FINE HORSE.—Mr. P. F. Castelman a former resident of Eugene, has in this city, at present, a fine stallion that will remain during the coming season. The horse is imported from Bloomington, Illinois, and has taken several premiums at the county fairs in that state, for the best horse of all work, and for the excellence of his colts.

Jail Delivery.

Three Men Escape from the Lane County Jail.

Monday morning last the discovery was made that the three prisoners confined in the county jail had escaped, the night previous, by prying one of the boards, with which that institution is lined, and kicking out the rotten old rock. All the tools they possessed consisted of a case knife and oak bludgeons sharpened to a point. The prisoners were allowed to remain of nights together in the large room, from which before, several escapes have been made. The jail has three cells in it lined with boiler iron, and it shows official negligence that the prisoners were not confined in them of nights. The prisoners were all awaiting the action of the grand jury for offenses, as follows:

George Campbell, grand larceny at Crosswell, bail fixed at $300.

Charles Sargent, grand larceny, bail $500. John Lance, att mpt to commit rape, bail $300.

No rewards have been offered for their apprehension, and up to the present time nothing has been heard of them.

The sturdy yeoman is again in the field sowing seed while the sun shines.

Mr. Davis, proprietor of the portable photograph gallery, is in town. He says the camera will be in shooting order to-morrow.

Mr. James Sterling started Monday on a business tour to San Francisco, for the purpose of settling up the estate of his deceased father. His many friends unite in wishing him a pleasant trip to the Bay city and a safe return.

The rapid growth of our city has occasioned a scarcity of business houses on Front street. In one business house, 12x16, there are doing business, a photographer, dentist, patent medicine doctor, and a tonsorial artist, all doing active work. They would respectfully ask for more room.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

A column devoted to the interests of the Laurean and Eutaxian Literary Societies, and the State University.

W. C. TAYLOR, EDITOR.

Resignation.

Owing to the fact that new duties have recently been imposed upon us other than our school work, and that as we do not love work any too well, we have been induced to resign the editorship of this department to some one abler, more willing, and more anxious to manipulate the editorial quill. After having thoroughly canvassed the precincts of the Laureans that person has been found. Yes, he, who has ever been a friend and benefactor to the two societies, has at last been honored by a position where his talents can shine further than the narrow limits of the debating hall, where his merits will be recounted around other firesides than those of Eugene. Knowing that he never fails in his undertakings and judging from his past achievements in literary work, we predict for him success, and wish him the same pleasures that were ours while penning thoughts in the interest of rising humanity. And now as we make our exit we have the pleasure of introducing to the literary public Mr. George A. Dorris, who will, from this issue assume the management of this department.

W. C. TAYLOR.

Quirks.

A Senior wants to know what "Fireman" means. To the best of our knowledge it is "Fired" man.

When a member of the Eutaxians becomes married, the society immediately transfers her name to the "onery" list.

You enthusiastic Laurean lay by those two halves, and show yourself with a fair Eutaxian to-night.

Notwithstanding the Eutaxians think they are "well chosen" in the art of housekeeping, we've got the "boss" bread maker. And ladies, it leap year.

Several of our young lady students became very much shocked at some of Prof. Collier's proceedings (electric). They however nobly(?) responded to the call of the machine with the characteristic "Oh Dear!" pitched about 90 degrees above the first added line.

The Professor of Natural Sciences felt an earthquake last week. After a brief and exciting investigation the disturbance was found to arise from the movement of a freshman's foot under the fossil table. The Professor is now inquiring whether a former disturbance was not caused by a similar movement.

It was not a "go-as-you-please" the other night of the lecture when S-phomore saw Senior going to the hither end of town. Soph. imagined that Senior was aiming a deadly blow at his interests in that vicinity, and he accordingly resolved to beat that little game. The last we saw of him he was dodging through alleys, leaping over small sized lakes of turbid water, and splashing through the mud of the untidy crosswalks to the goal of his heart's desire. We have learned that all out of breath he reached the desired gate just in time to see the other individual step into the next house; and the old folks tells us that school-days are the happiest of life.

Lectures Wanted.

Why can't we have a few lectures in this city by some of Oregon's best men? It is perhaps a little late to begin agitating the subject but we might listen to several lectures yet, ere studies close for the year. It is customary, and the example has been set before us in other cities, where Universities are located, to have, during the Winter, series of lectures upon subjects pertaining to science, ethics, travel, etc. We should be highly gratified to listen to a good lecture occasionally, and think it would form not an unimportant part of our studies. If we recollect aright this good movement was set on foot by a literary club of this place, and it certainly did not die out for lack of patronage. Would that it had continued. We would hint to some of our prominent men, and indeed to our faculty, that such a course of lectures would be hailed with joy by the students, and no doubt by the citizens of Eugene in general. Who will make the move.

Resolutions.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at the last regular meeting of the Laurean Society:

WHEREAS, Dr. A. W. Patterson has presented to the Laurean and Eutaxian corporation 16 volumes of the British Poets; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we, the Laurean Society, hereby tender to Dr. Patterson our sincere thanks for this valuable addition to our library.

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our society.

RESOLVED, That the secretary be instructed to present Dr. Patterson with a copy of these resolutions, and also to furnish the society's editor with a copy for publication.

C. A. WOODDY,
E. E. BURKE,
W. L. BOISE,
Committee.

Notice to Politicians.

Eugene will annually put upon the market of the world the best lot of presidents, cabinet officers, mercantile nabobs, barristers, M. D.'s and bloated bond holders that has ever been at the disposal of the public. No reasonable offer refused. We recommend these as a strictly pure article ground out from our "mill" on the supervision of six wise men. With pleasure we refer the public to Dr. Simms, the celebrated physiognomist.

Look out for the I. X. L. STORE'S New ad. Next Week.
