Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.
The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:
"475 A. 5th St., New York, May 16, 1882.
Sirs:—I, J. C. AYER & Co., Gentlemen:
Last winter I was troubled with a most unaccountable itching humor affecting more especially my face, which itched so intolerably at night, and caused so intense a sleep, that I could scarcely bear any coming over me. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and enlarged tonsils; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good."
Yours respectfully,
Z. P. WILDS.
The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice, which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
cleans, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility, and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.

Reputating Blaine.
There were two honest, spotless Republicans in President Grant's cabinet—Hamilton Fish, of New York, Secretary of State, and Benjamin H. Bristow, of Kentucky, Secretary of the Treasury.
Secretary Fish went on the even tenor of his way during Grant's two terms of office and had no association whatever with the venalities of the administration. The State Department under an honest head is not liable to the corruptions which prevail in other departments.
Secretary Bristow, remarks the World, entered the office of Secretary of the Treasury to find the Government at the mercy of plundering rings, and robbed by conspiracies and frauds of a great portion of the revenue. He immediately set to work to put a stop to such rascalities and to bring the offenders to justice. He did not pause when he found that his investigations led to the threshold of the Executive Chamber. His honesty enlisted the Republican leaders against him and forced him from the cabinet.

The Standard published interviews, Friday, with these two distinguished Republicans. Ex-Secretary Hamilton Fish finds it impossible to support Mr. Blaine after the letter's singular and suspicious course in the State Department. He has not yet made up his mind to forego his lifelong prejudices against the Democracy, while extolling Gov. Cleveland's personal worth.
Ex-Secretary Bristow repudiates the tattooed candidate of his party and declares his intention to support the honest Democratic candidate as a rebuke to the unwise, improper and defiant nominations of the Republican Convention.

These upright, honored and unassailable citizens, who have served the people ably and faithfully and with unquestioned fidelity to the important trusts confided to them, are a fair indication of the extent and moral power of the revolt against the Republican party among the silent voters of the United States.
The defection of Hamilton Fish and Benjamin H. Bristow is a very severe blow to Mr. Blaine's hopes and will spread consternation among his followers.

Edmunds' Opinion.
The efforts of the Republicans to project Senator Edmunds into the Blaine campaign is a humiliating failure. A strained but determined effort is being made to keep up the spirits of the party, but the refusal of such men as Senator Edmunds to take any active part in the canvass is calculated to have a very depressing effect. In 1876, when the Green Mountain statesman was asked to give his influence to Blaine, he replied:
"I will never willingly consent for the Republican party to nominate a notoriously corrupt man for President."
This was certainly very emphatic language, and it does not require a diagram to see the point of it.

The New York Times, which has long been regarded as the leading Republican newspaper in the United States, is doing good work for the people in its opposition to the election of Blaine. It is emphatically no dead-head in the Presidential canvass, and the public is thoroughly glad to see its power turned to the service of the people and a good government. It is true that we cannot expect it to display the frank loyalty of a Democratic newspaper to the party it has fought so long, but its love of independence and truth, and belief in fidelity to public trusts, will go far to compensate for this.

Hendricks represents a memory, Cleveland represents a hope. Standing upon a common platform and united in a common cause their victory will be at once the expiation of a great political crime and the triumph of long-baffled reform.
It would be worth more than a thousand stump speeches for Mr. Blaine if Senator Edmunds of Vermont would say that he regarded him as an honest man. But the distinguished Vermonteer declines to make that statement.

Beware.
The Oregonian lately gave the news of the failure of the New Brunswick National Bank of New Jersey. In these days of Blaine's idealistic prosperity there is nothing strange or unusual in the suspension of Republican financial concerns very much to the distress and suffering of innocent depositors. In this case however, there is much furnished for reflection. Not only is the bank defaulter to the tune of $7,000,000 but the city of New Brunswick is bankrupted and thousands of people have been crushed beneath this great calamity. Where has all this large sum of money gone? Martin A. Howell, a former director of this concern sums up the matter in a few words. He said: "I saw it coming. Charley Hill was too liberal. The Republican party went to him as a banker for funds. He doubtless took the banks surplus to all his friends." What a commentary this is upon the condition of the country. National banks and the money of confiding depositors are used—stolen and squandered, crime or no crime, suffering or no suffering—regardless of all consequences for the benefit of the Republican party. This is perhaps only one instance in a thousand. National banks and all monetary influence of the Republican party are in league with hell to rule the government and ruin the people and their country. Depositors beware, withdraw your money and bury it deep in the ground if necessary. An honest account of securities will show large deficits in every National banking establishment in the country. The day for counting is rapidly approaching, and when Cleveland is elected and he surely will be—suspensions and failures will be the rule and not the exception. What real money there is in the banks will be lost in the hopeless effort to maintain Republican supremacy. The people should save themselves whilst there is yet time, for as sure as there is a God in heaven the day of retribution is drawing nigh.—Independent.

The Republican party professes to be the friend of the laboring people, and in its platform tells how much it will do for them. Yet, when these promises are measured by the performances, they are found to be but hollow mockery. The recent strike and riot in the Ohio coal mines is a case in point. According to the Republican platform and Mr. Blaine's Augusta speech these miners are abundantly protected and receive better wages than any other working men in the world. Yet, as an actual fact, we find these miners obliged to resort to strikes and the consequent hindrance of work, in order to secured wages enough to keep body and soul together. The Republican party by its laws which enable capitalists to constantly accumulate and establish monopolies of the most grinding character, is the direct cause of this condition of the laboring men, and should be held to strict accountability by them. And the only way they can achieve their independence is by voting against the Republican ticket.

Emil Schandoin, vice-president of the Philip Best Brewing company of Milwaukee, said in Philadelphia on September 6th, that the Germans of the northwest will vote almost solidly for Cleveland. Their organization, which commenced a year ago, is complete. He said: "We Germans love beer, but we love liberty more." Carl Schurz addressed 26,000 independent Republicans in the German language at Milwaukee on the 6th.

Fifty thousand foreign born citizens are disfranchised in Rhode Island. A property qualification applies there to foreigners, but not to natives of the U. S., colored or white. It would require at least $2,000 invested in residence property to vote. A man would not invest more than one-fifth of his possessions that way. Rhode Island has never given a Democratic majority.

A dispatch from Cleveland, O., announces that an Independent German club in that city, 3000 strong, has declared for Cleveland and Hendricks. This is the sort of thing that gives the Blaine managers the "blues" when they cast their apprehensive eyes upon the Buckeye State.

It would be worth more than a thousand stump speeches for Mr. Blaine if Senator Edmunds of Vermont would say that he regarded him as an honest man. But the distinguished Vermonteer declines to make that statement.
