AN EXCELLENT PAINTING.-We clip the following from the Sunday Welcome, of Portland, of December 15th: An excellent oil painting of Castle Rock, with just the proper coloring of sky and water, and the adacent country, with a couple of beautiful deer in the foreground, has been executed by Master Ed. Espey, a boy of 18 years of age, son of Mr. Espey. The picture is about 21x3 feet, and is surprisingly good, more especially, considering the lad's age and the fact that he has never in his life taken a lessen in painting other than coloring his father's carriages. It is a matter of very great wonder that a boy without training could have painted so fine a landscape. He is by nature an artist, and with proper teaching will be an honor to the State. A boy with his talent should not be confined to mere manual labor.

IMPROVEMENTS .- We take the following from the East Oregonian, published at Pendleton: Prof. Arnold is one among the enterprising; he has built two winter cellars which may be used in the spring for the protection of the better sex during the expected unpleasatness. One on his lot opposite the High School and one back of his residence in Arnold's addition to Pendleton.

THE HOLIDAYS. - Mr. Sol Steinheiser begs leaves to inform the citizens that he has received for the holidays the finest lot of French and American Candies ever received in Eugene, and also fresh Chestnuts, and all other kinds of nuts, as well as fine eigars and tobaccos, in fact, almost anything a person would desire in a first-class store.
