

The Elections!

The Democracy Win a Glorious Victory in Ohio!—Hoadley Elected by over 12,000 Majority.

LEGISLATURE DEMOCRATIC BY 25 MAJORITY.

CARRY THE NEWS TO ARTHUR.

After the hottest and hardest fought political campaign ever known, in an election that will cast its shadow before on the coming Presidential campaign, the Democrats have won a complete victory in Ohio. The Ohio Democrats did not palter with the people but in words of homely English they squarely opposed explicit assurances to the vague, uncertain generalities of the Republican platform. They made an aggressive fight from the start, and with bold, vigorous oratory the Democratic candidates examined the lofty pretensions of the Republicans and then pointed to the enormous frauds, the immense speculations, the shameless lobbying, the open and notorious bribery, and to the class of toadies and moneyed aristocrats who have grown great by such flagitious means, under the sunlight of Republican rule. We congratulate the people that these practices are to cease and that soon men, unversed in ward politics, but able and honest, will give us good government, and the invincible and aggressive Democracy shall make the United States a world power; to be feared by our enemies, and which will be weak to oppress its citizen. No Democrat will ever "point with pride" to a fratricidal war. The war will soon be over.

Hoadley's majority is 12,000 and the Legislature has 25 Democratic majority which insures the U. S. Senator to the Democrats.

Iowa has gone Republican by about 35,000 majority. The Legislature will be Republican almost unanimously. The Republican candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court run behind his ticket many thousands; he is an ardent prohibitionist. It may be consolation to some that Iowa is still Republican; if no complications, quarrels or bolts occur, and if a satisfactory Presidential candidate is nominated and a suitable platform put forth, it is probable, even possible, we think—that the Republicans may carry Vermont as well as Iowa next year.

Before the Ohio election the Oregonian advocated the license system. But now it is thundering its fulminations against the license men and is righteously and rigidly prohibition. There is no more sudden conversion known in history, except it be Saul of Tarsus. Is it possible that the "independent" Oregonian is prohibition because it thinks the license men Democrats. The Oregonian has asserted that party papers or partisans could not understand an independent newspaper, but this instance makes it evident that an independent newspaper like the Oregonian is one that utters much loud boasting and that exalts its virtue that it may obtain a higher price for it; one that having been sold to the Republicans servilely supports the entire Republican ticket, and supports and condemns measures as they may happen to be beneficial or damaging to its masters.

The Oregonian is sure that the shrinkage of the Republican party in Ohio is due to the fact that a number of the saloon keepers that had hitherto consorted with that party had gone over to the Democratic party, all on account of adverse legislation by the G. O. P. The News is as positive that it was caused by the "apathy" of the Republicans, and by the sympathy of prohibitionists for the Democrats; the good Deacon Smith of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, says that it was all due to the temperance and wool issues, while Murat Halstead of the same paper "praises the German Republicans for faithfulness." It is evident that these papers all told the truth.

The Oregonian a few weeks ago proved that Ohio was going Republican by a large majority; it showed that the liquor men, the license men and the prohibitionists were enthusiastically for the Scott law and the Republican party. It is really aggravating to have some unexplained "leak" pop up and spoil the bright anticipation of what

There was a fierce vendetta in Ohio between the Foster and Sherman factions of the Republican party. Sherman has helped defeat Foster's ticket, because of Foster's treachery and duplicity at Chicago in 1880.
