A Temperance Drink.

Detroit Free Press. Among the thirsty ones yesterday hunting up and down Woodward avenue for something to quench thirst was a man in rusty black, who entered a drug store and softly inquired:

"Have you a temperance drink!"

"Two or three of 'em. Will you take soda water or ginger ale."

"Well, now, our society does not regard either of those as strictly temperance drink. Both are associated with stronger liquors."

"How would root beer answer!"

"Suspicion-suspicious," was the whispered reply.

"Ah, I have got it now." "Ahf"

"I can give you a straight temperance drink as cold as ice, but it comes high."

"How much?

"Ten cents a glass."

"Very well," said the old man as he put down his dime.

The druggist was absent only a minute, and then returned and placed a glass of liquid before him. The old man drank half of it, smacked his lips, asked:
