Men Who Make Journalists.

Chicago Tribune.

It has been remarked that very few men who get into journalism start out with such intentions. They drift in accidentially, are promoted as they develop capacity. Money, wealthy parents and influence are of no sort of service in getting a young man a place on a newspaper. There is no business that is so entirely independent of all these considerations as this. A wealthy father can easily get his son a location to read law or medicine, or push him forward in most any rank of life he may select; but he is utterly powerless to do anything for him in a journalistic way. To be sure he may buy a newspaper and set him up in that way, but unless there is something in him called "journalistic knack," a natural knowledge of what to write, he will be a failure in that line, and all the money and influence of wealthy and perhaps powerful relatives will count for nothing. Some fond parents educate their sons with the special view of making journalists of them; but it is rare that we hear of these young men after a few years. Meanwhile some youth born among our hills, with nothing more than a common-school education, and the knowledge scraped up in a country printingoffice, will advance to the front rank in the profession. He has the journalistic knack, and forces recognition because he has it. He gets into a good position, not because he has wealthy parents to influence the proprietors of leading newspapers, but because he knows what to write and how to write it. His articles go in because they supply a demand, whil perhaps the elaborate essays of a man educated on two continents are cast into the waste basket.

Fire at Salem.

From the Salem Statesman w gather particulars of the fire in that city on Saturday evening, that shows it originated in the upper part of the stables of the Salem Dray and Hack Company, occupied by Mr. Cann He got out his horses and vehicles without much loss except of hed. The fire consumed the engine house adjourning, owned by W. C. Griswold, and spread to the line of warehouses, back of the brick stores facing Commercial street, and consumed several of these on the back alley, and also several small stables near by. The burning cinders were carried over to wooden buildings on the east side of Commercial streets and they took fire several times but were saved with slight damage. The total amount of damage and loss is placed at not more than three or four thousand dollars, though that seems to us a small figure, from our knowledge of the premises.

OLD, TRIED, AND TRUE.

People are getting acquainted—and those who are not ought to be—with the wonderful merits of that great American Remedy, the

MEXICAN Mustang Liniment,

FOR MAN AND BEAST.

This liniment very naturally originated in America, where Nature provides in her laboratory such surprising antidotes for the maladies of her children. Its fame has been spreading for 35 years, until now it encircles the habitable globe.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is a matchless remedy for all external ailments of man and beast.

To stock owners and farmers it is invaluable.

A single bottle often saves a human life or restores the usefulness of an excellent horse, ox, cow, or sheep.

It cures foot-rot, hoof-ail, hollow horn, grub, screw-worm, shoulder-rot, mange, the bites and stings of poisonous reptiles and insects, and every such drawback to stock breeding and bush life.

It cures every external trouble of horses, such as lameness, scratches, swinny, sprains, founder, wind-gall, ring bone, etc., etc.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is the quickest cure in the world for accidents occurring in the family, in the absence of a physician, such as burns, scalds, sprains, cuts, etc., and for rheumatism, and stiffness engendered by exposure. Particularly valuable to Miners.

It is the cheapest remedy in the world, for it penetrates the muscle to the bone, and a single application is generally sufficient to cure.

Mexican Mustang Liniment is put up in three sizes of bottles, the larger ones being proportionately much the cheapest. Sold everywhere.
