

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD

EUGENE CITY, OREGON. SATURDAY, NOV. 22, 1879.

The U. S. Senate in 1881.

Exultant over the success in Ohio, some of the Radicals are now claiming their ability to elect the next President, and to sweep out of power the present Democratic majority of the Senate in 1881.

At present the Senate stands forty-two Democrats, thirty-three Radicals, and one Independent, David Davis. Thus the Democrats have nine majority over the Radicals, or eight majority over all. Of the seventy-six Senators there are twenty-five whose terms will expire on March 3, 1881. The eleven States of California, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, Ohio, (in place of Thurman), Rhode Island, Vermont, and Wisconsin will certainly return Radical Senators. The nine States of Delaware, Florida, Maryland, Mississippi, (in place of Bruce), Missouri, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia, will certainly return Democratic Senators.

Twenty of the twenty-five Senators are thus accounted for, with a gain of one on each side, leaving the relative situation of the two parties unchanged. The remaining five seats are now filled by Messrs. Eaton of Connecticut, McDonald of Indiana, Kernan of New York, Randolph of New Jersey, and Wallace of Pennsylvania. The Radicals have the present Legislatures of Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The Democrats have that of Indiana. In the elections to be held in these States, probability is that each party will hold its own. In that case, the new Senate would stand thirty-eight Democrats, thirty-seven Radicals and one Independent. Should the Radicals carry Indiana, the two parties would change places, and the Radicals would have thirty-eight votes, the Democrats thirty-seven votes, with one Independent, who, by voting with the Democrats, would give the new Vice-President the casting voice, and transform his negative functions into a controlling power in the legislation of that body.

It is thus seen that, conceding every seat claimed by the Republicans, even including that for Indiana, they would still be without an actual majority in the Senate in 1881. In either of the contingencies presented, Judge Davis could tie the Senate. Then the result would depend entirely upon the political complexion of the next Vice-President.

A Severe Rebuke to Mr. Justice Field.

The intimation that the majority of Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the decision of the Pacific Railroad case, in which was involved the constitutionality of the Thurman Act, purpose to require that hereafter the opinions of the minority or dissentient Justices in any case shall be submitted to the Court for review before they can be pronounced for publication, is a very severe rebuke to Mr. Justice Field, as a dignified condemnation of the extraordinary language expressed in his dissenting opinion in the case of the Railroad Companies. It is remarkable that such language would not have been permitted by an attorney before the Court, and it was singularly objectionable in a member of the Bench itself. It was doubtless inspired by the hot zeal of the offending Justice to give impetus to the Presidential "boom" in his own behalf—although it is not unlikely his uncontrollable disappointment at being unable to bring the Court to his own theory, in his ardent desire to serve the great corporations, had more or less to do with the violence of his outburst. The prurient desire for the Presidency is as keen in a bonnet, and wildly afflicts the head it attacks. No man who aspires to the exalted station ought ever to be upon the Supreme Bench.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch says: We should regard General Hancock's nomination as a great blunder. The nomination of any military candidate, whoever he may be, in 1880, would be a stupendous mistake, and one liable to cost a victory which is now in the very hands of the Democracy.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch is very glad to notice that while one end of the Government is preparing to make war on the Indians the other end is making peace. The Indian policy of the Government is marvelous and inscrutable.

The law-firm of which Secretary Everts is the head, it is stated, has been retained by the Louisiana Lottery Company to defend it against the assaults of the Government. There are some people, the Philadelphia Times asserts, to whom this will look a little queer, but they are probably old fogies.

Butler, Benjamin F., has in his power, the Cincinnati Enquirer alleges, to prevent the State of Massachusetts from giving its Electoral vote to Grant next year. He can be relied upon to do it.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says: Grant is a great soldier. Are we to receive him as such? Grant was a poor President. Are we to honor him for that?

Two Valuable Inventions.

Virginia City Chronicle.

The following new inventions by residents of Nevada have been patented at the Washington Patent office.

A Barber's Muzzler—This is a very serviceable contrivance, which can be fastened over a barber's mouth to prevent his talking while shaving customers. It is made of iron, padded inside, and can be fastened securely so as to cover the whole mouth. It is furnished with clamp and screws, which are fixed at the back of the head. Price, $2 50. Those furnished with a lever attachment for the purpose of breaking the barber's jaw come at $3. The plates which fit on the cheek are of the best chilled steel.

The Bonnet Grapple—This little machine is destined to be of great service to the theater goers. It is an ordinary grappling hook, with a rope attached. The grapple is thrown over any lady's bonnet which may happen to obstruct the view and the crowd behind can always be depended upon to pull the rope. It sometimes disfigures the lady's face permanently, in which cases she never returns to again obstruct the view. It is used in all the Eastern theaters, and is growing more popular every night. Piper has ordered two dozen.

An old Girl who knows how it is herself.

Oliver Logan. A woman's safeguard is to keep a man's hands off her. If you need his assistance in walking, take his arm instead of him taking yours. Just tell him in plain English to "hands off" He may not like it at first but he will respect you in the future ten fold more. Men will be and do just what the women allow them to do. Men will not do trust.

Give a man your arm and you will find him very confidential, and he will take a great many privileges he would not take if he was not permitted to do so. He will give your arm many loving squeezes and sly twists that he could have no opportunity to just what he is after.

Keep your girls off the street except when they have business. Teach them it is unnecessary to go to the post office every time they go out. Your girls can walk alone just as well as your boys. Don't allow your girls, if they must have a beau, to go with boys much older than themselves. If possible, instill into their very nature that they are safer in their own hands than they are in the hands of any man—preachers are not excepted.

The Author of "Grandfather's Clock" Deserted by his Daughter.

New York Star, October 12.

Henry C. Worth, the author of "Grandfather's Clock," and other popular songs has had his share of affliction all through life. Mr. Worth's wife was sent to the Insane Asylum several years ago, and Mr. Worth has had a hard hand to mouth struggle with poverty even when his songs were most in demand. He has a daughter upon whom he has lavished all his care, and all that he could gather in of this world's goods. The father and daughter have been living for some time on Columbia Heights, in Brooklyn. One day last week the daughter ran away from her father and married a young man. Mr. Worth is broken hearted, and sits in his room on Columbia Heights, moaning and weeping aloud incessantly. It is believed that he is temporarily deranged on account of the conduct of his daughter.

The time approaches, the Washington Capital alleges, when the people will not only see the Railroad Companies in their true light, but question the power of either State or Federal Government to call into existence a fictitious person, known as a corporation, giving it not only exclusive privileges but immortal life.

UNRELIABLE—A fisherman is a very irresolute and unreliable person. He won't even sit down on his own hook.

Humbugged again.

I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife who was always doctoring, and never well, teased me so urgently to get her some, I concluded to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months she is well, and my wife was cured and she has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T., St. Paul.

REMEMBER UPON THE FEMINE COURTESY, if of a complexional nature, speedily vanish when GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP is used to obliterate them. Pimples, blotches, moths, redness, patches, roughness, tan and freckles are invariably banished by the incomparable clarifying agents. Eruptive ailments, sores, cuts, bruises, scalds and other affections and injuries of the cuticle are likewise removed by it. Sulphur laths have long been renowned as the best remedy for skin diseases, Rheumatism and GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP is in every respect as efficacious, and far cheaper. By opening the pores and promoting a vigorous superficial circulation, this excellent article contributes to the health of the entire system as well as to that of the cuticle. Since its introduction to public notice it has repeatedly been commended by the medical profession and a few external specifics have won such "golden opinions" among all classes. It prevents obnoxious diseases as well as remedies them, and disinfects clothing and linen impregnated with disease. Dandruff is entirely eradicated by it, and its use is, on that account, greatly desiderated by persons whose hair is thinning out in consequence of dryness of the scalp. Those who have used ointments and liquids without avail for the cure of eruptions of an obstinate character, will find, if they try it, that GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP removes scurfy eruptions irremediable by less efficacious means, and prevents the recurrence of such disorders. For bleaching fine articles of needlework and all kinds of white woolen, cotton and linen fabrics this soap is superior to any article that can be used for the purpose.

Another Triumph for THE WEBFOOT STATE.

No More Kidney Troubles! No More Backache!

Oregon has long been noted for the wonderful variety of her natural resources. Her hills and valleys are stored with the choicest of Nature's lavinia gifts. One by one these elements of her greatness are being sought out, understood and adapted to the use of her people. The latest of these discoveries is

The Oregon Kidney Tea.

A plant which grows in mountain fastnesses which are seldom trodden by the foot of man. This remedy presents the leaf in its natural state, and is not one of those nauseous liquids, put up to sell, and which too often cover noxious and deleterious drugs, but is kind nature's "best best gift to man." The Tea made by steeping this leaf is a certain and speedy cure for all diseases of the KIDNEYS and URINARY ORGANS.

The leaf is put up in air tight tin canisters which preserve intact its peculiar medicinal properties and the decoction is made by the person using it, thus securing its absolute purity.

There are thousands afflicted with diseases of the kidneys or urinary organs who suffer in silence rather than to make known their troubles. Other seek relief by the use of various patent medicines, which, if they do not aggravate the disease, at least do not lessen it. Even those who secure the advice of physicians often fail to get relief, owing to the very complicated and delicate nature of the organs affected. The OREGON KIDNEY TEA is a strictly vegetable production, and will not injure the smallest child or the most delicate woman, but will cure PAIN IN THE BACK AND KIDNEYS, NON-RETENTION OF URINE, DIABETES, INFLAMMATION OF THE BLADDER OR KIDNEYS, BRICK DUST DEPOSIT IN URINE, LEUCORRHOEA, PAINFUL SUPPRESSION OF URINE, AND ALL complaints arising from a diseased or debilitated state of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex.

Many mistake the pains arising from defective action of the kidneys for RHEUMATISM, and in attempting to cure the latter by outward applications, fail entirely to reach the seat of the disease. We do not offer the OREGON KIDNEY TEA as a specific for Rheumatism, but are satisfied that many cases of so called RHEUMATISM would yield to its remedial virtues.
