False Representation.

To show the demagogery, sham and fasehood of the talk of manufacturing It is therefore supposed that it comes up from monopolists, concerning the reduction of wages necessary to meet the demands of a Democratic or revenue tariff, it is only necessary to analyze the cost of during the winter in large numbers, a party of manufactured products. According to two men and a toy conclines catching as the latest statistics, the average amount paid for labor in the factories of the United States is about one sixth of the Col. I. R. Moores has secured a pair of these cost of production; or 16% cents on every dollars worth of goods produced. forwarded to Hon. Spenc r F. Barrd, fish com-It will be seen from this that a 17 per cent, tariff would not only cover the difference between the cost of labor here and that of other countries, but silvery sides and bellies. The flesh is as white would cover the entire cost of labor in our factories. Let us suppose the cost of labor is one-third higher here than handful without slipping from the grasp. In in England (which is not the car), a six per cent, tariff would cover the difference between the labor in our factories and those of England if protection did all its advocates claim for it. The facts are there is nothing in this pretense that protection is for the benefit of the American laborer. The cost of tion.-Oregonian. transporation of foreign goods overbalances all the difference there is I ctween the price of labor here and n England on the small proportional part of the cost of manufacture which the laborer receives. Some other reason must be assigned for an average turiff of 43 per cent., which is more than twice as much as the entire cost of all the labor employed in our factories. The reason is easily given, the greater portion of it goes to make up the enormous profits of wealthy manufacturing monopolies, which have grown up like mushrooms within the last few years.

Speaking of young Ben. Harrison, ex-Senator Chaffee lately made use of some very sensible remarks. He said: "There is not a single point about that man to make a President of him, except that his grandfather was Presdient of the United States. He has no personal force, nothing generous in his nature, hardly respectable in his manners, and is second-class in every way. Then they talk about nominating Bob Lincoln, because his father was President. It seems to me that you per cent and mileage to be paid by the demight just as well want to nominate Buck Grant, my son-in-law, or Fred. Grant, or Jesse Grant, because their father has been President. That kind, of trifling with an imporant and influential office ought to be played out. It is with me"

Mahone of repudiation fame, knowize the next senate without the vote of himself and that of his colleague, Ridd'e berger, takes occasion to intimate to Republican leaders that he must be shown greater favors at the hands of the party system by using Parker's Ginger Tonic. It of great moral ideas than be has here off malarial poisons, and is good for general tofore received. Of course the radicals will accede to his demands, and go on claiming to be the foe of repudiation all papers were exhausted. The court said a house full of such evidence would not weigh a feather. It was not known whether Peck was dead, though his wife had been several years a widow. Peck had been a myth and was now a ghost. It is thought the "reading of papers" will consume about seven months yet.

Congressman Hewitt, Democrat from New York, is one of the largest ironmongers in the Union. He is for a revision and medification of the present war tariff to a point so that the people can have relief. He is a patriot, and does not wish the Government to give him a bounty out of the pockets of the people.

Solon Chase of Maine gives up in despair. "The Greenback party," he says, Phas clasped hands with Bourbon Demorracy in the North, and with carpetbag Republicanism in the South, until, in the judgment of most all the people of the country, it has found the sleep that knows no waking."

For several years past the sportsmen of Sa lem and vicinity have been puzzled by a strange species of fish which makes its appearance in Mill creek after the first fall rains in vast numbers. The Other Side.

Mr. Jeel Allen attacked Mr. Whit Gowdy with a cane last Saturday, in the livery sta-ble, which is the third assault be has made to coerce Mr. Gowdy into undue submission. Subsurance may cease to be a virtue yet. Mr. Gowdy is a very quiet man.

EDITOR GUARD:-Your Cottage Grove correspondent gave to your readers the above incident as one of the events of Cottage Greve. Now, Mr. Editor, we do not desire to drag private matters into print, but when a correspondent rushes into print and gives only one side of an affair, we deem it nothiog more than justice that the other side should be fully explained. Mr. Allen is an aged man, and a man of high standing. He has had business relations with Mr. Gowdy, which have not been satisfactory to Mr. Allen, and he has called on Mr. Gowdy for a settlement time and again, and has never received any satisfaction or a statement of ecounts; hence the attack above mentioned-Let Mr. Gowdy bring the matter before the courts. We are willing to investigate the matter and show on which side "forbearance has cersed to be a virtue."
