McCORNACK & RUSSELL.

GUITEAU SENTENCED.

Friday, June 30th, the Fatal Day.

The telegraph brings the following account of the sentence of Guiteau, the prisoner having arose at the command of the judge:

The prisoner arose, pale, but with lips compressed and desperate determination stamped on his features. In a low and deliberate tone he began but soon his manner became wild and violent, and pounding upon the table he delivered himself of the following barangue: I am not guilty of the charge as set forth in the indictment. It was God's act, not mine. God will take care of me and don't let Americans forget it. He will take care of it, and every officer of this government from executive down to that marshal taking in every man of that jury and every member of this bench will pay for it, and the American nation will roll in blood if my body goes into the ground, and I am hung. The Jews put the despised Galilean in the grave, and for the time they triumphed; but at the destruction of Jerusalem 40 years afterward the Almighty got even with them. I am not afraid of death. I am not afraid of death. I am here as God's man. Kill me to-morrow if you want to. I am God's man and I have been from the start."

Judge Cox then proceeded to pass sentence, addressing the prisoner as follows: "You have been convicted of a crime, so terrible in its circumstances and far reaching in its results, that it has drawn upon you the horror of the whole world and execrations of your countrymen. The excitement produced by such an offense, made it no easy task to secure for you a fair and impartial trial, but you have had the power of the United States treasury and of the full amount was not allowed. Senators Grover and Slater and Representative George are working for their passage. The old Indian Claims of one to twenty-five years' standing, for services and supplies furnished in excess of appropriation, also spoliation claims amounting to millions. Bills have been introduced to pay them. We hope to have them paid by bill direct, or through the court of claims, or through a commission to be created, or through a new tribunal proposed to be created to adjudicate such claims as do not go properly before a court of claims.

Another Unmatured Scheme—General Sprague has been authorized by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company to cause the erection here, says the Tacoma Ledger, of large coal bunkers, with a capacity of 3,000 tons, and he will at once begin the work. His plans are not matured, but in general we may expect them to be located near the coal wharf and not unlikely on the lower side of Old Woman's Gulch. Engineers are at work running lines with the view of ascertaining the best route of approach. Not knowing we can only guess as to the size, and quantity of material that will be used in the building of these bunkers and state the probability that they will require from 500,000 to 1,000,000 feet of lumber.

The interesting fact has come to light that Senator Miller, of New York, received a letter from General Grant requesting him to withdraw his (Grant's) name from the Nicaragua canal bill as one of the incorporators of the proposed canal. He puts his request on the ground that this is not a time to press the Nicaragua scheme. De La-seps is at work upon his canal and Eads proposes a ship railway. These should be tried first for the commerce for which facilities are desired is not sufficient to warrant undertaking three commercial highways across the isthmus. The adherents of Ead's scheme claim that the outlook is encouraging for favorable legislation this Winter—that it is gaining unexpected favor among members of this Congress and that they have reason to believe that other prominent men who give their name on account of Grant's support of the Nicaragua scheme will ask that they be withdrawn from Senator Miller's bill.

upon by court in banc, but meanwhile it is necessary for to pronounce sentence of court, that you be taken hence to the common jail of this district, from whence you came, and there be kept in confinement, and on Friday, the 30th day of June, 1882, you be taken to the place prepared for your execution within the walls of said jail, and there between the hours of 12 and 2 P. M., you be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul."

During the reading Guiteau stood apparently unmoved and with gaze riveted upon the judge, but when the final words were spoken he struck the table violently and shouted: "May the Lord have mercy upon you soul. I'd rather stand where I do than where that jury do, and where your honor does. I'm not afraid to die. I stand here as God's man, and God Almighty will curse every man who has taken part in procuring this unrighteous verdict. Nothing but good has come from Garfield's removal, and that will be the verdict of posterity on my inspiration. I don't care a snap for the verdict of this corrupt generation. I would rather a thousand times be in my position than in that of those who have hounded me to death. I shall have a glorious flight to death. I shall have a glorious flight to glory. But that miserable scoundrel Corkhill will have a permanent job down below, where the devil is preparing for him."

The Oregon War Claims in Congress.

G. M. Carter, formerly of Portland, writes in his paper, the National Reform, of Washington: One or more test bills are introduced. If they pass it will form a precedent for other similar claims. In the first allowance less than fifty per cent. was paid. It is a shame the full amount was not allowed. Senators Grover and Slater and Representative George are working for their passage. The old Indian Claims of one to twenty-five years' standing, for services and supplies furnished in excess of appropriation, also spoliation claims amounting to millions. Bills have been introduced to pay them. STATE NEWS.

A huge panther was killed last week in the upper end of the John Day valley. It measured nearly nine feet from tip to tip and received three balls from a Remington rifle before it came to the ground.

The citizens of Springwater have organized a joint stock company to build a plank road from their settlement to the nearest railroad depot. Stock amounting to $500 has been subscribed for the purpose.

Horace Baker, a very old resident of Clackamas county, was found dead in his bed last Thursday morning. He had been ailing slightly for several weeks, but was not considered ill. A wife and six children survive him. He came to Oregon in 1846, and was at the time of his death seventy-six years old.

The net earnings of the sheriff of Clackamas county for the half year ending Dec. 31st were $786 77. The net earnings of the clerk for the same period were $1,801. The expenses of the sheriff's office, outside of the salary during the time were $388.50; expenses of clerk's office, $621 17. These last include stationery, printing bills, deputy's hire, etc.

Mrs. Zerelda E. Summers died at East Portland Jan 24th, in the sixty-fourth year of her age. She came to Oregon in 1845, the wife of Ambrose Foster, and settled on the Clackamas river on what is known as the Arthur prairie, where Mr Foster died many years ago. She afterwards married her present husband, Al Summers, who still survives her.

H. L. P. Lamere, of High valley, in Union county, a few days since discovered what may prove a valuable gold bearing quartz at Warm Springs on Catherine creek, twelve miles from High Valley. An assay made by Judge Elmer from the outcroppings of this find showed gold $972 and 5/8 ounces silver per ton. At the depth of three feet the vein is twenty-five feet wide, and well defined.

On the 21st of January, as Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Foster, of Union county, were journeying in a sleigh between La Grande and Oro Dell, and when near the latter place the horses became frightened and plunged over an embankment 40 feet high, falling upon the ice on the river below. Both occupants of the sleigh were injured, Mrs. Foster so severely that she has been unable since to leave her bed. She is, however, recovering. Their escape with their lives is regarded as wonderful, as they had about a ton of freight aboard.

Union county Record: The examination of Cochran, Wade and Duncan, the parties charged with the murder of John Hawk, still continues. About 20 witnesses on the part of the prosecution have been examined up to the time of going to press. A great deal of time is consumed in the arguments of counsel, and at the present rate the examination will not be concluded for several days. This prosecution will incur heavy expense to the taxpayers of Union county, there being about 100 witnesses summoned, who have traveled distances ranging from 50 to 100 miles. The expense will probably be $400 or $500 per day.

During the last four years Oregon has exported to the eastern states not less than 400,000 head of beef cattle. Most of these cattle were produced in the counties east of the Cascades. The largest purchasers of cattle within the state were the firm of Lang & Ryan, of Leavenworth, Kansas, who bought 20,000 head in Grant county alone in the spring of 1880. In the south end of Grant county are several cattle kings who are furnishing beef to San Francisco, their shipping point being Winnemucca on the Central Pacific railroad. The two largest of these, W. B. Todhunter, Camp Harney, and Peter French, of Stein's mountain, neither of whom ship less than 25 car loads, 300 head at a drive. Hugh J. Glenn, the great wheat man of Colusa county, has over 8,000 head of cattle in Grant county, and he is not the largest breeder there. On the tributaries of the John Day there are many thousand head, but they are divided among several others.
