

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEF MENTION.

Four prisoners in the county jail. A good canvasser is wanted at this office. Judge Walton is having his house remodelled. Jasper Stevens killed 23 grouse one day this week. Mr B C Pennington is having a new awning built in front of his meat market. Col Larrabee will speak at the Court House, in Eugene city, Tuesday, September 14th. Two dogs were shipped to Eugene yesterday. The town could spare 3,333 more.—Statesman. Rev S M Driver, who formerly preached at Springfield has been appointed pastor of Coeur d'Alene. The highest price paid in CASH for Hides, Fur Deer Skins and Chickens, at the store of S. Rosenblatt & Co. The rite of baptism was administered to Mrs Curman, by Rev I D Driver, at the mill race last Sunday. Two Surgeons from Indianapolis, will be here on the 11th and 13th of September. See notice in another column. We understand that Henry Walton, formerly of this place, is at present working in a very stable at the Dalles. Miss Eva Burbank, daughter of Hon A R Burbank, of Yamhill county, while bathing at Ilwaco last Saturday, was drowned. The GUARD should be read by every citizen of Lane county during the Presidential campaign. Now is a good time to subscribe. We understand that the members of the E Church in this place have petitioned Rev I D Driver to stay here another year. He has signified his willingness if it be the wish of the conference. At a fire in Portland, August 16, a house in which Mr J N Poadexter and family lived was destroyed. He saved most of his household goods however, his loss not being in excess of $200. Business men should not forget that blank notes, bill-heads, statements, letter-heads, and every description of commercial printing are neatly and promptly executed at the GUARD office. Mrs A Renfew wishes to inform the people of Eugene City and county that she still has beds to rent by the night or week. Give her a call, and she will warrant satisfaction in every particular. The following persons were appointed to scholarships from Multnomah county, Or., August 16th, in the State University: Ella E Price, O P McCall, A L Smith and Commodore P. Richards. Messrs McClanahan, Huddleston and Church have returned from their fishing expedition, having caught several hundred fine trout. We doff our hat to Mr Henry Huddleston for a man of fish. A new flag-stay has been placed on the Masonic building, and on meeting nights hereafter a flag will be hoisted to the top of the pole, which will be a great convenience to strangers who may be temporarily sojourning in the city. Decrease of Assessment. The assessment roll shows the total assessable property in Lane county for the year 1880 to be $3,078,756 against $3,301,368 in 1879, a decrease of $222,612. Undoubtedly this falling off in the valuation of property is due to rust last year. We understand that it will not necessitate the raising of taxes. An Artist.—From the Standard we clip the following: "Mr Edward Epey is giving the finishing touches to a handsome painting of Mt Hood at sunset, taken from Marquam's Hill. The artist has been successful in securing a view of the grand old mountain at a time when Nature herself was adorning the scene in her most vivid colors, and the crest of perpetual snow rises majestically above the vista of purple haze, while nearer are the placid waters of the river, which present a striking contrast to trees and rugged rocks of the extreme foreground. Mr Epey has a fine picture of the entrance to the Golden Gate completed, and is now at work on a view of the Three Sisters, a Southern Oregon mountain sketch, which he will have finished in time to be on exhibition at the Mechanics' Fair."

ARRESTED.—Charles Crowley, who was indicted by the last grand jury for perceiving school money, was arrested this week at Dallas, by Sheriff L M Hall, of Polk county, and brought to this place Thursday and committed to jail in default of $500 bonds. It appears that there are some palatial circumstances connected with this case.

DIED.—Miss Emma Clawson, sister of Mrs L G Adair of this city, died at Portland August 17th. Mr Adair and wife went to Portland Tuesday morning to be in attendance at the funeral of their sister. At one time she taught in the Harrison street school, Portland, and was much esteemed by those who knew her. She was buried at Salem.

RUNAWAY.—A team belonging to a Mr Hemenway while standing near the Court House, Wednesday evening, with a load of lumber got scared and took a spin a short distance scattering the lumber lively. They brought up against a tree near the jail being unharmed, but the wagon sustained some damage.

$200 BONDS.—Martin Conners of Junction, was brought here Thursday and committed to jail. He was bound over in $200 to keep the peace, and being unable to raise the bonds he now languishes in jail.

NEW POST OFFICES.—The following new post offices have been established in Lane county: Cannon, Chas E Byers, postmaster; Tay, Alvin R Randall, postmaster.

DIED.—William Jenns, Jr., of Long Tom, died August 16th of congestion of the brain. He was about 50 years of age.

SUICIDE!

Nate S. Griswold of Junction, Commits Suicide by Cutting His Throat with a Razor!

Report of the Coroner's Jury, Etc., Etc.

Last Sunday morning the citizens of Junction were startled to learn that Nate S. Griswold, of that place had committed suicide, by cutting his throat with a razor. He leaves a wife and child to mourn this rash act. We herewith give the testimony as brought out at the inquest held at Junction, by D D String, J.P.

Dr Lee was first called and testified as follows: The death of deceased was caused by the severing of the main arteries of the throat.

James A Castiel testified: Saw deceased yesterday; was in front of deceased's house about 11 o'clock last night; also about 1 o'clock. Had been informed that Griswold was insane. I was told to go away by participants at the house; Griswold was afraid that I was going to arrest him.

Geo F. Crow testified as follows: I reside next door to deceased and am his brother-in-law. About 11 o'clock P M Griswold drove his family out doors and they came over to my house. Griswold told his wife to tell me not to come over or he would hurt me. I saw there was no light in the building, and I was afraid to go over. About daylight I went over to his house and went up stairs and found the body, as it now lays in the blood, and that razor near his feet.

The following is the verdict of the Coroner's jury: JUNCTION, August 15, 1880. We, the jury in the above entitled cause having made inquiry into the death of N S Griswold, and find that he came to his death by his own hand, by cutting his throat with a razor, caused by temporary insanity.

JAMES CLAWFORD, J W WRIGHT, GEORGE KAISER, S S SMITH, I K ZEWALD, Wm S LEE.

The deceased was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge of Junction City, and was highly respected. The body was taken to Harrisburg, and buried according to the rite of the above named lodge.

JAIL DELIVERY. On Sunday morning last at about 10:30 A M, the good people of this town were somewhat startled to learn of the escape of an inmate of the county jail. The sheriff has always locked the prisoners in the cells at night, but in the day time allowed them to remain in the large room, with shackles on. There were two prisoners in jail one, McNamara, who was recently recaptured in Portland, and Harry Wise, who some time since robbed the residence of Mr. W. C. Edwards, near Junction City, and was bound over in the sum of $400 bail. They managed, while nobody was in hearing to pry off a board from one of the door jams, and then used the board for a battering ram knocking out the stone wall; and succeeded in a short time in making a large hole in the wall. Wise succeeded in removing his shackles and at once made his escape. While passing along the street north of the jail, he was recognized by a boy, Master Andrew Huff, who gave the alarm. A crowd at once left and scoured the woods near the city, but no trace was found of the escaped prisoner. McNamara did not go out of the jail, as he had a 15 pound shackle on, which alone prevented his escaping also. The shackle Wise had on had previously been worn by McNamara, but he repeatedly took them off so he was given the heavy one. It seems strange to us that the Sheriff did not procure another shackle, after knowing that the one he had on Wise was worthless.

The authorities should at once take action in regard to building a new jail, or repairing the present one, so at least it would hold a man without any assistance whatever but his hands.

BE CAREFUL.—The present condition of our town, relative to the matter of safety from fire, demand the strictest care and precaution on the part of our citizens to prevent a disastrous blaze. There are people in this world who take no cognizance of timely admonitions, and are made to realize their situation only when overtaken by the dire calamity against which they have been warned. A Fire Warden should certainly be appointed at once, who should notify property owners, especially on Willamette street, to clear their roofs of moss, as a spark might kindle a fire that would destroy thousands of dollars worth of property.

WINDOW SMASHER.—An obstreperous individual by the name of August Honestrom was arrested one day this week by Marshal Attebery, who escorted him to the city jail, but when said individual objected to being put in the cell, and resisted the officer, Marshal Attebery locked him in the front room and went to the Court House for help. When he returned he found that Honestrom had broken every glass in both windows and was in the act of climbing out. Thursday he was tried before Justice Henderson, who sentenced him to pay a fine of $25 or 12 days imprisonment in the county jail. He chose the latter.

PRIVATE SCHOOL.—Miss Minnie Star will commence teaching a private school in the Episcopal school building September 1st. All wishing to send their children to a first-class private school should remember the date of commencement.

False Impression Corrected.

Senator Grover, writing to the New York World from Danville, says: "In your issue of yesterday under the head of 'Lonely death of Senator Grover's aged mother,' you republished an article from the Lawrence (Mass.) American, which gave a false impression in relation to the death of my revered mother. It is true that at the time of her death she was alone, and of late years has much preferred to live much to herself. But it is not true that she was desolate or lonely in any sense of these words. She owned her own house, which was ample and had ample means to sustain it. She kept a room fully furnished and ready all times for each member of her family, whether present or absent. Servants were always ready when needed, and her house was always open to relatives and neighbors. She was hospitable to the poor. She was a prisoner of the war of 1812 her husband, the late Dr Grover, having served as an assistant surgeon in that war. He was surgeon-in-chief of the forces of Maine called out by Governor Fairchild to settle our northeastern boundary with Great Britain in 1837. He was one of the framers of the constitution of the great State of Maine, and served in both branches of her legislature. Since the death of her late husband a son has resided near her, and has been accustomed to visit her every morning and evening every day until last June, when he went west, at her suggestion, on a tour, leaving his mother in her usual good health. One of her sons, General C Grover, United States Army, visited her during the present month with his family, and had gone but two days when her death occurred. He returned at once. I was to visit her with my family in September, but her sands of life had run, and she lay down to rest as if in a sleep. Her brother writes: 'She had arisen Sunday morning and dressed as usual, and wound up her clock, and probably feeling tired went to lay on her bed in her morning wrapper, and died without thinking anything unusual was about to happen. She died as she always said she wished to, quietly without knowing anything about it.' She was no recluse, but took an active part in the interests of society about her. She read the public journals and kept up the current of public affairs. Her correspondence with absent members of her family was constant up to the time of her death. She advised her sons in public and business affairs and her advice was always sound. She was a life long communicant of the church. Her faith was a certainty to her, and her works followed her faith. Fortunately he who lives and dies as well.

COUNTERFEIT DOLLAR.—There is a dangerous counterfeit upon the "standard silver dollar of 1880 in circulation, and bearing the initials of the San Francisco mint." The piece is so perfect in execution that it is almost impossible to detect its spuriousness without close examination, though it can be detected from being dull in appearance and having a soapy feeling to the touch, and from being much lighter than the genuine coin, its weight being 301.80-100 grains while that of the legal piece is 412.60-100.—Bee.

VISITING COOS BAY.—C S Sargent, of Yale College, Dr G Engleman, of St Louis, Prof Collier of the Oregon State University, and Prof F Skinner, of Cambridge, Mass., arrived in town one evening last week and left on the "Coos" the next day. The Mail says: "They are on a tour of examination into the timber resources of this part of the country, and, in company with Mr Merchant have been visiting the forests of timber and logging camps of this vicinity."

NEW TANKS.—The City Marshal has had new water tanks put in at the following pumps: Underwood's, Peter's and Hendrick's. A great improvement over the old ones.

HOPS.—We understand that some of the hop yards look poorly in this county, on account of the unusual dry season. We are unable to give any quotation of prices.

The Price of Wheat. The bountiful harvest in both this country and Europe will no doubt cause wheat to rule very low this season, but this will not lessen the demand for the Oregon Kidney Tea, as every man or woman who has a backache or any trouble with the kidneys or urinary organs, will try this well known remedy even if wheat should be only 50c per bushel. Sold by all Druggists.

Good News For Farmers. Six dishes of food, at a meal will be given for 25 cents at the Astor House Restaurant. Give it a trial.

The springs are situated 82 miles east of Eugene, and 6 miles from the McKenzie Bridge.

I wish Everybody to Know. Rev. George H. Taylor, an old citizen of this vicinity known to every one as a most influential citizen, and Christian Minister of the M. E.
