F A BANKER, Chairman Committee. SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We take the following from the Dalles Mountaineer of last week. Mr Shelley formerly lived in this county, and is the father of ex-Sheriff Shelley: "Mr Michael Shelley, who drives the street sprinkler for Mr McCoy and his step-father, was thrown Monday from his elevated seat upon the sprinkler tank, by turning too short around in the street. He kept his hold on one of the reins, and the wheel of the wagon with its ponderous load of several tons went over his thigh, breaking the bone and crushing the flesh badly. We hear that the collar bone was also broken. Drs. Richardson and Logan have charge of the case and will do all that can be done to relieve the sufferer." "WHAT IS THE MATTER."—This was the question we heard asked many times this week in regard to Frank Osburn's smiling countenance, and his curious actions. All was explained when it was announced that he was the father of a bouncing baby boy. Frank is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. MARRIED.—In this city on Tuesday the Fourth of July at the Umstilla House by Judge Savage, William M Yancy to Miss Hulda Ehes, both of Alkali.—Dalles Times.

Personal.

Mr A Lurch of Cottage Grove, was in our city yesterday. Gov Whiteaker was in town several days during the past week. Judge C W Fitch and Joseph Nethoff left yesterday for the McKenzie springs. Mrs M P Spiller, of this city, is visiting at the residence of her brother, Judge R P Boise in Salem. Judge R S Bean went to Roseburg last Saturday for the purpose of holding a special term of court. Mr W L Chittenden, assistant postmaster of Portland, was in town several days this week visiting friends. A Lynch and family left yesterday for the McKenzie springs where they intend rustating for a couple of weeks. Misses Mary Bristow and Carrie Rosenblatt of Portland, are visiting at the residence of Mr T G Hendricks. Rev B S McLafferty of this city, preached two very able sermons in East Portland last Sunday, says the Vindicator. Mr Joel McCracken returned this week from a pleasant visit to his old home at Elgin, Illinois. He is satisfied with Oregon. Messrs Wes Cherry and George Kincaid and wives left last Sunday for Yaquina Bay, where they intend staying for about a month. We understand that Mr J W Jackson and wife have located at Farmington, W T, where Mr Jackson has opened a wagon shop, and Mrs Jackson a millinery store. Miss Reubin P Spiller will leave next week for Wellesley College, Massachusetts, where she will attend school for the ensuing two years. Miss Spiller is a graduate of the State University. We notice by a Portland paper that Mr S W Miser, formerly of this city, and another gentleman have contracted to build a large two story brick building for Mrs Dr Hawthorn, in East Portland. Mr Jasper Stevens left last Wednesday morning for Union county, where he intends residing permanently. It is his intention to start a drug store at some favorable location in that county. Success, Jap. Rev S C Price, pastor of the Baptist church of East Portland, we learn has determined to retire from the ministry and engage in some occupation that will not be so hard a strain upon his health. The East Portland church is looking about for a pastor.—Portland Telegram. Lane County Hop Growers' Meeting. Eugene City, July 8, 1882. The hop growers of Lane county assembled at the Court House and elected the following officers: Mr R F Mason, President and Mr Isaac Yocum, Secretary. After discussing the prospects of the coming crop, and other matters pertaining to the growing, curing and baling of hops; a motion was made fixing the price for picking the coming season, which was carried. The price fixed being 37 1/2 cents per box, where poles are pulled and 40 cents per box where pickers pull their own poles. The sentiment of the meeting was very strong in favor of exercising the greatest care in picking, curing and baling the coming crop. The Secretary was instructed to furnish copies of the business transacted at this meeting to the GUARD, Journal and Daily Oregonian. R. F. MASON, President. J. H. BROWN, Secretary pro tem. A New Music Teacher. Prof H Gunn, teacher of piano and organ, will come to Eugene to remain permanently to give music lessons. On the piano he teaches the German and English method of fingering and classical music in all its grades and expressions. On the pipe and reed organ he teaches how to use the stops, knees and swell and expression. The Prof is a graduate of Queens College, England, and has had seventeen years experience in teaching. Mr G intends to give lessons at the pupil's residence. For further information he can be seen at the residence of Mrs M A Bushnell. Persons wishing to communicate by letter will receive prompt attention by addressing H Gunn, Music Teacher, Eugene. A Bill. The circus(?) that performed here last Saturday evening was the worst bill the country has ever been afflicted with. The proprietor, one J S McCue, said the receipts of the evening were over $1000. It is a pity that such a humbug is allowed to perpetrate itself on the people of this valley. The people to a certain extent deserve being cheated out of their money, for nearly all were well satisfied as to the nature of the show before entering the tent. The performers consist of such broken down actors as Vertelli and Jos Petty. We can truthfully say, with the Jacksonville Times, that the only resemblance it has to a real circus is its tent. FINANCIAL STATEMENT.—We call attention to the statement of the financial condition of Lane county, published in another column. By this report it will be seen that there is over $9,000 in the county treasury at the present time. This is the first time for several years that a statement has been published, but hereafter our citizens may expect a yearly report of the work of our public servants. REPORT.—Mr Bohman, of Portland, this week purchased the machinery formerly used in the planing factory of J D Kinsey, deceased. It consists of an engine and boiler, planer, band saw, sticker, etc, and is considered a fine lot of machinery. HOMEWARD BOUND.—We understand that Mr Geo M Cooper and wife is at the present time visiting in Colorado. Mr Cooper believes he is thoroughly cured of the cancer that has been troubling him for so long a time. See notice of horse race at Harrisburg on the 29th inst. Cherry & Day, undertakers.

Needs Remedying.

The mail route from Harrisburg to Coburg has been changed to leave Harrisburg at 7 o'clock instead of the evening train as heretofore. It is evident it was done out of pure spitefulness or to accommodate the mail carrier, who happens to live on the northern end of the route. The people of Coburg are disgusted with the change, and all wish it changed back to the old schedule time. Also the Franklin route has been discontinued from Eugene and moved to Junction, leaving that place at 7 A M. The citizens of Richardson precinct intend petitioning to have the route changed to leave that city after the Saturday evening train, so that weekly papers will not be a week old when they are received. We call Postal Agent Simpson's attention to the routes, and hope that he will have them changed immediately to conform with the wishes of the people of these two precincts. Increased Appropriations. Special Dispatch to the Standard. The following dispatch received from Senators Glover and Slater explains itself: WASHINGTON, July 13.—The river and harbor appropriation bill passed the Senate yesterday. The bill as passed by the House was amended as follows: The sum devoted to the improvement of the lower Columbia, including the bar, was increased from $65,000 to $100,000. The appropriation for Yaquina Bay increased from $70,000 to $100,000. The appropriation for the Cascade Lock from $265,000 to $300,000. The total appropriation for Oregon $553,000, an increase over the House bill of $100,000. Our Senators are confident that the passage of the bill, as amended, through the House of Representatives will be secured. Campmeeting. There will be a campmeeting held at Smithfield in this county by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, commencing Friday, July 14th. All are invited to attend this meeting. Ministers from abroad are expected to be present on Saturday and Sunday. Those coming from abroad are expected to come prepared to take care of themselves. No beer or huckster shops will be allowed on the grounds. W. M. HOUSTON. A. HARDISON. Belknap Springs. These pleasant springs have a good rush of business this season. The proprietor has just built another new bath house, and has also completed the bridge across the river. Term reasonable. All are assured a pleasant time who may give these springs a visit. $20 Reward. Twenty dollars reward will be given for information which will lead to the conviction of any person or persons found mutilating, or destroying any of J R Ream's furniture and undertaking signs in the county or city. A DAM FOR LIBERTY.—Lee and Graham, convicts in the penitentiary, gave a guard, U A Harlow formerly of this county, the "grand rush" through one of the gates while a team was passing in. They were ordered to halt but did not heed it. The guard fired, killing Graham instantly, the rifle ball going clear through his body. George Collins, leasee of the prison block yard, and Brophy, an employe and an out-side guard, gave chase to Lee whom they caught in the creek near by, and overpowered. Lee had a large dirk in his sleeve but did not have a chance to use it. Both were desperate and dangerous men. FAILED TO APPEAR.—The Callender Minstrels, who were advertised to show here, concluded not to come on account of the size of the hall. The manager of the New Market theatre writes that if we had a good hall here he would bring every first-class show that visits Portland to this city. Our citizens should this Summer build a good hall that would at least keep company with the progress of our growing town. Who will make a move in this direction? HOUSE DEDICATION.—The firemen of Albany assisted by the firemen of Portland, Salem, Independence and several other places, will dedicate their new engine house on Tuesday, the 18th inst. Hon J K Weatherford will deliver the oration. Several prizes will be contested for, in which companies from abroad are invited to contend. We understand that a portion of the members of E H and L Co No 1 will be present to participate in the "house warming." SEALED LETTERS NO ONE'S BUSINESS.—The case against G W Loftis, charged with depositing obscene matter in the United States mail, was heard one day this week in the United States district court, and the defendant discharged on the ground that the obscene matter deposited was a sealed letter. TO SUBSCRIBERS AT FRANKLIN AND COBURG.—Any person from the neighborhood of Franklin can get the GUARD package for that office by calling on the postmaster at Junction City on Saturday, until the route is changed. Also any person from Coburg can secure the papers for that postoffice by calling at this office on Saturday of each week. PURCHASED.—Messrs Geo Gill and Mart Van Winkle, this week purchased a stallion of Mr Josephson of Jacksonville, paying therefor the sum of $500. The horse weighs about 1300 lbs, and has trotted a mile in 2:25. We believe the boys have made a good bargain. WANTED BACK AGAIN.—Jack Martain, who escaped from the Penitentiary about 18 months ago, got tired of outdoor life and last Saturday evening presented himself to the authorities and asked to be readmitted. Such requests are very few, but this indeed is true.—Salem Statesman. TRAINS.—By the Oregonian we learn that regular trains now run on the narrow gauge, of which Coburg is the terminus. We congratulate the people of that section in at least partially reaping some benefit from the completion of the road. MARRIED.—July 4, 1882, by Elder I N Melker, at the residence of Thos Barbe, Mr Henry Hannah to Miss Lavilla E Barbe; all of Lane county, Oregon. TO MILLERS.—Old type for rabbit metal for sale at this office.

The Siuslaw.

The following extracts, which we make from a report of an examination of the Siuslaw river, by J S Polhemus, assistant engineer, will be of interest to our readers: The Siuslaw River rises in the Coast Range Mountains, about 40 miles from the sea in a direct line, and flows in a general westerly direction to the Pacific Ocean, which it enters in about latitude 44, 20 miles north of the mouth of the Umpqua, and 7 miles south of Cape Perpetua. Its principal tributary is Lake Creek, which flows into it from the north, about 20 miles from its mouth. My personal examination extended from the mouth 20 miles up stream to the foot of a line of rapids and to the end of tillerwater. At this point, the river is a rapid, shallow stream, about 100 feet wide. After flowing a mile it widens to 200 feet, with a depth ranging from 18 to 30 feet. It widens as it approaches the sea, until the North Fork is reached, 5 miles from the mouth, where it is a half mile in width, after which it gradually contracts to 600 feet at the entrance at low-water. From the rapids to the North Fork the river is inclosed on both sides by hills ranging in height from 300 to 500 feet, covered with burnt timber, brush and fern. Between the hills there is usually a narrow strip of rich bottom land an alternate sides of the river. The average rise and fall of the tide in the entrance is about 7 feet, which decreases gradually to the foot of the rapids, where it is about 2 feet. The depth of the river to quite near the rapids was nowhere to be found less than 16 feet at low-water, and usually from 20 to 30 feet. Above the rapids, to its source, the river is described as a rapid mountain stream, obstructed by rocky shoals and boulders. The Indians sometime ascend in light canoes, but it is not navigable. Near the rapids the hills rise very abruptly from the banks, and are 600 to 700 feet high; some distance up, I am told, they become lower, and some good bottom land is found on both the Siuslaw and Lake Creek. Much yellow-fir timber is also reported as growing along the banks. Four miles from the mouth the sand hills commence, and extend on either side, in undulating mounds, to Cape Perpetua on the north and to the Umpqua River on the south. The river enters the ocean in a westerly direction, through an entrance 600 feet wide and 24 feet deep at low water, between sandy shores. It has no headland on either side; and shifts from year to year north or south. Two years ago the mouth of the river was at least one mile north of its present position. No suitable boats being available, I was not able to make a personal examination of the bar at the mouth of the river. It is of sand however, unobstructed by rocks, extending across the river's mouth about a quarter of a mile from the entrance. One main channel only exists, which, although shifting, has a depth, from all accounts, of about 5 feet at low water. HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Two men last Thursday evening about 9 o'clock stopped a gentleman by the name of H W Carter, who was riding along on horseback near Creswell, and compelled him to dismount, and robbed him of $285. The men are described only, as one weighing about 140 lbs, and the other about 170 lbs. This is a crime that has not been committed in Lane county for years before and we hope the guilty parties may be caught and sentenced to a long term in the penitentiary which they so richly deserve for their bold crime. PURCHASED.—Mr John B Coleman of Siuslaw precinct, has purchased the north half of B F Dorris' brick building, now occupied by Lynch & Page, paying therefor the sum of $1800.

She Didn't Place her Words Right.

At a drug store a young and sprightly schoolteacher hurriedly addressed the clerk: "I would like a sponge bath." "Ah, oh, a—will you please repeat; I did not quite understand!" stammered the clerk. "I would like a good sponge bath," again exclaimed the customer, while a pair of sharp gray eyes beaming with wonder and impatience, made him tremble. The disconcerted clerk managed to tell his fair customer his inability to catch her meaning. "Well, I never! If this isn't queer! I think I speak intelligent enough. I—want you—to—give—me—a—sponge—bath." At this moment the proprietor whispered: "She wants a bath-sponge." All of a sudden the young lady comprehended the trouble and fled from the store before she could be recognized by any one; but too late! A gentleman raised his hat to her, passed in, and the story got out. From a careful investigation of the present condition and future prospects of the grain crops of Lane county, we are led to conclude that the yield will be at least an average one, or rather above. A most gratifying change from the prospect of two weeks ago, and which was caused by the heavy rains on the 4th inst. Cherry & Day, undertakers. Foley Springs. These healthful and medicinal hot springs have been purchased by Mr Peter Rusay late of Astoria. Mr Rusay will thoroughly refit and renovate the buildings on the premises, and will be prepared to accommodate those in quest of health or pleasure. Fish and game are plentiful in that vicinity, the scenery is magnificent, and those visiting a summer tour could go to no better place.
