

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD

EUGENE CITY, OREGON.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 18, 1880.

Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT:

GEN. WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
Of New York.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:

WILLIAM H. ENGLISH,
Of Indiana.

For Presidential Electors,

J. K. WEATHERFORD, of Linn,
T. G. OWEN, of Coos,
J. G. FULTON, of Wasco.

GARFIELD'S OATH.

(Poland Report, page 5.)

"I never owned, received or agreed to receive any stock of the Credit Mobilier, or of the Union Pacific Railroad, nor any dividends or profits arising from either of them."

THE POLAND COMMITTEE REPORT.

"The facts in regard to Mr. Garfield, as found by the committee, are identical with the case of Mr. Wm. D. Kelley to the point of receipt of the check for $329. He agreed with Mr. Ames to take ten shares of Credit Mobilier stock, but did not pay for the same. Mr. Ames received the 80 per cent. dividends in bonds, and sold them for 97 per cent., and also received the 60 per cent. cash dividends which together paid the price of the stock and interest and left a balance of $329. This sum was paid over to Mr. Garfield by a check on the Sergeant-at-Arms, and Mr. Garfield then understood this sum was the balance of dividends after paying for the stock."

The Products of a "Solid South."

The greatness and prosperity of any part of our country depend upon the value of its commercial products. And the production of marketable commodities to any considerable extent, is only possible where peace and quietude exist, among all classes, and where capital and labor are mutually benefited. It has been charged, and dwelt upon unceasingly by those politicians that are interested in keeping alive the antagonisms and passions consequent upon the late civil war, that the negroes of the South were persecuted, deprived of political rights, dominated by the shot gun, and made the victim of every other wrong for which the aforesaid politicians could find name. They would solidify the North by misrepresenting and holding up the South as still unrepentant and rebellious in its sentiments. When the census returns give them an increase of population, these sanctified political leaders are thrown into convulsions of rage and again and again send forth their stereotyped cry of fraud. But thanks to cool blooded and matter of fact statistics, these charges are to the thinking, dispassionate mind proved unfounded. In 1860 the cotton crop of the South amounted to 3,775,000 bales. The crop just marketed of 1879 consisted of over 5,000,000 bales, and brought $250,000,000, an amount equal almost to the entire product of the wheat exported from the North. This year the estimates of the Cotton Exchange are from 6,000,000 to 6,500,000 bales. This enormous crop, besides its sugar, rice, corn, and tobacco, is produced largely with colored labor; and when partisans would have the people believe that colored labor to be misused and maltreated, they certainly are deluding themselves by expecting such stupidity and credulity of the public. To their cry of "Solid South" we can only say that we are glad she is solid, though not in the sense they use the term. She is solid in the dignity which prosperity and increased commercial products confer upon a nation. She is solid inasmuch as the results of the war with its consequent measures have been accepted by her people, and the Union from which she attempted to secede, is as dear to her people, as to us of the North.

Appointments.

Hon. James H. Slater will speak at Cottage Grove, Wednesday, September 23d, and at Eugene City, Thursday, September 23d, at 1 o'clock P. M.

The Radical press of this State has been awakened from slumber by echoes from Maine. It calls upon Republicans to organize and work, else Oregon will go Democratic. But it is a hopeless task that of infusing enthusiasm into a party with such a candidate as Garfield. He is the dead weight about the party's neck that will sink it to the lowest depths on the second day of November.

MAINE ELECTION!

Have you heard the news from Maine? has been the inquiry on all sides for the past few days. Maine held her State election Monday, and from returns at hand, the result is doubtful. But enough is known to warrant the statement that the plurality will be but a few hundred which ever way it may fall. We cannot claim this as a Democratic victory, but certainly it is a veritable Republican rout. If it transpires that the Republicans carry the State by a few votes plurality we shall witness the singular spectacle of Republicans shouting over a State that has heretofore been good for them by 29,000 majority.

The result is to inspirit the already enthusiastic Democracy, and correspondingly depress the Radical legions. The first gun for Hancock has been heard, and should Indiana, of the October States, fall in line, the stampe from Garfield will be unequalled in our political history.

John Sherman on Chester A. Arthur.

In his opening speech of the campaign in Ohio, at Cincinnati, recently John Sherman declared:

"I have never said one word impugning Gen Arthur's honor or integrity as a man and gentleman, but he was not in harmony with the views of the administration in the management of the Custom House."

Against this shameless declaration of his own untruth and to his own confusion, let this from John Sherman to Chester A. Arthur, Jan. 17, 1879, now be read:

"Gross abuses of administration have continued and increased during your incumbency. Persons have been regularly paid by you who have rendered little or no service; the expenses of your office have increased, while its receipts have diminished. Bribes, or gratuities in the shape of bribes, have been received by your subordinates in several branches of the Custom-house, and you have in no case supported the effort to correct these abuses."

After reading these separate utterances of John Sherman in relation to the Republican candidate for Vice President, can any honest or intelligent fair-minded believe a word that he utters?

Another Hancock Republican.

William Massey, one of Philadelphia's millionaires, the principal owner of the Philadelphia and Atlantic City Railroad, and the head of the firm of Wm. Massey & Co., has sent a letter to the Secretary of the Union League saying that his appointment by the President of the League on the Campaign Committee was without his knowledge, and declining to serve because he intended to support Hancock. Mr. Massey declines to be interviewed, but says he thinks the election of Gen. Hancock will be the best thing for the country. He says he is a business man and not a politician, and proposes to exercise his own judgment and vote for the man whose election he considers would best promote the interest of the country.

For a time the Republican press and orators represented English as being close-fisted and parsimonious in disbursing his money for election purposes. They have now changed their music, and fill the air with lamentation because, according to their version, he is spending his money freely. That reliable sheet, the Oregonian, claims that English will disburse over half a million dollars in this campaign. "Consistency, etc." Only a short time since it represented him as the embodiment of stinginess.

Forney's Progress says: If I desire to give reasons for my preference for Winfield S. Hancock; I have only to turn to the columns of the Republican papers of America in 1863; if I desire to prove distrust of James A. Garfield, I have only to turn to the Republican journals of February, 1873. I have no prejudices. I want to defeat Garfield, because I regard him to-day as a sneak, a jobber, an impostor.

THE Hancock Boom, which commenced immediately after his nomination, still increases and gathers volume. Never before has a candidate awakened such enthusiasm in his party.

THE Brigadiers are evidently at work in Maine. A 20,000 Republican majority could not disappear without Brigadiers existed in that locality.

Miss Clara McCarty has been nominated by the Pierce county Republicans for the office of superintendent of schools.

To Campaign Clubs.

All Hancock and English Campaign Clubs and all other organizations which support the Democratic candidates are requested to send to

W. H. BARNUM,
Chairman Nat. Dem. Committee,
138 Fifth Ave., New York.

- 1st. The name and location of their organization.
- 2d. A statement of the number of members enrolled.
- 3d. The names of officers.
- 4th. Accounts of meetings held.
- 5th. Reports, every two weeks during the campaign, of the number and increase of membership, with the condition and prospects of the canvass.

The Indianapolis Journal, the chief organ of the Republican party in Indiana, which is now abusing Mr. English, said, only a few months ago, "There is not in the Democratic party in Indiana a better politician 'better organizer or a man possessing more of the real qualities of statesmanship than William H. English."

Lumber! Lumber!

J. B. Rhinehart has been appointed agent of the Springfield Mill Co. He can offer better figures for Lumber now than ever before. ### A Good Thing.

It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Beware of medicines of similar names. Lately introduced Boscche's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1838, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cents. Sample bottle, 10 cents.
