DEMOCRATIC GENERALS,
To Whom the Friends of the Union Owe a Debt of Gratitude.

Hancock, McClellan, Rosencranz, McClelland, Sigel, Slocum, Stoneman, Palmer, Corse, Roseau, Franklin, Nelson, Thomas, Hooker, Steadman, Ord.

The following are some of the Confederate Generals who are leaders in the Republican party and holding high offices by Republican appointment.

LONGSTREET,
The general that Hancock whipped at Gettysburg, now minister to Turkey at a salary of $10,000 per annum,
MOSEBY,
The guerilla and pirate chief who shot down Union soldiers and robbed their knapsacks, now charge-de-affairs in China at a salary of $6,000 a year.

KEY,
Brigadier of the rebel army, once of Hayes' cabinet as a Postmaster General with a salary of $8,000 a year, now U. S. District Judge.

And the following is a list of other distinguished radical leaders and office holders, selected from the rebel department of the Radical party, which we copy from the Constitution:

1. Brigadier General A. T. Akerman, Grant's Attorney-General of the United States, whose business it was to instruct Grant in constitutional duties, and obligations, and to give written opinions on constitutional and law questions to all other departments of the government.

Col. Hughes, Radical U. S. District Judge in Virginia.
Col. Settle, Radical U. S. Judge in North Carolina.

Gov. Holden, of North Carolina, who framed the ordinances of secession; now Radical postmaster at Raleigh, and Radical leader in North Carolina.

Col. Lusk and Mr. Young; the first a Radical U. S. Attorney for North Carolina, and the other a Radical U. S. Revenue Collector in North Carolina.

James L. Orr, the leader of the rebellion in South Carolina and signer of the secession ordinance; was Grant's Minister Plenipotentiary to Russia.

(NOTE.—Orr was a disunionist when a member of Congress as long ago as 1850. He had as much, or more, to do with bringing on the civil war as Jeff Davis.)

Major Morphis, of Mississippi, of the Confederate cavalry service and a famous scout; now Radical marshal of Mississippi.

Col. Chandler, one of the rebel officers at the alleged Ft. Pillow massacre; now Radical U. S. District Attorney of Mississippi.

Col. G. W. Henderson, a famous cavalry raider of Mississippi, now Radical U. S. Revenue Collector.

Col. Wm. Mough, Radical District Judge of Louisiana.

Col. Smith, Radical postmaster at Baton Rouge.

Col. Humphreys, Radical U. S. Judge of Louisiana.

Ex-Senator Foote of Louisiana, known when a Senator in Congress at Washington, 30 years ago, as "Hangman Foote," who subsequently encouraged secession, trampled and spit upon the Union flag, was a Senator in the Congress, from Mississippi, and who dealt in vituperative speeches against Northern Democrats for fighting the Union; late Radical Director of the U. S. Mint at New Orleans, and one of the recognized lights of the Radical party in Louisiana. He was regarded as a special favorite and pet of Hayes and his cabinet.

Sam M. Clark, a home guard, Keokuk, Iowa. During the war a non-combatant. The postoffice in this city was taken by ex-rebel General Postmaster General Key from a scared Union general, at Clark's solicitation and given to Clark, who never smelt powder nor looked a rebel soldier in the face, and whose merit in the eyes of the Radical leaders is that he is a Radical editor who wags, in nearly every editorial in the Gate City, the bloody shirt, and denounces Democrats who fought for the Union as rebel sympathizers. Even Col. Trimble, who led a sabre charge where scores of the rebels were cut down, and many of his own men were killed, and who was himself shot through the face by a rebel bullet, is denounced as a secession sympathizer by the non-fighting successor to the soldier he put out of office.

Reflect on the above facts.

STATE NEWS.

Diphtheria has again broken out in Corvallis.

A. H. Hubbard, one of the very first settlers of Cole's Valley, died a few days ago at the age of 81 years.

The O. R. & N. Co. are going to build permanent water work for their own use at the Dalles, similar to those at Celilo.

Ninety thousand bushels of wheat have already been received in Roseburg. The prices are so low that no sales have been made.

John Shute has made the biggest storage of wheat at the Hillsboro warehouse ever made there—4000 bushels raised on his farm this year.

A little child belonging to some persons who were moving into Jackson county, and were camped at Roseburg, was scalded to death with hot coffee last Monday.

It has been given up that Calapooia will furnish more wheat for Oakland than all the surrounding country. It is estimated to have furnished near 65,000 bushels.

It has been decided necessary to have a new survey of the Coquille and the report forwarded to Washington for approval before work can be commenced on that harbor. This will probably postpone the work till next summer.

The steamer Harvest Queen was hauled out for repairs at Celilo Wednesday, having met with an accident that made repairs necessary to her hull while going up the river Monday with a load of railroad iron. She will be afloat in a few days.

Cunyonville correspondent: J. R. Dodge, our "land king," has bought the old Allen place in Green Valley, comprising 2,700 acres, consideration $8,000. Mr. D. proposes to stock it with 1500 head of sheep and then rent it to Mr. John Beckley, of Elkton.

Hillsboro Independent: The wheat taken in at the Hillsboro warehouse this year has more wild oats in it than usual. For instance, from Robert Imbrie's farm from 600 bushels of wheat there were 200 bushels of screenings a large part of which was wild oats.

"A full vote, a free ballot and a fair count."—Hancock to Sherman, December 28, 1876.

The army should have nothing to do with the inauguration of Presidents. The people elect the Presidents. Congress declares in joint session who he is! We of the army have only to obey his mandates, and are protected in so doing only so far as they may be lawful.

—Hancock to Sherman, December 28, 1876.

I was not in favor of the military action in South Carolina recently, and if General Ruger had telegraphed to me or asked for advice, I would have advised him not under any circumstance to allow himself or his troops to determine who were the lawful members of a State Legislature.—Hancock to Sherman, December, 1876.
