Correspondence.

The following correspondence explains itself:
REV. B. S. McLAFFERTY, DEAR SIR:—Having heard of the delivery of your lecture on Sir Walter Scott's "Lady of the Lake" in several places in Oregon, and being assured, as well from our own estimate of your ability as from notices of the press wherever your lecture has been delivered, that it would be a source of no small gratification to ourselves and to our citizens generally, were it delivered in Eugene, we do most respectfully and urgently request that you will comply with our wishes, and be kind enough to designate the time and place when you will present the lecture.
Yours respectfully,
B. F. DORRIS, M. BAILEY, A. S. PATTERSON, THOS. GORDON, J. R. CAMPBELL, J. W. JOHNSON.
EUGENE, May 10, 1882.
MESSRS. M. BAILEY, A. S. PATTERSON, J. R. CAMPBELL, AND OTHERS: Your favor of yesterday, assuring me that the delivery of my lecture on Sir Walter Scott's "Lady of the Lake," in Eugene City, at an early day, would be a source of gratification to yourselves and others, and asking me to name a time when I would present such lecture, is received. Thanking you for your flattering assurance, I take pleasure in complying with your request, and would beg to name Saturday evening, May 20, 1882, for the delivering of the lecture. Cordially yours,
B. S. McLAFFERTY.
EUGENE CITY, May 11, 1882.
The Minstrels. That the Standard Minstrels and Muldoon Picnic Troupe is a success is shown by the following extract from Tuesday's Standard: "The success of the company has been unprecedented in this city and only shows that the people of Portland have a fitting appreciation of really meritorious performances. On last Saturday afternoon the theatre was literally jammed with juveniles and ladies, many being unable to secure even entrance to the auditorium, and went home disappointed. To-morrow the company will leave for Oregon City, playing one night, and from thence making a tour of the country. That they will be successful is certain, and to our readers outside of the city, we cordially indorse the performance as first-class, highly entertaining and the very best that has come to Oregon in many a day."
Spencer Precinct Items. LONG TOM, May 8, 1882. Quite a number of our citizens start to work on Siuslaw road next Monday. Great credit is due our Judge and Commissioners for granting funds to help complete the road. The enterprising firm of Abbott Bros. have dissolved partnership, John Abbott selling his interest in the saw mill to J M Kent and John Holland. The boys keep constantly on hand a good assortment of all kinds of lumber. The patrons of this school district gave a social dance at Squire Holland's May 1st, for the purpose of raising funds to furnish the school house with suitable desks; those who attended speak in highest praise of the hospitality shown on that occasion; after paying all expenses the directors had $40 for their efforts. Siuslaw Road. A force of men under the supervision of Mr. R. B. Hayes will commence work on the Siuslaw road next Monday. The first work will be the building of a bridge across Chickahominy creek. The road will follow the line surveyed by H. C. Perkins three years ago. When the road is completed a number of narrow but fertile valleys along the Siuslaw and its tributaries will be opened up so as to make a settlement possible. The hay will also likely become a favorite Summer resort for the people of Lane county. It is expected as soon as the road is completed that a mail route will be established from Eugene to Florence. Clean Up the Trash. At the April session of the Common Council the Marshal was ordered to cause all streets, alleys, stables and other unclean places within the city limits to be cleaned at the expense of adjoining property holders. Property holders who have not already heeded this notice will now please take notice and renovate their premises thoroughly by the 25th of this month, or the same will be done, without further warning, at their expense, by the city. J. E. ATTEBERRY, Marshal. EUGENE CITY, May 13, 1882. Presbyterian Meeting. The Willamette Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterial Church, will convene at Cottage Grove, Lane county, Oregon, on Thursday preceding the fourth Sabbath in May, at 4 o'clock P. M. A general attendance is desired, for much important business is pending. W. M. HOUSTON, Stated Clerk. DROWNED.—A sad case of drowning occurred at Albany Tuesday afternoon. Ward Adair and Lou Strauge, young men employed in Cherry's foundry, started across the Calapooia river just below the mill dam looking for sand suitable for the foundry. Failing to return search was made, resulting in the finding of the boat under the falls, under which they had probably been drawn by the strong eddy current. Adair was a nephew of Mr L G Adair of this city. He received a telegram from Salem yesterday informing him that the body of his nephew was raised by exploding a keg of powder. The body of Strauge has not yet been found. His parents, we are informed, live near Walters in this county. IMPROVEMENTS.—The frames of the new residences of F. M. Wilkies and J. F. Robinson are up. The foundations for several other proposed residences are well under way.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

A column devoted to the interests of the Laureen and Eutaxian Literary Societies, and the State University.
MAY DORRIS, EDITOR.
Salutatory. It is with many misgivings that we subject this, our first column, to the critical eyes of the public. And we humbly ask, that if we blunder and insert herein anything which may seem too trivial, and if we wield the editorial quill in an unskilled and awkward manner, that the readers of the column will let our tender years(?) and inexperience plead for us. We sincerely hope, that we shall not prove wholly undeserving of the trust reposed in us by the Eutaxians, in electing us to this office.
Brevities. Senior vacation is near at hand. "Home ad duos res, ad intelligentium et ad agendum, est natus." Spencer's Butte looms tantalizingly in the distance. Alas, "so near, and yet so far!" The new books selected by the trustees of the corporation, have arrived. The amount expended this year in the purchase of books was $61. Young gentlemen who go off pleasant Sundays, "to take a little sunshine," should be careful to conceal fishing poles and guns, as they near the paternal mansion. Miss Franc Odell has left school, and is studying photography. She intends to make retouching a specialty. We hope her ability is only a temporary one, for she is one of the bright stars of the Sophomore class. "It is better to be born lucky, than rich," think the boys who took chances in the lottery recently. From the valuable prizes sported by some of the students, we do not wonder, that even some of the "grave and reverend" Seniors were lured by the tempting bait. If there is anything that can take the vanity out of a person, it is the reflection of himself, in a convex mirror. For, though he may know that the image is somewhat exaggerated, he will never forget the hideous reflection bearing such a striking resemblance to himself. At their meeting a week ago, the Eutaxians debated the veto question, Miss Charlotte Roberts and President Ida Dunn being leaders. The debate was carried on with much enthusiasm, the "funny girl" of the society figuring prominently. After summing up the argument, the President pro tem decided that the President was wrong in vetoing the Chinese bill. Several of the students are going to leave school soon, to go surveying. The Junior class will be deprived of three, viz.: Messrs. Jenkins, McCornack and Collier. We think the class will survive the loss, but we really will miss them, when the time comes for decorating the chapel, for tall boys are rare as a volcano in the Junior class. The Botany class is now engaged in field work. They analyze on an average, six or seven flowers each recitation. During the Winter months the class constructed a skeleton, or frame work of our common Flora, as a foundation for Summer work. And now as the flowers are beginning to bloom, each one is analyzed and put in its proper place on this frame-work, which we soon expect to have filled out, or as nearly so, as is possible with the flowers in our reach. The Seniors are very absorbed and grave lately. So absent minded have they become that you must address them twice, to bring them down from the clouds, to the ordinary affairs of the world. But be lenient with them, for they are forging the thunderbolts which are to electrify our quiet little city Commencement day. Indeed, we do not doubt, but that the mighty sentiments they are to utter, will "go thundering down the ages," and their carefully weighed sentences will pass into proverbs and maxims, and in after years our Juniors and Sophs. will say with honest pride, "Yes, he's wonderfully smart, we used to go to school with him." President Dunn's Inaugural. Members of the Eutaxian Society, Ladies: On this occasion it is fit that I should tender you my most hearty thanks for the confidence you have evinced in my executive ability, in choosing me from among our numbers for this position. I hope that no act of mine will ever abuse that trust; but that the rulings of this Chair will always be based on right and justice. In the discharge of my duties, I ask your most lively co-operation. The power is vested in you. My position is by no means that of an autocrat. There is one change that can be made in our laws that, in my judgment, seems good. I refer to the one compelling attendance. I favor this change for two reasons. First, the society has arrived at that point of interest and stability, where it is no longer dependent on such a law. It has been to the society what absolute monarchy is to a weak and ignorant nation. Second, it has been evaded and abused so often, that it has become a dead letter on our statutes. We all, I trust, have the good of the Society at heart. Who of us does not kinde with enthusiasm in contemplating the interests connected with its prosperity? Let it be remembered that though success depends, in a measure, on my own acts, it also, depends on yours. Let it be remembered that, with the duties of each member, the success of the Society seems indissolubly interwoven. Whatever course I may pursue, whatever I may do, I do it clothed in all the common frailties that flesh is heir to. Again, I thank you. Mohawk Picnic. The citizens of Mohawk will have a picnic on Saturday, May 20th, at the Stafford school house. Everybody invited to come. Bring dinner and pleasant faces. N. B.—Mohawk is unhealthy for hoodlums. J. S. CHEVERILL.

Cottage Grove Items.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]
COTTAGE GROVE, May 11, 1882.
Business dull this week.
Mr. Joseph Elliott and family left this place Thursday for Southern Oregon.
Mr. H. Thompson had one of his front windows jammed in a few nights ago by some unknown person. This is getting monotonous, and should be looked after.
The picnic given by the I. O. G. T. of this place on last Saturday was not a decided success in every particular. The crowd was scattered, and got together in town about five o'clock, after which the officers elect of Pacific Lodge, No. 179, I O G T, were installed by W W Cathcart. Wm. Houston, of Junction, then addressed the people on the subject of temperance.
The Smallest Baby. The Carson Appeal says: "A gentleman who came here from Candelaria last evening, informs the Appeal that the smallest baby in the world was born in that camp on Monday noon. The father is a miner in the employ of the Northern Belle mine, and weighs 190 pounds; and the mother is a stout, healthy woman, weighing perhaps 160. The child is a male, as perfectly formed as a human being can be, but upon its birth it only weighed 8 ounces. Its face is about the size of a horse chestnut, and the size of its limbs can be imagined when we say that a ring worn upon the little finger of its mother was easily pulled over its foot nearly up to the knee. Our informant states that it was the opinion of the attending physician that the child would live and prosper in good health, notwithstanding its diminutive proportion. The midget is so small that three of its size could play hide and seek in a cigar box. This is believed to be the smallest baby ever born."

Powers, in obedience to an anonymous to appear as a witness against the Star Route men, left Wednesday for Washington. Z. F. Moody and E. Hirsch, Republican candidates for Governor and State Treasurer, were here Thursday. They stopped but a few hours, and then took a carriage for Junction and Harrisburg. Old John, better known as Dick Hays' horse, will stand the present season at my farm, 5 miles west of Eugene, and in Eugene every Saturday. Terms—Insurance, $12. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists, $1 per bottle.
