J. E. ATTEBERY, Marshal. PASSED AWAY.—Many of our citizens were shocked, although not surprised, last Sunday when they learned that Mr. John D. Kinsey was no more. About 9 o'clock on the morning of that day his spirit took its flight from the clay that for over five months had been racked with pain and disease.

Mr. Kinsey was an early resident of this city and had by his genial manners secured the esteem and respect of all. The Eugene Hook & Ladder Co, No 1, of which he was President at the time of his death, took charge of the remains, and after the funeral ceremonies at the Presbyterian Church, conducted by Prof. Condon and Rev E R Geary, laid his remains to rest in the Old Fellows cemetery. His afflicted wife, children and relatives have the sympathy of all in this their sad bereavement.

NEW ORDINANCE.—The City Council, last Monday evening, passed an ordinance designed to keep boys off the streets after dark. By the provisions of this ordinance minors under 13 years of age are not allowed to frequent the streets after the hour of 7 P. M. in the months of December, January and February; 8 o'clock in March, April and November; 9 o'clock in May, June, July, August and September. The penalty for a violation of the same is a fine of not less than $5, or more than $10. It is hoped that this law will rid the streets of some of our hoodlums, who occasionally make night hide-outs.

MARRIED.—At the residence of J D Matlock, on Pleasant Hill, March 13, 1881, by F N Milkey, Mr S C Smith to Miss Lillie Matlock, all of Lane county, Oregon. After the marriage a splendid dinner was served, which did great credit to Mr and Mrs Matlock, as they did all in their power to render those present happy.

LOST IN THE MOUNTAINS.—From parties from Camp Creek we learn that Thomas Judkins, a youth of 18 years of age, is lost on the mountains between Camp Creek and the McKenzie. On Monday, March 6th, in company with a companion he started from camp on a hunting expedition, and has not been seen since. His comrade returned to camp the same day, and after waiting one day for Judkins to return became alarmed, and notified the residents of Camp Creek of the occurrence. Searching parties were formed but at last accounts had met with no success in their search. They found five deer at different places which he had killed, and also tracked him for a considerable distance in the snow, which was from 6 to 18 inches in depth, but could obtain no clue as to the whereabouts of the missing lad. It is surmised that he has either frozen to death, or met with some accident from his gun or otherwise. He is a son of Mr. Edward Judkins, who lives just above the city.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

A column devoted to the interests of the Laurens and Eutaxian Literary Societies, and the State University.

EDITOR,..... REUBEN P. SPILLER. Brevities. The Eutaxian Society adjourned last Friday. The public rhetorical were postponed a week for the Institute. The members of the Eutaxian Society are now reading Ivanhoe.

The Seniors handed in the subjects of their essays and orations last Monday. The students are now anxiously looking forward to the April vacation. No vacation of the year is so gladly welcomed. The question for debate in the Eutaxian Society a week from Friday is: "Which was the greater General, Alexander or Hannibal?" Miss Minnie Starr will assist Mr C S Williams in the management of the Junction City school.

"Onward and upward" is the motto of the Eutaxians. They are living well up to it. The classes in Natural and Mental Philosophy are reviewing preparatory for examination. The Junior History class have just finished "France during the Middle Ages." Prof. Condon makes this lesson so interesting that the students enjoy this recitation. A clever English girl has carried off the Hume scholarship in Political Economy at University college.

Some of the students thought that they ought to have a vacation because the Cesar was assassinated. We wonder if they were Nihilists. Some of the members of the Institute paid the University students, who have become teachers, a handsome compliment. They said, speaking of those who took part, if they are specimens of the work of the University, that institution has before it a grand and glorious future.

Aiming High. It has often been said, aim high, but we would not say too high. Some think that our success all depends upon aiming, but the hunter may aim truly at an object beyond the range of his gun, and yet not hit it. So if we set our ambition upon what is beyond our ability, we can net but fail. Main force alone is not going to make us famous. The crow tries hard enough to sing, but does he sing? Perhaps, if he would take a lower part he might succeed. We find boys with a high and mighty ambition leaving healthful farms and busy workshops, only to find their ambition far beyond their ability. They cannot go on, they will not go back, so they drop dead weights where they are, too proud to win honor with their hands, and not able to win with their brains. Victims to too high aiming. Ah! Ambition, if half the thought and prayers that have been wasted upon you had been given to the duties at our feet, we should have been famous long ago. "NOSCE TEIPSUM."

The Eutaxians. Friday the 4th, the Eutaxians met in the hall for their weekly session. Several visitors were present, but during recess they withdrew. A lively discussion arose as to whether we should or should not read in the society every week. It was decided that reading should be continued, and Ivanhoe was almost unanimously chosen as the first of the series. The question for debate was: "Is Theatre going Harmful?" Both leaders being absent an impromptu discussion was held, all members participating. The question was very ably handled, showing a great deal of forethought. The society will after this close with calling the roll. Our President has introduced several changes, and we owe a large share of our prosperity to her ability and enthusiasm. Eye.

One hundred, (100) presents given away by "Vertill" at each entertainment. Obituary. Died, in this city, March 13, 1881, after a lingering illness of five months, John Deecamp Kinsey. Deceased was born in Plainfield Middlesex county, New Jersey, Oct. 12, 1836, where he remained with his parents until 1857 when he started westward. After spending a year in New Mexico he came to Oregon in 1859, since which time he has been a resident of Eugene City, except four years spent in the mines of Idaho. Punctual and upright in business, an active and enterprising citizen, he filled a place in the community that will be difficult to supply. With a mechanical genius of no ordinary stamp, he possessed a passion for machinery investing his surplus as fast as it accumulated in improvements and additions. At the time of his death he had built up a large business and owned one of the most complete machine shops in the State for all kinds of wood work. A kind husband and indulgent father, his family, consisting of a wife and two little girls, will miss him sadly. During his illness he exhibited a patience that surprised all who knew his energetic disposition, seeming to forget his own sufferings and to think only of the trouble he was causing others. His loss occasions unusual regret and excites the sympathy of the entire community for his grief-stricken family and relatives.

Card of Thanks. To the Eugene City Brass Band, the Firemen, and to many kind friends, I return my sincere thanks, for favors received by me, on the day of Mr. Kinsey's funeral; also to neighbors for services rendered during his protracted illness. Mrs. J. D. KINSEY. Eugene City, March 16, 1881. Don't fail to see "Vertill" at the popular prices of admission, 25 cts; reserved seats, 50c.
