against
the effect of labor troubles and for
the protection of the rich, in the United States, "There seems to be
but one remedy, and it must come—a
change of ownership of the soil, and
a creation of class land-owners on the
one hand, and if tenant farmers on
the other—something similar to what
has long existed in the older countries
of Europe." With this, would come,
as a matter of course, the European
system of elections, with the restrictions as to the suffrage. Even in
"free England" the poor cannot vote,
unless they have property or house-
hold, but even these cannot be elected
to Parliament, except in extraor-
dinary instances, as it costs all way
from £1,000 to even £3,000 to secure
a seat in the Commons. The land-
owners, the lords of the soil, are virtually also the owners of the con-
science of their tenants, so far as vot-
ing in concerned, for the tenant who
refuses to vote as his landlord com-
mands him soon finds himself sub-
jected to a species of tyranny, which
the law allows, and has either to sub-
mit to it or abandon his lease, if he
be not actually driven from the premises at first. Under such a system,
in this country, there would be only
rich men in the Legislature, rich men
in Congress, rich men in every important public office throughout the land.
Then would follow the "strong Government" for which the Radicals want
Grant as a life-long Dictator. A
large standing army, to overawe the
people, and to enforce the arbitrary
laws or mandates of the Government,
would be next provided. Then would
succeed the withdrawal of the
ballot from all who were not property-
owners and free-holders. And after
these preliminaries of the "strong Government," all that would remain
to the citizens, degraded to subject
condition, may be inferred from an
insight into the workings of the mon-
archical or despotic governments of Europe. Their vassalage would be
secured, and their only relief or rescue from it, successful revolution.
But, under the "strong Government"
the authorities would adopt the pre-
cautionary measure of disarming the
subject classes, and making it penal
for them to own or keep arms. It
was done in the South, under the Re-
construction Acts; it is done in Ire-
land to this day. With soldiers sta-
tioned in every district where trouble
was feared or likely to occur, the
decisive treatment of powder and
lead would prove very effective. As
for the detested people thus brought
to enslavement by their own votes
in the outset, by electing the Radical
masters who used and abused the
power so obtained to the end accomplished, they might sorrowful rumi-
nate upon their own deplorable folly,
and those among them who rushed to
Radicalism to escape the mere scare
of Communism, could with their un-
fortunate fellow serfs drown their
grief in their own tears, and still suffer worse wrongs in their degradation.
The frightened deer which fled from
the hounds and rushed into the cave
for security, was there devoured by
the lion. It might have escaped the
hounds, but it stood no chance with
the king of beasts. The voters who
rush to Radicalism in any form—
whether through the false passage
way of Non-Partisanship, or any other
—to escape even Kearneyism, of the
two evils choose and are certain to
fall victims to the worst.

From the San Francisco Examiner.

The New York Times is the lead-
ing Radical organ of the Empire
State, if not of the Union. It de-
clares the sentiment that as against
the effect of labor troubles and for
the protection of the rich, in the United States, "There seems to be
but one remedy, and it must come—a
change of ownership of the soil, and
a creation of class land-owners on the
one hand, and if tenant farmers on
the other—something similar to what
has long existed in the older countries
of Europe." With this, would come,
as a matter of course, the European
system of elections, with the restrictions as to the suffrage. Even in
"free England" the poor cannot vote,
unless they have property or house-
hold, but even these cannot be elected
to Parliament, except in extraor-
dinary instances, as it costs all way
from £1,000 to even £3,000 to secure
a seat in the Commons. The land-
owners, the lords of the soil, are virtually also the owners of the con-
science of their tenants, so far as vot-
ing in concerned, for the tenant who
refuses to vote as his landlord com-
mands him soon finds himself sub-
jected to a species of tyranny, which
the law allows, and has either to sub-
mit to it or abandon his lease, if he
be not actually driven from the premises at first. Under such a system,
in this country, there would be only
rich men in the Legislature, rich men
in Congress, rich men in every important public office throughout the land.
Then would follow the "strong Government" for which the Radicals want
Grant as a life-long Dictator. A
large standing army, to overawe the
people, and to enforce the arbitrary
laws or mandates of the Government,
would be next provided. Then would
succeed the withdrawal of the
ballot from all who were not property-
owners and free-holders. And after
these preliminaries of the "strong Government," all that would remain
to the citizens, degraded to subject
condition, may be inferred from an
insight into the workings of the mon-
archical or despotic governments of Europe. Their vassalage would be
secured, and their only relief or rescue from it, successful revolution.
But, under the "strong Government"
the authorities would adopt the pre-
cautionary measure of disarming the
subject classes, and making it penal
for them to own or keep arms. It
was done in the South, under the Re-
construction Acts; it is done in Ire-
land to this day. With soldiers sta-
tioned in every district where trouble
was feared or likely to occur, the
decisive treatment of powder and
lead would prove very effective. As
for the detested people thus brought
to enslavement by their own votes
in the outset, by electing the Radical
masters who used and abused the
power so obtained to the end accomplished, they might sorrowful rumi-
nate upon their own deplorable folly,
and those among them who rushed to
Radicalism to escape the mere scare
of Communism, could with their un-
fortunate fellow serfs drown their
grief in their own tears, and still suffer worse wrongs in their degradation.
The frightened deer which fled from
the hounds and rushed into the cave
for security, was there devoured by
the lion. It might have escaped the
hounds, but it stood no chance with
the king of beasts. The voters who
rush to Radicalism in any form—
whether through the false passage
way of Non-Partisanship, or any other
—to escape even Kearneyism, of the
two evils choose and are certain to
fall victims to the worst.

From the San Francisco Examiner.

The New York Times is the lead-
ing Radical organ of the Empire
State, if not of the Union. It de-
clares the sentiment that as against
the effect of labor troubles and for
the protection of the rich, in the United States, "There seems to be
but one remedy, and it must come—a
change of ownership of the soil, and
a creation of class land-owners on the
one hand, and if tenant farmers on
the other—something similar to what
has long existed in the older countries
of Europe." With this, would come,
as a matter of course, the European
system of elections, with the restrictions as to the suffrage. Even in
"free England" the poor cannot vote,
unless they have property or house-
hold, but even these cannot be elected
to Parliament, except in extraor-
dinary instances, as it costs all way
from £1,000 to even £3,000 to secure
a seat in the Commons. The land-
owners, the lords of the soil, are virtually also the owners of the con-
science of their tenants, so far as vot-
ing in concerned, for the tenant who
refuses to vote as his landlord com-
mands him soon finds himself sub-
jected to a species of tyranny, which
the law allows, and has either to sub-
mit to it or abandon his lease, if he
be not actually driven from the premises at first. Under such a system,
in this country, there would be only
rich men in the Legislature, rich men
in Congress, rich men in every important public office throughout the land.
Then would follow the "strong Government" for which the Radicals want
Grant as a life-long Dictator. A
large standing army, to overawe the
people, and to enforce the arbitrary
laws or mandates of the Government,
would be next provided. Then would
succeed the withdrawal of the
ballot from all who were not property-
owners and free-holders. And after
these preliminaries of the "strong Government," all that would remain
to the citizens, degraded to subject
condition, may be inferred from an
insight into the workings of the mon-
archical or despotic governments of Europe. Their vassalage would be
secured, and their only relief or rescue from it, successful revolution.
But, under the "strong Government"
the authorities would adopt the pre-
cautionary measure of disarming the
subject classes, and making it penal
for them to own or keep arms. It
was done in the South, under the Re-
construction Acts; it is done in Ire-
land to this day. With soldiers sta-
tioned in every district where trouble
was feared or likely to occur, the
decisive treatment of powder and
lead would prove very effective. As
for the detested people thus brought
to enslavement by their own votes
in the outset, by electing the Radical
masters who used and abused the
power so obtained to the end accomplished, they might sorrowful rumi-
nate upon their own deplorable folly,
and those among them who rushed to
Radicalism to escape the mere scare
of Communism, could with their un-
fortunate fellow serfs drown their
grief in their own tears, and still suffer worse wrongs in their degradation.
The frightened deer which fled from
the hounds and rushed into the cave
for security, was there devoured by
the lion. It might have escaped the
hounds, but it stood no chance with
the king of beasts. The voters who
rush to Radicalism in any form—
whether through the false passage
way of Non-Partisanship, or any other
—to escape even Kearneyism, of the
two evils choose and are certain to
fall victims to the worst.

From the San Francisco Examiner.

The New York Times is the lead-
ing Radical organ of the Empire
State, if not of the Union. It de-
clares the sentiment that as against
the effect of labor troubles and for
the protection of the rich, in the United States, "There seems to be
but one remedy, and it must come—a
change of ownership of the soil, and
a creation of class land-owners on the
one hand, and if tenant farmers on
the other—something similar to what
has long existed in the older countries
of Europe." With this, would come,
as a matter of course, the European
system of elections, with the restrictions as to the suffrage. Even in
"free England" the poor cannot vote,
unless they have property or house-
hold, but even these cannot be elected
to Parliament, except in extraor-
dinary instances, as it costs all way
from £1,000 to even £3,000 to secure
a seat in the Commons. The land-
owners, the lords of the soil, are virtually also the owners of the con-
science of their tenants, so far as vot-
ing in concerned, for the tenant who
refuses to vote as his landlord com-
mands him soon finds himself sub-
jected to a species of tyranny, which
the law allows, and has either to sub-
mit to it or abandon his lease, if he
be not actually driven from the premises at first. Under such a system,
in this country, there would be only
rich men in the Legislature, rich men
in Congress, rich men in every important public office throughout the land.
Then would follow the "strong Government" for which the Radicals want
Grant as a life-long Dictator. A
large standing army, to overawe the
people, and to enforce the arbitrary
laws or mandates of the Government,
would be next provided. Then would
succeed the withdrawal of the
ballot from all who were not property-
owners and free-holders. And after
these preliminaries of the "strong Government," all that would remain
to the citizens, degraded to subject
condition, may be inferred from an
insight into the workings of the mon-
archical or despotic governments of Europe. Their vassalage would be
secured, and their only relief or rescue from it, successful revolution.
But, under the "strong Government"
the authorities would adopt the pre-
cautionary measure of disarming the
subject classes, and making it penal
for them to own or keep arms. It
was done in the South, under the Re-
construction Acts; it is done in Ire-
land to this day. With soldiers sta-
tioned in every district where trouble
was feared or likely to occur, the
decisive treatment of powder and
lead would prove very effective. As
for the detested people thus brought
to enslavement by their own votes
in the outset, by electing the Radical
masters who used and abused the
power so obtained to the end accomplished, they might sorrowful rumi-
nate upon their own deplorable folly,
and those among them who rushed to
Radicalism to escape the mere scare
of Communism, could with their un-
fortunate fellow serfs drown their
grief in their own tears, and still suffer worse wrongs in their degradation.
The frightened deer which fled from
the hounds and rushed into the cave
for security, was there devoured by
the lion. It might have escaped the
hounds, but it stood no chance with
the king of beasts. The voters who
rush to Radicalism in any form—
whether through the false passage
way of Non-Partisanship, or any other
—to escape even Kearneyism, of the
two evils choose and are certain to
fall victims to the worst.

From the San Francisco Examiner.

The New York Times is the lead-
ing Radical organ of the Empire
State, if not of the Union. It de-
clares the sentiment that as against
the effect of labor troubles and for
the protection of the rich, in the United States, "There seems to be
but one remedy, and it must come—a
change of ownership of the soil, and
a creation of class land-owners on the
one hand, and if tenant farmers on
the other—something similar to what
has long existed in the older countries
of Europe." With this, would come,
as a matter of course, the European
system of elections, with the restrictions as to the suffrage. Even in
"free England" the poor cannot vote,
unless they have property or house-
hold, but even these cannot be elected
to Parliament, except in extraor-
dinary instances, as it costs all way
from £1,000 to even £3,000 to secure
a seat in the Commons. The land-
owners, the lords of the soil, are virtually also the owners of the con-
science of their tenants, so far as vot-
ing in concerned, for the tenant who
refuses to vote as his landlord com-
mands him soon finds himself sub-
jected to a species of tyranny, which
the law allows, and has either to sub-
mit to it or abandon his lease, if he
be not actually driven from the pre-
mises at first. Under such a system,
in this country, there would be only
rich men in the Legislature, rich men
in Congress, rich men in every important public office throughout the land.
Then would follow the "strong Government" for which the Radicals want
Grant as a life-long Dictator. A
large standing army, to overawe the
people, and to enforce the arbitrary
laws or mandates of the Government,
would be next provided. Then would
succeed the withdrawal of the
ballot from all who were not property-
owners and free-holders. And after
these preliminaries of the "strong Government," all that would remain
to the citizens, degraded to subject
condition, may be inferred from an
insight into the workings of the mon-
archical or despotic governments of Europe. Their vassalage would be
secured, and their only relief or rescue from it, successful revolution.
But, under the "strong Government"
the authorities would adopt the pre-
cautionary measure of disarming the
subject classes, and making it penal
for them to own or keep arms. It
was done in the South, under the Re-
construction Acts; it is done in Ire-
land to this day. With soldiers sta-
tioned in every district where trouble
was feared or likely to occur, the
decisive treatment of powder and
lead would prove very effective. As
for the detested people thus brought to enslav