4. That we claim at amongst the powers reserved to the states, the right to pass at any time by their legislatures, laws designed to prevent common carriers from making unjust discriminations against persons and places.

5. That we favor the maintenance of the public schools, the hope and pride of a free state. And you are armed against disease. The finest tonic for this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which renders digestion easy and complete, counteracts biliousness, and keeps the bowels in order, and so genial and beneficent are its effects that not only is the body invigorated and regulated by its use, but despondency banished from the mind.

6. That the democracy demand free and fair elections, and to that end denounce all interference with elections by the military power; that the experience of this and other countries has abundantly proved that the presence of troops at the polls is destructive of the freedom of elections and is incompatible with the existence of free institutions.

7. That the efforts of the republican party to open and keep alive the war feeling between the north and the south are to be condemned by every lover of his country.

8. That we favor continued lawful agitation on the subject of mongolian emigration to this country, until the federal government is moved to modify our treaties with the Chinese empire so as to prohibit it, and thus save those of fellow citizens who depend upon labor for support from unjust and degrading competition. We condemn and denounce in the severest terms the veto of R. B. Hayes of the bill limiting Chinese immigration to this country, and this experience shows that the people have no hepe for relief from the scourge except from a Democratic President.

10. That we hold to the constitution with all its amendments, but we insist on an interpretation of the amendments in consonance with the spirit of the original instrument.

TEN TO ONE.—When a man tells you he doen't believe the Bible, quote something from Aristotle or Shakespeare, and ask in which portion of the Scriptures is the passage, and ten to one he will assure you that he has often read it in the sacred book, but he cannot recall the chapter and verse.

Hahnemann, the homeopahtic doctor, ouce oured one his patients by merely putting a flask under his nose and telling him to smell it. A month afterwards he sent in his account, and Just the next day the patient-a Parisiancalled on him. As Hahnamann was rather hard up, being very badly paid by his clients, he received his visitor with the greatest pleasure, expecting to receive his fee. "My dear doctor," said the patient, "I'll pay you with the same readiness as you have cured me. Here is a hundred-franc note; smell it. We are quits."
