Railroad to night, and its cars loaded with naphtha were burned, the naphtha taking fire when the accident occurred. Miss Barnes escaped with a cut on the head and a few bruises.

Jail Delivery.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—At Hamstead a party of sixteen broke into the county jail and released all the prisoners. A negro prisoner proceeded to the house of the sheriff and informing him of the escape, returned to his quarters in the jail.

Desperado Held.

MONTAGUE, Tex., Aug. 3.—W. W. Taylor, deputy sheriff, attempted to arrest Martin L. Minnot, a notorious desperado of this county. Minnot thrust a pistol to Taylor's face and fired, but missing, Taylor shot him three times, killing Minnot instantly.

Army of Occupation.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—Information comes up from Texas that what is known down there as the General Army of Occupation, an organization whose object seems to be the invasion of Mexico under Gen. Dalrymple, is assuming considerable proportions, 300 men are enrolled in Austin and vicinity, and the first regiment of Texas cavalry, Col. Armstrong of Austin, commanding, has 300 members and recruiting going on. Gen. F. W. Sames, a general of the Texas militia, will be given command of the department embracing Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. He has appointed a staff and consultation has been held, but the results have not yet transpired. The movement is attracting a good deal of attention, and the belief is expressed that if the government does not interfere, serious trouble will result.

Two Days More.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The most noticeable trait in Tanner's condition to-day is his extreme irritability. He complains of weakness at intervals, but is buoyed up by the knowledge that the task is nearly ended. He suffers frequently from nausea and retching, during which small quantities of mucus are ejected. Vigorous rubbing is resorted to brighten him up and accelerate the action of the heart. At noon the 38th day ended. About 1 o'clock he was resting quietly.

The Benders Again.

OMAHA, Aug. 4.—Mr. Stewart, a railroad contractor, of Blair, went to see old man Bender to-day at Fremont, and on seeing him he said, "That's old Bender." Stewart saw old Bender before the family left the place in Kansas and knew him well. He has no doubts that the prisoner is Bender. They did not speak to Bender about Stewart as it gets him so excited to mention Kansas or the name of Bender to him. Crowds have been to see both the old man and old woman to-day, and he is very excitable, remaining cross and nervous two or three hours after conversing about Kansas. He frequently asks for a knife and persists that he will not be taken to Kansas alive.

Creeks and Cherokees.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—Private advices from Vinita, Indian territory, referring to the recent disturbances between the Cherokee Indians and negroes belonging to the Creek nation, say a compromise had been effected, the Creek Indians agreeing to surrender the negroes who killed young Cobb and wounded young Cowen, two Cherokees, a few days ago.

Arrested at his own Request.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 4.—U. S. Marshal Wilcox arrested a New York to-night with W. E. Cushman, defaulting president of the First National Bank of Georgetown. The bank failed in 1878. An investigation disclosed the fact that Cushman had embezzled the funds of the institution. He was indicted by the U. S. grand jury, but suddenly disappeared, and has been at large until a week ago, when Marshal Wilcox arrested him at New York. His whereabouts had been an open secret during three years, but no efforts were made to secure his arrest. It is said that he is now desirous of clearing up the matter and that the arrest was at his own request. Influential parties have given bail to the amount of $5000.

In the steeple chase, short course, Buster first, Gallagher, second; time, 3:11.

End of the Fast.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—At high noon to-day, when the time was up and task finished, the crowd cheered Tanner enthusiastically. About one thousand persons were in the hall, and an immense number on the sidewalk. The doctor drank a glass of milk and called for a Georgia water melon. This he tapped, dug his hand into it and ate heartily. When remonstrated with, he asked to be left alone saying "No, my lord; I am running this now." When he placed a glass of milk to his mouth, he remarked, "Gentlemen, you can't believe that's good." The signal for the expiration of the fast was a whistle from the factory in the vicinity. When it blew, Tanner had a peach in his hand, but before he could put it in his mouth somebody snatched it away. In response to the plaudits of the assemblage, Tanner, who was sitting upon a chair placed on a table, waved a handkerchief over his head. At a quarter past 12, Tanner got down from the table, and left the hall in charge of Dr. Gunn, who took him to his own residence, where he will receive careful medical treatment. Dr. Tanner weighed at the end of the fast 12 1/2 pounds. He lost 36 pounds in 40 days.

It is estimated that about 2000 persons visited the hall during the day to see the faster.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—At 3:30, Dr. Tanner drank an ounce of light wine, after which he ate a small slice of water melon. At 4:00, he was eating with great relish a piece of beefsteak. He did not swallow the fire, but only partook of the juice of the meat. The doctor saw no visitors during the evening, and it was reported he was in excellent spirits.

Partaking of Beefsteak.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Dr. Tanner spent the day quietly and saw very few visitors. His physicians say he is improving as well as can be expected after such a long fast. During the early part of the morning he chewed half a pound of beefsteak, only retaining the juice, and also ate some milk toast and wine. Shortly before noon he ate half a pound of beefsteak and some stewed potatoes. He was then weighed and turned the scales at 126 pounds. About every hour he partook some nourishing food or drink, which included watermelon, milk, potatoes stewed in milk, ale, beef tea, bread, and wine. About 6 o'clock his weight was again taken and was found to be 130 pounds. He was quite lively to day and frisked about his room like a school boy. His physicians say his rapid recovery from the effects of his long fast is something remarkable.

PACIFIC COAST.

The Lost Mathilde.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—The French bark General Chauvy arrived at this port last evening, 39 days from San Jose de Guatemala. Captain Raymond, her commander, reports that on July 7th, in latitude 15° 8' north and longitude 111° 22' west, he passed the forward portion of a vessel lumber laden, and with foremost standing. He passed close to it but saw no sign of life. The vessel had a wooden figurehead painted blue, and it is considered very probable that it was the Mathilde, abandoned some time since.

Burke vs. Flood et al.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—Judge Sullivan to-day rendered a decision overruling the demurrer in the case of John H. Burke against Jas. C. Flood et al and allowing defendants twenty days to answer plaintiff's complaints. This action was commenced about eighteen months ago to recover $10,428,000, the value of Consolidated Virginia stock alleged to have been appropriated by defendants while directors of the Consolidated Virginia Company. Demurrers were interposed by the defendants pleading the statute of limitation and lack of acquiescence and want of capacity in the plaintiff to sue. Judge Sullivan decides all of these points against the defendants and in favor of the plaintiff. The case now rests entirely on questions of fact.

Dividend.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—Cob Virginia declares a dividend of fifty cents.

Annual Regatta.

The annual regatta of the San Francisco yacht club to day was won by the steeple Annie, beating the schooner Chispa forty-nine seconds on time allowance.

Massive Banner Consecrated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The grand standard of the Knights Templars, about to leave for Chicago to attend the convocations of the order, was consecrated to-day at Grace church with imposing ceremonies. The Knights, with the standard furled, marched to the door of the church, where they were met by the rector, Rev. Dr. Platt, and a formal request preferred for consecration of the standard. The procession marched to the altar, where the usual ritual was performed, the Knights making several and general confession kneeling, followed by absolution. This was succeeded by the anthem "Venite Exultemus Domino" and the doxology. The rector then read a lesson for the occasion, followed by the "Te Deum Laudamus." Creed and Collects. After the hymn, "Soldiers of Christ, Arise," the rector, descending from the pulpit, duly consecrated the banner with an address. "Gloria in Excelsis" was then rendered, and the grand commander received the standard from the rector. The Knights saluted it, and singing the "Recessional Hymn," marched forth to the front of the church. An unusually large congregation gathered to witness the ceremony.

Swindled.

FOREIGN.

Troops for Candahar.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Gen. Roberts' force for Candahar starts on Sunday. It includes three British infantry regiments and one cavalry.

A new brigade formed in Bengal, which consists of one regiment of British infantry and two regiments of natives, have been sent from Bombay to Southern Afghanistan.

Burrows' Officers.

Of 53 officers of Gen. Burrows' force 21 are killed or missing, 8 wounded and escaped and 12 arrived at Candahar. This leaves 12 unaccounted for, and it therefore may be presumed that though nominally attached to Gen. Burrows' brigade, they did not accompany him.

Burrows to Blame.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The Times commenting on the disaster to Gen. Burrows' command, blames that officer and declares that the Bombay Sepoys are inferior to Ghizis as soldiers.

Retirement of the British.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—A Bombay correspondent telegraphs the retirement of the British forces from Cabul, which will follow the departure of Gen. Roberts with his command for Candahar. It is not considered expedient to prolong the occupation in the face of heavy expenditures and the possibility of fresh complications.

Turkish Barbarity.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 4.—An American missionary and his American servant, while on the road to relieve the famished population, were found with their throats cut near Ismed.

Pence Will be Maintained.

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—Negotiations between the Russian government and the Chinese Ambassador, have been opened and the Russian press express hopes that peace will be maintained.

Crushing Defeat.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—The defeat of the reactionaries in the elections for the councils general is crushing. The irreconcilables were also defeated at Lyons, Toulouse, Lille, Besancon and other large towns which they contested. They won a seat at Bourges. Gen. Chazy and several other moderates, are supplanted by advanced republicans.

Le Temps says: If the Bonapartists were ignominiously defeated, the clericals were even worse treated. The distinguishing character of the elections was anti-clerical. The attempt to move constitutions by representing the religious decrees as an attack on liberty signally failed.

Arrested Communists.

One hundred and two arrested communists arrived from Brest yesterday. One hundred policemen were at the railway station, but scarcely 250 persons had assembled to greet the communists. Henri Rochefort was present. Twenty-four other communists arrived later in the day.

Satisfactory Though Slow.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Gladstone passed an excellent night, and is making satisfactory though slow progress.

The Compensation Bill.

In the house of commons to-day, in reply to the inquiry of Parnell, the chief secretary for Ireland said: I deeply regret the rejection of the compensation bill. I do not think we can bring in another bill on that subject this session. The government will protect the officers and courts in the execution of the law. I hope a plentiful harvest will alleviate the sufferings of the farmers. Members of all parties of both houses should use their influence in maintaining and assisting the government to maintain order in Ireland.

Improving.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Gladstone continues improving.

Gladstone.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Gladstone has arrived at Windsor and will return to London on Friday.

Crop Prospects of Ireland.

DUBLIN, Aug. 9.—Harvest prospects in Ireland are again causing anxiety. The rains during the last fortnight have been excessive. Potatoes are generally sound, but blight is visible in many fields. Green crops promise an abundant yield.

An Irish Outrage.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—A fearful outrage was perpetrated last night near New Ross, Ireland. Thomas Body, crown solicitor for county Tipperary, and his two sons, were fired at by masked assassins armed with guns and bayonets. Body was severely wounded in the arm, one son was shot through the lungs and there are hopes for recovery. The other son received a slight wound in the leg. Three men have been arrested on suspicion of committing the outrage.

A later dispatch from New Ross says that Body, sr., is dying from his wounds.

Tranquillity.

DUBLIN, Aug. 9.—The country has never been more tranquil than now. The danger from organized bands of agitators and fanatics is no greater than it was in former years.

Popular Rising.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The Times in an editorial says: There will be a popular rising where there are troops ready to suppress it.

Report Denied.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—Herr Hasselmann, the German scientist, writes to the Cologne Gazette denying that he has taken flight to America.

Russia and Corea.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—A correspondent asserts that Russia has ordered two corvettes to proceed to Corea, where they will be used to maintain a Russian port. The assistance of the Washington government has been asked for commercial negotiations with Corea.

Cannot Advance.

ATHENS, Aug. 9.—It is admitted that the Greek army cannot advance with safety before spring.

The Greek Army.

A correspondent at Athens reports that reserves are flocking in rapidly, and that soon the Greek army will number 20,000.

Preliminary Measure.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 9.—The cabinet council has decided to send troops to Cuba. This is understood as a measure preliminary to ceding Dalmeigo to the Montenegrins.

Strategical Objections.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 9.—Captain Swaine, British military attaché, and Colonel Raub, the Austrian military attaché, have left for the districts awarded to Greece to examine the strategical objections raised by the ports against the frontier, proposed by the Berlin conference.

The European Powers.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—In the house of commons the under foreign secretary stated that England, France, Austria and Germany early in July dissuaded Greece from mobilizing her army, but later in July England finding all other governments had withdrawn their objections, withdrew hers also.

French Naval Maneuvers.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—The maneuvers of the French fleet at Cuesbourg began yesterday. President Greys was welcomed by Admiral Riffourt, marine prefect. The fleet comprised six of the largest and most powerful iron clad, forming a squadron of observation under the command of Vice-Admiral Goussier. A flying squadron is also assembled under the command of Rear Admiral Gaidner, and a sub-marine or torpedo squadron, under the orders of Rear Admiral Baron Grivel.

Second Ballots.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—In the second ballot thus far known for the councils general, the republicans elected 26 candidates, conservatives 10. A republican gain. Leon Say is chosen.

Whining Sobriety.

MADRID, Aug. 9.—The opposition press comments strongly upon the royal decree in the official intimation that if a son is born to the queen, she will be the price of Austria, but the child should be a girl the title will be infant of Spain.

Navigation of the Danube.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—The Leipzig Correspondent, supposed to be inspired by Prince Bismarck, says: A dispute has arisen between Austria and England regarding the navigation of the Danube. Austria, it says, proposed the formation of a permanent commission of riparian states under an Austrian presidency for the control of the river between Galatz and the Iron Gates. England is opposed to the plan, arguing that such a commission should consist only of representatives of the states bordering on the lower Danube. Germany supports Austria.

Notable Death.

Sir Peter George Fitzgerald, knight of Kerry, died at Valencia. He was especially renowned for the interest he took in the success of the Atlantic cables. The queen recently conferred the baronetcy upon him.

Quiet in Afghanistan.

A Cabul dispatch says the whole of northern Afghanistan is fairly quiet, as are also Kohistan, Wardack, Ghelzai and the country around Jellalabad. The ameer's chances of maintaining himself in power have certainly been increased by Gen. Roberts' march through that part of the country most hostile to him.

The Cause of the Defeat.

A Cabul dispatch says the Indian press and public are unanimous in attributing the British defeat in the first place to Gen. Primrose, and the panic-stricken telegrams sent by him to Bombay are pointed to as further instances of his want of judgment.

Incompetency.

Gen. Burrows' hesitancy in dealing with the wall's mutinous troops at Girishki seems to establish a pretty strong case of incompetency against him.

The March to Candahar.

It is doubtful whether Gen. Roberts or Gen. Phayre will reach Candahar first, but there is every reason to hope that one or the other will reach Candahar by the end of August or the beginning of September. To retire from Cabul at this moment in another part of the country, while our prestige has suffered a severe shock, and to leave on the throne an ameer a little better than a puppet would be taken through the length and breadth of Afghanistan as an admission of our weakness. It will require all of the ameer's power and influence to keep the Tribes off our retreating army, and the probable consequences of the short-sighted economy which dictates this policy will be felt within the next few years if it becomes necessary to send another army and expend more millions of money.

The Latest Snake Story.

There has been some solicitude of late among men who note the signs of the seasons about the unusually long time that has elapsed since the last snake story, but all apprehensions are now happily set at rest by the arrival of a new story, the extreme bigness of which explains satisfactorily why it has been so long on the way. It is said that during the late flood caused by the breaking of levees on the Upper Mississippi a farmer was rambling moodily over his acres in a rowboat, when a little snake, whose ancestors had probably handed down the story of how the family escaped annihilation by the great original flood, darted into his boat. Then another, who presumably had heard the Noah's ark story, invited himself in, and others followed thick and fast until the owner of the boat had not as much room in the boat as he desired for himself. Besides he had not provisioned his boat with reference to any such passengers; so, fearing that the reptiles might be tempted to eat him instead of each other, he went overboard and managed to get ashore. The boat was afterward found drifting about filled to the gunwales with snakes, most of whom were taken ashore—the narrator inadvertently fails to say how—and killed. This is certainly the champion snake story of the year, but there is one trouble about it. There are distilleries in Illinois, and between snakes in boats and snakes in boots there is only the difference of a letter.

The Beggars and Victims of Charity.

It is impossible to calculate the waste of time and of money with which this whole irregular machinery of public charity is kept at work. Persons are induced to give to objects of which they know nothing. They give, and they fancy they have done with it, until the claimant, in due course, reappears, as importunate as ever, and with something of a prescriptive right on his side. Begging is fast becoming a profession. It has its well-known rules and cautions, its literary style and manner and tone of voice, its various methods of approach to suit every case. Its victims proper would not feel flattered if they knew how their faults and weaknesses, their virtues and their vices, are described, when the soft-spoken applicant is off duty, or how they are kept on record for his future guidance. Each may be sure that in some phrase or other he has been duly written down an ass. There is no malice in the description; there is scarcely a bare favor of half unconscious contempt. Of course the man is an ass; he would be of less use otherwise for the professional beggar's purpose. To the rest of the world he may be a well-to-do squire, or a wealthy banker, or a merchant tradesman who has retired with a fortune larger than he knows how to employ. But all these are disguises which the professional beggar very soon strips off. His concern is with the man under them, and he differs from his fellows in the degree of skill and assurance with which he manages to reach this.—(London Times.)

DETAILED HORRORS.

Old Bender Confesses and Tells the Story of his Frightful Crimes.

TWO CHILDREN BURIED ALIVE.

Friedrich Work by Kate and Maggie—Too frightful to Believe.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 5.—The Benders admitted to Daniel Condon, who is the man who gave the information leading to their arrest, that the man named Holbrook, uncle of Wm. Smith, a lumber dealer at Fism creek, had been murdered at Bender's place. When described by Condon as a low-set, dark small man they told all about him, and said he had about $2000 on his person when murdered. In 1878 an aged couple answering the description, and who are supposed to have been old Bender and wife, with one small child, occupied the house in the outskirts of Kearney. They sold down went out, made no acquaintances, and made few purchases, paying cash for what they did buy. Some suspicion was aroused at that time when suddenly they disappeared. They were discovered locked up, and a strong odor issuing from the door. The sheriff burst in the door and found every evidence of a hearse having been used. A few articles were still hanging on the hooks; the furniture was left as it had stood, and even the bed remained unmade, as if light had been sudden and unexpected; the lamp being marked on the table. No traces of the murderers could be learned, and the sheriff finally sold out the goods at auction. The manner in which this couple departed from Kearney is still the name to which the Benders, left their home in Cherryville, Kansas.

Jan Condon, who has been in the vicinity of Avoca, Iowa, two or three days, searched for the Benders, and says the wife is quite sure to be arrested before Sunday, as several persons saw them there on last Monday. They are being followed by officers from Avoca. As it has been known that Bender's right name is McGreggor, there is still another identification. Old woman Bender admits that young John and Kate, supposed to be her son and daughter, are full brother and sister, and have been living all the time as man and wife. Kate has four children by John, 4, 7, 5 and 3 years old, while they have been wandering around the country.

OMAHA, Aug. 6.—Bender made the following statement: My name is Alexander Bepapog. I was born in the state of New York; lived there till I married my first wife; when I married I had one child called Wm. Hoock, begotten in adultery; after being married two weeks John Bender, my son, was born; then I moved to Illinois where Kate was born. Kate and John were good children, but ran away when 15 years old and I had to raise my children all day; I had no money to support them; after two years I married my second wife; she had three children; her name was Nancy Taylor; the children all died; I had no money to support my second wife. While living in Illinois I committed my first murder; the killed was a short, dark haired man; I sent him down cellar through a trap door; I got some money from his pocket; I hid the body in the cellar; the old woman helped me bury him. Went to Independence, Iowa; worked on a farm at my trade. Bepapog heard from Kate and John and they wrote for me to come on. I went to Kansas to live with John and Nancy. After a while Kate and John came to the place called Bender's house. After being there a few days, I helped John to make a trap door the same as I had in Illinois. The first man I killed was a man named Schlegel; he was a German; he and I went together, and he killed him with a butcher knife; she showed me the knife. I buried him near the house. The only man ever killed at Bender's house was Schlegel. I remember others were killed; one man John killed and put him under the two little children, both girls, were buried alive. The children were seven or eight years old. Kate and Maggie always went down in the cellar to cut the victims' throats. I often heard the women exhibit considerable emotion. While eating supper, Bender cut his head two from behind, and he was dumped into the cellar through a trap door, and arranged by Bender, Kate and Maggie. The corpse was buried next morning back of the house. A few weeks after this they went to Iowa, remaining eight months; then went to the return of the supposed Benders, here in custody to Kansas. He is confident that the old man is the original John Bender, and departed with both prisoners to-night. The old man declares he will not be taken to Kansas alive.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 6.—To-day Mrs. Bender was visited in jail at Fremont by an Omaha reporter, who made the return of the supposed Benders, here in custody to Kansas. He is confident that the old man is the original John Bender, and departed with both prisoners to-night. The old man declares he will not be taken to Kansas alive.
