BIRN BURNER.

Four Men Sleeping in the Barn Narrowly Escape.

From Mr. T. Duckworth, of Long Tom, we learn the particulars of the burning of a barn in that section, belonging to a Mr. Montgomery. The fire was discovered about II o'clock of the night of Tuesday, the 2d inst, by the men who were alceping in the barn. When aroused, the tire was about them in the hay, and they were compelled to fly so suddenly that they saved a ne of their clothing, one of the party losing a fifty dallar watch. They certainly had a parrow escape from a horrible death. The barn wawell filled with hay, besides which five set of harness and a grain cleaner were consumed by the devouring element, causing a loss estimated at $800. The horses that were in the barn were fortunately rescued. The cause of the fire remains a mystery. The farm on which the fire occurred was formerly the residence of Mr. George Humphrey, who nimself lost a barn built on the same spot, A daughter of Mr. J. C. Bushnell died by fire.

Mr. J. D. King has been prospect ing there about two years, and fately discov ered these mines. He brought in one nugget worth between $9 and $10, and some shot gold about the size of bird shot, and had about $10 worth of it. People from Oakland, Drains and here are going night and day. Three wagon loads are now starting to the mines, while your correspondent is writing Just as the train is leaving we hear of a $30 augget being found by Mr Ed Estes."

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

David Blanton Robbed of $320 Near Engene.

On last Monday night, about 10 o'clock as Mr. David Blanton, who lives south of town, was returning home on horseback, he was robbed of coin amounting to about $320. He had hardly left the city limits when tw men rose up for a under a bridge, and as one grasped the reins the other threw a quantity of sand into his face, almost blinding him. They then struck him on the head with a billet of wood and pulled him from his horse to the ground and accomplished the robbery. Mr. J. H. McClung and family returned No clue has as yet been obtained as to the perpetrators of the deed.

Honest John Whiteaker.

On returning from Washington, Congress. van Whiteaker found that the farmer whom he had rented his blace to had lost every hing by rust and was on the brink of bank ruptcy. Mr. Whiteaker, who so truly deserves the prefix "honest," did not fly into a rage and drive the man to extremities in or ser to insure himself against loss, but kindly took the unfortunate brother by the hand, and told him not to worry, as he was not such a hard master as to write money from the unfortunate, and that he would not only let him have the price free for the year, but would buy him new send in Eastern Oregon for the next crop. This act, at once modest and noble, we learned by the merest accident, and take pleasure in making it public if only to prove that the race of generous men has not yet run out .- l'ortland Stand-
