From the Evening Telegram

The second exhibition of the Mechanics Fair Association opened Monday eve- matic ning, October 21, under the most flattering circumstances. The displays were both large and varied, the following being worthy of special mention:

W. T. SHANAHAN'S DISPLAY

Is very large and attractive. No dealer in Portland has ever approached Mr. tion, and can be regulated so that a room Shanahan in the quality of steel encan be kept at just the temperature degravings which he carries, nor has he over been excelled in his framing de- transoms, stores, chimneys, and many partment, always keeping up with the latest styles as fast as they come out in the East or San Francisco. Mr. Shanahas shows one of the rarest pictures in Mr. Crouch will sell State and county han shows one of the rarest pictures in the State, from Mrs. Captain Hoyt's col-rights for its manufacture, and may be lection, which has something of a history. While residing in Florence, Italy, Mrs. Hoyt purchased a painting, and after it had been in her possession some time discovered that the picture she had bought was merely a cover to a real work of art, which was painted underneath it. The outer picture was rubbed off, and a new picture, entitled David and Goliath was found in an excellent state of preservation. The picture bears the marks of Raphael's brush, and is said by foreign painters to be the work of that great in fact every kind of gloves manufac-master. Our readers should not miss tured. The firm has had thirty years' expainters to be the work of that great seeing it, as aside from its fine history, it is a work of great merit. Mr. Shanahan also shows a fine picture of Charlotte Corday, belonging to Mayor Thompson's collection, which is attracting much attention. One thousand dollars have been refused for this picture. Mr. Shanahan shows a number of Clyde Cook's pictures, among which we notice "Mt. Tacoma," "Snoqualmie Falls," "Mt. Hood," "Head of the Dalles," a view of the Cascades, and two small fishing scenes on the Columbia. Mr. Shanahan has shown commendable enterprise in his display and it is worthy of examina-

MR. G. NEIMEYER

Has on exhibition in the south gallery, tors in different lines of trade may have near the east end, a fine display of tailor work of the latest styles and most elegant more pains for the care taken and atfinish. His work will bear the closest tractiveness of the whole display. The inspection in respect to cutting, making activity manifested by these young men and in the material used. Mr. Neimeyer show them to be active, enterprising felasks a comparison of his work with any lows, whose energy and perspicacity are made up in San Francisco. Now is a indicative of business success. The pubfavorable opportunity to make the com-parison. Take a look at the goods, the these qualities, as well as the excellence linings, the trimmings, the button-holes, and cheapness of their merchandise, the the pockets, and everything that goes to people throng to their store to purchase make up the man's furnishing, and what they can rely on as durable and see if Portland cannot beat the worth the purchase money. No store in world in superiority in all these respects. the city is more attractively furnished Mr. Neimeyer's place of business is at No. 49 First street, and who want the best of work and stock would do well to Yamhill. In addition to the many other see him.

THE DAVIS SEWING MACHINE.

The new general agent, Mr. J. F. Mcchines near the east end of the gallery. The Davis is speedily coming to the front as one of the leading machines, and it is Mr. McIntosch's intention to push the sale is daily increasing. the machine into prominence in this State. He shows samples of work done with an ordinary cambric needle which shows the adaptability of the machine to the last to go to the wall. Since the organization of this Company in the year 1868, its businesss has instand that Mr. McIntosch will open an office in Portland after the close of the

BUENA VISTA POTTERY.

Mr. A. M. Smith, the proprietor of the Buena Vista Pottery, has a large space near the west entrance devoted to showing his work, In 1865 Mr. Smith began the erection of works at Buena Vista, and to-day has a large trade and extensive grounds. He has works now to the value of $25,000. Mr. Smith makes a specialty of sewer piping, and has large quantities of it in use in Portland, where it is giving complete satisfaction. It is made of pure, fine clay, and is strong, tough and durable.Mr. Smith's earthenware is very strong and beautiful, and is warranted to be much tougher than Eastern ware. In his polish on the ware he does not use lead in any form, the matter in use being slip clay, which gives an excellent polish and one that will stand as long as the ware. Some handsome terra cotta vases are shown, and the display speaks well for Oregon products. Mr. Smith sells his goods to dealers at much less than Eastern ware, and is prepared to fill all orders on short notice, and guarantees his work as good as any imported ware. J. L. Barnard is the agent at Portland,

THE CLACKAMAS PAPER CO.

This well known firm makes a remarkably fine display of paper of purely Oregon manufacture. Manila paper, wrapwhose excellence and superiority over the imported article are conceded by the does infinite credit to the exhibitors and is commented on by all who feel interested in the business and feel a just pride in a manufactory that tends to build up the State and whose interests are identified with the people of Oregon.

CROUCH'S AUTOMATIC VENTILATOR.

Mr. F. J. Crouch, of Eugene City, has placed in the Pavilion to-day, just to the right of the east entrance, an auto-matic ventilator, which is one of the best inventions ever yet introduced as far as keeping rooms at a healthy temperature. Mr. Crouch shows an ordinary transom with his automatic ventilator attached, and by a lighted lamp shows its workings. The ventilator is exceedingly simple in its construcsired. The ventilator can be placed on found at the Pavilion during the fair, and at Eugene City after its close. He solicits correspondence with parties who may feel interested in sanitary measures.

THE OREGON GLOVE FACTORY.

This valuable institution has an admirable display of their workmanship on exhibition. Their gloves are made of the best obtainable material and are neat, durable, and handsome. Beautiful kids for ladies and gentlemen, comfortable buckskin gloves, fur gloves of all kinds, and perience in the business and can give better satisfaction than foreign houses with their imported trash.

OLDS & SUMMERS.

The more than usually attractive display of lamps, glassware, oils, crockery ornaments, etc., made by this firm demands more lengthy notices than the brief mention previously received by the proprietors. The pyramidal structure upon which their wares are displayed is neatly framed and the collection of rarely beautiful things filling every shelf commands the immediate attention of spectators as soon as they have passed the Pavilion's threshold. Other exhibimore space, but none are entitled to valuable articles they expose at the fair, is a night lamp that is a perfect gem. and invaluable to housekeepers. Inval-Intosch, has a large space filled with different styles of the Davis Sewing Maable odor, an annoyance that becomes unbearable to sick persons. They sell an immense number of these lamps, and

It consists of furniture and by comparison with sample at the merchants' excarpets for two rooms. One contains a change. Besides this, interior dealers not wishing black walnut bed-room set, composed of to come down to sell grain can always sell by tele a bedstead; dressing case and washstand. The bedstead as well as the dressing case is of the finest French walnut, with burl panels, inlaid with delicate Oriental woods. The dressing case has a French plate mirror, and an ingenious extension for a writing desk. The other furniture in the same room is a magnificent ebonized and gilt patent rocker, upholstered in finest spun and raw silk, trimmed with silk velvet plush; also Turkish divan of the same material as the rocker. The covering of the divan is one of the finest specimens of the upholsterer's art. The floor is covered with a rich body Brussels carpet, having a white ground with light drab, all forming a pleasing bright with the elegant furniture. new design. The bedstead, dressing case, sideboard and book-case are, without doubt, the handsomest pieces of furniture ever shown in Oregon. This room also contains a beautiful walnut Eastlake extension table, trimmed with walnut burl, and tastefully carved; and two large easy chairs, and a sofa of old English style, upholstered in raw silk, with plain plush border and cheneille fringe. The floor is covered with a dark Brussels carpet of Eastlake pattern, in keeping with the furniture. In front of the sofa is a large Wilton velvet rug, vividly representing a hunting scene. On the wall is a French plate mirror, and a pair of handsome raw silk curtains with dark, maroon silk border, hanging from a black walnut cornice pole.

Their exhibit is of such unquestioned superiority, and shows such rare taste and harmony in design and blending of colors, as well as excellence of workmanship as to make it the center of attraction in that department.

for the season there is a large demand coming mostly from those engaged in moving the wheat crop, in which movement there is a very considerable amount used just now. There is also some call for investment in real estate, more partieu larly city property, and while the quotable rates for loans are not positively higher, there is a hardening tendency clearly manifest in the market.

Interior dealers will save considerable trouble and will contract for a number of others and annoyance, if not money, by sending samples of grain (wheat and onts) to J R. Farish, manager in the next few days. We would advise our readers to examine this system while of the merchants' exchange, who will put the different samples in bottles that will be sealed, labelat the fair, and obtain Mr. Harvey's exed with quality, where from and by whom sent. The same will be exposed on the sample table, where buyers can buy by the sample, and in case of dispute as to quality sent it can be easily settled graph or by mall, referring to sample No. 1 or No. z, as the case may be, at the merchants' exchange This is more particularly desirable now that there is so much rusted wheat In the valley, the grade of which varies very considerably-some worth as high as $1 85 per cental, some as low as $1 50.
