LANE CO. TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

[CONCLUDED.]

Thursday, March 10th.

MORNING SESSION—9:30 A. M.

Music by Miss Mae Underwood.

Drill in consonants. Prof. Powell placed the letters representing the sub-tonic and atonic sounds on the black board and conducted the drill as on yesterday.

"Primary Language Lessons," by

Miss Agnes Osburn, followed: "Do not

she said, "cultivate the memory too much." The measure of interest is a measure of progress. She would teach by words: 1st, names or nouns; 2d, qualifiers and finally the completed sentence. The paper was instructive and outlined a practical and suggestive method.

Superintendent Gill spoke of analysis and synthesis.

Miss Burns approved the thoughts of the paper. A method good for one school would be a failure in others; so with the pupils. Adapt your work to the disposition of the child. You must know child-nature.

Miss Osburn used "Swinton's Outlines of Language."

R. G. Callison favored the use of text books. The discussion was general.

Prof. Powell presented four books on methods of teaching and recommended every teacher to read them. He thought the schools in the county would be improved 50 per cent.

Miss Burns said no book would meet the wants of her school.

Mrs. Adair said all her success was due to her study of school methods. A teacher must not be ashamed to get knowledge from any source.

A number spoke of the need of a normal school.

Miss Belle Burns read a paper on primary work in graded and ungraded schools. The high grade teacher, she said, is wont to look down on the primary teacher, and their work; constantly vary the work; do not be harsh; soon enough the child will learn the harsh lessons of life; childhood's the moulding of character; were teachers better prepared for their work, the work would not be so crude.

"Denominate number and percentage."—On this subject, C. C. Jackson took the floor and illustrated by blackboard exercises. He used a fractional methods and then reduced to a decimal. A brief discussion followed.

Supt. Gill introduced the subject of teachers' journals.

A piano solo followed by Miss Ella

Risdon.

Adjourned until 1:30 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Piano solo, "The Storm"—Mrs. A.

W. Stowell.

The room was crowded to its utmost before the exercises began.

"Advanced grammar."—Mrs. Prof.

Spiller introduced her class from the University—consisting of thirty. Half were sent to the blackboard to place in diagram and recite a lesson that had been assigned, but not recited. The other half were held responsible for all errors. Criticisms were freely offered and as freely met. She recom-

ended extra sessions as a last resort when pupils would not get their lessons.

Prof. Righter gave an account of a kindergarten he visited. Others made remarks.

Prof. Garrison announced that some time during the summer, he would give them a ten days course in "penmanship as it should be taught in the District schools." The session would be held in Prof. Righter's room.

A "huge discussion" followed for and against Normal schools. Mr. Dorris made some well considered remarks, and the subject was dropped.

"School Organizations," by R. G.

Callison. Have a programme; work on time; be prompt both in beginning and ending an exercise. Don't give pupils longer lessons than they can get, neither give them too short lessons.

Don't have a long list of rules posted up in the school room; one rule is sufficient, "Do Right." This rule is so comprehensive that no other is needed.

Prof. Johnson made some interesting remarks.

Prof. Powell spoke farther on the school law, quoting from the Oregon

School Law.

Adjourned to 7 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

Meeting called to order by Supt.

Gill.

Vocal Duet; Misses Alice and Mary

Dorris.

Prayer, by Rev. Hubbard.

Address by Prof. Powell.

Owing to the rapidity of the delivery the Secretaries were unable to take any satisfactory synopsis of the address.

Prof. G. H. Collier, spoke in favor of Normal Schools, as a means of our improving our schools.

Prof. Mark Bailey said he was confident the public schools would live and flourish in spite of every opposition.

A collection of ten dollars was taken up
