Elizabeth Blackwell, M. D. I could never understand the opposite systems of weight and measures which have been established for gauging morality among men and women. The strictest among us allow that a young man should sow his wild oats; but who ever admitted the same necessity in the case of girls? We say that man should have his amusements—his clubs, cigars, horse races, flirtations and liquorings; but supposing our women and girls came to us reeking of tobacco? Supposing they addicted themselves openly to aips of grog and absinthe when their spirits were low? Supposing they sat down to quiet rubbers of whist or coarte, gambling away their household money just to while off dull hours? We demand so much excellence of our women that the worst of them are some women who we'e social outcasts, and who, in point of heart, conduct and general moral ractitude, might have furnished stuff for the making of very upright gen themen indeed. They had fallen ence, it is true, but what a fearful penalty they had been made to pay for that one slip, while, by compari races, flirtations and liquorings; but penalty they had been made to pay for that one slip, while, by compari son, the kindred penalties of men are so slight. It a young man gets mix ed up in some disgraceful entanglement, breaks a heart, and throws a young girl upon the streets, after having ruined her life, people say of him, compassionately, bye and by: "He was so young when he did it, and now he has turned over a new leaf;" but if an inexperienced girl, a mere child of sixteen or seventeen, comes to harm through a moment's weakness, born of too much love and over confidence in her betrayer, who ever thinks of pleading her youth as an excuse? Who ever urges seriously, that a girl "has turned over a new leaf?

I Acknowledge the corn.

This is the origin of the phrase, "I acknowledge the corn:" In 1828 Andrew Stewart, a member of Congress, said in a speech that Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana sent their hav stacks, corn fields and todder to New York and Philadelphia for sale. Wickliffe of Kentucky called him to order, declaring that those States did not send hay stacks or corn fields to New York for sale, 'well, what dyou send?" asked Stewart. "Why, horses, mules, cattle and hogs? You feed $100 worth of hay to a horse. You just animate and get upon the top of your hay stack and ride off to market. How is it with your cattle? You make one of them carry $50 worth of hay and grass to the eastern market. How much corn does it ern market. How much corn does it time. They are reliable, they are cheap, and take, at thirty-live cents a bushel, to they are everywhere attainable.

The Centaur Co. 46 Dey St. N. Y. "Then you put that thirty bushels into the shape of a hog, and make it walk off to the eastern market," Then Mr. Wickliffe jumped up and said: "Mr. Speaker, I acknowledge the corn."

ALWAYS .- An Indian always wants a terri ying name, and Standing Bear, the Indian chiet, who was one of the audience at Joseph Cook's lecture the ant to take as honey, and unlike narcotic Syother night, now thinks of changing reps, it is harmless. It allays feverishness, and is death to worms. When the child has his name to "Protoplasm."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair, The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.
