

Why Senator Grover Leaves

In view of the recent release of President Garfield and the fact that no President pro tem of the Senate was elected...

Mahone's Financing

Mahone has perplexed his Republican friends by printing the declaration that he is "still a Democrat."

Notice—De copardnership heretofore existing between me and Mose Skinner is hereby resolved.

Ship Building on the Clyde

There is unprecedented activity in ship building on the Clyde, and the launches for the present year will exceed those of any previous one.

It is singular that in all the denunciation of the star route thievery there has been no effort to hold either then President, Mr. Hayes, or his Postmaster Mr. Key, in any way responsible for any part of it.

It was the duty of the Vice-President at the first available opportunity during the recent extra session of the Senate to vacate the chair, and by giving formal notice of his absence, enable the Senate to choose a President pro tem.

Senator Bayard, months ago, thus described the office-seeking rabble at Washington: "It makes my heart sick to see them come every inauguration season, flocking to Washington on the mere hope of an office, hanging around the hotels till their money is gone, and then pawning their watches, taking to drink and running down to the lowest degradation."

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Times insists that Commissioner of Pensions Benly was driven out by thieves, and that the chain agents are jubilant because, as they think, the barriers between them and the treasury have been broken down.

New York's New Senators

Warner Miller, who was elected to succeed Platt, is a native of Herkimer county, New York, and 42 years of age. He is a graduate of Union College, and previous to 1861 was engaged in teaching at the Fort Edward Collegiate Seminary.

ELDRIDGE GERRY LAPHAM, is a resident of Canandaigua, and at present represents the Twenty-Seventh district in the lower house of Congress. He was born at Farmington, Ontario county, in 1814.

The Coming Wheat Crop

A prominent grain dealer of Chicago, who has traveled in the West more or less for fifteen or twenty years past on an annual tour of observation, has just returned from his last trip.

"It is almost too early to speculate on the probable complexion of the next House," says a Democratic Representative, interviewed by an Eastern exchange, "but I anticipate a state of affairs at the Capitol next Winter hardly second to that which turned upon Mahone's vote."
