Report of Grand Jury. To the Hon. Circuit Court of Lane county: We, your grand jury, beg leave to report that we have examined the offices of the Clerk, Sheriff, and Treasurer, and find them all kept in good condition. We also made an examination of the county jail, which we find kept in good condition. The building we do not consider safe for the holding of prisoners, but perhaps in as good condition as for a number of years past. R. B. HAYES, Foreman. Nov. 11, 1881. ARTISTIC MARBLE WORK.—We have been shown some fine specimens of tombstones in the Masonic cemetery executed by Mr. H. A. Clark of Albany. One, that over the grave of Mrs. Mary Packard, of Italian marble, is of the finest design and finish. The inscriptions, moldings and ivy work denote that the workman is master of his trade. The monument over the grave of Mathias Meller is also worthy of mention. Mr. Clark has no agent to charge 25 per cent. commission, but gives his customers the advantage of that reduction. Orders executed promptly and neatly. ATTORNEYS PARS EST.—We notice the following attorneys in attendance on the Circuit Court: John Burnett, A F Chenoweth, J F Kelsey, M S Woodcock, of Corvallis; R S Strahan and N B Humphrey of Albany; Wm Bradshaw of Lafayette; Geo Washburne and J W Wright of Junction; W P Willis, Judge J F Watson, Prosecuting Attorney J W Hamilton of Roseburg; Geo B Dorris, R S Bean, C W Fitch, J J Walton, Jr, J M Thompson, H C Humphrey, and Geo Miller, of Eugene; J A Campbell of Portland. QUICK WORK.—Frank Marsh came before the court this week to plead to the indictment found against him for burglary, near Latham. He pleaded guilty, was sentenced to three years imprisonment in the penitentiary, and was back in the jail within fifteen minutes. He will be taken before to-day. UNFORTUNATE.—We are informed that Miss Alice Saxon, formerly of this city, but now residing with her parents in Dayton, W T, is afflicted with that loathsome disease smallpox.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Circuit Court for the county of Lane convened Monday, Nov. 7, 1881, Judge J. F. Watson presiding. It will probably be the middle of next week before court adjourns. Decisions have been reached in the following cases: State of Oregon vs John R Cartwright; murder.—Manlaughter. State of Oregon vs Frank Marsh; burglary. —Guilty, and sentenced to three years imprisonment in the penitentiary. State of Oregon vs W N Griffith; rape.—Not guilty. J A Wilson vs O P Kauble; to recover money.—Judgment for plaintiff of $323 75. James Heatherly vs John McCullough; appeal.—Settled. Irving Items. Nov. 10, 1881. Mrs O P Hoff is rapidly recovering from her late illness. Misses Click and Mollie Bond are attending school at this place. A sister of Mrs. Nash Pitzer arrived yesterday direct from Missouri. Mr. Beserman, who has been engaged on the railroad, paid his family a visit this week, after an absence of five weeks. A party of citizens took a trip to the Sinaloa fishery a few days ago, but returned empty handed. They report "no salmon up." The farmers in this neighborhood have been considerably annoyed by hunters of the Sportsmans Club passing through their fields and forgetting to lay up the fences. There has been a debating society organized at this place which meets on Wednesday of each week, at 7 P M. The question for next meeting is, "Resolved, That art is more attractive to the eye than nature." Mrs. Muser, living in this neighborhood, on last week, heard of the dangerous illness of her daughter who lives in Lebanon, and forthwith started for that place, but ere she reached her journey's end her daughter was dead. Cor. Commissioners Court. At a regular term of the Commissioners Court for Lane county, held at the Court House, in Eugene City, on Wednesday, November 9th 1881, the following officers were present: C W Fitch, County Judge; J A McMahan and J M Spores, Commissioners; Joel Ware, Clerk; and J M Shelly, Sheriff. It was now ordered that F W Folsom be appointed justice of the peace for Lancaster precinct till the next general election. Jas. Castiel was also appointed constable for the same precinct. Samuel Veatch was appointed constable for Cottage Grove precinct. A J Goodman was appointed road supervisor for road district No. 52 till January 1, 1882. It was ordered that Monday, November 21st be set as the day for examination of applicants for the vacant scholarship to the State University. Whereupon the court adjourned to Monday, Nov. 21, 1881. CONVICTED.—On July 31st, 1880, J C Cartwright shot and killed Frederick Mendee in the Mohawk valley in this county. He was indicted and tried at the succeeding November and April terms of the circuit court each time the jury disagreeing. He was again placed on trial last Tuesday, and after the case had been ably argued by attorneys, a verdict was rendered by the jury after a few hours absence, of manslaughter. Mr Cartwright will receive his sentence this morning at 10 o'clock. The statute makes the offense punishable by imprisonment from one to fifteen years. The district attorney Mr Jas Hamilton must be complimented on the manner in which he conducted the case securing conviction, unassisted, when opposed by some of the ablest criminal lawyers in the state. The three trials have cost the county about $3,000. HOPS PURCHASED.—Mr. F. B. Dunn purchased of the hop product of this county this year 60,000 pounds paying therefor $10,240. Chat Whiteaker was in town a couple of days this week. He left Wednesday for Umatilla county on swamp land business.

Sportsmans Club.

Last Saturday, the day selected for the Sportsmans match hunt, was as wet and disagreeable as rain and wind could make it. Notwithstanding the weather nine hunters reported for duty, and at the end of the day brought in fair strings of game. The choosing of sides was not till all the hunters were out, so they had no knowledge who were their assistants. A total of 1,263 points were made. The following is the score: J. B. UNDERWOOD, CAPTAIN. E J McClanahan—6 geese 1 snipe; 160 points. C Hodcs—2 geese, 2 ducks; 75. J H McLaugh—5 geese, 2 ducks; 155. Wm Cardwell—3 geese, 2 ducks; 100. Total, 490. Average, 122 1/2. J. R. CAMPBELL, CAPTAIN. Jap Stevens—10 geese, 4 ducks, 1 owl; 315 points. J W Johnson—6 geese, 4 ducks, 1 snipe; 210. George Nolan—2 geese, 1 duck, 1 owl, 1 hawk; 80. Chas Woods—2 ducks; 20. D M Drake—5 ducks; 2 pheasants, 1 snipe, 1 grouse, 3 quails; 160. Total, 775. Average, 155. Referees and scorers—J C Church and J G Gray. The best part of the programme of the hunt was the game supper given by the club and losing side, at the St. Charles Hotel, Monday evening. About 54 persons were present, many of them being invited guests. The supper was excellent and seemed to be thoroughly appreciated by all. Several toasts were given, as follows: "The Sportsmans Club," to which Dr J P Gill responded. "Our Invited Guests," responded to by Col J M McCracken, of Portland. "The side that won," responded to by C W Fitch. Prof Thos Condon made a short address favoring the protection of game by adequate laws to preserve it from extermination. He referred to the neglect of the State in not blasting out a way for the salmon over the Willamette Falls, so that noble fish could have the benefit of our numerous streams and rivers for spawning purposes. Mr A W Stowell favored the company with Lish Applegate's ghost story, delivered in his inimitable manner, which brought down the house. The occasion will long be remembered as one of the most pleasant. The Sportsmans Club deserves credit for the manner in which the hunt and supper was conducted, and should receive more support and encouragement from our citizens. Cottage Grove Items. [FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.] COTTAGE GROVE, Nov. 9, 1881. Mr Grant Osburn visited our town one day last week. Another flood has visited us, doing but little damage. Mr Geo Smith, formerly of Eugene City, has been in town for several days. Ben McClure captured a small bear a few days ago at Latham. Mr S V McFarren, of Gervais, will open his barber shop here next week. Mr Clark, of Albany, has been in our town for several days setting up tombstones. Gabe Christian, of this place, left last Monday morning for Portland, on his way to Eastern Oregon. Mr A C Woodcock, of Eugene City, is teaching school near this place. At this time he has quite a large school. Candy pullings are getting quite fashionable. Only five during the past week. However, we enjoy it. Mr. Grigsby, of Harrisburg, will, in a short time, erect a dwelling house in this place which will add much to our town. Sam Veatch and J W Gowlay, one day this week, killed two of the largest deer that we have seen for many years. On last Saturday evening Posy Veatch, of this place, captured a live porcupine. At first sight he supposed it to be a coon, but after taking hold of it, soon discovered his mistake. One day last week two boys living near Crosswell were found laying in the muddy road, drunk. One of them unable to help himself, and the other so drunk that he could not help him any. Dor. Grand Larceny. Two boys, giving the names of John M Grege and Edward F. Powers, were arrested Wednesday near Cottage Grove, for the crime of grand larceny, committed by entering the house of Mr. Hawley, a few miles above Crosswell, through a window and taking therefrom a couple of sleeve buttons, a gold ring, and $7 75 in coin. Mr. Hawley followed and caught them with the stolen articles in their possession. They were brought before Justice Fitch at Crosswell, plead guilty, and were bound over to appear before the Circuit Court. They were brought here and placed in jail and the grand jury, which had just been discharged, was summoned so that the case could be disposed of this term of court. They appear to be only about the ages of 15 and 17 respectively and are excellent specimens of the genus hoodlum. It is said they have tramped from Portland beating every one they could along the road. One is a Roseburg boy and the other from San Francisco. A Card of Thanks. To the many friends who ministered to the wants of my sister Addie, during her protracted illness I take this method of thanking you. Your kindness, your floral offerings, all are remembered by me. Again, I thank you for your kindness. D. BENTON. STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—The lightning Sunday morning struck a large tree within about sixty yards of the residence of W. S. Knowles, postmaster at Long Tom. Our informant states that the storm in that vicinity was terrific.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

A column devoted to the interests of the Laurean and Eutaxian Literary Societies, and the State University. M. E. McCOMB, EDITOR. Brevities. The query in chemistry is "Ozone! Ozone! what is Ozone?" Gold discovered in the vicinity of the University, last Monday, by President Johnson who was prospecting in the basement. A member of the Senior class wants to change her name immediately for one with initials farther on in the alphabet. Yesterday the Eutaxian Society met again after an adjournment of two weeks. All resumed their respective duties with renewed spirits. Yesterday was the day appointed for the rhetorical exercises in the chapel. Four persons from each division, chosen in alphabetical order, took part in this, the first chapel exercises of the year. "You may rise early, go to bed late, study hard read much, and devour the marrow of the best authors, and when you have done all, be as meagre in regard to true and useful knowledge as Pharoah's lean kine after they had eaten the fat ones. We would say in reply to our brother Editor, that his question is very indefinite, as there were several "tall Juniors" at "that" social and all seemed to enjoy themselves! But, brother! don't you think it was the locality? If not, why does that part of town "Seymour" of you than any other? Corporation. Friday, Nov. 4th, the corporation of the Eutaxian and Laurean Literary Societies held their annual meeting and elected the following officers: W T Slater, President; Charlotte Roberts, Secretary; Mary Dorris, Treasurer; Messrs McGuire and Beekman, Trustees, Frank Huffer, Librarian, and Elma Lookwood, Assistant Librarian. The corporation adjourned to meet Friday, Nov. 18th, when the question of furnishing and carpeting the Society hall will be discussed. The business of the corporation is all done through the trustees, and we predict it will be well done the coming year. The work of the Librarian is no mere pastime, but since our Librarian succeeds so well in searching out the constituent element of chemical compounds, he will be just the right person to search up volumes that have wandered away from our library. It Don't Pay. It don't pay to leave the halls of eloquence and wit, to pursue the calling of ninrod. Two Sophomores sallied out last Friday evening well intending to get an early start next day. As a team was passing they hurriedly tumbled some grub in a sack, and—the team went on without them. After a tiresome tramp, they arrived at Clear Lake, the paradise of geese and ducks, and like true hunters camped at a deserted cabin. That night one solitary duck succumbed to their unerring aim, and after it became too dark to see at all, they killed a sand-hill crane, by shooting at the sound of his voice. When preparing to start a fire, they found that they had only two pieces of matches. They tore out the partition of the cabin, and broke up one thousand feet of lumber into splinters. As they had no knife, they bit quite a pile of kindlings from a dry board and began to strike the matches. They would not go. So they left their kindlings to the mercy of the winds and, in utter darkness, gathered around the festive board, consisting of dry bread and apples. They ate of their abundance, and lay down on the floor to pleasant dreams, using a stove pipe for a pillow. They might have slept, had it not been for the intense cold. The stove pipes afforded no heat whatever, and to keep up circulation, they were obliged to join the rats in their festivities, and had an "all promenade." The next day was a multiplication of their trials and they came home sadder and wiser boys, thinking that if they went again they would take blankets and something to eat, but determined that the next time they went they would not go. Students Amusements. Everyone will acknowledge that amusements are essential to students. That after the week's hard work the mind needs rest and change for a short time, in order to retain its natural vigor and clearness of comprehension. It is in regard to the various kinds of recreation, and concerning what are proper and suitable amusements, and which are the best calculated to elevate and refine the moral nature of the student, that there exists so wide a difference of opinion. Some will offer-up cards as an exceedingly interesting and harmless means of entertainment; and they even add that some kinds, such as authors, are not wholly uninteresting. But do we not all know the evils of card playing too well, not to see that there is no security that the love of play will not lead to the love of something worse? Another will recommend church societies as the best thing for Saturday night. But these gatherings are generally either crowded or stiff, and seem more suitable for children, for there is always some one ready to remark that, "The children are the only ones, who really enjoy themselves at dime societies." Still another invites us to spend a few hours in dancing, thus proving to us that this is a graceful, healthful, and delightful accomplishment, which is attained only by practice. Yet his strong argument against dancing is, that there are so many, who do not or cannot control their desire when once aroused, and so are completely carried away, as it were, by this amusement. The literary person leads us into his study, and bids us seek amusement from the never failing fountain of silent knowledge; and mentally we resolve to follow him, but too soon we find that procrastination has robbed us of our golden opportunity. And thus we might go on enumerating our pleasures, concerning many of which we might say, "weighed and found wanting" and concerning few, "tried and true." Shall they continue to remain thus or shall we make an effort for their advancement in the age of progress and invention?

Methinks I see, in the near future, the realization of our earnest wish for pleasures higher and truer than we now enjoy. JENSON. SENTENCED TO BE HANGED. Jack Powers, the Murderer of Ben Cornelius, to Pay the Extreme Penalty of the Law. Last Saturday morning the name of John Powers was read in the State Circuit Court, for Multnomah county, and the man who had been found guilty of murder in the first degree for killing his father-in-law on the 4th of July, was brought from his cell to hear his doom. He made an application through counsel for a new trial, which the court denied, and he was told to stand up for sentence. A profound hush pervaded the court room when the judge asked him if he had anything to say why he should not be passed upon him. He arose calmly and firmly and in measured tones said that the popular verdict was in his favor and against that of the jury which convicted him. The judge informed him that the court did not try the case on popular feelings, and then the awful sentence of death was read to him. He is to be hanged on Friday the 23rd of December, in the county jail yard of Multnomah county. One month to file a bill of exceptions and an appeal to the higher court was given him and then he was remanded back to his cell where we will leave him at present along with his own thoughts in view of the terrible doom that awaits him. Marriages. Married.—On the 9th inst, at 4 P M, by Rev I N Mulkey, at the residence of R Callison, on Pleasant Hill, Mr Jedediah Wheeler to Miss E Davis. At 7 P M, same evening, at residence of J Wheeler, by Rev R R Baxter, Edwin C Baxter to Miss Emma G Wheeler. Compliments received. ANTI-MONOPOLY.—Hon. R. P. Boise addressed the anti-monopoly club at the Court House, Thursday afternoon, Circuit Court adjourning to allow him the use of the building. Mr. Boise presented some incontrovertible arguments why railroads and common carriers should be controlled and regulated by law.

Census Returns.

We have received a census bulletin showing the production of the different States by counties according to the census of 1880. From it we take the following statistics concerning Lane county: Number acres barley, 1,873; bushels harvested, 44,478. Indian corn, acres, 257; bushels, 7,578. Oats, acres, 11,745; bushels, 288,055. Rye, acres, 36; bushels, 536. Wheat, acres, 40,071; bushels, 511,052. Although the figures are correct they do not justly represent the grain production of Lane county. The census of 1880, so far as products were concerned, represented the harvest of 1879, a year in which occurred the first failure of crops ever known in Lane county. The rust was so bad on many of the finest farms in the county that the crop secured hardly paid harvesting expenses; many acres of grain were so badly stricken that the straw, for it had no grain in it, was left uncut. The crop of wheat of 1880, just harvested, we are assured by reliable men amounts to over 1,000,000 bushels, double the yield returned by the census. Franklin Items. FRANKLIN, Nov. 9, 1881. Peter Harpole killed 114 ducks at 9 shots. Beat this if you can. David Lewis and party of Polk county passed through here enroute to Doak's saw mill on a hunting trip. The Long Tom out of its banks and roads bad. Lin Heatherly and family, from Colfax, W T, are visiting relatives in Siuslaw. A CARD.
