House Bill No 13.

A bill for an Act to Exempt a Homestead for Forced Sale on Attachment or Executions:

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. There shall be exempt from execution and attachment, to every householder, being the head of a family, a homestead, not exceeding in value the sum of $2,000, while occupied as such by the owner thereof, or his or her family. Said homestead may consist of a lot or lots in a city or town, or a farm consisting of any number of acres, so that the value of the same shall not exceed the aforesaid sum of $2,000; but to entitle the person to the benefits of this act he or she shall cause the word homestead to be entered on record in the margin of his recorded title to the same; Provided, Always, that any person owning and claiming such homestead shall have the right to change the same from place to place, by complying with the provisions of this act, but shall only be entitled to hold one such homestead. SEC. 2. When any person dies seized of a homestead, leaving a widow, or husband, or minor children, the survivors shall be entitled to the homestead for their own use; but in case there be neither surviving husband, widow of children, the said homestead shall be liable for the debts of deceased.

SEC. 3. Nothing herein contained shall be constructed to prevent the owner of a homestead from voluntarily mortgaging the same; but no mortgage shall be valid against the wife of any mortgagor who may be occupying said homestead with him, unless she shall freely and voluntarily, separate and apart from her husband, sign and acknowledge said mortgage and the officer taking the acknowledgement shall fully appraise her of her rights, and the effect of signing such mortgage.

SEC. 4. When any creditor shall be of the opinion that any homestead claimed under the provisions of this act is of greater value than $2,000, on filing an affidavit to that effect with the Clerk of the Circuit Court, the judgement creditor may proceed against said homestead as in other cases of real estate, and if said homestead shall plus shall be applied to the payment of the judgement of said creditor, and in all such cases the sum of $2,000; free of charge or expense, shall be paid to teen years to smoke tolacco in any the owner of the homestead; and in form, either in a pipe, or cigar, or cigacase the said homestead shall not sell rettes; and persons under sixteen years for more than $2,000 and costs, the person instituting the proceeding shall shall, on conviction thereof, be fined in pay the costs of proceeding, and the any sum not less than five nor more preceeding cease and not affect or than twenty dollars. impair the rights of the owner of the homestead.

Intelligence from Fort Smith gives the particulars of the capture in the Indian Territory a female desperado named Belle Starr. She was wanted for horse stealing, and her husband was captured after a long chase and sharp fight. Mrs. Starr is perhaps the most noted character of the western border. She has led a wild life for many years. It is claimed that she was a member of the Younger gang of outlaws and was present when Shepard claimed to have shot and killed Jesse James near Short creek, Mo. She lias several aliases, and many deeds of violence are charged to her. She has been admitted to bail City, Grant county. in the sum of $3,000.

The Stalwart Hope.

Old Simon Cameron speaks for his clan when he gives voice to the hops that the Democracy will kill itself, now that it has got possession of the new House of Representatives. This remark of the Patriarch of intrigue and crooked practices ought to be heeded by Democrats. It is of a piece with the advice given by an old lady in Louisians to one of her acquaintances: * "Watch your friends; your enemies won't hurt you." There is no doubt but that the active Democratic statesmen have now an opportunity for the enjoyment of a long period of success. It is the fairest field that ever opened before us. The great sectional question of slavery, says the Examiner, which so long proved a stumbling block is gone, never to return. The dead is buried. It must not be resurrected. Should any antiquated or foolish person seek to exhume and galvanize into life the questions that were treated by a past generation, he must be left to himself. The Democracy is the party of the living and present population. It carries its face toward the future. It can, as a party, point with pride to its former achievements, but it cannot hold itself responsible for the crimes and follies of its adversaries. This great country is about to be placed under Demecatic contral, and it will be a shame and a crime if any of those that we advance to places of trust and honor fail to prove worthy of the confidence bestowed in them. But whatever some may do that is wrong of foolish will concern them alone. We have no room for blunders. "A blunder in politics is a crime." The party will cast off those who may seek to betray it, or whose folly would destroy it, and advance triumphantly to accomplish its glorious work in the regeneration of the Republic, the pr cation of the Government and the demonstration of the capacity of the American people to manage and control their own affairs.
