SCROFULA

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores.
"Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me."
Yours respectfully, Mrs. ANN O'BRIAN,
148 Sullivan St., New York, June 24, 1882.

All persons interested are invited to call on Mrs. O'Brian; also upon the Rev. Z. P. Wilds of 78 East 54th Street, New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, not only in the cure of this lady, but in his own case and many others within his knowledge.

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, R. W. BALL, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June 7, 1882:

"Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

stimulates and regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, renews and strengthens the vital forces, and speedily cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, Catarrh, General Debility, and all diseases arising from an impoverished or corrupted condition of the blood, and a weakened vitality.

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.

FEB. 23, 1884.

EDITOR GUARD.—It is a sad commentary that one has to make on the great mass of our people in Oregon. While we are intelligent on almost every subject which pertains to our prosperity, and to our growth in morals and in personal and public character, we are very indifferent on all matters pertaining to the maintenance of our general health. While health is really the foremost question with everybody, it is a subject of which we know the least. We have no philosophy of life, nor have we any well arranged plans of living. We live irrationally and so have to take the ill consequences arising from bad habits. One thing is certain; the great majority of our people are out of health, and under our present habits we have not been able to bring the life of a generation to extend its uttermost limit beyond thirty-three years. Now, practical hygiene is the friend of longevity, and makes the care of our physical health a positive Christian duty. God has given us a wonderful body, for noble purposes. Oh, how many people we have known who have not lived out half their days because of their dissipation and indulgences; we are slain by our own vices. I saw in Eugene the other day two little boys smoking cigarettes, and upon inquiring how long they had been smoking, one said two years. I found they had become confirmed smokers of cigarettes. Parents, save your children from this vice, if possible. Do not allow them to deceive you; they will bless you for restraining them when they get to be men. A genuine case of leprosy, with all its attending horrors, has been reported from Lincoln, Cal., caused by cigarette smoking. The victim is a boy twelve years old. Now I would be in favor of our Legislature passing a law to prohibit any person from selling or giving to any boy under the age of sixteen years, any cigarettes, cigars or tobacco, for the reason that it leads to the foulest and most fearful diseases that come to a human being. And all that is necessary to insure the ruin of the human race at no distant day, is the increase habit of tobacco using as rapidly as it has increased for fifty years past. Look at many of our young men with their whole mass of blood foul, their breath fetid, their sweat noxious and their whole person offensive. Girls do not marry a man who uses tobacco.

Very respectfully yours,
THOMAS BELSHAW.
Oregon State Penitentiary.

The following is a statement of the number of convicts confined in the Oregon State penitentiary at Salem on the first day of February, 1884, together with the length of the term for which each man is sentenced and his nativity:

The result of the Murray trial—a verdict of murder in the first degree—was what the public, generally, expected; but the lesson is a salutary one to those who allow liquor to transport them into fiends for even so short a period. While a man is responsible before the laws of God and man for his drunken acts, yet he is not aware of what he is doing when drunk. Murray was insane, but liquor made him so. —Vindicator.

The Holman Resolutions.

Some zealous friends of the corporations are now attempting to excuse the vote of the "immortal eighteen"—who voted no to Holman's resolutions—on the pretext that those resolutions were calculated to take away rights already acquired by the company. The following are the resolutions, as introduced by Mr Holman, and passed by a vote of 268 to 58:

Resolved, That in the judgment of the House all public lands heretofore granted states and corporations, and to aid the construction of railroads, so far as the same are subject to forfeiture by reason of non fulfillment of the conditions on which the grants were made, ought to be declared forfeited to the United States and restored to the public domain.

Resolved, That it is to the highest public interest that laws touching public lands be so framed and administered as ultimately to secure free-holders therein to the greatest number of citizens, and to this end laws facilitating speculation in public lands, or authorizing or permitting entry or purchase thereof in large bodies ought to be repealed, and all public lands adapted to agriculture, ought to be reserved for the benefit of actual and bona fide settlers, and disposed of under the provisions of the homestead laws only.

Resolved, That the committee on public lands be instructed to report to the House bills to carry into effect the views expressed in the foregoing resolutions, and be authorized to report such bills at any time, subject only to revenue and appropriation bills, and that the same be in like order entitled to consideration.

Cut them out and save them for future references, and remember if Mr M. C. George ever is a candidate for an office again in this State, that he is one of the eighteen who voted against these resolutions.

A Wonderful Bell.

The temples at Koto, Japan, says a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, are mainly of interest on account of their great bell, which swings in a monster wooden belfry half way up the hillside, back of the buildings proper. This bell is a huge bronze cup with nearly perpendicular sides and a flat crown, and like all Japanese bells, is sounded by means of a huge beam kept in place by ropes, but, when occasion requires, brought against the rim of the bell with great force. It requires twelve coolies to manipulate this bear. Formerly it was only rung once a year, but now it may be heard two or three times every month. It is one of the greatest wonders in Japan. It is eighteen feet high, 9 1/2 inches thick, 9 feet in diameter and weighs nearly 74 tons. It was cast in a monster mould in the year 1633. As the bell was cast with the rim up, the gold entering into its composition—computed to be about 1,500 pounds—sunk to the crown. It has a magnificent tone, and when struck by the open palm the vibrations may be heard a distance of one hundred yards.

Sorry He Pardoned Him.

A gentleman entered a car at a way station, and in going down the aisle accidentally knocked to the floor the hat of an uncouth, rough-looking chap who lay in a seat with his head projecting over the arm-rest.

"I beg your pardon, sir," remarked the gentleman, politely.

"Yer want to be kind of careful how you stagger 'round," replied the ill-natured rough as the gentleman passed on.

"Venture to say he never asked anyone's pardon," I said to the passenger next to me.

"You're mistaken there," the latter replied; "he begged mine once, very politely, too."

"Must have been some unusual circumstance."
"Yes, indeed; he was in the State prison and wanted to get out. But I am now sorry that I pardoned him."
"And you are—"
"Ex-Governor Thayer, of Oregon."
Wm. M. Moore, a pioneer of Clatsop Co., was foully murdered last week.
