STATE NEWS.

There are a number of campers at Newport this year.

Wanted; At Yaquina, a butcher and a taker shop.

Capt Wilkinson has been retained in charge of the Indian training school at Forest Grove.

Miss Annie Ingram, an Albany girl, killed a large black bear on D-pot slough, near Yaquina Bay, on June 29th.

The body of the prisoner lately killed at the penitentiary is in a barn at Salem being dissected. Complaint is made by residents of the immediate neighborhood.

Cove precinct, Union county, with a population of about 750, has among private residences, fourteen costing on an average $2000 each, and four averaging $3,500 each.

A company has been formed at San Francisco with a capital of $26,000 to raise the Edith Lorne, wrecked off the Columbia, by means of compressed air, and work has already commenced.

The Coos Bay News says: We have it on the best authority that during this year there has not been less than 18 feet of water on the Coos Bay bar, and for a great part of the year it has not been less than 24 feet.

The store of Elias Eberhard, at Clatsop was burned to the ground on the evening of July 7, the store and contents being entirely consumed. The loss amounts to $9,000; insurance, $7500. Cause of fire unknown.

A correspondent from Fifty-five Mile Creek Wasco county, says that south of that place to the Deschutes, from one-third to one-half the growing crops have been destroyed by grasshoppers, and in some places nothing is left.

Says the Yaquina Bay Post: Mr. Looney of Marion county, bought three acres of land of Ed. C. Phelps, near Newport a few days ago, paying $75 therefor. Also a gentleman from Polk county, whose name escapes us, purchased five acres of Mr. Phelps, paying $25 per acre for it.

Says the Salem Statesman: Gen. Reed was arrested in Seattle Monday, July 17th, for larceny, being one of the parties that stole $200 from J. W. Reed on June 1st. The governor granted a requisition to-day for him to be brought here, and Marshal Harbor left on the afternoon train to bring him.

On last Saturday Henry Dann, says the Corvallis Gazette, met with a severe accident near this place, which came near costing him his life. He was running a mower, and climbed down out of the seat and was attempting to pull some weeds off from the sickle, when the horses became frightened and gave a sudden start and threw him on the sickle. Before he could get the horses stopped, the sickle had cut off a slice of stake off the fleshy part of his thigh several inches long and large enough for a hungry man's breakfast.

Statesman: The case of D. B. Branson, W. S. Powell and W. S. Frink vs the Dayton, Sheridan & Grand Ronde Railroad Company was argued Friday before Judge Boise at Salem, Hon. James K. Kelley, of Portland, appearing for the plaintiff, and Ellis G. Hughes for the defendant. The suit is brought for the purpose of recovering money subscribed by the farmers of Polk and Yamhill counties to aid in the construction of defendant's railroad the company promising to carry freight to the amount of the money subscribed. The farmers were given their receipts and orders for the carrying of freight to the amount of their subscriptions. Shortly after they were made, Jos. Gaston, who was then owner of the road, sold out to the Scotch company, who refused to honor Gaston's orders. Suit was brought in Yamhill county some time since against the original company and judgment obtained for the return of the subscription money, and as their property had been sold to the Oregonian Railway Company, Limited, suit is now brought to recover the money from them, which amounts to over $45,000. The case was taken under advisement by the court.

A Painful State of Doubt.

A tramp sat upon a doorstep in New York tenderly holding his head in his hands, when Eli Perkins came along. "What's the matter with you, man?" asked Eli.

"I'm in doubt sir; I'm in a state of doubt."

"In doubt! what about?"
"Well, sir, I went into that alley-gate up there to get suth'in to eat; I might a knowed suth'in 'd happened, for there was a dead book agent layin' on the flower bed and a limner man with the side of his head all caved in, leanin' up agin the peach tree."

"Well."
"You see I allus was venturesome; so I politely up stepped and taking off my hat asked a woman standin' there, would she be kind enough to give me a berry pie and some breast of chicken?"

"Well, wh't happened then?"
"Now, Mr. Perkins, that's what I'm doubt about. I'm thinking it over now. It don't seem to me whether I got the pie or the back porch fell down on me, or perhaps I fell asleep under a pile driver. I don't know anything about it, but to give myself the benefit of the doubt, I believe I'd sooner work half an hour than go into that yard again. I would!"

SALEM WOOLEN MILLS—Plans and specifications for the factory have been drawn and accepted. The building is to be of brick, five stories high, 140 feet front, 55 feet wide, and will have two wings of 60 feet each attached thereto. It is to be erected on the site first selected for the flouring mills, between the old E. N. Cooke place and Mrs. Thatcher's on the bank of the river. Work will be commenced as soon as the flouring mills are under sufficient headway to warrant the commencement on the factory. The machinery has been selected in New York and a practical woolen manufacturer engaged in Scotland to take charge of the business.

Christian Union: "Suppose Mr. Vanderbilt needed half a million of dollars to buy stock to control the election of directors in the New York Central, and to obtain it should address a circular to all the brakemen, conductors, train-men, engineers and switch-tenders, inviting the voluntary contribution of two per cent. of their wages to put him in funds for that purpose? The only difference between the imaginary case and the actual case is that in the imaginary case the demand would be made by an individual; in the actual case it is made in the name of the party of 'moral ideas.'"

How beautiful must be the harmony in the party of "great moral ideas" in the Seventeenth Ohio District. There a body of perspiring and profane delegates balloted 376 times for a Congressional ticket and finally adjourned for good, without making a choice. This is one of the newly formed districts, and one of the most picturesque on paper of any that the Ohio gery-mander turned out. Several Republican statesmen, each with a lively desire to serve his country in Washington reside in the district; hence the 376 ballots and the adjournment sine die.

The First Baptist church in council assembled, by a unanimous vote, requested that Mrs. May C. Jones be ordained a minister of the Gospel, and a number of the minister's association were requested to join them in the examination of Mrs. Jones, and the examination proved entirely satisfactory. The ordination will probably occur next Sunday, immediately after the evening service.—Seattle Intelligencer. This is probably the first instance of a woman being ordained in the Northwest.

The Paris Figaro gives the following original recipe for making a free tour of the world: "Adopt the Jewish religion and go to Russia. Thence you will be ejected, and forwarded by way of Lemberg to America by the emigration agent. In America assume the garb and appearance of a Chinaman, and you will be dispatched to China. There give yourself out as a Russian, and you will be returned to that country, from which you may again be expelled as a Jew and returned to Austria."

Burdens Grievous to Borne.

More than one hundred millions of dollars over and above what is required for the ordinary expenses of Government now flow into the Treasury each year. The duty of Congress obviously was to cut down this excessive burden upon the people. Yet the ruling party proposes to do nothing of the kind. This brings out in bold relief the plank in the Democratic platform which declares for "a tariff for revenue only." What else ought a tariff to be framed for? If incidental protection is afforded by a revenue tariff, that is one matter; but a tariff that yields one hundred millions a year more than is required is quite another. It is a fraud upon the people for the benefit of a few wealthy manufacturers. It makes the poor poorer and the rich richer. It oppresses all save a few favored individuals. It taxes excessively all that is good to eat, see and wear. It makes the tiller of the soil pay an inordinately high price for everything he must buy, and it gives him absolutely nothing in return. In every blanket that is bought to protect a poor family from the cold there is sixty per cent of tariff and forty per cent of wool and labor, and so on through almost every article of daily use. Besides, the vast revenue raised in this way is a temptation to jobbery. Every Congressman attempts to raid upon it. It is a frightful burden upon every taxpayer.

Work Stopped on the Yaquina Railroad.

From Mr. Barnes, who has been at work for one of the mills on the Oregon Pacific R. R., says the Dallas Itemizer, we learn that the management is now in a state of "masterly inactivity." Four of six mills supplying lumber for the road have shut down. There are only 67 men at work, 40 of whom are at work on the tunnels. No railroad iron is on hand, except some narrow gauge rails. The people along the line are losing confidence in the road. As less than two miles of the road is graded, leaving out the ten miles west of Corvallis, that was graded a year ago, it seems certain that the promise to take off this year's crop will not be fulfilled.

EGYPT'S GRIEVANCE—One cause of discontent in Egypt may be found in the immense amount of money taken out of that country by Europeans, outside of the revenues proper which pass into the hands of the Control. A parliamentary paper, recently published, shows that the salaries of Europeans in the Government amounts to $1,867,455 per annum. The salary of the English and French Controllers alone is about $70,000.

The circuit court of Douglas county last week refused an application for a writ of habeas corpus asked by Wm. H. Howard for the custody of his two small children, held by his divorced wife. It being proven that neither of the parents were fit to have the care of the children the application was refused and they were left in care of a respectable woman, whom the mother had hired to care for them.

Says the Oregon Register: We learn that on Thursday of last week that some one shot at Mrs. J. Petch, who lives at the foot of the mountain on the Tillamook road. The person who fired the shot was some 250 yards distant and was obscured by the smoke from his gun, and was seen to walk away.

In the recent interview ex Governor Seymour declared that all the tendencies of the Republican party are toward centralization, and that in his opinion, "the Democratic party has an opportunity to win a great victory by standing up for the constitutional methods of government."

Englishmen returning home from Panama report that work on De Lesseps canal is being performed by negroes from the West India Islands and especially from Jamaica.

A small party of young people from Salem recently made an excursion to Silver Creek falls which are 128 feet high and a very pleasant sight.
