AYER'S Hair Vigor

restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired.
By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness cured, though not always, cured.

It checks falling of the hair, and stimu-lates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and keeps nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the Vigor is unequalled; it combats neither oil nor dirt, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

MR. C. P. BRIDGER writes from Kirby, O., July 4, 1882: "Last fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became nearly bald. I used part of a bottle of AYER'S Hair Vigor, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald."

J. W. BOWEN, proprietor of the McArthur Theatricals, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1880: "Ever since my hair began to give evidence of the change which denoted this process, I have used AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, orators, actors, and in fact every one who lives in the eyes of the public."

Mrs. O. A. PERRY, writing from 18 Elm St., Worcester, Mass., April 1, 1882, says:
"I 7 years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It came very rapidly, and I was fast growing bald. On using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the Vigor, but now use it occasionally as a preservative."

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.

HON. WILLIAM R. MORRISON, CHAIRMAN WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE.

And Much Spoken of as a Democratic Presidential Candidate for 1884.

The subject of our portrait and sketch this week places before our readers the likeness and life of William R.
Morrison, who as Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, will figure more conspicuously in the policy of the present Congress on the tariff and revenue questions than any other member of that body.

Mr. Morrison was Mr. Carlisle's manager during the late Speakership contest, and has been recognized by his successful protege, as had been predicted, in case of the latter's elevation to the Speakership.

Wm. R. Morrison, of Waterloo, Ill., was born in Monroe County, that State, September 14, 1825, and consequently is in his 59th year. He was educated in the common schools, and graduated at McKendree College, Illinois. He adopted the law as a profession, and soon after he became a member of the bar was elected Clerk of the Circuit Court. From this position he was next advanced as a member of the Illinois House of Representatives, serving four terms, the last of which he was Speaker of the House. Mr. Morrison was then elected to represent the Seventeenth District of his State in the Thirty-eighth Congress, was again returned to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses, by an average majority of about one thousand. In the Forty-sixth Congress Mr. Morrison served as the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and was succeeded in that position in the Forty-seventh Congress by Judge Kelley, of Pennsylvania; again the Committee wheel revolves, and Mr.
Morrison once more becomes the head of the most important House Committee.

The Committee of Ways and Means have in charge the regulation of the revenues, and the manner and means of raising a sufficient amount to cover the expenses of the Government. The ways and means adopted to collect this revenue effects largely, for good or evil, the entire business interests of the land.

Mr. Morrison is of large manly proportions, nearly six feet tall, and invariably attracts more than ordinary notice in any assembly, however large.
He is very favorably mentioned by many Democrats as a growing candidate for the Presidency.

There are exceptions to every general rule, but the following exception to the proverbial ingratitude of the Siwashess, given by the Portland Sunday Welcome is worthy of note: "Mrs. Swank, residing on Montgomery street, some years ago took an Indian boy into her family and reared him until he was able to go out and earn his own living. He has been working in the country for some time, and on Christmas called at the house of his benefactress, took her three daughters down town and bought each of them a handsome cloak and a rich one for the mother, paying out in all $160. It is a pleasure to make record of substantial gratitude like this, come it from what color or condition it may."

It is asserted that there is a one-legged Confederate soldier in Georgia who has never drawn any State pension, because all his command were killed, and there is no one to certify to his having been in the army.

OREGON AND WASHINGTON.

Whatcom is to have a custom house.
Halsey, Oregon, has a newspaper, the "Bugle."

Railroad surveyors have a winter camp at Fort Harney.

Albany, Oregon, has a cash balance of $536.35 in the city treasury.

A number of mountain lions are roaming about the lower ranges of the Cascades.

The railway bridge at Ainsworth, W. T., will be ready for the rails by the 15th of March.

Fruit trees about Oregon City, are in bud again.

The prisoners confined in the city jail at Walla Walla still refuse to participate in the chain gang.

A great many horses, says the Salem Talk, are dying of a disease supposed to be lung fever near Mehama.

In various portions of Eastern Oregon and Washington disease has spread among the cattle, and stockmen are apprehensive of severe loss the coming spring.

A warehouse at Palouse City, W. T., filled with wheat "spread out," and besides a loss of grain there was a considerable damage to machinery.

Rev. J. F. Floyd, editor of the Christian Herald, has removed to Albany, where he has been engaged as pastor of the Christian church at that place.

The young gentlemen attending Whitman college, Walla Walla, have organized a class in dancing, which is taught Saturday evening by Mr. Kearney. Rowing, baseball and polo naturally follow.

Away from home we hear it, says the Astorian: If crime be a criterion Portland is fast becoming a metropolis.
Every day develops a sensation, generally it is a murder, sometimes a deformation, always some deviltry.

Another "consignment" of Chinamen for the C. P. R. R. arrived in this city the latter part of last week, says the Corvallis Leader and have been set to work on the grade. Others are expected to arrive in a few days, and the probabilities are that 1884 will witness the junction of Yaquina Bay and Corvallis by hands of steel.

On the 8th, at Egin, Idaho, a newly married couple named Parker, who two hours before had been pronounced one, were sitting together in the house of the bride's parents, when a ten year old brother of the bride came up with a pistol, which he had taken from a trunk, and thought to scare his sister by pointing the weapon toward her but the gun was discharged, sending the contents into his brother-in-law, the ball entering the forehead and producing instant death.

The Helena Herald of late date says:
We learn that Adam Aulbach, a Pacific Coast journalist and practical printer, who is now in the east, will take a newspaper office to the new Couer d'Alene mines early in the spring. He will be prepared to publish either a daily or weekly paper, according to the demands of the camp. Mr. Aulbach's experience in the publishing business in mining regions is a guarantee that he will get up a first class journal for the new Eldorado.

An exchange says San Francisco is report as being flooded with counterfeit standard dollars, which are dangerously like the genuine. The counterfeit is of white metal, and the die and milling are almost perfect.
They are nearly as white as the true coin. No one person in ten would detect them in handling them in the usual way. Still they lack the true ring and weight of the genuine coin.
Wells, Fargo & Co. found, in some $12,000 taken from the Sub-Treasury, 20 of these bogus pieces.

A correspondent to the Chicago Inter-Ocean says that the lumber of the Pacific Coast will duplicate a hundred times the wealth of precious metals its mines have ever produced.

A New York paper says: "Death has been busy in high places this year." This is an excellent way of referring to the many executions which took place in '83.
