

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS, of Indiana.

For Presidential Electors, A. C. JONES, of Douglas, L. B. ISON, of Baker, W. D. FENTON, of Yamhill.

To Lane County Democrats.

The Presidential election that occurs next Tuesday is full of promise for the Democracy. At this time it seems probable that we shall carry the States of New York, New Jersey, Nevada, Indiana, California, etc., and the 153 electoral votes of the South which will elect Cleveland and Hendricks by a handsome majority. But we desire to see Oregon enrolled on the side of good government and we believe if every Democrat will turn out on election day and vote "and work in earnest, that when the sun sets on next Tuesday it will be written in huge letters on the horizon that Oregon has been redeemed. From actual knowledge we know that the Republican majority in Multnomah county will fall below 800, and the leaders in Portland are confidently claiming the county. They are working in earnest and actively for success, and have the best organization they ever possessed. Lane county Democrats, to some extent, you have it in your power to say whether or not we win in this State. We ought to give 150 majority. Every man can give the entire day to the cause, and be well paid for the same by the enhanced price he will secure for his grain. We will win if Democrats do their duty. If you have a neighbor who is not able to go to the polls, make it your business to procure means by which he can attend to this great duty every man owes to his country. Remember that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

BURN THIS.—Blaine to Fisher.

The Tattooed Man.

Blaine was not afraid of an investigation. Not in the least. But for the first time in the history of the United States a representative (J. G. Blaine) resigned while a charge against him was being investigated. And the brave-plumed knight resigned because some rebel brigadiers were searching into a transaction which he declared was "as open as day." And the New York Times, a leading Republican paper of the United States, the opponent of the Stalwarts as well as of Blaine, a paper which has a clear record of Republicanism for thirty years, the most able, upright and brilliant newspaper in America and a recognized anti-monopoly journal in article after article, in every column posts Jas Blaine as a falsifier and corruptionist. And the Oregonian speaking in this matter said that "the course of the Times was that of a great and an honorable newspaper." And the Oregonian said, "the Mulligan letters will not down." And there is not a single first-class Republican newspaper in these United States which has not gone beyond the Times. Blaine's organ, the N. Y. Tribune made this open, blunt declaration a few years ago: "Blaine has taken bribes." And yet Blaine is slandered.

Gov. Hendrick's Loyalty.

From Mr. Seward's speech at Auburn, on October 31, 1863. I entertain no ill will towards the Democratic party or its leaders, and have no uncharitable feelings toward that great constituency. On the other hand, I cherish a grateful appreciation of the patriotism, the magnanimity, the heroism of many of my fellow citizens with whom I have cheerfully labored and co-operated while they still retained their adhesion to the Democratic party. How could I distrust the loyalty or the virtue of Andrew Johnson, of Gen McClellan, Senator Buckalew of Pennsylvania, or of SENATOR HENDRICKS, of Indiana or his associate, Mr. Niblack, or of Mr. Cox of Ohio, to whom personally, more than any other member, is due the passage of the constitutional amendment in Congress abolishing African slavery.

Thirty years ago a man in Kentucky secretly married to a woman allowed the name of that woman to become the theme of common gossip, when one word from him would have stopped the chatter of all idle tongues. Furthermore six months before the legal marriage we have that man's name signed as bondsman to a marriage license, showing conclusively that he knew the marriage was illegal. And yet Jas. G. Blaine has the sublime impudence to appeal to the chivalry of America to assist him against libelers.

One hundred thousand Democrats assembled in New York City Tuesday night at a Tammany ratification meeting. Bayard and Thurman were among the speakers. John Kelley pledged the entire and undivided support of Tammany to the ticket.

The Field.

Dodged, by Gosh.—A Maine Democrat who saw Blaine vote in September.

My wife's [deceased] sister and my [deceased] brother were present at my secret marriage.—Blaine.

The recent majority in Ohio resembles a cake of soap. The more it is handled the smaller it gets.

Four hundred million dollars idle in the National Treasury and wheat is worth fifty cents a bushel.

The Faculty of Michigan University having been polled stood thus, Cleveland, 14; Blaine 4; St. John, 1.

Forty three per cent. extra must be paid on all goods the farmers buy. The extra freight money on wheat amounts to ten cents a bushel.

Out of twenty four million bushels of wheat shipped from the port of New York this season not one bushel was carried by an American ship.

After twenty four years of building up a home market, by a protective tariff our farmers are compelled to take 45 cents a bushel for wheat.

If you want 45 cents a bushel for your wheat vote for the friend of the monopolists, Jas. G. Blaine. If you want high prices for that article vote for your friend, Cleveland.

The prices of goods in England are 50 per cent lower than in the U. S. The reduction in prices in the last 50 years has been very great. Inventions has caused the decline.

Geo. F. Edmunds is silent in this campaign. Allan G. Thurman, "the noblest Roman of them all," is so well pleased with Cleveland's career that he speaks for him. That is something for anti monopolists to think on.

Another twenty years if the rate of the past twenty years is maintained not a foot of arable land will be left to the poor man. Remember this when you vote, and cast your ballot against the party of Dolph and George.

The wages of British workmen since the adoption of Free Trade have increased 100 per cent. Their wages are seventy per cent. greater than those of French workmen, who are protected by a high tariff.

The staple of the Republican defense of Blaine is taken from Senator Hoar's reply to Blaine. We gave Schurz rejoinder to Hoar in last week's supplement. Mr Hoar has not dared to reply, he cannot, and he will not.

Blaine's foreign policy will lose him votes next week. The Irish World, Greenback Republican, told the truth when it said two years ago that he was a "flunkey" and a "toady." But the World didn't get $3,000 a week then from Elkins.

In other words, let us employ the weapons they so effectually used against Folger's life and be the embodiment of Alfieri's sentiment—deep vengeance is the daughter of deep silence. Quietly, secretly, but surely be your motto.—COMMITTEE (N. Y.) STALWARTS.

Twenty four years of Republican tariff and wheat is 50 cents a bushel. Twenty four years and 60 per cent. of the iron furnaces, woolen and cotton mills of the United States are idle; Twenty four years and a million men are out of work, and other millions in the protected industries and States are receiving 65 cents a day for their labor.

In the decade from '50 to '60 the farm wealth of the United States increased in a rate twice as great as in the twenty years from '60 to '80. The manufactures and manufactured exports increased with unparalleled rapidity and the merchant ships of America carried the goods of the entire world. These are facts from the census books.

The Independent revolt in Connecticut is assuming immense proportions. Hundreds of prominent Republican have signed an address to the men in favor of honest government. Among the names are those of Prof Whitney, of Yale college, Mark Twain, the officers of most of Hartford's strong insurance companies and all the Turn Verrens of that State as well as New York will vote for Cleveland.

Dr. Strong of the Baptist Theological Seminary, Rochester, N. Y., will vote for Cleveland. Bishop Hunting is out for Cleveland. Rev James Freeman Clarke, is an ardent supporter of Cleveland. Dr. Geo. T. Ladd, Prof. of Moral Philosophy in Yale College, has weighed the claims of both men and will vote for Cleveland. Beecher, Robt Collyer, Father McGlynn and many other clergymen are with Cleveland in this campaign. We are satisfied with the list.

From ocean to ocean the United States extends three thousand miles and has a breadth of 2,000 miles. The richest gold and silver mines in the world are contained within their boundaries. The greatest body of farming land in the world are in these States. The protective tariff called neither of these into existence. When you hear a demagogue compare this country with all its vast resources to a country the size of the Willamette valley and then drawing the conclusion that a protective tariff, ask him what this country would amount to without its farms and mines. Ask him to compare the period from 1850 to 1860, and any decade since then. They won't do it.

The Candidate of the Star Routers.

N. Y. Sun.

But the third chapter of the star route history, if it should ever be written, as it is proposed to be enacted, will surpass all previous achievements, as the electric light surpasses a tallow candle. The gang propose that instead of working for the party's success they shall also work for their own, inasmuch as they aspire to an actual share in the Government itself. The first and biggest step toward the development of that idea was the nomination of Blaine. Nearly every movement to draw the cover away from the still hidden scandals has been checked in some unknown manner, but with unquestionable indications that Blaine was shut up inside. The late James W. Bosler a most influential and important member of the ring was one of Blaine's most attached friends. Another one known to be deep in the mystery, Stephen B. Elkins, was the most conspicuous figure in the recent Chicago Convention and his voice led the chorus of howling cowboys and star routers who gathered there in force to put Blaine's nomination through, and his hand probably controlled and disbursed the cash which was placed throughout the convention in unexhausted quantities. Their candidate is Blaine and with Blaine in the White House the star routers would pitch their tents inside the very Treasury walls, instead of hovering around the back doors of the National Postoffice.

A Foreign Policy.

By its foreign policy the Democratic party acquired every foot of land west of the Mississippi river. By a three years' war it procured the international right of expatriation. It allowed the right of no adopted citizen to be trampled upon.

For eighteen months with Blaine as Secretary nine months five adopted citizens of the U. S. were imprisoned without trial in English prison. In every great city indignation meetings were held and Minister Lowell denounced. Lowell was acting under Blaine's orders. Grover Cleveland presided at the Buffalo meeting and Blaine was invited but ignored the meeting altogether. American citizens are to day serving in foreign armies under constraint, and the way to remedy it is, say the Republicans is to elect the party who allowed it, and the man who said after discussing the cases of McSweeney for six months: I have not read the Coercion Act.

Why is it?

Why did Blaine say that he had no dealing with Tom Scott in L. R. R. bonds, when his own letters show the contrary?

Why did he say that he procured a small amount of L. R. bonds when he was one of the heaviest stockholders. Why did he claim that he procured the bonds at the same rate as other people when a memorandum admitted by him to be in his own handwriting showed that he received $160,000 in bonds without a cents charge, and besides that large sums of money?

Why did he say if the grant was to the State of Arkansas, as he affirms, "I did a service to YOUR road," in a letter to "my dear Mr. Fisher."

Why did he answer when pressed by the committee as to whether Mulligan lied when he contradicted Blaine point blank, "Not at all, he might have put a construction on what I said."

The biggest and most important meeting of merchants and business men ever held in New York City filled its streets Monday evening. Thirty-two thousand men were in line. The front file was composed of wholesalers whose wealth aggregated $21,000,000. The parade was twice as large as the meeting of Garfield business men in 1880 which up till last Monday was the the largest assemblage of business men the metropolis had ever witnessed. This was a Cleveland meeting.

A forged affidavit of Maria Halpin is now given out by the Republicans. Her counsel denounces it as a forgery. Don't believe any eleventh hour lie.

I lay in a British jail; Mr Blaine was secretary of state. Mr. Blaine went out of power, and I went out of jail. D. MCSWEENEY.

The most unscrupulous and slanderous newspaper in the State is the Oregonian. It suppresses all but a few items which favor the Democratic side.
