EUGENE CITY, OREGON.

How the South Takes it.

When we consider how the South has been hammered and denounced for the last six months, how the Southern States have been held as the foes of the Union and of human nature, it is pleasant to see the equanimity and good nature with which the people hear the result. Every self-respecting Southern man has a right to feel out raged over many of the brutal features of the Republican canvass.

The South, in this shows fine loyalty for which let us honor it. It showed the same spirit when it accepted the Electoral Commission and made Hayes President. It should never be forgotten that the country owes to the South its escape from threatened civil war.

Now that the canvass is over we trust our Republican friends will remember this and do the South justice. -N. Y. Herald.

Work seems to be plentiful and wages high, in Louisiana. Deck hands on the river boats engaged in the cotton trade have been receiving $75 and $100 a month all the Fall, but the supply of labor is so scarce and the colored laborers at New Orleans have the boats so completely at their mercy, that they now demand wages equal to the per diem of a member of the State Legislature, and are striking for $5 per day. It certainly does not look as though the colored man in Louisiana was as much oppressed in his wages as the exodus managers endeavored to make us believe.

Mr. Beecher has preached a eloquent sermon about the iniquity of aspersing an honored name. He says that the people are too intelligent in these days to permit such aspersions to stick. We have an idea that Brooklyn scandal has stuck somewhat firmly. It is certainly not to be forgotten while the name of Henry Ward Beecher is remembered. He takes care we shall not forget that, though we would willingly forget the malodorous sound if we could.

Many supporters of Garfield will be able to say with Gibbon: "I was counted on the day of battle, but was overlooked in the division of the spoils." The Blaine and Sherman men were counted in the battle that won the nomination. The Grant and Conling clans had to be reckoned with when the final struggle came. The question now is: Whicherod will divide the spoils? There is not enough for both. Moreover, they refuse to feed together out of the same trough.

The official vote of North Carolina was 240,896, of which Hancock received 124,204, Garfield, 115,616, and Weaver 1,126; Hancock's plurality being 8,588. The Republican minority was surely strong enough to protect itself. Yet North Carolina is one of the States in which stalwart organs are wont to locate "shotgun outrages." Bah!

Alaskan explorers report one of the largest rivers in the world, the Yukon, as navigable for steamers for a distance of 2,500 miles, and 500 miles from its mouth it receives a very large navigable tributary. The basin formed by the confluence is twenty-four miles wide. The Yukon is reported to be nearly as large as the Mississippi.

A Society was organized at Providence the other day for "the purpose of assisting to build up a liberal progressive party in the South." It would be a remarkably good idea to build up in the North such a party just about this time.

An Indianapolis editor cannot see any consistency in the conduct of those, be they male or female, who spurn Sara Bernhardt on any mgral grounds, and yet rejoice in the society of Rescoe Conkling and Henry Ward Beecher.

There is a talk of the Democrats running John W. Forney for Mayor of Philadelphia.

The Territorial Delegates-elect to the Forty-seventh Congress have thus far been overlooked in the count. They are as follows:

- Arizona—Granville H. Overy, Democrat.
Dakota—Benj. F. Pettigrew, Republican.
Idaho—George Ainslie, Democrat.
Montana—Martin Maginnis, Democrat.
New Mexico—Tranquilino Luna, Republican.
Utah—George Q. Cannon, Mormon.
Washington—Thos. H. Brents, Republican.
Wyoming—M. E. Post, Democrat.

It is said that President Hayes will have saved about $150,000 out of his four years salary. His example of economy, if followed by other Presidents, would obviate the necessity of making any provision for ex-Presidents. He is in excellent condition to provide for himself.

When the author of the Chinese letter has been hunted down, it will be in order to inquire whether he was the man who did Garfield's voting in Congress in favor of the Chinese, or wrote Hayes' veto of the anti-Chinese bill. By all means hunt the rascals down.

As the official returns are received it is found that the vote for General Phelps, the anti-Masonic candidate for President, steadily rolls up. It is beginning to look now as if he was the first choice of nearly 1,000 persons in a total poll of about 10,000,000.

The vote of New York at the late election aggregated 1,104,120, about 90,000 more than the vote of 1876. It was distributed as follows: Garfield 555,544, Hancock 534,411, Weaver 12,373, Dow 1,517, Phelps 75.

Some of the Democratic papers in Pennsylvania are calling upon the Democrats in the Legislature to vote with the anti-Cameron Republicans in the election of a United States Senator.

Uncle Sam's Indians raised 124,568 bushels of oats last year, which is not a bad showing. Whether or not they have sown all their wild oats, does not appear from the Indian Bureau Report.

The New Orleans Democrat wishes to see Louisiana "gridironed" by railroads. Grait's Administration kept her in a bro', which, however, did not amount to the same thing.

Jackson Ferguson, Supervisor of the Census for Nevada, has just completed the returns for that State. He says that the total population is within a hundred or two of 60,000.
