Lighting Speed.

Several months ago we were informed, says the Sunday Mercury, that steel rails would be laid on the O. & C. Railroad and the running time between Portland and Roseburg would be reduced to eight hours. Already a great portion of the track has been replaced with steel rails, and we understand the company is now making arrangements for increasing the speed of the Roseburg train from fifteen to thirty miles per hour. This will enable passengers leaving here at 8 o'clock in the morning to take their noon meal at Eugene City and be in Roseburg by 4 o'clock in the afternoon. In order to remedy such fast traveling certain and safe, the company has not only provided the heavy steel rails, but will also attach the most improved pattern of air brakes to all passenger trains, enabling engineers to have the most thorough control over their swift sailing passenger schooners. We understand that J. B. Pratt, Jr., general superintendent of the road secured these improvements when he visited the Eastern States last Spring, which is another mark of his high understanding of the demands of traffic and the rights of the public. The people of the State generally will hail with delight the new order of things.

LOCOMOTIVES ORDERED.—Ten new locomotives are being ordered from the Baldwin Locomotive Works at Philadelphia for the East side road. Four of them are monster forty-five ton engines with 18 inch cylinders, to be used exclusively for passenger trains. The remainder will be smaller and used for hauling freight trains.

That it is not and ought not to be required to pay to said Supreme Lodge any assessments or money for beneficiary purposes upon deaths of persons members of the Order occurring since said 15th day of April, 1881. Judge Stott, on the 8th day of December, granted the usual preliminary injunction until the further order of court.

Cure for Diphtheria.

In conversation with one of Stockton's most celebrated physicians recently, it was learned that diphtheria, which has been prevalent at Farmington, was gradually abating. Said the medical man: "I have practiced medicine for thirty years, and I have never lost a case of diphtheria yet, when called in proper time. Give the patient plenty of lime or lemon juice. Give it in anything that is palatable. Squeeze out the juice and sweeten it with white sugar, or give it as lemonade, or give it clear; but give plenty of lime or lemon juice all the time. It will not interfere with any mode of treatment, and will, if followed, effect a cure, and the public ought to know it."—Stockton Independent.

COMMUTATIONS GRANTED.—Gov. Thayer has recently commuted the sentences of the following convicts in the Oregon penitentiary: James S C Smith, sent from Polk county, Jan 13, 1881, for one year for the crime of larceny; sentence commuted Dec 2, on account of extra services in taking care of stock and term of sentence being nearly expired; Frank Kelly, sent from Clatsop county, Jan 11, 1881 for one year for the crime of assault with a dangerous weapon; sentence commuted Dec 3 on account of extra service as cook and term of service being nearly expired; James Gilligan, sent from Multnomah county for one year from May 26, 1881; sentence commuted Dec 10 on account of extra work on insane asylum building; Wm. A PROMPT COLLECTOR.—Sheriff J. M. Shelley deserves credit for the prompt manner in which he has collected taxes, delinquent and otherwise. He has collected from parties that have been owing for several years, and never before has there been a less amount delinquent.

An Old Pioneer Gone.

Ex-Gov Joseph Gale, who dates his residence in Oregon from 1834, died at his home in Eagle valley, Union county, on the 13th December. He was one of the three commissioners who constituted the only government of what is now Oregon and Washington territory, prior to the organization of Oregon Territory. He passed his entire life on the frontier, and had been many years past a resident of Eagle valley. He was one of the first settlers of Washington county, and built the first saw mill in the county early in the forties on what is known as Gale creek, a small tributary of the Tualatin. Gale's peak, an abrupt and slightly point of the coast range foothills, near the old mill site is well known to nimrods of the present day. Mr Gale was a worthy citizen, and a frontiersman of a type rapidly vanishing from earth. The record is silent as to his exact age, but it must have bordered closely upon four score and ten years.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—On last Monday in East Portland Clarence Boynton, a fourteen year old son of Mr J E Boynton, one of the bookkeepers in Ladd & Titton's bank met his death by falling into a well on their premises on Sixth street, between K and L in East Portland. His mother had called him into the yard from the street, where he was playing with a school mate, to draw a bucket of water, and in so doing, the plank around the well being wet and slippery he fell over the railing to the bottom head downward. When extricated and examined by Dr Rafferty his neck was found to have been broken, showing that he died almost instantly, and was not new or untried but having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Public speakers and singers use them to clear and strengthen the Voice. Sold at 25 cents a box everywhere.
