Storm in North Carolina. WILMINGTON, Aug. 18 .- A terrific storm of wind and rain visited this section this morning at 4 A. M. The velocity of wind reached 68 miles per hour. A large number of shade trees were prostrated and several houses and sheds unroofed. A British bark is ashore, and it is feared that serious damage has been done to crops.

The storm along the Hudson was se vere, and boats and trains are delayed by trees across the track.

Great Damage by Wind, Rain and Tide. New York, Aug. 19.—The storm which yesterday morning was central near Cape Hatteras, has moved in a northeasterly path, developing greatly in energy and is now central near Eastport, Maine. A heavy rain has fallen in New England and the middle Atlantic States. Newburyport experienced a storm this forenoon, the severest in ten years. The wind blew a hurricane, wrecking four yachts, badly wrenching steamers and schooners in the harbor and scattering about twenty small boats. Fruit trees were stripped and tents on the beach were leveled or blown into the sea.

At Newport between twenty and thirty sail boats are sunk or damaged. The Wanderer and Murrill of the New York yacht squadron parted their chains and went ashore. Three yachts sank at the wharf, and others dragged anchors, fouled and were damaged. The crew of a schooner ashore at Cape May deserted the vessel in the evening. Their boats were capsized and the men washed ashore in an exhausted condition. The captain remained on board, and a life saving crew got a line out and remained on duty all night. The velocity of wind at Cape May was sixty-four miles; the total rainfall 8.46 inches. The crew of a schooner ashore at Atlantic City were taken from the rigging at 3 this morning by a life saving crew. The vessel will be a total

The Storm at Boston.

Boston, Aug. 19.-Many warehouses have been severely damaged along the being one unexampled even to the "oldest inhabitant." The handsome spire of the Freeman street Baptist church was blown down, and the slating of Christ Episcopal church and the cornice and steeple were torn off, whilst the beautiful grounds of old St. Paul's are badly wrecked. Great anxiety prevailed dur-ing the prevalence of the storm. The mayor ordered out the entire police force and fire department. The loss is estimated at from $200,000 to $300,000. The damage to growing crops in counties adjacent to Petersburg is very great. In Surrey county alone the damage to corn is estimated at 59 per cent. Ocean Grove camp-grounds below Long Branch suffered severely. At Gloucester, Mass. several vessels dragged ashore last night.

At other points on New England coast vessels were beached, but thus far no loss of life is reported. The Storm at Morehead City and Beaufort, New York, Aug. 19 .- The storm at Morehead City, North Carolina, was the most violent which ever visited that place. At 6 A. M. it blew a hurricane from the northeast, and at midday hauled to the southwest, a change which saved Beaufort and Morehead from entire destruction. The Atlantic house, the largest hotel in that part of the country, is entirely demolished, not a vestige being left. There were 150 guests in in it, and there was not a particle of clothing saved by any of them. People did not begin to leave until the waves were literally breaking the hotel to pieces; then there was a stampede. The young men saved all the ladies and children at the danger of their own lives. All the baggage, furniture etc., went to destruction. John Hughes, son of Mayor Hughes, of Newbern, lost his life in the wreck of the Atlantic house. Front street of Beaufort is strewn with lumber, trunks and goods. Crowds of people, some barefooted, are trying to identify their property. The Ocean View house the other hotel at Beaufort, is damaged badly and many private houses are ruined. There is not a wharf left in Beaufort, and only two or three of hundreds of sail boats are fit to sail. Morehead City also suffered terribly.

Trouble in Isolating Cases.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 20.—The fever is more prevalent in localities where vaults and other places were opened in early summer for disinfection by the sanitary offi-cers. The board of health delayed work too long, and what they did only served to resurrect last year's poisons. The au-thorities are meeting obstacles in their endeavors to isolate the infected district. After thorough consideration the committee of safety to-day deferred the subject indefinitely. An attempt is making to isolate Chelsea completely by guards stationed along the whole length of Auction street, a distance of one mile.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 20.-Twenty-seven cases in all were reported to the board of health to-day—twelve whites and fifteen colored; four more deaths since noon. Ernest P. Heak, Geo. Von Brinck and Hon. Deadly Combat between two Neighbors Kansas City, Aug. 25.-James Dobbins and Michael Burns, farmers and neighbors, living six miles west of here in Kansas, had a desperate and fatal encounter Friday evening in which both were killed. It seems that Dobbins owed Burns, and while passing Burn's place was dunned offensively for it by Burns the latter having a revolver in his hand Dobbins said : "You have the drop on me now, but if you'll wait till I come back I'll be ready to meet you." Dobbins then drove home, got two revolvers and went back to Burn's house, and finding him sitting on the door step opened fire on him. Burns went into the house, got his revolver and rushed on Dobbins. Several shots were exchanged in very close quarters. Dobbins received two balls in the chest and one through the head, while Burns was shot in the abdomen, the ball passing clear through his body, and in the right arm. Notwithstanding these terrible wounds the men clinched in a fierce and deadly struggle, Dobbins falling underneath. In this po-sition Burns beat Dobbins over the head with the butt of the pistol till he thought him dead, and had partially arisen from the ground when Dobbins turned upon him and was about to beat him when neighbors arrived and separated them. He then made his escape and has not since been found. From evidence taken before a coroner's jury yesterday, it seems that the Indians had been drinking heavily during the evening, which caused the difficulty.

The girl came over in a Mormon emigrant party in June, and purposed living with her grandfather in Southern Utah, but was secreted here by Mormons in order to get her into polygamy. Friends of the grandfather, having heard of their design, telegraphed the old gentleman, who came to the city last night in time to save the girl. The law-defying "Endowment House" is kept busy every Thursday, solemnizing polygamous marriages.

Political Discipline by Dennis Kearney. Sacramento, Aug. 21.-Kearney passed through this city to-day on his way to San Francisco. Here he saw Williams, the workingmen's candidate for congress in this district, who has withdrawn in favor of Clunie, and berated him soundly for so doing. Williams, in the presence of many, promised Kearney that he would publish in the papers of this district a card of retraction in which he would state that he withdraws the withdrawal and will remain a candidate from now till election, come what may. Kearney told Williams that he had canvassed the district for him and had secured him all of 14,000 votes, which would certainly elect him. Williams, with his friends, went away, when Kearney left to prepare the card stating that he is still in the field.

Kalloch vs the Chronicle.

come back on the DeYoungs in kind, thorities have made ample preparation, and the building will be strongly defengiving them as good as they sent. He proposes to read the story of Naphtaly's published in the Sun some years ago, with elaborations. DeYoung, so street reports say, sent Isaac, a messenger, with notification that if he read that screed they would shoot him on sight. Kalloch, so it is further asserted, notified DeYoung's messenger that he would read the article in question, and immediately sent a committee to obtain a copy thereof.

Retaliation on the "Chronicie."

San Francisco, Aug. 22 .- During the day street talk run largely on expected hostilities between Rev. I. S. Kalloch, workingmen's candidate for mayor and the proprietor's of the Chronicle. That journal continued its attack on Kalloch this morning, including in its arraignment his father before him. The reported programme for this evening was that Kalloch would make a general political harangue in the Metropolitan Temple, after which he would adjourn the meeting to the street and there read the famous article on the DeYoung brothers published in Napthaly's Sun some five years ago. This understanding sufficient auditorium, while the street in front was packed for nearly an entire block with a surging crowd. Kalloch's speech to the indoor meeting dealt at some length with the general political issues, and closed with an attack of the most bitter and personal character on the proprietors of the Chronicle. The enthusiasm of the andience was such that it was with difficulty the speaker could proceed.

After adjournment, he made his ap pearance outside and was greeted with tremendous cheers. He addressed the crowd briefly, alluding to attacks upon him by the Chronicle, and saying that their assault on the memory of his father The entrance was guarded by sentinels was his justification. He applied to them an epithet in which was concentrated the whole animus of the Sun's article. He said he had a copy of that article in his pocket [cries of "read it, read it"] but did not wish to expend all his ammunition at once. The article would be republished immediately in the Open Letter, and next Tuesday evening he would take it up and comment upon it. After a few general remarks he dismissed the audience, which quietly dispersed. It is quite likely that serious trouble may ensue before the matter at issue is brought to a conclusion.

A Dastardly Deed.

San Francisco. Aug. 23.—About 10 o'clock this morning Charles DeYoung drove in a coupe to the side door of the Metropolitan Temple where Rev. I. S. Kalloch has his study, and sent a messenger to say that a man wished to see him. Kalloch went down not knowing who his visitor was. On his approach to the coupe DeYoung shot him through the door, inflicting one wound in the breast and another in the thigh. Kalloch fell and DeYoung attempted to drive off. A crowd collected around the coupe and finally overturned it, but before DeYoung received much damage he was rescued by the police and taken to the city prison for safety. Intense excitement prevails. Great crowds are gathered on the street, and runners are going about calling up-on workingmen to assemble at 2 P. M. Kalloch was at first reported dead, but latest reports say he is still alive.

Later Details,

4 P. M.—Numberless reports are affoat as to the circumstances attendant upon the shooting of Kalloch, but the most direct story is that Chas. DeYoung drove to the Metropolitan Temple alone in a coupe. At the time, Kalloch was about stepping into a carriage with Carl Browne. DeYoung sent an American district messenger boy to him to say that a gentleman wished to speak with him.
As Kalloch approached the coupe, De-Young fired, hitting him in the breast just above the heart. Kalloch staggered and turned to escape, when DeYoung fired again, hitting him in the hip or thigh. It would appear that trouble had been anticipated, as quite a number of workingmen were in the vicinity of the Temple. They at once made a rush for the coupe seized the horses' heads and endeavored to get DeYoung out, he keeping them at bay for a moment with his pistol. In the meantime an officer arrived on the scene. The crowd seized the coupe and overturned it, and as it went over DeYoung got out. He and the officer were attacked—the officer knocked down and trampled on. De-Young was beaten about the head and face, though not very seriously. The officer, DeYoung and the driver of the coupe struggled through the crowd amid cries of "hang him," "kill him," etc. At the corner of Fifth and Market streets two more officers made their appearance, and with their assistance DeYoung was taken to the Baldwin Hotel, and, escaped by another entrance, got into a carriage and drove rapidly to the police station, the crowd following. DeYoung was at once taken to one of the tank cells, while a crowd numbering thousands surrounded the prison and evinced a desire to make an attack. The chief of police at once called Gen. McComb in consultation, and Attorney-General Hamilton, who was present, telegraphed to Gov. Irwin for orders. No answer has yet been received, as the governor's exact whereabouts is not known. Gen. McComb at

News of the tragedy spread like wildfire through the city, and the streets were soon crowded with excited throngs. Strong guards were placed over the Chronicle business and printing offices to prevent them being sacked. M. H. De Young, who was at the Chronicle office at the time of the shooting, at once sought the city prison, where he is now in company with Charles. For some time it was uncertain what had been done with the brothers, many believing that they had been removed to Fort Alcatraz for greater safety, but they are still at the stump led to the sending of a chalthe prison. The workingmen, at the request of a committee headed by Clitus Balbour, their candidate for congress, were allowed to select twelve men, who were allowed to select twelve men, who were sworn in as special officers, to stay about the prison and see that the De-Youngs were not taken away. Pursuant to a call, the workingmen are now assembling. It is announced that they will march in a body to prison, demand that tops of enamel; on them are painted life. San Francisco, Aug. 21.—Kalloch, and, if the demand is not complied with, ers. The sticks forming the ends of the district, has been endorsed by the workingmen's candidate for mayor, ingmen vice Williams, declined. It was the bilks who nominated Judge Terry for the bilks who nominated Judge Terry for will, to-morrow evening, so he says,

At latest accounts Kalloch was some what easier. One of his physicians in what easier. One of the provide saying attendance addressed the crowd, saying that there was a probability of his recovery. On the contrary another of his medical attendants stated privately that he could not possibly live through to-morrow. Kalloch's family are at present out of the city. Kearney has been sent for and will arrive in the city late this afternoon. Great fears are entertained for the peace of the city during the coming night, and every preparation is being made to suppress violence. Public sen-timent seems mainly to run against De-Young, partly on account of the manner of his attack, giving his victim no chance for defense or escape, and partly because the Chronicle in its assault upon Kalloch has been abusive beyond all precedent in political campaigns.

Arrival of Kearney. San Francisco, Aug. 23.—10 P. M. Kearney arrived on the Vallejo boat this evening, and at the wharf was met by a crowd of several thousand, who received their leader with almost frantic exhibitions of joy. Three of the working-men's military companies, numbering 160 men, with rifles and fixed bayonets, were on hand as escort. With Kearney at its head, the procession moved up Market street for the sand lots, filling the street for several blocks and making the air ring with cheers for Kearney and cries of "hang the DeYoungs."

The procession on the way to the sand lots stopped at the workingmen's headquarters on Market street near Fifth. there the ward presidents are in session. deliberating on the course to be pursued. Kearney entered the building and joined the ward presidents. The crowd gathwith fixed bayonets, and no one is allowed to pass without the countersign. It was announced from the window that nothing would be done without due deliberation, but that vengeance would be taken. No reporters have been admitted and the nature of the deliberations are unknown. In a few minutes the march for the sand lots was resumed.

The Latest--All Quiet. San Francisco, Aug. 23.-1 A. M.-Everything is perfectly quiet through-out the city, and there is not the slighest reason to apprehend any disturbance during the remainder of the night. The crowd in the vicinity of the Metropolitan Temple have departed except a dozen loiterers, the police and workingmen's guards.

Kalloch's Condition.

At midnight Kalloch was sleeping and had been for several hours. No one is admitted but reporters. His condition is very favorable. One of the police on duty stated that about 7:30 he got an opportunity to look through the window and saw Kalloch sitting up in bed with a pillow behind him. He professed to believe that reports of his critical condition were greatly exaggerated.

ROMANCE OF A SINGER .- Truth is stran ger than fiction, and reality often more ro-mantic than romance. Christine Nilsson is to day one of the most popular and gifted of our songstresses; not many years ago she was a little girl running about with bare feet and ragged clothes on the estate, in a remote part of Sweden, of Baron Leheusen. Her father was a "topare" of a baron—a peasant, that is, of a class but little removed from serfdom, which lives, each man in his cottage, on a small plot of ground, in consideration of which territorial possession every topare performs for his manorial lord a certain amount of work once a week. On free days these man can make by their labor about half a dollar a week-not very munificent wages, but then the Swedes are an economical race and live on the produce of their own little patch. The Baroness Leheusen was passionately fond of music, and thus it chanced one day that in passing topare Nilsson's cottage she heard her daughter singing one of those popular songs that had been handed down to our own times by generations of the Swedish peasantry. The Baroness, struck with the sweetness of Christines voice, stopped, listened and finally bade her come up to the castle. Here this modern edition of a fairy godmother herself gave the girl elementary singing lessons, and afterwards sent the promising girl to complete her education at Paris. When Christine was fairly launched upon the world of song and had achieved success, she de-voted the first money earned to re-build-ing the cottage of her father, now, thanks to filial affection, a well-to-do man.
