1 Delegation Called.

The Lane County Democratic Central Committee met in Eugene City, Friday, Feb. 28th, and issued the call for a County Convention. There exists an urgent necessity for united work by the Democrats of this county.

The true temperance principles should govern the vote in the choice of candidates. The mere matter of an occasional drink should not militate against an honest independent man. Let all remember that not alone is abstaining from the use of liquor temperance consists, nor does a temperate life imply complete abstinence. Select evenly balanced men who are capable of giving every man and interest that just & which is their due, and while seeking to further the cause of temperance do not forget that honesty and competency are requirements that overshadow all other considerations.

Temperance and Politics.

At the meeting of the State Temperance Alliance at this place last week a decided tendency was manifested towards making political capital out of the temperance cause. And from the discussion of the matter it could plainly be observed, that the question of expediency alone determined the convention from recommending the formation of a temperance party. The frequent defeats of temperance advocates, when pledged to the single idea, have taught them prudence. The mass of the people favor reform and better conduct of the liquor interests, but are not willing to sink every other consideration, to secure possibly, that result. It is the great mistake of temperance reformers that their ideas are narrow and confined. They say, give us men who will pledge themselves to do all in their power to secure restrictive legislation. No other qualifications are required. Whether he be honest, and competent to fulfill the duties devolving upon him, whether he has had experience and bears wisdom necessary to legislation wisely, is asked. The only standard by which they would try all candidates for political preferment, is that of a blind adherence to a prohibition bill.

National Democratic Convention.

The Democratic National Committee met in Washington City, February 28th and after hearing the claims of different cities for the place of holding the convention, finally decided upon Cincinnati, and fixed June 2d as date of meeting Congresswoman Whittaker, the representative in the committee from Oregon, nominated Eugene City as a desirable place for the convention, and advocated its selection in a humorous speech. He said that there were no artificial facilities to be had in Eugene, but that members could bring their blankets and camp out.

Official Bilingualism.

The public servants of the United States are without doubt better paid for their services than any other class of men. They also display an extreme willingness to relieve themselves of their official duties, and engage in other employments, although not to so great an extent as to preclude them from drawing their stipends with regularity. One of that overburdened class, brother J. W. Watts, holding a government office at Oregon City, finds time to further his congressional aspirations by lecturing about the State on lecture tours. Brother Watts says that he does "not believe in taking something for nothing," but we might be drawn in with the same rapidity as if he was actually present all his time attending to the duties of his position. He also introduces a new feature in his electing business of which the average unscrupulous politician would not be guilty—that of taking up a collection to defray expenses. That's right brother Watts, draw your salary, and with the aid of what collections you may take up, even if you do not attain the goal you are nothing less.

To Disunited Democrats.

It has been a favorite policy of Republicans to introduce side issues into the current politics, and thus partially destroy and distract the Democratic vote. This policy has therefore borne them royal fruit, for while the final struggle comes, almost invariably professedly greenback and independent Republicans would forsake their old affiliations, and cast their votes solidly for the old boys leaving the Democrats, who believed themselves laboring in interest of reform, to hold an empty bag. Democrats should beware of these devices to swing the majority. In the new parties no possible state of success exists, and you are throwing away your privilege of choice between the other parties.

What Else is to be Expected.

The robbery and villainy in the Indian Bureau and in the Post-office Department under the Hayes Administration have never been surpassed at the worst of Grantism. The plunder amounted to tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands, millions, but what else is to be expected of an Administration that began its career by stealing the Presidency? asks the New York Sun. How can honesty be expected of a set of men that conspired to count Hayes in as President when Tilden had been elected.

The New York Republican State Convention met at Utica, Feb. 26th, and instructed the delegates for Grant.

We have just received from the Eastern factory, direct, a large stock of window shades and wall paper; among the latter are many very pretty styles embracing Grand Panama, Embroidered, Gothic and Lace Patterns, Satin and Common Colors, all of which we will show, and no charge for viewing paper.

Why Will You

Allow a child to alienate in your service and thus encourage mere scoundrels imitation such as Prentiss, Sommerville and Long trouble when an immediate relief can be so easily attained. It is Dr. Beecher's famous Sermon, prosecution, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no time need be expended in examining into the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medium is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your druggist to see the truth of these remarks. Large size 15 cents. Try it and be convinced.

BEHOLD THE PREDICING CHAMBERLAIN. Of a cool, decided nature, exceedingly forcible. A SERMON'S SUM is used to abbreviate these. Pictures, pictures, north, south, east, west, no place, no, and pictures are exceedingly handled by the incomparable chamberlain's art. Pictures, elements, sun, moon, stars, winds and other afflictions and injuries of the earth are likewise removed by E. B. Dunn before being hung, removed in the best manner for such diseases, illumination and picture. A SERMON'S SUM is in every respect as forcible and as cheap. By ordering the same, I am sending a vigorous sermon, an excellent article suitable to the taste of the entire system as well as to the individual.
