

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

BATURDAY.....JUNE 21, 1884.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Presidential Electors,
A. C. JONES, of Jackson,
L. B. ISON, of Baker,
W. D. FENTON, of Yamhill.

Irving Items.

June 18, 1884.

New comer at the bachelor ranch.

The farmers are jubilant over the recent rains and warm sunshine, which equal $20 pieces this fall.

Mr. L. Potter was here a few days since looking out a location for a furniture shop. We say come ahead; there is plenty of room and we welcome you.

Mr. B. F. Bond, the contractor for the Clear Lake school house, has begun work with several hands. The work on the new Christian church at the same place is under headway.

J. M. Kitchen has let the contract to B. P. Bond to build him a nice residence in Irving, which will be an ornament to the city. Mr. L. Hollenbeck is going to erect a new blacksmith shop, and several nice houses are talked of. Who says Irving is dead.

Our first term of school closed last Friday, but Mr. Tait having given such good satisfaction, has been employed to teach another; one month before harvest and two after. This speaks well for Mr. Tait, though he is a beardless boy.

Miss Nettie Roberts having moved to Marion county, Mr. Hans Hoff has gone to Linn county, Oregon, with a pretense of working for J. M. Kitchen, but we fear he will land in Marion, near Amksville.

Mr. J. M. Kitchen went to Linn county yesterday to superintend the building of a barn on his farm east of Harrisburg; and J. P. Zumwalt is going to Linn to see about renting him a place, as the land owners in this section ask too high rents.

The renters of Irving and vicinity have formed a Renters Protective Union, whereby they may protect themselves against exorbitant rents, each and every member pledging himself to pay no man more than one third of the crop. No one of the society is allowed to pay cash rent.

Coles Great Circus.

The Kansas City Journal thus presents a fair illustration of the attractions of W. W. Cole's mammoth show: It says: "At night was estimated that fully 15,000 people were under the canvas and even then the doors were closed at 7:30 and thousands turned away. Among the spectators in the afternoon were the families of Raymond and Keene, the actors. It seems that tragedians and comedians as well as other earthly mortals all appreciate a show like Cole's, and well they may as it is probably the best in the world."

PLEASANT VISIT.—Mr. Marion Davis, who owns an interest in one of the richest mines in the Couer d'Alene district, gave this office a pleasant call last Wednesday. He had two nuggets with him, one weighing $108 and the other nearly $60. A few days before leaving his mines a two days clean up was made and 130 ounces of gold realized. He has a fortune assured. We congratulate Mr. Davis, as we like to see all old Lane county boys strike it rich. He spent several days in this vicinity.

HOP EXCHANGE.—Messrs. Koshland Bros, of Portland, have recently built a building 165 feet long by 85 feet wide, which will be used as a Hop Exchange. It has been fitted up for the special purpose of grading and assorting hops. These gentlemen intend this season to make a specialty of the hop buying business. We are glad to note that this important industry is about to be represented in the Oregon metropolis by such live and industrious men.

Parties traveling through or stopping in Portland should, in order to insure prompt and safe delivery of their baggage, not fail to give their checks to the agent of the U C & B T Co, who will also furnish them with omnibus transfer ticket at 12 1/2 cents per passenger including small children and all small baggage, this being the cheapest omnibus line in the United States.

PROPERTY SOLD.—Geo. M. Miller on day this week sold to Dr L F Jones his residence on Willamette street for $2,000. Less than one year ago Mr. Miller purchased the property for $1,000 from Marshall Attebery. Property in Eugene is advancing in value daily.

Personal.

Judge Fenton, father of J E Fenton, visited Eugene this week.

Geo. S. Kinzaid and wife are paying a visit to the metropolis.

Prof Hawthorne, of the State Agricultural College, was in town this week.

Mrs. J. J. Walton, Jr., returned from San Francisco last Monday evening.

Mr. H. C. Owen is having his house refitted and an addition built to the same.

Mrs. Geo. A. Dorris, of Astoria, is visiting her relatives and many friends in Eugene.

Dr. Lee, of Corvallis, has been visiting at the residence of Dr. A. Sharples this week.

Dr O C Awhrey and wife, of Albany, are paying relatives and friends in Eugene a visit.

Mr. D. W. Jarvis of Polk county, paid this office a pleasant visit the first of the week.

Gen. W. H. Odell, editor of the Salem Statesman, was registered at the St. Charles Hotel a couple of days this week.

Mr. J. J. Walton, Sr, returned from Spokane Falls, W. T., last Wednesday. "Pap" says that the valley is good enough for him.

Mrs. Monroe of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Phelps of Jackson, Cal., are visiting their sister, Mrs. D. M. Risdon, of this city. Also her niece, Miss Coney, of California.

Miss Augusta Patterson returned Monday from Mill's Seminary, California, where she has been attending school. Miss Bickle, of Portland, accompanied her to this city.

Messrs. C A Wass, Wallace Mount, Geo Hoyt, Seymour Condon, Whitney Boise, J P Fletcher, E J Humason and many other old University students were in the city this week.

Chas Lauer and family left New York for home in this city Thursday. They expect to stop in Chicago about one week, after which they will come directly home, expecting to arrive here about July 1st.

BRIEF MENTION.

Commencement over again.

Drummers on the increase.

E. H. & L. Co had a drill last Monday evening.

The grain in this vicinity is looking remarkably well.

Eugene wishes the University students a pleasant vacation.

The Democratic National Convention meets at Chicago July 9th.

Nearly all the students departed for their homes in different portions of the State yesterday.

W. W. Espey, of Portland, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors.

Workmen have been preparing this week the flag pole that is to be raised next week near the City Hall.

If you want an extra copy of this week's GUARD, you can procure one by depositing ten cents in this office.

Cole's advance guard of bill posters have visited this county and paped the county all over with flaming posters.

Mr Gus Hickethier one day this week purchased 40 acres of school land from the State, six miles from here. Consideration, $100.

We have heard the question asked several times recently, why the Marshal does not collect the dog tax from all We give it up.

Mr. S. D. Coats had a horse die one day this week. This is quite hard on Mr. C., as he is a hard working man and can ill afford the loss.

The W. C. T. U. will meet on June the 25th, in the basement of the Presbyterian church. It is important that all the members here be present.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster will lecture for the W. C. T. U. on the 29th of June in this city. None should fail to hear this able lawyer, eloquent speaker and intelligent temperance orator.

Rev. E. A. McAlister will preach at the Court House in this city, Sunday, June 23d, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School immediately after the morning services. All are cordially invited.

Cottage Grove Items.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]
June 18, 1884.

Born, June 7, 1884, to the wife of S. B. Withington, a son.

The prospect for a bountiful harvest, was never better in this vicinity.

Messrs. A. Spare and A. Lurch returned home from Portland Friday.

Mr. Fagan has been in and around here sketching for the History of Lane County.

Miss Anna Underwood and Miss Mary McCornack went to Eugene last Saturday.

The timber for the new bridge near Mr. E. P. Redford's, is being hauled from Constock's mill.

Dr. Schellbred, who has been visiting relatives in Salem several days, returned home last Friday.

Mr. Robt Carey is having a new residence built, which greatly improves the appearance of our village.

Misses May Parsons and Rebecca Miller, of Cresswell, were visiting at Mr. R. W. Veatch's last week.

John Harvey has returned to this place after an absence of several months, a little older and probably a wiser boy.

Miss Lulu Skaggs dismissed her school near here last week, to attend Commencement at the University. She has three more weeks to teach.

Our road supervisors are proving their efficiency in road work, rebuilding bridges, and blasting out rocks that have ever been a detriment to our highways.

Mr. Robert Whipple, direct from Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Sutter a sister, of Gervais, Oregon, are visiting their brothers, E. W. and Frank Whipple of this place.

The public school ended here last Friday. The closing exercises were impressive. There were quite a number of recitations by the scholars, which were well rendered; also songs and dialogues were well executed by the little folks, showing their teachers had labored earnestly to make the exercises a success. A recitation by Miss McCornack, "Rock of Ages," and a song by Miss Underwood and scholars closed the entertainment. Miss Underwood, the principal, did all in her power to make people comfortable, all the seats being occupied and quite a number of persons having to stand.

MARRIED.—At the hotel in Ritzville, W. T., June 12, 1884, by Judge Long, Mr. Tucker to Mrs. Rebecca Woods, of Eugene City.

Died.

Rev. Sterling Hill died at his residence in Eugene, at 8:20 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, June 19, 1884, after a long and painful illness.

He was born in McMinn county, Tennessee, April 25, 1827. At the age of twelve he moved with his father's family to the Territory of Iowa. When 17 he entered Farmington Academy, Iowa, where he obtained the greater part of his education, finishing at William Jewell College several years later. While at Farmington he made a profession of religion and soon after united with the Baptist Church. In 1848 he returned to Tennessee on a visit, where he married Miss Mary Ann Wallis, by whom he had one son, who is now an active Baptist minister of Tennessee. In 1850 he moved to California and subsequently came to Oregon. His former wife having died while in Missouri, he was married again in 1854 to his present wife, who with one daughter, and four of six sons, survive to mourn his loss. During the same year he was ordained to the gospel ministry, in the faithful service of which he spent the remaining part of his life until removed from the field of active labor by the hand of disease.

During his lifetime he filled several responsible and important positions relative to the Missionary and Educational interests of the North Pacific coast, the last of which was the general agency of the McMinnville College, Oregon. Gradually failing in health, he was in 1881 prostrated to his bed from which he never recovered. Patient through all these years of suffering he never murmured; but conscious of having fought the good fight of the faithful, he waited in confident trust in Him who is able to deliver from every evil. Faithful in life, patient in suffering, triumphant in death, an honored citizen, a wise counsellor, a devoted husband and loving father is at rest in Christ. The remains were taken to Brownsville Friday morning, where they will be interred.
