The achievement of Mr. Kelley and his Ways and Means Committee in concecting and getting through the House a bill to reduce the revenue sev eral millions, without removing any of the burdens of taxation, is a feat that will not and cannot be excelled. This bill has the unique merit that not one cent cut of the millions of taxes which it proposes to abolish can ever get into the pockets of the working classes, Banks and drawers of checks will get a few millions, venders of proprietary medicines will get a considerable profit, and retailers or foreign manufacturers of matches will get a bonus. But of taxes which make food, clothing and other articles in daily use by the mass es dear not a dollar is reduced. But then we have grown so accust med to a system of Government whose whole energy is devoted to making the rich richer and the poor poorer, that this extraordinary measure hardly attracts public attention. The bill has not gone through the Senate yet, and there is some hope that it may come to grief there, or be amended so as to apply to somebody besides bankers and patent medicines venders.
